Interim Report - 31 December 2019

Dear Shareholder,

In a half characterised by significant uncertainty due to Brexit in the UK, our largest market, we are pleased to report revenue for the company increased 22.1 percent. We also had an increase in EBITDA of 12.8%. Notwithstanding this strong growth, net profit after tax is slightly down due primarily to:

- increased amortisation and depreciation expense following the acquisition of the Yorkshire and the Humber UK area developers; and
- increased staffing costs to accelerate delivery on our strategy of blending our franchise network with corporate owned centres

Operations

Lesson numbers for the half have increased globally and whilst lower than budget, we expect this will correct in the historically stronger second half.

The business is currently coming to the end of a 2-year build for all software to run the franchise and corporate centres. We are on track to have this completed for the Australasian Franchisee conference in April this year. We have accelerated our resource allocation to meet the deadline, well in advance of decommissioning our old software in October 2021.

Online Tutoring

Online tutoring growth, although slower than expected, continues to demonstrate it's the way forward complementing our face to face education centres. We continue to invest strongly in this area with the number of online lessons in corporate centres doubling over the past year to 700 lessons per month.

Corporate Owned Centres

The four corporate owned centres continue to grow and will soon become profitable. Start-up losses of this new business of $100,000 for the half were as per budget with expenses well maintained. This remains a key growth strategy as we continue to acquire further profitable centres from franchisees looking to retirement.

Area Developer Acquisitions

In September we completed the buyback of the Yorkshire and the Humber UK Area Developer. This strategy has been good for the business with a continued centralisation of support for centres and an additional contribution to profit.

Depreciation and amortisation

Our depreciation for the half was $1.25M which is up $460,000 from last year. Significantly this number includes $224,000 for the depreciation of Area Developer businesses acquired and $236,000 for leases at head office and the corporate owned centres.

Capitalisation and Cash flow

We invested $877,000 for the half on expenditure related to the ongoing development of software and curriculum which did reduce operating cash flow, however this investment is key to our strategy and our unused banking facility of $1.75M remains intact.

Outlook

Over the next 12 months we will be rolling out our new systems for franchises and company owned centres. We have begun testing the new system in January in corporate centres ready for deployment after the April conference. We have invested significant money, time and effort to build what we believe will be a major enhancement to the current system. We expect to see significant improvements in administration time and student lessons. This will lead to continued growth for centres and online in the years ahead.

The second half has always been stronger than the first half and this year should be no different.

Today the Board declared a franked interim dividend of 1.5 cent per share payable on 31 March 2020 to those shareholders on the register at 5pm on 29 March 2020.

Note 1. Significant accounting policies

These general purpose financial statements for the interim half-year reporting period ended 31 December 2019 have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standard AASB 134 'Interim Financial Reporting' and the Corporations Act 2001, as appropriate for for-profit oriented entities. Compliance with AASB 134 ensures compliance with International Financial Reporting Standard IAS 34 'Interim Financial Reporting'.

These general purpose financial statements do not include all the notes of the type normally included in annual financial statements. Accordingly, these financial statements are to be read in conjunction with the annual report for the year ended 30 June 2019 and any public announcements made by the company during the interim reporting period in accordance with the continuous disclosure requirements of the Corporations Act 2001.

The principal accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year and corresponding interim reporting period, unless otherwise stated.

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The consolidated entity has adopted all of the new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting period.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

The following Accounting Standards and Interpretations are most relevant to the consolidated entity:

AASB 16 Leases

The consolidated entity has adopted AASB 16 from 1 July 2019. The standard replaces AASB 117 'Leases' and for lessees eliminates the classifications of operating leases and finance leases. Except for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets, right-of-use assets and corresponding lease liabilities are recognised in the statement of financial position. Straight-line operating lease expense recognition is replaced with a depreciation charge for the right-of-use assets (included in operating costs) and an interest expense on the recognised lease liabilities (included in finance costs). In the earlier periods of the lease, the expenses associated with the lease under AASB 16 will be higher when compared to lease expenses under AASB 117. However, EBITDA (Earnings Before Interest, Tax, Depreciation and Amortisation) results improve as the operating expense is now replaced by interest expense and depreciation in profit or loss. For classification within the statement of cash flows, the interest portion is disclosed in operating activities and the principal portion of the lease payments are separately disclosed in financing activities. For lessor accounting, the standard does not substantially change how a lessor accounts for leases.

