Structure of the Board

RedHill's constitution governs the regulation of meetings and proceedings of the Board.

The Board determines its size and composition, subject to terms of the constitution. The Board does not believe that it should establish a limit on tenure other than stipulated in the constitution. The constitution requires that one third of the non-executive directors must retire at each AGM and may stand for re-election. In addition, no non-executive director can hold office for more than three years without retiring and, if they wish, stand for re-election.

While tenure limits can help to ensure that there are fresh ideas and viewpoints available to the Board, they hold the disadvantage of losing the contribution of directors who have been able to develop, over a period of time, increasing insight into RedHill and its operation and, therefore, an increasing contribution to the Board as a whole.

The Board comprises independent non-executive directors other than the Managing Director. It comprises directors with a broad range of skills, expertise and experience from a diverse range of backgrounds. The Chairman is an independent non-executive director. The Board assesses the independence of each director in light of their interests disclosed to the Board.

The Board considers directors to be independent only if they are independent of management and free of any business or other relationship that could materially interfere with, or could reasonably be perceived to interfere with, the exercise of their unfettered and independent judgement.

In accordance with the definition of independence above, and the materiality thresholds set, the following directors of RedHill are considered to be independent:

Name	Position
Mr William J. Beerworth	Non-Executive Director, Chairman
Mr William Deane	Non-Executive Director
Dr Christopher Clark	Non-Executive Director

There are procedures in place, agreed by the Board, to enable directors in furtherance of their duties to seek independent professional advice at RedHill's expense.

The appointment date of each director in office at the date of this report is as follows:

Name	Position	Appointment Date
Mr William J. Beerworth	Non-Executive Director, Chairman	Appointed 25 June 2010
Mr William Deane	Non-Executive Director	Appointed 1 July 2006
Dr Christopher Clark	Non-Executive Director	Appointed 25 November 2011
Mr Glenn Elith	Executive Director	Appointed 11 May 2012

Further details on each director can be found in the Directors' report included in RedHill's Annual Report.

Diversity Policy

RedHill is committed to diversity, including in relation to the promotion of qualified women to executive and senior executive positions.

As required by the ASX Listing Rules, RedHill is required to establish measureable objectives for achieving gender diversity and assess these objectives on an annual basis.

The Board consists of four directors. Ms Trotman resigned in 2017, and the Nomination Committee is in the process of recruiting a new female director.

The table below illustrates the proportion of female employees (including in executive and senior executive positions) employed by RedHill as at 30 June 2018.
