Auckland, NZ | 16 April 9 Spokes (ASX: 9SP or “the Company”), a leading technology marketplace and Insights company to small businesses, is pleased to release its group consolidated Quarterly Activity Report and Appendix 4C.

COVID-19 Update from Chief Executive Adrian Grant:

“COVID-19 impacts every aspect of our professional and personal lives; for 9 Spokes, it is no different. We have a large community of stakeholders – from our employees and the SMEs we serve, to our bank partners, shareholders and suppliers – and we’re acutely aware of our responsibilities to them. We hope that you, your family and your community are as safe as possible during these truly unprecedented times.

“At 9 Spokes, our risk and operational management of COVID-19 falls into two primary categories:

- a) Our People: 9 Spokes is a cloud-native company with all employees able to operate remotely. Prior to country lockdowns, as well as adopting personal and professional care procedures, we undertook company-wide 'work from home' drills to ensure no technical or operational issues presented. As we progress through lockdown, the team continues to operate as usual.
- b) Operational Management: Similarly, our operational platforms and management have not been affected by events.

"We have so far been able to maintain our business despite the COVID-19 crisis. However, we have taken a cautious approach and forecast slower closure of new business as a result of COVID-19.

"COVID-19 is the primary concern globally, and governments worldwide have focused on supporting households and businesses. Without exception, they have sought to alleviate the immediate impact to SMEs and put in place supports to get them operational once restrictions are lifted.

"9 Spokes' core objective is helping SMEs to use data to make better business decisions. In times of uncertainty, this service is invaluable and will be even more so in the months to come. We see 9 Spokes as an additional resource for SMEs to aid recovery.

"Our capability to provide insights into business performance, and to aid loan applications and management, is vital for our bank partners and their SME customers. We can provide valuable data to banks as they seek to manage risk and exposure. We are in the advanced stage of testing a new bank product specifically for this purpose. The intention, if it proves viable, is to bring it to the market this quarter.

"Through previous difficult economic cycles, technology has demonstrated its relevance and ability to boost productivity; we expect this to be the case again. During this time of change, innovation remains critical. The SMEs we work for are looking for ways to better their businesses performance – we can offer them the data they require to do this. Our bank partners are seeking ways to support their SME customers – we can provide unique insights to facilitate this. 9 Spokes is developing new features to provide the support required."

Operating Receipts & Expenditure

COVID-19 necessitates continued prudent financial management, and the Company's focus remains on this task.

During the quarter, 9 Spokes had operating receipts of NZ$2.6 million, operating expenditure of NZ$2.8 million, with a net cash burn for the quarter of NZ$0.2 million.

Net burn was lower than previous guidance (forecast at NZ$0.8 million). The primary reasons for this lower burn are:

- a) a reduction in business expenditure (particularly international travel) as a result of international borders closing; and
- b) receipt of the New Zealand government COVID-19 wage subsidy, as reported under "Other" cash flow from operating activities in the quarterly cash flow report. If the requisite adverse business conditions do not eventuate, the Company will be obliged to refund in a future period.

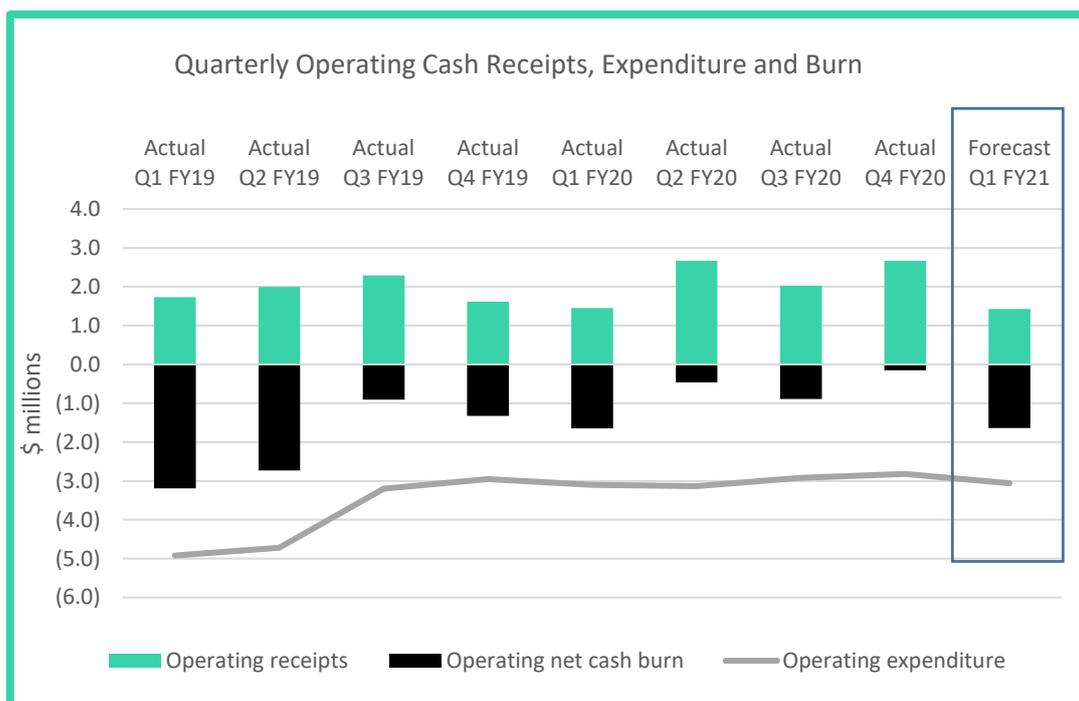

During the quarter the Company completed a successful AU$4.0 million capital raise, through a two-tranche placement to sophisticated investors,

As a result of the capital raise, cash and cash equivalents at the end of the quarter was NZ$5.1 million. Forecast net operating cash outflows for the next quarter is projected at approximately NZ$1.5 million.

