Superloop's response to ABB's legal action

On 15 March 2024, Superloop Limited (ASX:SLC) (Superloop) announced that it had issued a notice under its constitution directing Aussie Broadband Limited (ASX:ABB) (Aussie Broadband) to dispose of 37,621,056 ordinary shares to reduce Aussie Broadband's voting power in Superloop to less than 12%. This follows Aussie Broadband's acquisition of 19.9% voting power in Superloop without the prior approval of the Info-communications Media Development Authority (IMDA) in Singapore, as required by Superloop's constitution.

Superloop refers to the announcement today from ABB about legal proceedings that ABB has commenced in the Federal Court of Australia, seeking to set aside the direction given by Superloop to ABB to dispose of such number of SLC shares to take ABB's holding below 12%.

In light of ABB's ongoing breach, Superloop welcomes the prompt resolution of this matter and will keep the market advised of any material developments in relation to the proceedings.
