Total passenger traffic in May 2021 was 1,435,000 passengers, down 59.1% on the corresponding period in 2019.

Domestic passenger traffic totalled 1,347,000 in May 2021, down 39.2% on the corresponding period in 2019. Domestic traffic was impacted by the Victorian lock-down that was announced on 27 May 2021.

88,000 international passengers passed through Sydney Airport in May 2021, more than 93% down on the corresponding period in 2019. The month-on-month improvement April to May 2021 was driven by ongoing quarantine-free Trans-Tasman travel.

International and domestic passenger numbers were impacted by hotspots being declared in Sydney in early May. These resulted in brief restrictions on interstate travel and a 72-hour pause in quarantine-free Trans-Tasman travel.

The downturn in all other international passenger traffic is expected to persist until government travel restrictions are eased.
