Capital Raise

MONEYME

MONEYME intends to offer a share placement to institutional investors and Directors¹

- $20m Placement
$2.1m of which is subject to shareholders approval
- Additional $1.2m Directors' participation
subject to shareholders approval

Highly efficient use of equity capital

MONEYME raised $45m in primary capital at IPO in December 2019, followed by the $99m SocietyOne share issuance in March 2022. Key achievements supported by the capital issuances include:

- Loan book growth $87m in FY19 to $1.35b in FY22
- Revenue growth $32m in FY19 to $143m in FY22
- Blockbuster product innovation
- >500k customers
- Increased contracted revenue by ~28x from $14m in FY19 to $398m in FY22
- Significant cash profits

The business is well set up to deliver statutory NPAT following the equity investments to-date. The potential to achieve a positive statutory NPAT result in FY23 will depend on the level of customer receivable growth and potential recognition of tax assets

An off-balance sheet tax benefit of $43m¹ at 30 June 2022 is expected to make a significant impact to future statutory profits

1. Refer to Note 8.3 in the FY22 Annual Report. The application of the deferred tax assets is subject to formal accounting and tax reviews.

Gross customer receivables evolution ($m)

Additional capital generates attractive returns

- MONEyme continues to attract high demand across its range of secured and unsecured lending products
- MONEyme intends to raise $20m of underwritten capital for growth, supporting debt facilities and transaction costs
- The capital raised is expected to support the ability to increase MONEyme's GLA by >18% or more than $200m
- Leveraging MONEyme's technology and scaled platform, this growth will drive further profits and equity returns

Illustrative funding capacity

Conservatively assumes 7.5% equity requirement to fund junior notes and upfront broker commissions*

Illustrative return on equity metrics and assumptions (per annum)¹

Unit economics	Secured	Unsecured
Revenue	11.5%	19.5%
Cost of funds	(4.6%)	(5.5%)
Losses ²	(1.4%)	(4.3%)
Operating expenses	(3.2%)	(3.2%)
Return on assets	2.3%	6.5%
Post-tax return on equity	21.5%	60.7%

1. The figures represent the indicative incremental benefits to revenue and overall pre-tax equity returns from investing the use of proceeds into new secured and unsecured customer receivables assuming credit enhancement of 7.5% across both secured and unsecured lending products. The analysis excludes the use of other new business funding sources, such as corporate debt or operational cash flows. It also excludes any impacts from time on effective realised returns or how expected returns would be presented in MONEyme's financial statements. MONEyme intends to deploy the new equity capital to originate new customer receivables in the normal course of its business. The rate at which it originates new customer receivables will depend on several factors, including the macroeconomic environment, MONEyme's immediate business priorities, the market environment, MONEyme's securitisation funding arrangements and the credit risk environment
2. The illustration is based upon assumed behavioural lives and per annum returns rather than whole of life returns –e.g. assumed behavioural life losses are 3% and 8% for the secured and unsecured books respectively compared to the 1.4% and 4.3% annualised rates

Key Risks (1 of 4)

This section discusses some of the key specific and general risks that Shareholders may be exposed to by making an investment in MONEYME Shares. The risks set out below are not listed in order of importance and do not constitute an exhaustive list of all risks involved with investment in MONEYME. These risks include:

- risks specific to MONEYME following completion of the acquisition of SocietyOne (Acquisition);
- risks specific to the Acquisition; and
- general and Offer related risks that may apply to MONEYME.

These risks may affect the future operating and financial performance of MONEYME and the value of MONEYME Shares.

The risks and the uncertainties described below:

- are not, and should not be considered to be or relied on as, an exhaustive list of the risks that Shareholders may face; and
- are general in nature and regard has not been had to the investment objectives, financial situation, tax position or particular needs of any individual investor.

Investors should note that the occurrence or consequences of many of the risks described in this section are partially or completely outside the control of MONEYME, its directors and management. Further, investors should note that this section focuses on the key risks and does not purport to list every risk that MONEYME may have now or in the future. It is also important to note that there can be no guarantee that MONEYME will achieve its stated objectives or that any forward-looking statements, expectations, illustrations or forecasts contained in this Presentation will be realised or otherwise eventuate.

