QANTM RESPONSE TO IPH AND XENITH ANNOUNCEMENTS RELATING TO IPH ACQUISITION OF 19.9% OF XENITH

The Board of QANTM Intellectual Property Limited (QANTM) notes the announcements this morning by Xenith IP Group Limited (Xenith) and IPH Limited (IPH) regarding the acquisition by IPH of approximately 19.9% of the issued share capital of Xenith overnight at a price of $1.85.

IPH has indicated in its announcement that it intends to participate in further industry consolidation and that it intends to seek discussions with Xenith and / or QANTM in relation to an alternative transaction to the current scheme of arrangement proposed by Xenith and QANTM to implement a merger of equals. IPH has indicated that it does not intend to vote its newly acquired shareholding in Xenith in favour of the proposed merger.

Xenith's announcement this morning noted that, as at the time of the Xenith announcement, IPH had not communicated its intentions towards Xenith.

As referenced in its ASX announcements on 27 November 2018 and 29 November 2018, QANTM has previously engaged with IPH in relation to an indicative, conditional and non-binding proposal by IPH to acquire QANTM (the Indicative Proposal). Since QANTM's most recent ASX announcement on this topic on 29 November 2018, QANTM has not received any revised or updated version of the Indicative Proposal, nor any communication from IPH with respect to an alternative transaction to the current scheme of arrangement proposed by Xenith and QANTM.

QANTM intends to proceed with the implementation of the proposed merger of equals with Xenith in accordance with the Scheme Implementation Deed dated 26 November 2018 (SID), and is currently working on satisfying the conditions of the SID.

The QANTM Board remains convinced of the benefits of and supports the proposed merger as set out in the announcement and accompanying presentation dated 27 November 2018.
