

30 May 2018

AtCor Medical Holdings Limited Announces Change of Name to CardieX Limited (ASX.CDX)

AtCor Medical Holdings Limited (ASX: ACG, AtCor, the Company) is pleased to announce that following shareholder approval obtained on 28 May 2018, the Company's name has officially changed with the Australian Securities Investment Commission to CardieX Limited.

In addition the ASX listing code for the Company has changed from "ACG" to "CDX".

The effective date for the change of the Company name and ticker code on the ASX will be from the commencement of trading on Friday, 1 June 2018.

CardieX CEO Craig Cooper commented:

"The change of name to CardieX reflects our focus on becoming a global health technology company as we rapidly move to grow our current business as well as expand into other health markets. Our current AtCor cardiovascular medical device business will initially continue under the AtCor brand as an operating division of CardieX while over the next few months we implement a new corporate identity platform representing our new brand, product, and marketing focus".

About CardieX

CardieX is a global health technology company focused on developing solutions for large-scale population health disorders. The Company's "AtCor Medical" division develops and markets products for the early detection of target organ damage and management of cardiovascular and renal disease.

For more information please contact:

Chief Executive Officer
Craig Cooper
Ph: +61 429 993 399
c.cooper@atcormedical.com

Investor Relations
Peter Taylor
Ph: +61 412 036 231
peter@nwrcommunications.com.au

Chief Financial Officer
Jarrod White
Ph: +61 2 8296 0000
j.white@atcormedical.com