

Annual General Meeting Chairman's Address

25 October 2023

Introduction and welcome

Good morning and welcome to the fifth WAM Global (ASX: WGB) Limited Annual General Meeting (AGM). This is a hybrid meeting, held both online and in person here at the Museum of Sydney. The hybrid meeting format allows those that cannot join us in person to participate.

I would like to acknowledge the Gadigal people of the Eora nation and pay my respects to Elders past and present. Thank you for joining us and for your support of WAM Global.

Before we officially open the meeting, I would like to say that our thoughts and prayers are with all people who are in conflict right now, particularly in the Middle East and Eastern Europe.

I am Geoff Wilson, Chairman of the Board of Directors. I am joined today by my fellow Board members, Kate Thorley, Gabrielle Trainor and Caesar Bryan. Scott Whiddett, a representative from WAM Global's auditor, Pitcher Partners, will be available to address any questions relating to the Company's financial statements. We are also joined by Joint Company Secretary and Wilson Asset Management Chief Financial Officer, Jesse Hamilton, who will act in the capacity of moderator, assisting us to address any questions received during the meeting.

FY2024 update and outlook

Company update

Since inception, WAM Global has achieved an investment portfolio performance of 6.9% per annum. The Company's investment portfolio has decreased 0.4% in the three months to 30 September 2023 whilst the MSCI World Index (AUD) fell 0.4% during the period and the MSCI World SMID Cap Index (in AUD terms) decreased 1.2%. As at 30 September 2023, the Company had 47.6 cents per share available in its profits reserve, after the payment of its FY2023 final fully franked dividend of 5.75 cents per share payable on 27 October 2023, representing 4.1 years of dividend coverage.

It is important to note that the franking account balance of WAM Global is 3.6 cents per share as at 30 September 2023, after the payment of its FY2023 final fully franked dividend. In FY2024, the Company's ability to continue paying fully franked dividends is dependent on generating additional franking credits through the payment of tax on profits. If no additional franking is generated through the performance of the investment portfolio and the payment of tax on profits, the Company will only be able to partially frank future dividends or pay unfranked dividends in FY2024 and beyond.

Outlook

Heading into 2024, the WAM Global investment team are concerned about the outlook for economic growth given the significant rise in interest rates globally in the past 18 months. Inflation has fallen but remains above central bank targets leading to debate around the future path for interest rates. The investment team continues to observe a disconnect between the share price performance and valuations of small-and-mid cap companies relative to large-cap companies globally. Relative valuations are at multi-decade lows, driven by macroeconomic uncertainty and the perception that smaller companies are more interest rate sensitive. The current set up is presenting many investment opportunities for the fund. We are committed to applying our proven investment process with a disciplined focus on identifying high-quality companies, run by capable management teams that have strong valuation support and a catalyst to drive the share price rerating. We expect the small-cap end of the market to rally strongly as economic pressures abate and confidence returns. We are extremely optimistic about the companies we are invested in across the investment portfolio and are confident in the returns these companies will generate over time.

Listed investment companies sector

Recently the listed investment company (LIC) and listed investment trust (LIT) sector has experienced a challenging period as investors sought the perceived safe haven of term deposits and cash amid a volatile equity market. The yield on fixed interest and bonds has surpassed the average dividend yield for the Australian equity market for the first time in nearly 12 years, causing share price premiums to net tangible assets (NTA) to contract and discounts to widen.

The LIC and LIT sector has experienced numerous cycles of expansion and contraction since the first listing in 1868 in London.

During 2002 / 2003 the Australian LIC sector experienced significant growth which was followed by a period of consolidation. After the levelling of the playing field with the Future of Financial Advice (FOFA) reforms in 2012 the sector expanded significantly from 51 LICs and LITs in 2013 to a peak of 114 in 2018.

Recently a number of LICs and LITs have resorted to restructuring to open-ended managed funds or active exchange-traded funds (ETFs) with 24 LICs and LITs departing the sector since the peak in 2018. While we expect further consolidation in the coming years with LICs and LITs that have underperformed, or failed to properly engage with shareholders, choosing to or being forced into restructure, the sector will emerge from this period of consolidation stronger with a solid platform for growth.

FY2023 in review

Financial results

WAM Global reported an operating profit before tax of $119.6 million for the year (FY2022: operating loss before tax of $166.7 million) and an operating profit after tax of $84.8 million (FY2022: operating loss after tax of $116.7 million).