1. Risk factors specific to MONEYME

Customers may fail to repay their financial obligations to MONEYME

There is a risk that MONEYME's customers may not pay the principal, interest and fees owing to MONEYME under their contract, which could result in a decrease in revenue and operating cash flows received, and an increase in expenses (including an increase in impairment expenses). This risk is heightened in a rising interest rate environment, with increasing inflationary and associated cost of living pressures. Customer non-payment is a significant component of MONEYME's expenses at present. If MONEYME's excessive exposure to bad debts as a result of customers failing to repay their financial obligations to MONEYME is higher than expected, it will have a material adverse effect on MONEYME's profitability and could trigger defaults of financial covenants, review events or have other consequences under MONEYME's corporate financing facility.

MONEYME's existing securitisation funding arrangements also contain limits on the arrears or loss rates of receivables which, if exceeded, may result in drawdowns being refused by the funders of those facilities. MONEYME's ability to access funding will also be predicated on its ability to generate stable Static Loss Rates over time, so if funders lose confidence in MONEYME's ability to underwrite credit to the standard expected, MONEYME may find it more difficult to obtain funding or obtain funding on satisfactory terms.

MONEYME may be unable to access funding, or funding available to MONEYME may be on unsatisfactory terms or on terms MONEYME is unable to continue to comply with MONEYME's existing funding sources predominantly comprise a combination of warehouse facilities and a corporate lending facility. Successful completion of the Placement will assist MONEYME to achieve management growth plans for FY23 and meet cash/cash equivalent requirements. MONEYME also expects to raise an additional circa $5 million in debt capital by 31 December 2022 for the same purposes. Accordingly, continued access to funding channels remains important to MONEYME.

MONEYME has a $75 million corporate syndicated facility with Pacific Equity Partners (PEP) which contains various obligations and covenants including in respect of leverage, liquidity, loan assets. There is a risk that, due to an event of default, failure to comply with a financial covenant or the occurrence of a review event, PEP may be entitled to or demand full or partial repayment or cancel the facility provided by it, fail to renew its facility following its maturity, or renew the facility only in part or on less favourable terms. As disclosed in note 21.4 of MONEYME's FY2022 Annual Report, MONEYME has recently obtained waivers from certain covenants under the PEP facility.

MONEYME is required to subscribe for subordinated debt in the existing securitisation funding arrangements, which provides credit support for the debt issued to its third-party financiers and acts as the 'first loss' capital to absorb any losses. MONEYME may be required to subscribe for additional subordinated debt from time to time if, for instance, the loan book increases and/or new warehouse funding arrangements are put in place, to ensure that the subordination requirements of these funding arrangements are satisfied. If MONEYME is unable to obtain cash and equity to satisfy these subordination requirements, MONEYME's access to warehouse funding may be restricted, which would impact MONEYME's ability to originate new loans, limit the size of the business and the related profitability associated with scaling the business and therefore adversely affect MONEYME's business, financial condition, operating and financial performance, and/or growth. If losses on loans in securitisation funding arrangements are sufficiently high, it will result in an erosion of MONEYME's required 'first loss' capital positions and a permanent loss of such capital that is used to satisfy losses.

In general, MONEYME's ability to write new loans on favourable terms will depend on its ability to access funding and the terms on which such funding is obtained, including its ability to generate cash from operations and to access external debt and equity funding. Accordingly:

- if MONEYME is not able to secure additional funding (as and when it is required), MONEYME may not be able to write new loans or its ability to do so may be restricted; and
- if there is a loss or an adverse impact (for instance an increase in the cost of capital) to MONEYME's funding sources, or any future funding sources, MONEYME's ability to write new loans on favourable and/or competitive terms will be limited.

In addition, the market relevance of MONEYME's products may be impacted if its ability to write new loans is constrained because that depends, in part, on how active MONEYME is in the market and the amount of loans MONEYME is originating.

Future equity issuances

In the future, MONEYME may elect to issue further Shares or instruments which are convertible into Shares to raise further funding, including to provide the cash required to continue to grow the business and support requirements under its warehouse facilities. While MONEYME will be subject to the constraints of the ASX Listing Rules regarding the percentage of its capital it is able to issue within a 12-month period (other than where exceptions apply), Shareholders may be diluted as a result of such fundraisings. There can be no assurance that such additional funding, if needed, will be available on terms attractive to MONEYME or at all. The ability of MONEYME to secure any required financing to sustain operations and expansion plans will depend in part upon general economic conditions, prevailing capital market conditions and the performance, reputation and financial strength of MONEYME.

