Section 713 allows the issue of a more concise prospectus in relation to an offer of continuously quoted securities (as defined in the Corporations Act). This Prospectus is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to the Company which has been notified to ASX and does not include all information that would be included in a prospectus for an initial public offering.

This document is important and it should be read in its entirety. The Shares to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus should be viewed as a speculative investment and investors should refer to Section 2 for details of certain risk factors which are considered to be relevant for the purposes of the Offer. market performance of the Company are detailed in Section 2 of this Prospectus. The Securities on offer under this Prospectus should be considered speculative. Accordingly, before deciding to invest in the Company, investors should read this Prospectus in its entirety and should consider all factors in light of their individual circumstances and seek appropriate professional advice.

The Board aims to manage these risks by carefully planning its activities and implementing risk control measures. Some of the risks are, however, highly unpredictable and the extent to which they can be effectively managed is limited.

Risks of investing in the Company's existing assets and general risks are set out in Section 2 of this Prospectus.

Careful consideration should be given to all matters raised in this Prospectus and the relative risk factors prior to applying for Shares offered under this Prospectus. #### 1.10 CHESS and Issuer Sponsorship

The Company operates an electronic CHESS sub-register and an electronic issuer sponsored sub-register. These two sub-registers make up the Company's register of securities. The Company will not issue certificates to investors. Rather, holding statements (similar to bank statements) will be dispatched to investors as soon as practicable after issue.

Holding statements will be sent either by CHESS (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the CHESS sub-register) or by the Company's Share Registry (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Issuer sponsored sub-register). The statements will set out the number of Shares issued under the Prospectus and provide details of a Holder Identification Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the chess sub-register) or Security holder Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the chess sub-

1.11 Risks

As with any securities investment, there are risks associated with investing in the Company. The principal risks that could affect the financial and market performance of the Company are detailed in Section 2 of this Prospectus. The Shares on offer under this Prospectus should be considered speculative. Accordingly, before deciding to invest in the Company, investors should read this Prospectus in its entirety and should consider all factors in light of their individual circumstances and seek appropriate professional advice.

1.12 Restrictions on the distribution of the Prospectus

The distribution of this Prospectus outside of Australia may be restricted by law. This Offer does not, and is not intended to, constitute an offer in any place or jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or to issue this Prospectus.

Residents of countries outside Australia should consult their professional advisers as to whether any government or other consents are required, or whether any formalities need to be observed should they wish to make an application to take up Securities on the basis of this Prospectus. The return of a duly completed Application Form will be taken to constitute a representation and warranty that there has been no breach of such laws and that all approvals and consents have been obtained.

1.13 Taxation

It is the responsibility of all persons to satisfy themselves of the particular taxation treatment that applies to them by consulting their own professional tax advisers. Taxation consequences will depend on particular circumstances. Neither the Company nor any of its officers accept any liability or responsibility in respect of the taxation consequences of the matters referred to above or any other taxation consequences connected with an investment in the Securities of the Company.

2. RISK FACTORS

2.1 Introduction

The Shares offered under this Prospectus should be considered speculative because of the nature of the Company's business.

There are numerous risk factors involved with an investment in the Company. Some of these risks can be mitigated by the use of safeguards and appropriate systems and controls, but some are outside the control of the Company and cannot be mitigated. Accordingly, an investment in the Company carries no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, return of capital or price at which the Securities will trade.

The following is a summary of the more material matters to be considered and should be read in conjunction with specific matters referred to in the Company's announcements and reports. However, the summary is not exhaustive and potential investors should examine the contents of this Prospectus in its entirety and consult their professional advisors before deciding whether to apply for the Shares.

2.2 Company specific

(a) Cuban sanctions risk

The Company's main development project is located in Cuba.

The United States has maintained an embargo against Cuba, administered by the United States Department of Treasury. The laws and regulations establishing the embargo have been amended from time to time. The embargo applies to almost all transactions involving Cuba or Cuban enterprises, and it prohibits Unites States persons from such transactions unless such persons obtain specific licenses from the United States Department of Treasury authorising their participation.

The United States embargo may adversely affect the Company's assets, business and operations by limiting the Company's access to US capital, US financing, US customers, and US suppliers. These negative impacts could become more severe in time and possibly prevent the Company from continuing to operate in Cuba.

(b) Future capital needs

Additional funding will be required by the Company to effectively implement its business and operations plans in the future, to take advantage of opportunities for acquisitions, joint ventures or other business opportunities, and to meet any unanticipated liabilities or expenses which the Company may incur. Further additional financing will be required if the Board determines to accelerate the development of the Company's technology.

