Anatara and Zoetis to negotiate terms of an international Detach® Commercial Agreement

Key points:

- Global animal health company Zoetis has exercised its option to negotiate a commercial agreement for the worldwide development, distribution and marketing of Detach®, per the Exclusive Research Evaluation and License Option Agreement announced on 18 January 2016
- Anatara and Zoetis to negotiate commercial terms

BRISBANE, 21st August 2017: Anatara Lifesciences (ASX:ANR) is pleased to announce that global animal health company, Zoetis Inc. ('Zoetis') has exercised its option to negotiate a commercial agreement for the worldwide development, distribution and marketing of Detach®, with terms to be agreed.

The licensing negotiations follow an Exclusive Research Evaluation and License Option period (announced 18th January 2016), during which time Zoetis completed a preliminary evaluation of Detach® as a non-antibiotic approach to help control scours in certain livestock. It is expected that negotiations will take some months to complete, and there is no guarantee that a transaction will be completed.

Anatara's Chairman and CEO, Dr Mel Bridges commented, "We are delighted to now be moving into formal negotiations for Detach's development and commercialization."

Anatara's Detach® technology has potential to play a part as an alternative to traditional antibiotics to help control scours in farm animals. Collaboration between Anatara and Zoetis reinforces the two companies' commitment to reducing the use of antibiotics in livestock production.

About Anatara Lifesciences

Anatara Lifesciences is developing therapeutics for gastrointestinal diseases in production animals and humans. Its lead product Detach[®] is a natural plant based product that will help address global concerns around the overuse of antibiotics in production animals that is contributing to the rise of so-called “super bugs” that make infectious diseases harder to treat. The Anatara team has a strong track record in biological science as well as building and growing international biotech companies.