Increase in interest rates

The cash rate set by the Reserve Bank of Australia has been a significant driver of low interest rates for wholesale funding in the Australian market, including the BBSY and BBSW, which are the Benchmark Rates of MONEYME's existing funding arrangements. However, there are currently significant inflationary pressures in the Australian economy and, in response, the Reserve Bank of Australia has been lifting interest rates and the market is expecting ongoing monetary policy tightening.

An increase in the cash rate may increase the cost of funding available to MONEYME, which is a key variable cost of the business. MONEYME retains flexibility under its documentation with customers to pass on the impact of an increase in interest rates to them (subject to any applicable laws, including a court's ability to annul any interest rate it considers unconscionable). MONEYME has demonstrated an ability to pass on rate increases to its customers, with several rate increases applied across its variable rate product set including Autopay. The same mitigants of this risk do not apply to the SocietyOne portfolio which have fixed rates. MONEYME has established interest rate hedging arrangements that are, and will continue to be put, in place for SocietyOne loans).

There is a risk that the sharp increase in interest rates in the last 6 months will continue and will put MONEYME's customers in financial stress and lead to a rise in delinquencies and loan write-downs, in an environment with broader cost of living pressures. It may also risk a reduction in demand for MONEYME's products.

For these reasons, an increase in the cash rate may have a material adverse effect on MONEYME's business, financial condition, operating and financial performance, and/or growth.

Terms of MONEYME's existing securitisation funding arrangements

MONEYME's existing securitisation funding arrangements contain various provisions, including events of default and amortisation events which, if triggered, could impact MONEYME's profitability, financial position and prospects. This risk also applies to the SocietyOne business which has been acquired, given the vast majority of its loan originations are funded through warehouse facilities.

Key Risks (2 of 4)

An amortisation event or event of default may arise from, among other things:

- a breach by MONEYME of its undertakings under existing securitisation funding arrangements, including with respect to the origination and servicing of receivables;
- credit related factors relating to the quality or performance of the pool of receivables funded under the existing securitisation funding arrangements; and
- the failure or inability to meet relevant pool parameters with respect to the pool of receivables funded under the existing securitisation funding arrangements (for example, aggregate thresholds for loss rates, loan balances, interest rates, seasoning, product types and geographic concentrations for the receivables in the existing securitisation funding arrangements), in each case, subject to any applicable grace periods provided for in the terms of the existing securitisation funding arrangements' documents.

If an amortisation event were to occur upon expiry of any applicable grace periods, this would prevent MONEYME from obtaining further funding for the origination of receivables under the relevant existing securitisation funding arrangement, and in addition, the timing and quantum of payments to MONEYME may be affected. If an event of default were to occur upon expiry of any applicable grace periods, this would result in the ability for the secured creditors of the existing securitisation funding arrangement to enforce the security over the assets and sell the receivables funded by that existing securitisation funding arrangement, and remove MONEYME as servicer of those receivables (meaning MONEYME would no longer interact with customers in relation to the receivables).

In addition, MONEYME relies on securitisation and warehouse funding arrangements to fund loan originations and, accordingly, has potential exposure to funding risks. If repayments are not made or certain terms and conditions are not satisfied under the warehouse facilities, financiers may be able to terminate their respective financing arrangements. An adverse impact on, or loss on, one or more of these funding arrangements without access to comparable or acceptable alternatives, may adversely impact MONEYME's ability to originate new business or to refinance expiring warehouse facilities.

There is also a risk that if MONEYME were to receive redemption requests from investors in the SocietyOne Personal Loans Trust and is unable to satisfy such requests within the expected 12 month timeframe (due to an inability to realise value for the underlying personal loans made to customers in that timeframe), that MONEYME may suffer reputational damage with investors in the Personal Loans Trust.

Compliance with laws, regulations and industry compliance standards

Compliance obligations generally

MONEYME (including SocietyOne) is subject to a range of laws, regulations and industry standards including the National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009 (Cth) (NCCP Act), the Financial Sector (Collection of Data) Act 2001 (Cth) (FSCODA) and the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth), each of which creates conduct and disclosure obligations which are applicable to MONEYME, and are liable to change with developments in political, regulator and consumer needs and expectations. SocietyOne is also subject to regulation under the Corporations Act as it holds an Australian financial services licence in connection with its peer-to-peer funding structure (which is in run-off). From time to time, MONEYME is subject to enquiries and investigations by regulatory authorities and there is a risk that deficiencies may be identified in compliance with these regulatory requirements which may have adverse reputational and monetary impacts on the Company.

