Ophir High Conviction Fund (ASX:OPH) – Investor Update

Dear Investor,

On Thursday 5th October 2023, we will be providing a video update on our Funds, including the Ophir High Conviction (ASX:OPH, “the Fund”).

Please find below the key points we will convey in the update relating to the Fund.

1. Market insights & Fund performance*

The Australian share market felt the full brunt of the ‘September Effect’ alongside most other major global equity markets. The ASX 100 and ASX Small Ordinaries indices returned -2.5% and -3.9% respectively in total return terms over the month. Growth stocks materially underperformed Value stocks over the month, with the MSCI Australia Growth Index (-3.8%) underperforming its Value (-0.7%) counterpart by +3.1%.

During the month of September, Phil Lowe kept the cash rate stable at 4.1% at his last meeting as the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) Governor. The RBA also noted that “some further tightening of monetary policy may be required to ensure that inflation returns to target in a reasonable timeframe, but that will continue to depend upon the data and the evolving assessment of risks”. Longer term interest rates increased though weighing on the share market with the Australian 10 year government bond rate increasing from 4.0% to 4.5% over September, mirroring similar moves in the equivalent U.S. long term interest rates.

For the month ending 30 September 2023, the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund was down -4.2% (net of fees) with the OPH ASX returning -2.4%, compared to the benchmark which was down -4.3%.

*We note past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

2. Stock in Focus

September is typically a quiet month for stock news.

Two of the top contributors for the month were Hub24 (ASX:HUB) and Seven Group Holdings (ASX:SVW). HUB and SVW rose +1.5% and +12.7% respectively on the back of continuing strong operational momentum reported at their last results.

The top detractors for the month were AUB Group (ASX:AUB) and NIB Holdings (ASX:NHF). AUB and NHF fell -3.4% and -8.3% respectively in the absence of stock specific news, despite pleasing results during their August reporting seasons.

3. OPH trading at a discount

We note the OPH share price traded at a discount to its Net Tangible Asset per share (NTA) for September 2023.

We like the opportunity to buy low throughout the cycle, whether that is stocks in our own Funds, or OPH itself with our own personal investments.

4. OPH buy-back facility

We commenced utilising the buy-back facility for OPH during March 2020 as markets sold off during the early stages of COVID-19. We have renewed the facility and will continued to utilise this where we see good value on offer in the OPH unit price. We have a process and rules in place for when we use the facility in the market to buy back OPH units. We remain committed to this facility and process and will continue to use this mechanism where we believe it is in the best interests of all unitholders and accretive to performance of the Fund over the long term.

We remain as hard working as ever to find and allocate to those small and mid-cap businesses listed in Australia that we believe can significantly grow earnings and provide attractive risk-adjusted returns over the medium to long term.

Your sincerely,
