3P Learning appoints Mark Lamont to its Board

3P Learning Limited (ASX: 3PL) announced today the appointment of Mr. Mark Lamont to its Board of Directors as an Independent Non-Executive Director effective 1 March 2018.

Mr. Lamont has deep experience in the global education and EdTech sectors with particular expertise in technology and Internet applications for education, international markets and strategic planning. Mark has engaged in transformational school and further education initiatives at local, system and international levels, and with education technology boards and executive teams across Australia and worldwide.

During his executive career Mark led the domestic and international expansion of myinternet Ltd, the first ISP for Australian Schools and was VP at Follett Corporation (the multi billion dollar US education services provider). He is currently a Non-Executive Director of Education Services Australia Limited, a public company owned by the state and federal governments whose ministerial charter is to develop and implement effective education technology across all sectors in school and higher education and is the Founder and a Director of World Mosaic, a boutique professional services company serving globally-oriented EdTech companies worldwide.

3P Learning Limited Chairman, Sam Weiss, said, "the Board of 3P Learning is delighted to have Mark join the company. We conducted a global search to find a new Director and expect that Mark will make a strong contribution, especially as we work to broaden our products and services, increase our capacity in seamless online delivery and expand our reach in international markets."

Mark Lamont said "It is professionally rewarding to join 3P Learning as a Non-Executive Director at the very time the company has prepared the stage for international growth. I look forward to applying my education, technology and strategy expertise to assist 3P Learning to accelerate its growth in schools around the world."
