The Global Tote

The Global Tote – TGT's International wholesale tote - launched this week and is now available to all licensed wagering operators globally.

Licensed in Alderney, UK, The Global Tote is the world's first wholesale only tote available exclusively to any licensed wagering operator, including on-course bookmakers, corporate bookmakers, retail tote operations and Advance Deposit Wagering operations from anywhere around the world.

Licensed wagering operators can now utilise The Global Tote liquidity, low-risk platform and odds service to offer a bigger range and more competitive range of products to their customers on gallops, harness and greyhound fixtures around the world.

It is expected the roll out of products and events will continue to grow through May culminating in a full suite of racing products over the coming months.

Topbetta's CEO, Todd Buckingham said:

"This will be a fantastic opportunity for bookmakers to utilise The Global Tote to enable them to offer better products to their clients. The Global Tote has been designed to put the punter first and enable operators around the world to offer low-risk products - meaning more competitive offerings for clients - across more events across more regions."