Failure to comply with these laws, regulations, industry compliance standards and licensing requirements could adversely impact MONEYME's (and SocietyOne's) business, including through civil penalty proceedings, loss or suspension of licence, increased compliance costs, the cessation of certain business activities, restrictions on product and service expansion, litigation and disputes, regulatory enquiry or investigation and reputational damage.

MONEYME (and SocietyOne) is also a member of the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA), which is an external dispute resolution scheme that considers complaints made about (among other things) consumer credit products. AFCA has jurisdiction to hear disputes between MONEYME and its customers, and if it determines there is a systemic issue it is obliged to refer the issue to ASIC. This could result in loss or suspension of licence, monetary fines, remedial actions, legal proceedings and reputational damage if ASIC were to take enforcement action based on a referral by AFCA.

Responsible lending obligations

In the provision of its consumer loans, MONEYME is also required to comply with the responsible lending obligations set out in the NCCP Act. Broadly, the responsible lending obligations require consumer credit providers to make an assessment of a consumer's suitability for entry into a credit arrangement before providing a credit product. This includes making enquiries into the financial situation and objectives of the consumer, providing the consumer with a copy of the financial assessment undertaken if requested and disclosing key features of the credit product and dispute resolution procedure to consumers.

Design and distribution obligations and product intervention power

Credit providers such as MONEYME and SocietyOne must comply with the design and distribution obligations. This means MONEYME must assess the target market for its credit products and may be required to make changes to the distribution strategy and disclosure documents used to distribute these products.

MONEYME is required to take reasonable steps to determine its target market and distribute consistently with those determinations, and to ensure that credit products offered by MONEYME do not cause significant consumer detriment. Monitoring regulatory development and ASIC guidance on the use of product intervention powers is relevant in determining the likely impact of the powers on MONEYME's business and product expansion plans.

MONEYME's technology may fail or experience disruptions, or may become obsolete

There is a risk that the Horizon Technology Platform may experience downtime or interruption due to system failures, service outages, corruption of information technology network or information systems as a result of computer viruses, bugs, worms or cyber-attacks, as well as natural disasters, fire, power outages or other events outside the control of MONEYME, and that measures implemented by MONEYME to protect against such events are ineffective. MONEYME's business is highly dependent on its ability to process a large number of loans. Accordingly, any systemic failure could cause significant damage to MONEYME's reputation, its ability to make informed credit decisions and assess the credit performance of its loan book, its ability to service customers in a timely manner, and its ability to retain existing customers and generate new customers, any of which could have a materially adverse impact on MONEYME's business, operating and financial performance, and/or growth.

MONEYME's technology platform or product offering may also become obsolete or outdated through the investment of its peers in superior technology and/or product offerings, increased access to data through the introduction of positive credit reporting reforms or general market developments. This could necessitate MONEYME to undertake substantial investment in updating or improving its current technology platform and product offering, which could have a material adverse impact on MONEYME's business, operating and financial performance, and/or growth.

Exposure to security breaches and data protection issues

The use of the Horizon Technology Platform is critical to MONEYME's ability to operate and grow its business and to achieve synergies from the Acquisition. By their nature, information technology systems are susceptible to security issues, including cyber attacks and other unauthorised access to data and information. Security breaches may involve unauthorised access to MONEYME's networks, systems and databases, including with respect to its service offerings and technology platforms, and the deployment of viruses or other malicious software designed to create system and service disruptions, exposing financial, proprietary and personal information.

MONEYME collects, processes and stores, through the ordinary course of its business, a wide range of confidential personal data and information on applicants. Despite seeking to maximise the protection of customer and company data, the measures that MONEYME takes to protect such information and data may be insufficient to prevent security breaches from arising, or other unauthorised access or disclosure of such information and data.

MONEYME uses secure cloud-based technology to host a number of its key systems and processes including customer data, and had regard to maintaining the confidentiality and security of confidential customer information when designing its technology platform. However, there is a risk that the measures which are taken by MONEYME may not be sufficient to detect or prevent unauthorised access to, or disclosure of, such confidential information.

Any data security breaches or MONEYME's failure to protect private customer information (including through cyber attacks) could result in a significant disruption to MONEYME's systems, reputational damage, loss of system integrity and breaches of MONEYME's obligations under applicable laws. An obligation under privacy laws to notify individuals and the Australian Information Commission of the breach, and could reduce MONEYME's ability to retain existing customers and generate new customers, any of which could have a material adverse impact on its business, operating and financial performance and reputation.

