Dear Sir /Madam

Major Supply Order for Global Technology Brand Leader

TZ Limited (ASX Code: TZL) is pleased to announce that its wholly owned US subsidiary, Telezygology, Inc. ("TZ", the "Company"), has received a material purchase order for the supply of the electronic locking solution and software management system for secure employee storage and inventory lockers to be deployed at the new headquarters of a major US technology company.

The AUD$3 Million purchase order represents an extension of business that has been established over several years of successful and on-going package management locker deployments across their extensive campus and operating sites. It also represents a substantial sale of a new application area in secure employee storage / inventory management for the Company. Supply will commence in June 2017 with a rapid deployment schedule that will see supply complete by the end of Q1 FY2018.

Ken Ting, Executive Director of TZ Limited added: "This project will be a great reference for our technology with the TZ solution being deployed for traditional Package Management and now for secure storage enclosures. The opportunity for secure storage within corporate environments is a significantly larger addressable market than Package Lockers."
