Redflow resumes battery shipments

Redflow Limited (Redflow) has resumed battery deliveries to installation partners, effective immediately, following a pause on deliveries announced on 24 April 2017.

Resumed deliveries follow Redflow's receipt of a first round of laboratory test results which show that 25 batteries in stock meet Redflow quality standards, enabling their immediate delivery to customers.

Redflow has also had positive results to date from the trial of a simple product remediation process designed to remove battery impurities if required. This process will be applied routinely to any battery subsequently identified as requiring it, to ensure that all batteries shipped to customers meet appropriate quality standards.