Competitors, new market entrants and alternative products

MONEYME operates in the Australian consumer credit sector, which includes a broad range of participants with diverse business models and product offerings. The direct competitors of MONEYME are those businesses that focus on the fintech or online lender segment of the sector. The consumer credit sector and the fintech or online segment of that market are highly competitive. Accordingly, participants in the sector may seek to imitate MONEYME's strategies and/or may attempt to aggressively take market share from MONEYME, or may develop superior products or have more effective consumer engagement which reduces MONEYME's competitiveness.

Key Risks (3 of 4)

Protection and ownership of technology and intellectual property

MONEYME has developed its own technology platform, the Horizon Technology Platform, which is a loan management system and therefore important to all aspects of its existing business (including assessing credit risk and determining risk-based pricing) and, accordingly, for the successful operation and growth of MONEYME's business.

The commercial value of MONEYME's intellectual property in the technology platform is dependent in part on operational procedures to maintain confidentiality and legal protections provided by a combination of copyright, trade secrecy laws, confidentiality obligations on employees and third parties and other intellectual property rights.

However, there is a risk that MONEYME's intellectual property may in the future be compromised in a number of ways, including through unauthorised use or copying of MONEYME's software, data, specialised technology or platforms. In addition, there is a risk that the validity, ownership or authorised use of intellectual property relevant to MONEYME's business may be successfully challenged by third parties.

Any such breaches (including by way of employee fraud) or the introduction of competing technologies could erode MONEYME's competitive position, which could have a material adverse impact on MONEYME's business, operating and financial performance, and/or growth.

In addition, competitors may be able to work around any of the intellectual property rights used by MONEYME, or independently develop competing products or services that are not protected by MONEYME's intellectual property rights.

Reliance on third party systems suppliers

The Horizon Technology Platform (and by extension the MONEYME business) relies on key inputs from third parties to operate, from third-party credit agencies and contracts with third-party information technology suppliers and software providers to use of third-party payment providers and third party for cloud-hosting and data repository services. MONEYME's business is consequently exposed to the ongoing availability and quality of third party services and products at affordable price points.

In addition, SocietyOne's ability to provide loans and other products to its customers is currently reliant on key services and inputs from third parties. While MONEYME is in the process of migrating the SocietyOne business on to the Horizon Technology Platform, during the migration period there is a risk that the third party providers may choose to cease to do business, or change the terms on which they do business, with SocietyOne. For example, SocietyOne depends on key providers for data warehousing and cloud-hosting services as well as the maintenance and support for its loan origination and servicing platforms. It also uses information from credit reporting agencies and banks in connection with credit assessment and customer verification processes. It relies on various third party providers for operational support in respect of the disbursement of loan funds and collection of payments.

Disruption in relation to third party system providers could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, operating and financial performance, customer reputation, cost of funding and/or growth of MONEYME.

Exposure to adverse macro-economic conditions

MONEYME's business depends on demand for consumer finance and customers having the ability to repay their financial obligations, both of which can be affected by changes in general economic conditions. For example, macro-economic conditions such as unemployment, interest rates, inflation, consumer confidence, economic recessions, downturns or extended periods of uncertainty or volatility and government policy all may influence consumer spending and demand for consumer finance and/or the ability of consumers to repay their financial obligations. The outbreak of COVID-19, war in the Ukraine and increasing cost of living and inflationary pressures, has also resulted in heightened volatility in domestic and global financial markets. In particular, further increases in the cash rate by the Reserve Bank of Australia in order to curb inflation and inflationary expectations are expected by the market. Cost pressures caused by the war in Ukraine and ongoing supply chain bottlenecks due to COVID-19 may continue, having a dampening impact on overall economic activity. Additionally, any government measures aimed at controlling the spread of COVID-19 such as border restrictions, closures of businesses, restrictions on public gatherings and social distancing, will have a continued and prolonged negative impact on domestic and global economic activity. The expected duration and magnitude of COVID-19 and its potential impact on the economy remain unclear. Adverse macroeconomic conditions may generally have a material adverse impact on MONEYME's profitability through a reduction in revenue collections and/or increase in bad debt.

People

The successful operation of MONEYME will depend on the retention, performance and expertise of its and SocietyOne's key management personnel and high performing employees with specialist skills (including technology and credit risk assessment). The loss of certain key personnel, and inability to attract and retain replacements or new key personnel, could have a materially adverse impact on MONEYME's business, operating and financial performance, and/or growth.