The WAM Global investment portfolio increased 19.3% in the 12-months to 30 June 2023, with an average cash weighting of 6.5% over the year. The MSCI World SMID Cap Index (in AUD terms) rose 16.5% for the year and the MSCI World Index (AUD) increased 22.4%. Since inception, WAM Global has achieved an investment portfolio return of 7.4%, while the MSCI World Index (AUD) rose 10.9% and the MSCI World SMID Cap Index (in AUD terms) increased 6.8%.

Total shareholder return (TSR) and share price discount to NTA

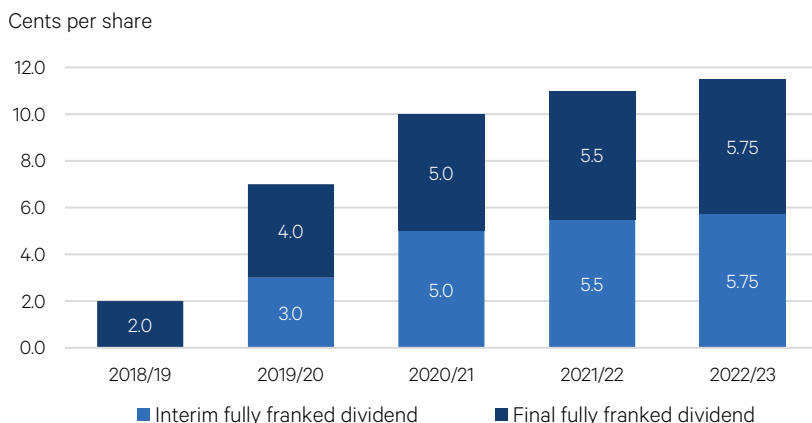

TSR measures the tangible value shareholders gain from share price growth and dividends paid over the period, before the value of any franking credits distributed to shareholders through fully franked dividends. The TSR for WAM Global for the year to 30 June 2023 was 16.7%, driven by the investment portfolio performance during the period, being offset by the widening of the share price discount to NTA. As at 30 June 2023, the share price discount to NTA was 18.7% (FY2022: discount of 18.4%). In this measure we do not value the potential benefit of franking credits distributed to shareholders through fully franked dividends.

On 24 October 2023, the share price discount to NTA was 19.2%.

Fully franked dividends since inception

The Board declared a final fully franked dividend of 5.75 cents per share, bringing the full year fully franked dividend to 11.5 cents per share. Since inception in June 2018, WAM Global has paid 35.75 cents per share in fully franked dividends to shareholders.

The Board is committed to paying a stream of fully franked dividends to shareholders, provided the Company has sufficient profits reserves and franking credits, and it is within prudent business practices. The Company's ability to continue paying fully franked dividends is dependent on generating additional franking credits through the payment of tax on profits.

About Wilson Asset Management

Wilson Asset Management, WAM Global's Investment Manager, has been passionate about making a positive difference for our shareholders and the community for more than 25 years. In the 2023 financial year, the team continued to make a difference through various philanthropic initiatives, advocacy and shareholder engagement.

Philanthropy

Geoff Wilson founded Future Generation Australia (ASX: FGX) and Future Generation Global (ASX: FGG) as Australia's first companies to deliver both investment and social returns. The companies seek to deliver a stream of fully franked dividends and capital growth to investors by giving them unprecedented access to prominent Australian and global fund managers. These managers generously waive their performance and management fees, which enables the Future Generation companies to invest 1.0% of net tangible assets each year in not-for-profit organisations. To date, the companies have donated more than $75 million to organisations that support children and youth at risk and youth mental health. The team at Wilson Asset Management continue to support both companies.

Wilson Asset Management is a member of the global philanthropic Pledge 1% movement, is a significant funder of many Australian charities and provides all team members with $10,000 each year to donate to charities of their choice. During the year, Wilson Asset Management and Future Generation team members were proud to support over 90 charities across several cause areas such as homelessness, mental health and cancer research. All philanthropic investments are made by the Investment Manager.

We are honoured to provide continued support to Olympic athletes, through managing funds for the Australian Olympic Committee (AOC) on a pro bono basis. The AOC provides crucial financial and institutional support to Australian athletes to compete at an Olympic level. All fees are foregone by the Investment Manager.

We also support a number of organisations through sponsorships and partnerships across a range of initiatives including; the 2022 Wollongong UCI Road World Cycling Championship, The Australian Shareholder's Association, Sporting Chance Cancer Foundation, Women in Super and many more. All sponsorships and partnerships are made by the Investment Manager.

Advocacy and Education

As part of our focus on making a difference to shareholders and the community, our advocacy work for fair and equitable treatment of retail shareholders continues to be a priority. We firmly believe all shareholders, both retail and wholesale, should be treated equitably when investing in the Australian equity market.