The Company may seek to raise further funds through equity or debt financing, joint venture, licensing agreement, production sharing arrangement or other means. Failure to obtain sufficient financing for the Company's activities and future projects may result in delay and indefinite postponement of activities. There can be no assurance that additional finance will be available when needed or, if available, the terms of the financing might not be favourable to the Company and might involve substantial dilution to Shareholders. Failure to gain funding as and when required may result in the Company being unable to finance its operations and ultimately being unable to operate as a going concern.

Some of the Company's funding requirements could be met from the settlement of arbitration proceedings with respect to contractual claims totalling A$45,000,000 against the Dominican Republic Government has been arbitrated by the World Bank's International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID) with decisions and awards still pending. Due to the inherent uncertainty of these proceedings, there is no guarantee the Company's claims will be successful nor is there certainty regarding the quantum of any damages to be awarded. In addition, there is no guarantee of the Company obtaining other sufficient funding to implement its exploration or project development intentions.

No assurances can be made that appropriate funding, if and when needed, will be available on favourable terms or at all. Any inability to obtain sufficient financing for the Company's activities and future projects may result in the delay or cancellation of certain activities or projects, which would likely adversely affect the potential growth of the Company.

(c) Joint venture risk

The Company has a 49% shareholding in the joint venture mining company Minera La Victoria SA (MLV), with the Cuban Government's mining company, GeoMinera SA, holding a 51% shareholding in MLV. Notwithstanding the inherent risks of a minority interest in a joint venture regarding control, the Company notes that pursuant to the terms of its shareholders agreement with Geominera SA, the Company and GeoMinera have equal voting rights with respect to the material decisions of MLV.

The Company is subject to the risk that changes in the status of the Company's joint venture interest (including changes caused by financial failure or default by a participant in a joint venture) may adversely affect the operations and performance of the Company. As is the case in all joint venture arrangements, there is a risk that joint venture partners may default in their joint venture obligations or not act in the best interests of the joint venture, which in either case would likely have an adverse effect on the interests and prospects of the Company. Any failure by a counterparty to act in the best interests of the joint venture may or may not give the Company contractual remedies, however, even if such remedies are available, it may be necessary for the Company to approach a court to seek a legal remedy, which can be costly.

(d) Litigation and arbitration risk

The Company may, in the ordinary course of business become involved in litigation and disputes with third parties. The outcome of any such claim or dispute is inherently uncertain and, if proven, may impact adversely on the Company's operations, financial performance, and financial position. As previously announced, the Company's subsidiary EnviroGold (Las Lagunas) Limited is the claimant in arbitration proceedings against the Dominican Republic Government (Respondent). The Company does not expect that an unsuccessful outcome in relation to the arbitration proceedings will materially impact the Company, given there is no counterclaim by the Respondent.

(e) Exploration risk

Mineral exploration and project development are high risk undertakings. There can be no assurance that further exploration on the Company's projects will result in the discovery of an economic ore deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be economically exploited. Until the Company is able to realise value from its mineral projects, it is likely to incur ongoing operating losses.

(f) Operating risk

The operations of the Company may be affected by various factors outside its control.

The Company intends to continue exploration programs at El Pilar in Cuba and advance the Bankable Feasibility Study for the development of the La Demajagua mine.

The operations of the Company may be affected by failure to establish a viable Bankable Feasibility Study for the La Demajagua mine or sufficient quantity or grade of resources to justify the proposed development of a mine at El Pilar. Operations may also be impacted by unanticipated metallurgical problems which may affect eventual extraction costs, possible seismic activity, operational and technical difficulties encountered in drilling and exploration, operating and maintaining plant and equipment, mechanical failure, industrial and environmental accidents, labour shortages, industrial and environmental disputes, obtaining government approvals, extreme weather events such as flooding, heatwaves, wildfires, droughts and unexpected shortages or increases in the costs of consumables, spare parts, plant, equipment or labour. These risks and hazards could also result in damage to or destruction of property, plant and equipment, personal injury, environmental damage, business interruption, monetary losses and possible legal liability.

The Company may become subject to liability for accidents, pollution or other hazards against which it cannot insure or against which it may elect not to insure because of premium costs or for other reasons, or in amounts which exceed policy limits. No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through exploration success and exploitation of its projects and, until the Company is able to realise value from its projects, it is likely to incur ongoing operational losses.

(g) Sovereign risks

The Company's projects and operations are all outside Australia, specifically in Cuba. The Company cannot guarantee that the Cuban Government will remain stable or supportive of the mining and resources sector and existing ownership structures. Accordingly, the Company cannot guarantee ongoing access, surety of title and tenure of its Cuban assets. Outcomes in Courts in Cuba may be less predictable than in Australia, which could affect the enforceability of contracts entered into by the Company or its subsidiary in Cuba.