MONEYME could suffer brand and/or reputation damage

MONEYME's brand and reputation are very important to attracting, retaining and increasing its customer base, managing its relationship with stakeholders and implementing MONEYME's business strategy. MONEYME's brand and reputation are also very important to MONEYME maintaining its existing funding arrangements, obtaining new funding, and also retaining and attracting a skilled and engaged workforce.

MONEYME manages risks relating to a number of issues and events, including risks relating to legal and regulatory requirements, responsible lending and sales practices, potential conflicts of interest, privacy laws and ethical issues, among other considerations, which may cause harm to MONEYME's brand, image or reputation through negative publicity, heightened regulatory focus and customer experience. Actions or failures by other market participants could also negatively impact the reputation of the industry and MONEYME.

There is a risk that unforeseen issues or events could adversely impact MONEYME's reputation. The strength of MONEYME's reputation is an important part of retaining and growing its customer bases and, accordingly, an event that has a negative impact on MONEYME's brand could have a material adverse impact on the demand for MONEYME's products. This may adversely impact MONEYME's business, financial condition, operating performance, and/or growth.

Human error/fraud

MONEYME is exposed to human error and fraud relating to employees not carrying out their duties responsibly and in line with agreed policy and process. These risks include employees providing a customer with misleading or inaccurate information in relation to the cost of their loan or their loan repayment options which could result in an unfair customer outcome.

Failure to achieve growth strategy

MONEYME has developed a number of growth strategies which include increasing MONEYME's market penetration and increasing MONEYME's total addressable market through innovation and entering new geographies. Additionally, part of the rationale for the Acquisition is to penetrate SocietyOne's customer base with the MONEYME product suite and also achieve growth by accessing SocietyOne's distribution channels. Similarly, a growth strategy is to target MONEYME's existing customers with SocietyOne products. There is no guarantee that all or any of MONEYME's growth strategies will be successfully implemented, deliver the expected returns or ultimately be profitable. Similarly there is no guarantee that MONEYME will achieve its future growth strategy. There is a risk that the growth strategies may be subjected to unexpected delays and additional implementation costs.

Any change to MONEYME's ability to achieve any or all of its future growth strategies, or the market's perception of MONEYME's ability to deliver growth to shareholders, it likely to have a significant impact on MONEYME's share price.

Liquidity risk

There can be no guarantee that an active trading market for MONEYME's shares is maintained. There may be relatively few or many potential buyers and sellers of the shares on the ASX at any time. This may increase the volatility of the value of the shares and/or prevent investors from acquiring or disposing shares.

Litigation, claims and disputes

MONEYME could be subject to litigation and other claims and disputes in the course of its business, including customer disputes, employment disputes and claims, contractual disputes, indemnity claims, occupational health and safety claims, or criminal or civil proceedings in the course of its business. There is a risk that any such litigation, claims and disputes could materially and adversely affect MONEYME's business, financial condition and operating performance, including due the cost of settling such claims and the effect on MONEYME's reputation.

Timing of financial information

The financial information set out in this Presentation includes unaudited pro forma financial information. No assurance can be given that MONEYME's audited financial results will align with the financial information in this Presentation in respect of the relevant period.

Key Risks (4 of 4)

Climate change

Climate change may impact on overall economic growth and national living standards, with longer term consequences for MONEYME's customers. There are also physical risks posed by climate change which may cause business disruption. Indirect impacts of climate change would extend to its impact on the automotive sector, to which MONEYME has exposure through its Autopay lending business. MONEYME is responding to climate change threats through, for example, execution of a digital business model and achieving 100% carbon-neutral energy for the Sydney office, however there are costs but also benefits associated with this environmental approach. Overall unmitigated climate change could lead to an adverse impact on MONEYME's business and operations.

2. Risk factors specific to the Acquisition

Due diligence risks and reliance on information provided

Prior to the Acquisition, MONEYME undertook a due diligence process in respect of the SocietyOne Group, which relied in part on the review of financial, technical, operational and other information provided by the SocietyOne Group. While MONEYME considers the due diligence process undertaken to be appropriate, MONEYME was not able to verify the accuracy, reliability or completeness of all the information (some of which was unaudited) which was provided to it against independent data.