Together we have been publicly fighting for the preservation of Paul Keating's franking system since the Labor party first proposed changes in 2018, a proposal that would unfairly deny refunds of franking credits to certain investors. Unfortunately, in September 2021, the Australian Labor Government announced proposed legislation changes to the Australian franking system, this time limiting the ability of Australian companies to pay fully franked dividends to their shareholders.

The first piece of legislation, Schedule 4: Off-market share buy-backs, will restrict a company's ability to undertake an off-market share buy-back with a fully franked dividend component, effectively reducing a company's ability to equitably manage its capital. It will also reduce the incentive for companies to list on the ASX due to a provision where if a listed company undertakes an off-market share buy-back or selective capital reduction in the future, they will lose their franking credits or be forced to pay franking deficit tax. Thus all public companies will be unfairly penalised and permanently lose the amount of franking that previously would have been distributed to shareholders. This will not apply to unlisted companies and therefore challenges the rationale for companies pursuing public listings.

The second piece of legislation, Schedule 5: Franked distributions funded by capital raisings, will stop companies paying fully franked dividends that in Treasury's view are directly or indirectly funded by capital raisings. This legislation will stop small growth companies from raising capital and paying fully franked dividends and encourage large companies to focus on minimising tax paid in Australia.

Following a public consultation period and our extensive engagement with Federal MPs and Senators, a Senate Inquiry was held to take a deeper look into the details of the proposed changes. This has now taken place and the committee acknowledged Schedule 5 of the Bill needs clarification, an important victory for us all including industry and taxation experts, lawyers and academics who agree that this legislation is flawed. Unfortunately, they did not grasp that Schedule 4 of the Bill also has significant unintended consequences and needs redrafting.

The Australian franking system has been part of the reason Australia has seen more than three decades of economic stability and growth. It has encouraged Australian companies and shareholders to invest in Australia, employ Australians, pay tax in Australia and in turn create more local jobs and ownership of Australian companies by Australians. We will continue to engage with Federal members of parliament, raising awareness about the long-term unintended consequences of the proposed legislation. On 18 October 2023, we submitted a response to the draft Treasury Laws Amendment (Better Targeted Superannuation Concessions) Bill 2023 objecting to the taxing of unrealised gains and the failure to index the "large superannuation balance threshold" of $3 million. We object to the proposed changes based on the significant stress they will place on Australian superannuants, who will be expected to pay tax on unrealised capital gains that may never be realised. Further, we object to the lack of indexing of the threshold, therefore transferring tax liabilities to younger generations. We also believe these changes place self-managed superannuation funds (SMSFs) at a significant disadvantage to large industry funds due to the practicalities of managing capital flows on taxed unrealised gains. We believe these changes will distort investment markets and alter the incentive for retirement plans. We will be monitoring this matter closely.

We also remain committed to education initiatives which advocate for change and progress in corporate Australia. We support the University of New South Wales' School of Mathematics and Statistics' Do The Maths program, which aims to inspire girls in high school to consider tertiary studies and careers in mathematics and statistics. We believe in the importance of gender diversity in the financial services industry, in particular funds management, which provides rewarding career paths. We regularly host Women's Investor Events which give likeminded women a platform to network and enhance financial literacy, while our Young Investor Events aim to inspire the next generation to begin their investment journey early.

All of our philanthropic and advocacy efforts are paid for by the investment manager Wilson Asset Management and not the listed investment companies we manage on behalf of shareholders. There has been recent media coverage on corporations spending shareholder money on political and advocacy campaigns. I confirm that WAM Global has not spent shareholder money on philanthropic or advocacy campaigns. We believe all publicly listed companies have a responsibility to report to their shareholders on any corporate ideological advocacy they undertake and that all Boards have a fiduciary responsibility to shareholders.

Shareholder engagement and communication

Shareholders are the owners of WAM Global; Wilson Asset Management's responsibility is to manage the Company on your behalf and be available to report to you on a regular basis. We encourage all shareholders to communicate with us and share their feedback. Please visit our website, subscribe to receive our regular updates and call or email us with any questions or suggestions you have regarding WAM Global or Wilson Asset Management.

Vale Andrew Cormie

We would like to acknowledge the recent passing of fellow fund manager and good friend Andrew Cormie.

Andrew has been an important part of the Wilson Asset Management community. He helped guide me 26 years ago when I was in the process of articulating our investment process and was one of the founding fund managers for Future Generation Global Limited.

He has left us far too early and will be sadly missed.