(h) Regulation risks

There is a risk that applicable foreign investment law, or mining law, other laws or other regulations of the governing authorities could change, and that such changes could result in additional material expenditures or time delays.

There is also a risk that the necessary land acquisitions, permits, certificates, consents, authorisations and agreements required to implement future exploration and project development may not be obtained under conditions or within timeframes that make such plans economic.

(i) Government policies and legislation risks

Any material adverse changes in government policies, legislation or shifts in political attitude in Cuba that affect mineral exploration activities, tax laws, royalty regulations, government subsidies and environmental issues may affect the viability of the projects or the Company.

No assurance can be given that amendments to current laws and regulations or new rules and regulations will not be enacted, or that existing rules and regulations will not be applied in a manner which could substantially limit or affect the Company's exploration, development, and operating activities.

(j) Economic and government risks

Economic and legislative changes in Cuba may affect the future viability of the Company. The future viability of the Company is also dependent on a number of other factors affecting the performance of all industries, not just the exploration and mining industries. These factors include, but are not limited to:

- (i) general economic conditions in Cuba and their respective major trading partners;
- (ii) changes in government policies, taxation and other laws;
- (iii) the strength of the equity and share markets in Australia and throughout the world, and in particular investor sentiment towards Cuba and the commodities (resources) sector;
- (iv) movement in, or outlook on, interest rates and inflation rates; and
- (v) natural disasters, social upheaval or war in Cuba or other countries.

Industry profitability can be affected by changes in government within Cuba and other jurisdictions, which are outside the control of the Company. The Company's activities are subject to extensive laws and regulations controlling not only the exploration for and mining of minerals, but also the possible effects of such activities upon the environment. Permits from regulatory authorities are required for many aspects of mine operation and reclamation. There is no assurance that permits will be obtained when sought or that unfavourable conditions will not be imposed. Future legislation and regulations could cause additional expense, capital expenditures, restrictions and delays in development of the Company's tenements, the extent of which cannot be predicted.

(k) Commodity and price volatility and exchange rate

The Company's Cuban projects are prospective for, inter alia, gold and silver. The market price of these commodities fluctuates and are affected by numerous factors beyond the control of the Company. These factors include current and expected future supply and demand, forward selling by producers, production costs levels in major metal producing centres as well as macroeconomic conditions such as inflation and interest rates. Fluctuations in commodity prices may impact on the commercial attractiveness or viability of the Company's projects.

Furthermore, the international prices of most commodities are denominated in US dollars and the Company's cost base will be in a combination of US dollars, Australian dollars and Cuban pesos. Consequently, changes in these exchange rates may impact on the expenditure of the Company and the Company's purchasing capacity. The exchange rate is affected by numerous factors beyond the control of the Company, including interest rates, inflation and the general economic outlook.

(I) Environmental risk

The Company's projects are subject to Cuban environmental laws and regulations. The Company's activities are expected to have some impact on the environment, particularly of mine development occurs in the future. It is the Company's intention to conduct its activities to the highest standard of environmental obligation, including compliance with all environmental laws.

The Company will, in future, require additional approval from authorities before it can undertake mining activities that will impact the environment. Failure to obtain such approvals may prevent the Company from undertaking its desired activities. The Company is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations that may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws and regulations would materially increase the Company's costs of doing business or affect its operations in any area.

2.3 General risks

(a) Economic factors

General economic conditions, introduction of tax reform, new legislation, movements in interest and inflation rates and currency exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Company's exploration, development and production activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

(b) Market conditions

Share market conditions may affect the value of the Company's securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors such as:

- (i) general economic outlook;
- (ii) introduction of tax reform or other new legislation;
- (iii) interest rates and inflation rates;
- (iv) changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors;
- (v) the demand for, and supply of, capital;
- (vi) fear of global pandemics; and
- (vii) terrorism or other hostilities.

The market price of securities can fall as well as rise and may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general. Neither the Company or its Directors warrant the future performance of the Company or any return on an investment in the Company.

(c) Security investments

Investors should be aware that there are risks associated with any securities investment. Securities listed on the stock market, and in particular securities of mining and exploration companies have experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations that have often been unrelated to the operating performances of such companies. These factors may materially affect the price of the Company's securities, regardless of its performance.

(d) Force majeure

Events may occur within or outside the markets in which the Company operates that could impact upon the global and Australian economies, the operations of the Company and the market price of its securities. These events include acts of terrorism, outbreaks of international hostilities, fires, pandemics, floods, earthquakes, labour strikes, civil wars, natural disasters, outbreaks of disease, and other man-made or natural events or occurrences that can have an adverse effect on the demand for the Company's services and its ability to conduct business. Given the Company has only a limited ability to insure against some of these risks, its business, financial performance and operations may be materially adversely affected if any of the events described above occurs.