Impact of adoption

AASB 16 was adopted using the modified retrospective approach and as such the comparatives have not been restated. The impact of adoption on opening retained profits as at 1 July 2019 was nil as follows:

	1 July 2019 $"000
Operating lease commitments as at 1 July 2019 (AASB 117)	1,291
Operating lease commitments discount based on the weighted average incremental borrowing rate of 5% (AASB 16)	(152)
Short-term leases not recognised as a right-of-use asset (AASB 16)	22
Lease extensions recognised under AASB16	609
Leases not commencing until after 1 July 2019	(121)
Right-of-use assets (AASB 16)	1,649
Lease liabilities - current (AASB 16)	(1,163)
Lease liabilities - non-current (AASB 16)	(486)
Reduction in opening retained profits as at 1 July 2019	-

Practical expedients applied

In adopting AASB 16, the Group has used the following practical expedients permitted by the standard:

- applied a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics;
- accounted for operating leases with a remaining lease term of less than 12 months as at 1 July 2019 as short-term leases;
- excluded initial direct costs for the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application; and
- used hindsight in determining the lease term where the contract contains options to extend or terminate the lease.

Right-of-use assets

A right-of-use asset is recognised at the commencement date of a lease. The right-of-use asset is measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability, adjusted for, as applicable, any lease payments made at or before the commencement date net of any lease incentives received, any initial direct costs incurred, and, except where included in the cost of inventories, an estimate of costs expected to be incurred for dismantling and removing the underlying asset, and restoring the site or asset.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful life of the asset, whichever is the shorter. Where the consolidated entity expects to obtain ownership of the leased asset at the end of the lease term, the depreciation is over its estimated useful life. Right-of-use assets are subject to impairment or adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

The consolidated entity has elected not to recognise a right-of-use asset and corresponding lease liability for short-term leases with terms of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets. Lease payments on these assets are expensed to profit or loss as incurred.

Lease liabilities

A lease liability is recognised at the commencement date of a lease. The lease liability is initially recognised at the present value of the lease payments to be made over the term of the lease, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the consolidated entity's incremental borrowing rate. Lease payments comprise of fixed payments less any lease incentives receivable, variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option when the exercise of the option is reasonably certain to occur, and any anticipated termination penalties. The variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Lease liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The carrying amounts are remeasured if there is a change in the following: future lease payments arising from a change in an index or a rate used; residual guarantee; lease term; certainty of a purchase option and termination penalties. When a lease liability is remeasured, an adjustment is made to the corresponding right-of-use asset, or to profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is fully written down.

Lease make good provision

A provision has been made for the present value of anticipated costs for future restoration of leased premises. The provision includes future cost estimates associated with closure of the premises. The calculation of this provision requires assumptions such as application of closure dates and cost estimates. The provision recognised for each site is periodically reviewed and updated based on the facts and circumstances available at the time. Changes to the estimated future costs for sites are recognised in the statement of financial position by adjusting the asset and the provision. Reductions in the provision that exceed the carrying amount of the asset will be recognised in profit or loss.

Management assumptions

There are specific estimates and judgements that were used as part of the calculation of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities. These estimates include the lease terms, lease make good provisions and lease increases based on consumer price index. Management used the best available estimate of these inputs in the calculations. In particular, management has relied on the assumption that an option to extend the lease terms of 2 leased properties in Newcastle will be exercised, thereby increasing the future lease payments and corresponding right of use asset by up to 3 years.

Management have elected not to apply the available expedient to not separately account for non-lease components. As such, the Group has separated any non-lease components from future lease payments and will continue to account for these components as an expense over time as the non-lease components are provided. As such, there are no future assets or obligations recognised in respect of non-lease components. For some leases, the identification of amounts related to non-lease components must be estimated due to contracts not including an explicit break-up. In these cases, management estimates the value of the non-lease component by reference to available market data. Where the estimate is significant, management includes a note to detail the judgements made to arrive at the estimate.

Note 2. Operating segments

Identification of reportable operating segments

The consolidated entity has only one operating segment based on the internal reports that are reviewed and used by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer and the Board of Directors (collectively referred to as the Chief Operating Decision Makers ('CODM')) in assessing performance and in determining the allocation of resources. The operating segment information is as disclosed throughout these financial statements.

The information reported to the CODM is on at least a monthly basis.
