Portfolio Case Study

Company Overview

- Envirotainer Ltd, headquartered in Sweden, designs, manufactures and leases temperature-controlled air freight (“TCAF”) containers that are leased to the biopharma industry. The containers primarily transport high value biologics which rely on “just-in-time” shipments, often made 2-7 days before stock runs out given their short shelf-life and must be transported within a certain regulator-mandated temperature range due to their high sensitivity.
- Envirotainer is a leading player globally with ~70% market share, leveraging a network of 6,600 containers and 64 global stations to transport over 2 million doses daily.
- Direct customers are typically airlines / freight forwarders who lease the containers to transport items for and on behalf of pharma companies which pre-qualify certain types of containers by trade route and product type.

Transaction Overview

- EQT and Mubadala consortium acquired Envirotainer in July 2022 from Cinven (rolling a minority stake) in a competitive process for just under €3 billion (25.7x EV/EBITDA).
- KKR Private Credit team has worked on Envirotainer in the past, including a commitment to Cinven when they bought the asset in 2018, and has a strong sector knowledge built on KKR Credit’s investment in an industry competitor. This incumbent knowledge allowed the team to support EQT’s bid under an accelerated timeline.
- Our investment thesis is based on the following: i) Envirotainer’s long-term leading market position with a strong reputation for reliability and availability in a mission-critical product offering, ii) recurring demand from top 200 accounts with <1% of volume churned p.a., iii) strong pricing power with historically proven ability to pass through price increases, iv) attractive unit economics, v) structurally growing non-cyclical end market driven by increasing demand in emerging markets.
