Alcidion Releases Miya Smartpage

Alcidion Group Limited (ASX:ALC) is delighted to announce the release of clinical communication and collaboration capability into the Miya Patient Flow product suite.

Following a worldwide search for a “best of breed” clinical communication and collaboration service, Alcidion has brokered an agreement with Oncall Systems, a New Zealand based innovator, to supply their highly cost effective clinical messaging and task collaboration technology into the Australian health services within the Alcidion product suite.

Ray Blight said “we are very impressed with the innovation embedded in Smartpage and the cost effectiveness of its deployment and operation”. This new product will be branded Miya Smartpage and will be offered as a module within the Miya Patient Flow product suite, significantly enhancing the value and competitiveness of our product. Alcidion will also supply it as a standalone solution, as this will be attractive to many Australian hospitals, especially those in the small to medium range”.

Miya Smartpage Clinical provides instant, two-way messaging (with secure photography), to support easy clinical supervision, task sharing and fast clinical handover. This functionality turbo charges key workflows, and with the integration of clinical summaries and patient clinical data (ie: pathology and radiology), provides major care team productivity and benefits to patient safety.

The solution allows instant responses from clinicians, with read receipts and full audit trail management, so that staff do not have to stress over whether or not their requests are being acted on – meaning higher care team productivity and work satisfaction.

Dr Aidan Gill, founder of Smartpage, said... “it is great to be working with Alcidion, a smart health informatics company that really understands clinical workflows and how to meet the needs of care teams. The combination of the two technologies is an exciting development for more efficient and effective hospital services. Doctors using Smartpage at Waitemata DHB report significant time savings and improved communication, with up to 15-20 minutes of time saved every hour”.

Miya Patient Flow will also incorporate Miya Smartpage Orderly which provides for ward based electronic ordering thereby eliminating the need for dispatchers and the associated faxes and phone calls, with fast, orderly requesting directly from the ward, ED, and clinical specialties via it’s real time task system. All requests, delays, cancellations are visible to everyone in real time.

With Miya Smartpage Orderly there is no more confusion over whether a task has been ordered. Requests are immediately visible to the ward, the destination, and the dispatcher, with real-time updates across the hospital.