This is a time of significant uncertainty in global markets. While the Company has a number of pipeline opportunities in various stages of development, 9 Spokes has elected to adopt a conservative approach to forward cash flow forecasting. This approach gives shareholders a conservative base case position. In the present market, the Company believes this is prudent and, when restrictions are eased or lifted in the countries 9 Spokes operates in, will provide further guidance.

9 Spokes' approach to forecasting is on the following basis:

- a) The expenditure forecast still includes what the Company considers normal expenditures, such as international travel and conference events. If these expenditures are not incurred, operating expenditure will reduce.
- b) The Company has elected to forecast no new revenue while the world is subject to COVID-19 lockdown. This approach was adopted on the basis that, while 9 Spokes continues to work on many opportunities, it is impossible to forecast with certainty in a volatile market.

Business & Channel Developments

The Company believes that COVID-19 will have a short-term impact on direct conversations with new bank opportunities for the 9 Spokes solution. However, post-COVID-19, it anticipates that these conversations will be strengthened as the value of using business data to give transparency between bank and SME is heightened.

9 Spokes has maintained close communications with bank partners, updating them on the Company’s operational status, and continues to work with them to support their SME customers.

The primary business and channel development focus during the quarter was on the following:

- Bank of America: the bank officially launched its white-label 9 Spokes platform in February 2020. The 9 Spokes platform complements Business Advantage 360, the bank’s digital cash flow management dashboard, by enabling data integration from key third-party business apps.

The platform launched with app partners Intuit® QuickBooks and RUN powered by ADP Payroll, Google G Suite and Google Analytics. 9 Spokes is now working to integrate five additional apps over the current quarter.

Business Advantage 360 launched in February 2019 and already over one million of the bank's business owner clients have engaged with it – an addressable market now accessible to 9 Spokes.

- ASEAN Expansion: the Company bolstered its presence in ASEAN with the establishment of an executive office in Singapore. Audrey Chia was appointed Senior Vice President (SVP), Asia Pacific, a strategic role that will focus on supporting 9 Spokes' relationship with OCBC and driving momentum with other regional banks.
- Visa: in March 2019, 9 Spokes notified the market that a Collaboration Framework Agreement was signed with Visa Inc. The parties extended that agreement in November 2019 with an addendum, enabling Visa and 9 Spokes to explore further a potential opportunity to make the 9 Spokes solution available to Visa's issuing bank clients and their SMEs worldwide. Detailed discussions continue to progress in good faith.

In summary, given the universal difficulties companies are experiencing, the Company is confident that the 9 Spokes solution will increasingly be viewed as an invaluable tool to drive confident decision making.

Product & Engineering

Product & Engineering during the quarter focused on:

- Launching and Migrating to V2: V2 launched in late 2019, and 9 Spokes is now in the final stages of completing migrations. At the end of the quarter, one bank partner and 9spokes.com, the Company's direct to market channel, were yet to migrate; these are being actively progressed.

In the quarter to June 2020, the Company will focus on:

- Progressive Web App: The Company is completing the build of a progressive web app (PWA) using React. The PWA will enable 9 Spokes to provide installable mobile apps from a single code base, and manage deployments as an app-to-web experience or an installable app. Given the constraints banking partners operate under, this gives greater flexibility to deploy a seamless user experience in multiple environments.
- Launch of Monetised Marketplace: The current app connection marketplace will become a monetised marketplace. The launch will be staged in all markets 9 Spokes operates in, with Microsoft Office 365 as launch partner. App partners will be integrated progressively into the 9 Spokes eco-system.

- 9Spokes.com migration to V2: Migration will be completed in April 2020 and will showcase the platform's expanded product capability, including 9 Spokes Engage™, and Marketplace.
- Open Banking: In May 2020, 9 Spokes will launch its first open banking service via 9Spokes.com in the UK market. SMEs on the 9Spokes.com platform will be able to make banking connections to all CMA9 banks operating in the market; users will be able to see all bank accounts in one place. Overtime, 9 Spokes will extend this capability to all markets where open banking is legislated or available.

With V2 deployed, future product market announcements will refer to product releases made during the quarter and future releases to be made against the near-term product roadmap. In cases where the Company believes that a product release is market sensitive, it will only release details once the product has entered production.

Company Administration & Board

The Company appointed Melisa Beight as Company Secretary at the beginning of the quarter; she takes over the function from Neil Hopkins. Melisa's role at 9 Spokes is General Counsel and Company Secretary.

Mark Estall, co-founder and former CEO of 9 Spokes, stepped down from his full-time executive role at the end of March. Mark continues as a non-Executive member of 9 Spokes' Board of Directors and will consult on special projects for the Company.

Announcement authorised by 9 Spokes' Chief Executive, Adrian Grant.