Although MONEYME has been operating the combined business since completion of the Acquisition on 15 March 2022, there remains a risk that the due diligence that was conducted did not identify all issues that would have been material to the decision to enter into the Acquisition (including due to inaccuracies in the information provided to MONEYME or limitations in the scope of due diligence review). A material adverse issue that was not identified prior to entry into the Acquisition could have an adverse impact on the reputation, financial performance or operations of MONEYME. Further, as is usual in undertaking acquisitions, the due diligence process undertaken by MONEYME identified a number of risks associated with SocietyOne, which MONEYME had to evaluate and manage. Certain risks cannot be voided or managed appropriately (for example, because it was not always possible to negotiate indemnities or representations and warranties from the sellers to cover all potential risks) and the mechanisms used to manage these risks included in certain circumstances the acceptance of the risk as tolerable on commercial grounds such as materiality. This might adversely affect the operations, financial performance or position of MONEYME.

Further, the information reviewed by MONEYME included forward-looking information. While MONEYME has been able to review some of the foundations for the forward-looking information relating to the SocietyOne Group, forward-looking information is inherently unreliable and based on assumptions that may not be achieved or satisfied in the future.

Asset impairment

Consistent with accounting standards, MONEYME is periodically required to assess the carrying values of its assets. Where the value of an asset (including an asset owned by SocietyOne post-acquisition) is to be less than its carrying value, MONEYME is obliged to recognise an impairment charge in its profit and loss account. Impairment charges can be significant and operate to reduce the level of a company's profits. Impairment charges are a non-cash item.

Integration

The integration of a business of the size and nature of SocietyOne carries risk, including potential delays or costs in implementing necessary changes and difficulties in integrating various operations and systems. There is a risk that integration could take longer, be more complex or cost more than expected, encounter unexpected challenges or issues (including differences in corporate culture between the businesses being integrated or loss of, or reduction in, key personnel, expert capability or employee productivity, or failure to procure or retain employees of SocietyOne) or divert the attention of management, which impact on the integration process. Although the integration of SocietyOne is proceeding as expected (and is projected to deliver cost synergies above the $17m initially planned), not all aspects of the platforms are integrated and there remains a risk of cost and delays exceeding budget. A failure to integrate SocietyOne in the time and manner contemplated by MONEYME may impact on the ability of MONEYME Group to achieve synergies.

Achievement of synergies

There is a risk that the realisation of targeted synergies or benefits may not be achieved in a timely manner, at all or to the extent envisaged, or that the costs associated with achieving them may be higher than anticipated. Potential issues and complications influencing the achievement of targeted benefits include experiencing lower than expected cost savings, productivity improvements, growth in revenues and/or changes in market conditions. In particular, realisation of the targeted synergies is dependent on successfully carrying out management's integration plan. This involves integration of the IT systems and achieving various milestones for transitioning the SocietyOne business on to the Horizon Technology Platform.

Assumed liabilities

MONEYME is required to account for any outstanding liabilities that the SocietyOne Group has incurred in the past, including any liabilities which were not identified during its due diligence or which are greater than expected, and for which MONEYME may not have post-completion recourse under the Merger Implementation Agreement and which may include damages, fines, penalties or other sanctions. These could include liabilities relating to current or future litigation, failure by the SocietyOne Group to hold required regulatory approvals, authorisations or licences (or to lose authorisations or licences that they hold), regulatory actions (including without limitation in relation to any such failure), historical tax liabilities, warranty or performance claims and other liabilities. There is a risk that MONEYME could be exposed to unexpected liabilities resulting from past non-compliances by SocietyOne with applicable laws or regulations, which may impact on the financial performance or position of MONEYME. It may also have other impacts, such as attracting greater scrutiny from regulators or cause reputational damage.

3. Offer and general risks

Investment in equity and general risks

The price of MONEYME's shares (including the shares to be issued pursuant to the Placement) on the ASX will be affected by the financial performance of MONEYME and may rise or fall due to numerous often unpredictable factors, including:

- Australian and international general economic conditions, including inflation rates, the level of economic activity, interest rates and currency exchange rates;
- war in Ukraine, tensions between countries and acts of terrorism in Australia and around the world;
- the impact of COVID-19; and
- investor perceptions in the local and global markets for listed stocks.

Changes in global economic conditions (including changes to interest rates, inflation, foreign exchange rates and labour costs) as well as general trends in the Australian and overseas equity markets may affect the trading price of MONEYME's shares on the ASX. One or more of these factors may cause its shares to trade below prices and may adversely affect MONEYME's financial position and/or performance. In addition, changes in the value of MONEYME's shares may be unrelated or disproportionate to the actual operating performance of MONEYME.

