The Westpac Capital Notes 10 offered under this Prospectus are designated as Series 2023-1.

This Prospectus is dated 28 November 2023 and was lodged with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (“ASIC”) on that date. This is a replacement prospectus which replaces the prospectus dated 20 November 2023 and lodged with ASIC on that date (“Original Prospectus”). ASIC and ASX Limited (“ASX”) take no responsibility for the content of this Prospectus nor for the merits of the investment to which this Prospectus relates. This Prospectus expires on the date which is 13 months after the date of the Original Prospectus (“Expiry Date”) and no Notes will be issued or transferred on the basis of this Prospectus after the Expiry Date.

Status of Westpac Capital Notes 10

Westpac Capital Notes 10 are fully paid, non-cumulative, convertible, transferable, redeemable, subordinated¹, perpetual, unsecured notes issued by Westpac.

The Notes are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts of Westpac for the purposes of the Banking Act or Financial Claims Scheme and are not subject to the depositor protection provisions of Australian banking legislation (including the Australian Government guarantee of certain bank deposits).

Investment-type products are subject to investment risk, including possible delays in payment and loss of income and principal invested. Except as required by law, and only to the extent so required, neither Westpac nor any other person in any way warrants or guarantees the capital value or performance of the Notes, the performance of Westpac or any particular rate of return on any investment made under this Prospectus. If a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, Westpac will be required to Convert some or all of the Notes (or, where Conversion does not occur for any reason and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), then: (i) those Notes will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred on any subsequent date; (ii) all rights in relation to those Notes will be terminated immediately (written-off) on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be); and (iii) Holders will lose all the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions).

If Conversion occurs in these circumstances, Holders may (in the case of a Capital Trigger Event) and are likely to (in the case of a Non-Viability Trigger Event) receive Ordinary Shares that are worth significantly less than the Face Value of the Notes. If Holders receive Ordinary Shares worth less than the Face Value of the Notes, they will suffer loss as a consequence.

1.1.2 The issuer	Westpac Banking Corporation ABN 33 007 457 141	Section 5
1.1.3 Key features of Westpac Capital Notes 10	Westpac Capital Notes 10 are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • fully paid – the Issue Price ($100 per Note, which will also be the Initial Face Value of the Note) must be paid to Westpac before the Notes are issued; • non-cumulative – they offer Distributions which are discretionary and unpaid Distributions do not accumulate. Holders will not have any right to compensation if Westpac does not pay a Distribution; • convertible – in certain circumstances, Westpac will be required or permitted to Convert the Notes into Ordinary Shares; • redeemable and transferable – in certain circumstances, Westpac may be permitted to repay the Face Value (initially $100 per Note) of the Notes to Holders or transfer the Notes to a third party (but there are significant restrictions on repayment of the Notes); • perpetual – they do not have a fixed maturity date and could exist indefinitely if not Redeemed, Converted or Transferred (in which case you would not receive your capital back, although you may sell your Notes on the ASX at the prevailing market price to realise your investment. 1 INVESTMENT OVERVIEW

Topic	Summary	Further information
1.1.3 Key features of Westpac Capital Notes 10 (continued)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • subordinated – in the event of a Winding Up, if the Notes are still on issue and have not been Redeemed or Converted, or otherwise had the rights attaching to them terminated, they will rank ahead of Ordinary Shares, equally among themselves and with Equal Ranking Capital Securities and behind Senior Creditors. However, it is likely that a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event would occur prior to a Winding Up and the Notes would have been Converted into Ordinary Shares or otherwise had the rights attaching to them terminated; and • listed – Westpac has applied for the Notes to be quoted on the ASX and they are expected to trade on the ASX under the code WBCPM. Following quotation, the Notes may be purchased or sold on the ASX by investors at the prevailing market price. However, the Notes may trade at a market price above or below their Face Value of $100 per Note. The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms are complex and derive from the detailed capital requirements that APRA applies to these instruments. Westpac's ability to pay Distributions or to Convert or Redeem the Notes is subject to a number of restrictions, including APRA not objecting to the Distributions and APRA giving prior written approval to a Redemption.
1.1.4 Use of proceeds of the Westpac Capital Notes 10	Westpac is issuing the Notes to raise Additional Tier 1 Capital which satisfies the regulatory capital requirements of APRA. The proceeds received under the Offer will be used by Westpac for general business purposes.	Sections 5.1.5 and 5.2.1

The first Distribution is scheduled to be paid on 22 March 2024. You should note that the first Distribution Period is a longer period of 95 days and other Distribution Periods will otherwise generally be 90 to 92 days. The Distribution Rate is determined in accordance with the following formula: (3 month BBSW Rate + Margin) x (1 - Tax Rate¹) The Margin is 3.10% per annum. Distributions are expected to be fully franked.	Section 2.1 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 3

