PORTFOLIO REVIEW

The Small Ordinaries declined by 2.14% for the month while GC1 returned -2.15% for the month, performing broadly in-line with the market. The sell-off followed the lead from global markets where there were concerns about China and the contagion effects from Evergreen and the potential for there to be flow on effects in equity markets.

PORTFOLIO COMPANY UPDATES

Our top 3 largest contributors to performance during this month were Revolver Resources Holdings (RRR), Pacific Smiles Group (PSQ) and City Chic Collective (CCX), while Family Zone (FZO), Uniti Group (UWL) and Resimac Group (RMC) were the largest detractors from portfolio performance.

Revolver Resources Holdings

Revolver is one of the smaller positions in the portfolio, this IPO was well supported with the market optimistic about the grades of their copper assets. The assets in this company have not been touched since the 80s and the copper grades are the highest, I have come across. If the resource can be drilled at depth and length, we expect to see significant share price appreciation.

Pacific Smiles Group

After a weak July and August associated with the uncertainty of the business and Covid, the shares have started to rally through September and into October as the market looks for companies that will benefit from the re-opening of trades. With revenue down 25% but greenfield sites still expanding, these companies should have a good 12 months of trading as the backlog of people needing to see their dentist reduces.

City Chic Collective

This is another company where the market is factoring in re-open benefits along with further growth in online and US sales, providing the company with a medium growth platform.
