

28 April 2020

Activity Statement for the Quarterly Cash Report to 31 March 2020

The highlight of the quarter was the delivery on 30 March 2020 of initial wafers.

As described in the Company's published report (27 February 2020) these wafers incorporate relatively minor design changes to the MEMS structure and its manufacturing process. These changes were introduced in order to return the devices to compliance while diminishing sensitivity to manufacturing tolerances. Return to compliancy is anticipated to provide substantive and dramatic improvement to the acoustic output of the devices.

Measurements of electromechanical and acoustic characterization commenced on receipt of the wafers during the quarter.

On 15 April 2020 we announced that the testing conducted to-date confirms that the changes made to the design have returned the devices to electromechanical compliance. As was anticipated, the return to compliance resulted in substantive and dramatic improvement to the acoustic output of the devices.

The remaining steps required, prior to publication of performance specifications, are metrological inspection and statistical verification. Metrological inspection is critical to confirm that the manufacturing process maintains compliance to specifications while statistical verification characterizes performance on different and larger numbers of wafers.

The Company's testing capabilities have been partially restricted since the introduction of COVID-19 restrictions in Israel.

This announcement has been authorised for release to ASX by Fred Bart, Chairman.

Notes

1. This quarterly cash flow report and the accompanying activity report provide a basis for informing the market about the entity's activities for the past quarter, how they have been financed and the effect this has had on its cash position. An entity that wishes to disclose additional information over and above the minimum required under the Listing Rules is encouraged to do so.
2. If this quarterly cash flow report has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards, the definitions in, and provisions of, AASB 107: Statement of Cash Flows apply to this report. If this quarterly cash flow report has been prepared in accordance with other accounting standards agreed by ASX pursuant to Listing Rule 19.11A, the corresponding equivalent standard applies to this report.
3. Dividends received may be classified either as cash flows from operating activities or cash flows from investing activities, depending on the accounting policy of the entity.
4. If this report has been authorised for release to the market by your board of directors, you can insert here: "By the board". If it has been authorised for release to the market by a committee of your board of directors, you can insert here: "By the [name of board committee – eg Audit and Risk Committee]". If it has been authorised for release to the market by a disclosure committee, you can insert here: "By the Disclosure Committee".
5. If this report has been authorised for release to the market by your board of directors and you wish to hold yourself out as complying with recommendation 4.2 of the ASX Corporate Governance Council's Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations, the board should have received a declaration from its CEO and CFO that, in their opinion, the financial records of the entity have been properly maintained, that this report complies with the appropriate accounting standards and gives a true and fair view of the cash flows of the entity, and that their opinion has been formed on the basis of a sound system of risk management and internal control which is operating effectively.