(e) Government regulation

The Company's operating activities are subject to extensive laws and regulations relating to numerous matters including resource licence consent, environmental compliance and rehabilitation, taxation, employee relations, health and worker safety, waste disposal, protection of the environment, native title and heritage matters, protection of endangered and protected species and other matters. The Company requires permits from regulatory authorities and stakeholders to authorise the Company's operations. These permits relate to exploration, development, production and rehabilitation activities.

While the Company believes that it is in substantial compliance with all material current laws and regulations affecting its activities, future changes in applicable laws, regulations, agreements or changes in their enforcement or regulatory interpretation could result in changes in legal requirements or in the terms of existing permits and agreements applicable to the Company or its properties, which could have a material adverse impact on the Company's current operations or planned development projects.

Obtaining necessary permits can be a time consuming process and there is a risk that the Company will not obtain required permits on acceptable terms, in a timely manner or at all. The costs and delays associated with obtaining permits and complying with these permits and applicable laws and regulations could materially delay or restrict the Company from proceeding with the development of a Project or the operation or development of a mine. Any failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or permits, even if inadvertent, could result in material fines, penalties or other liabilities. In extreme cases, failure could result in suspension of the Company's activities or forfeiture of one or more of the tenements which make up the Projects.

(f) Tax

The acquisition and disposal of securities in the Company will have tax consequences, which will differ depending on the individual financial affairs of each investor. All potential investors in the Company are urged to obtain independent financial advice about the consequences of acquiring securities from a taxation point of view and generally. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company, its officers and each of their respective advisers accept no liability and responsibility with respect to the taxation consequences of applying for securities under this Prospectus.

(g) COVID-19

Global economic outlook faces uncertainty due to the COVID-19 pandemic, which has had and may continue to have a significant impact on capital markets and share prices. Accordingly, the market price of the Company's Shares (and New Options) may be adversely affected by the economic uncertainty caused by COVID-19.

Although the World Health Organisation has now declared an end to COVID-19 as a global health emergency, there is a risk that this uncertainty may continue for the foreseeable future, which could interrupt the Company's operations, contractual obligations, supply chains and ability to access capital. Similar pandemics or global medical crises in the future could also have a negative impact on the Company and therefore its prospects.

(h) Global conflicts

The current conflict between Ukraine and Russia is impacting global economic markets. The nature and extent of the effect of the conflict on the performance of the Company remains unknown. The Company's Share price (and New Option price) may be adversely affected in the short to medium term by the economic uncertainty caused by it.

The Company will monitor the potential secondary and tertiary macroeconomic impacts of the unfolding events, including the changing pricing of commodity and energy markets and the potential of cyber activity impacting governments and businesses. Further, any governmental or industry measures taken in response to the conflict, including limitations on travel and changes to import or export restrictions and arrangements involving Russia, may adversely impact the Company's operations and are likely to be beyond the control of the Company.

The Company is monitoring the situation closely and considers the impact of the conflict on the Company's business and financial performance to, at this stage, be limited. However, the situation is continually evolving, and may ultimately result in other geopolitical tensions or conflicts, making the potential consequences on the Company and its prospects inherently uncertain.

2.4 Other risks

The above list of risk factors should not be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. Investors should consider an investment in the Company as highly speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to participate in the Offers. The securities offered under this Prospectus (including where any New Options are exercised into Shares) carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, return of capital or their market value.

3. PURPOSE AND EFFECT OF THE OFFER

3.1 Purpose of the Offer

As set out in Section 1.2, the primary purpose of this Prospectus is not to raise funds. Instead its purpose is to remove trading restrictions on Shares issued by the Company without disclosure under Part 6D of the Corporations Act prior to the Closing Date (including prior to the date of this Prospectus). In particular, the 8,820,588 Shares issued by the Company to sophisticated and professional investors on 30 June 2023.

A nominal amount of $2,800 will be raised under the Offer (before costs). The funds raised from the Offer will be applied towards the expenses of the Offer. Refer to Section 5.10 for details of the estimated expenses of the Offer.

3.2 Financial Effect of the Offer

After paying expenses of the Offer of approximately $11,206 (exclusive of GST), there will be no net proceeds from the Offer. The expenses of the Offer (exceeding $11,206) will be met from the Company's existing cash reserves. The effect of the Offer on the Company's financial position will be a net decrease in cash held of approximately $8,406 (exclusive of GST).

3.3 Effect on Capital Structure

  - (i) the assets and liabilities, financial position and performance, profits and losses and prospects of the Company; and