MONEYME's shares (including the shares to be issued pursuant to the Placement) may trade at higher or lower prices than the price at the date of this Presentation and no assurances can be given that MONEYME's market performance will not be adversely affected by any such market fluctuations or factors. No member of MONEYME, nor any of their directors nor any other person guarantees MONEYME's market performance.

Underwriting and funding risk

It is intended that the proceeds of the Offer will be used to fund ongoing growth across MONEYME's key products including equity funding requirement for new loans written and upfront commissions paid to brokers.

The Placement is lead managed by Barrenjoey Markets Pty Limited (ABN 66 636 976 059) (Lead Manager) pursuant to the terms of the Placement Agreement summarised in the "Summary of Underwriting Agreement" in the Appendix of this Presentation. Under the Placement Agreement, the Lead Manager has agreed to manage and underwrite the Placement, subject to the terms and conditions of the agreement. If certain conditions are not satisfied or certain customary termination events occur, the Lead Manager may terminate the Placement Agreement. Those termination events are summarised in the "Summary of Underwriting Agreement" in the Appendix of this Presentation. Termination of the Placement Agreement would have an adverse impact on the amount of proceeds raised or result in the Offer not proceeding at all, which would require MONEYME to use alternative funding sources to achieve its strategy.

Dilution risk

Existing shareholders who do not participate in the Equity Raising will have their percentage shareholding in MONEYME diluted. Depending on the size of a shareholder's existing holding, a participating shareholder may still be diluted even though they participate in the Placement, depending on the number of New Shares allocated to them.

None of the MONEYME Parties nor the LM Parties accept any fiduciary obligations to or relationship (whether agency or otherwise) with any investor or potential investor, securityholder, creditor or other person in connection with the Equity Raising or otherwise. Readers are responsible for making their own independent judgement with respect to the Equity Raising, any other transaction and any other matter arising in connection with this presentation.

The Lead Manager, together with its related bodies corporate and affiliates, is a full service financial institution engaged in various activities, which may include underwriting, trading, investment banking, financing, corporate advisory, financial advisory, investment management, investment research, principal investment, risk management and hedging activities, lending, market making, financial planning and benefits counselling, brokerage and other financial and non-financial activities and services for clients and counterparties, including companies, governments, institutions and individuals for which it has received or may receive customary fees and expenses.

In the ordinary course of its various business activities, the LM Parties may at any time purchase, sell or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade or effect transactions in securities, derivatives, loans, commodities, currencies, credit default swaps and other financial instruments for their own account and for the accounts of their customers, and those investment and trading activities may involve or relate to assets, securities and/or instruments of MONEYME, and/or persons and entities with relationships with MONEYME. The LM Parties may also communicate independent investment recommendations, market colour or trading ideas and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of those assets, securities or instruments and may at any time hold, or recommend to clients that they should acquire, long and/or short positions in those assets, securities and instruments.

The Lead Manager, in conjunction with its related bodies corporate and affiliates, is acting as a lead manager and bookrunner to the Placement and will receive fees and expenses for acting in this capacity. Affiliates of the Lead Manager are or may in the future be lenders and/or derivative counterparties to MONEYME or its related bodies corporate or affiliates.

In connection with the Placement, one or more investors may elect to acquire an economic interest in the New Shares ("Economic Interest"), instead of subscribing for or acquiring the legal or beneficial interest in those securities. The Lead Manager (or its related bodies corporate or affiliates) may, for their own account, write derivative transactions with those investors relating to the New Shares to provide the Economic Interest, or otherwise acquire securities in MONEYME in connection with the writing of those derivative transactions in the Placement and/or the secondary market. As a result of those transactions, the Lead Manager (or its related bodies corporate or affiliates) may be allocated, subscribe for or acquire New Shares or securities of MONEYME in the Placement and/or the secondary market, including to hedge those derivative transactions, as well as hold long or short positions in those securities. These transactions may, together with other securities in MONEYME acquired by the Lead Manager or its related bodies corporate or affiliates in connection with its ordinary course sales and trading, principal investing and other activities, result in the Lead Manager or its related bodies corporate or affiliates disclosing a substantial holding and earning fees.

Determination of eligibility of investors for the purposes of the Equity Raising is determined by reference to a number of matters, including legal requirements and the discretion of MONEYME and the Lead Manager. MONEYME and the Lead Manager disclaim any liability in respect of the exercise or otherwise of that discretion, to the maximum extent permitted by law.
