CLASS LIMITED (CL1) 2019 INVESTOR DAY

Class Limited has announced the postponement of the 2019 Investor Day, scheduled for Tuesday 19 November, until early next year.

The rescheduling of the Investor Day is to have it coincide closely with the company's Half Year Results roadshow in February. A second Investor Day will be held shortly following the release of the company's Full Year Results in August.

Class CEO Andrew Russell said, "We are reimagining the way we run our Investor Days. Hosting them closer to our results releases will enable us to provide more insight into both the financial and strategic direction of the business and will give us an opportunity to connect with more shareholders at those key times.

"By February, we will be further progressed in our execution of the reimagination strategy and look forward to providing an update along with our financial performance for the period."

Class will continue to provide regular updates to the market, with the next quarterly update due for release in early January 2020.
