Underground incident at the Obuasi Mine in Ghana

Perenti Global Limited (ASX:PRN) ("Perenti" or "the Company") acknowledges the ASX announcement by AngloGold Ashanti (as attached) and notes that the contractor mentioned in the release is an employee of Underground Mining Alliance ("UMA").

UMA is a joint venture (70:30) between Perenti's subsidiary, African Underground Mining Services ("AUMS") and Rocksure, a local Ghanaian contracting company.

UMA is working closely to support AngloGold Ashanti. Our thoughts are with the family, friends, and colleagues of the UMA team member at this difficult time.

Perenti expects that the suspension of operations at the Obuasi Mine will not have a material impact on FY21 earnings.

(JOHANNESBURG) – NEWS RELEASE – AngloGold Ashanti reports with deep regret that an employee of our mining contractor at the Obuasi Gold Mine in Ghana, is missing after a fall of ground in one of the operation's mining stopes.

The incident occurred on Tuesday morning and immediately triggered a search and rescue effort. The mine rescue teams have been working tirelessly, in difficult geotechnical conditions in the immediate area, to locate our missing colleague. The relevant authorities have been notified and are providing support during this time.

Safety remains our highest priority and all mining activity has been suspended. An update on the situation will be provided in due course.
