Dear Corey

Core Lithium Ltd – Response to ASX Price Query letter

Core Lithium Ltd (Company or Core) (ASX: CXO) provides the following responses to your letter dated 14 September 2021.

1. Is CXO aware of any information concerning it that has not been announced to the market which, if known by some in the market, could explain the recent trading in its securities?

No. CXO is not aware of any information concerning CXO that has not been announced to the market which, if known by some in the market, could explain the recent trading in its securities.

If the answer to question 1 is “yes”.

- a. Is CXO relying on Listing Rule 3.1A not to announce that information under Listing Rule 3.1? Please note that the recent trading in CXO’s securities would suggest to ASX that such information may have ceased to be confidential and therefore CXO may no longer be able to rely on Listing Rule 3.1A. Accordingly, if the answer to this question is “yes”, you need to contact us immediately to discuss the situation.
- b. Can an announcement be made immediately? Please note, if the answer to this question is “no”, you need to contact us immediately to discuss requesting a trading halt (see below).

- c. If an announcement cannot be made immediately, why not and when is it expected that an announcement will be made?

Not applicable.

2. If the answer to question 1 is “no”, is there any other explanation that CXO may have for the recent trading in its securities?

Core Lithium is one of very few lithium developers globally that are ready to start new project construction in 2021 to take advantage of high spodumene prices.

Significantly, Core notes that yesterday, a spodumene concentrate cargo from another Australian producer sold for an approximate equivalent price of USD$2,500/dmt (SC6.0, CIF China). Core is the only Australia-focused, ASX-listed company forecast to join the ranks of new spodumene producers between now and the end of 2022.

Core has recently financed the Finnis Lithium Project and is preparing to make a Final Investment Decision in coming weeks ahead of starting construction on the Project before the end of this year and targeting first production in late 2022.

The Company is not aware of any other specific information that may explain the recent trading in its securities.

3. Please confirm that CXO is complying with the Listing Rules and, in particular, Listing Rule 3.1.

CXO confirms that the Company is complying with the Listing Rules and, in particular, Listing Rule 3.1.

4. Please confirm that CXO’s responses to the questions above have been authorised and approved under its published continuous disclosure policy or otherwise by its board or an officer of CXO with delegated authority from the board to respond to ASX on disclosure matters.

CXO’s responses to the questions have been authorised and approved by its board.
