Market Update and Appendix 4C

Site Group International Limited ("Site", ASX:SIT) has maintained its solid business momentum in the 3 months to March 31, 2016, recording revenues of $15.7 million and EBITDA of $4.8 million (unaudited) for the quarter.

The Company today released its Appendix 4C for the March quarter and foreshadowed continued growth for the remainder of 2016 and into the 2017 financial year, driven by several initiatives expected to be announced during the next 6 months.

A major new business development is the Papua New Guinea Safe Live Process Plant (SLPP), currently being fabricated at Site's Clark facility in the Philippines before being transported to Port Moresby in late August for installation. In addition, Site is exploring a number of significant opportunities in Asia and the Middle East. While falling commodity prices have had a sobering effect on global training expenditures and markets, recent tentative price recoveries have revived investment in workforces and the need for technical competencies.

In the coming months, management expects to conclude negotiations on further SLPP opportunities as well as several training agreements which should see an increase in revenues in the Company's International training operations. At Clark, in addition to the SLPP being built for PNG's national oil company Kumul Petroleum, new contracts are expected to be finalised in the last half of calendar 2016 for training services in soft skills as well as technical areas such as process, electrical and instrumentation, production and control room operations.

Site's strategy of workforce development in emerging economies continues to gain momentum, with particularly strong response in the Asia Pacific region. And in the Middle East, Site has invested further in its sales capability and expects this to lead to significant new business following negotiations currently being advanced.

In Australia, the apprenticeship division will commence its first significant training programs this quarter following substantial investment in divisional capability in the middle of 2015. Site also was successful in achieving CRICOS registration to enable the delivery of training to International students in Australia with first enrolments also expected this quarter.

Overall, the investments in the newer divisions of the business, both domestic and International are coming to production phase and shareholders can expect to see these investments resulting in positive financial results in the last half of calendar 2016.