Distributions are also only payable if the other Distribution Payment Conditions are satisfied. Distributions are non-cumulative, which means that unpaid Distributions will not be made up or accumulate. Holders will not have any rights to compensation if Westpac does not pay Distributions. Failure to pay any Distribution is not an event of default² and Holders have no right to apply for a Winding Up on the grounds of non-payment of a Distribution. If for any reason a Distribution has not been paid in full for a relevant Distribution Payment Date, Westpac must not (except in certain limited circumstances): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> determine or pay any Dividends; or undertake any discretionary Buy Back or Capital Reduction, unless and until: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the amount of the unpaid Distribution is paid in full within 20 Business Days of the relevant Distribution Payment Date; all Notes are Converted at their full Face Value, Redeemed or terminated following a failure to Convert; a Distribution for any subsequent Distribution Period is paid in full on the relevant Distribution Payment Date; or a Special Resolution has been passed approving such action. These restrictions would not apply where the reason a Distribution was not paid was because the Distribution Rate was zero or negative (see Section 2.1.3).	Sections 2.1.1 and 2.1.9 to 2.1.11 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 3.3, 3.4, 3.7 and 3.8

1.3 Summary of certain events which may affect what Holders of Westpac Capital Notes 10 receive and when they receive it

Topic	Summary	Further information
1.3.1 Events that may affect the Westpac Capital Notes 10	The Notes do not have a fixed maturity date and Holders do not have a right to request or require Westpac to Convert, Redeem or arrange for the Transfer of the Notes. Accordingly, what will happen to the Notes is uncertain. It is possible that the Notes could remain on issue indefinitely and the Face Value (initially $100 per Note) will not be repaid. The diagram and table in this Section 1.3.1 summarise certain events that may occur while the Notes are on issue and what Holders may receive in relation to the Notes under the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms.	Sections 2.2 to 2.6 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 4 to 8

EVENTS THAT COULD OCCUR AT ANY TIME:

Tax Event or Regulatory Event Conversion, Redemption (subject to APRA approval) or Transfer at Westpac's option if a Tax Event or Regulatory Event occurs (see Sections 2.3 and 2.4)
Acquisition Event Automatic Conversion if an Acquisition Event occurs subject to the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition, as it applies to an Acquisition Event, being satisfied (see Section 2.6)
Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event Automatic Conversion if a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs or if Conversion does not occur for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, all rights in relation to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions (see Section 2.5)

Note:

3. Holders should not expect that APRA's prior written approval will be given if requested.
4. Westpac may only Redeem Notes if it replaces them with capital of the same or better quality (and the replacement is done under conditions that are sustainable for the income capacity of Westpac) or obtains confirmation that APRA is satisfied that Westpac does not have to replace the Notes.
5. The Distribution would be for the period from (but excluding) the last Distribution Payment Date to (and including) the relevant Conversion Date, Redemption Date or Transfer Date (as applicable). Payments of Distributions are within the absolute discretion of Westpac, which means Westpac does not have to pay them. Distributions are also only payable if the Distribution Payment Conditions are satisfied.
6. On Transfer, Holders will receive the Face Value in cash from the Nominated Party to whom the Notes are transferred.
7. Conversion is conditional on Westpac's share price being above a specified level in the period prior to Conversion.
8. Based on the Initial Face Value of $100 per Note and the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the relevant VWAP Period before the Conversion Date, with the benefit of a 1% discount. The value of Ordinary Shares received on the Conversion of one Note may be worth more or less than $101.01 depending on the market price of Ordinary Shares before Conversion and the Face Value of the Notes at the Conversion Date.

1 INVESTMENT OVERVIEW

Event	When?	Is APRA approval required?	Are there other pre-conditions to the event?	What value will a Holder receive?	In what form will that value be provided to Holders?	Where to find further information?
Conversion upon a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event	If a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs	No	No	A variable value, depending on the price of the Ordinary Shares at the relevant time and the number of Ordinary Shares received on Conversion. However, Holders may (in the case of a Capital Trigger Event) and are likely to (in the case of a Non-Viability Trigger Event) receive significantly less than approximately $101.01 for each Note (based on the Initial Face Value of $100 per Note), and the value may be nothing if Conversion does not occur for any reason and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be). ⁹	A variable number of Ordinary Shares up to the Maximum Conversion Number. However, if Conversion of the Notes does not occur for any reason and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), then the rights of Holders attaching to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) immediately on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be) and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions.	Sections 2.5 and 6.1.3 to 6.1.5 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 5.1 to 5.8 and 9

Note:

9. Section 2.5 provides further detail on the circumstances in which Holders are likely to receive significantly less than $101.01 for each Note due to a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

1.4 Ranking of Westpac Capital Notes 10 in a Winding Up

The table in this Section 1.4 illustrates how the Notes would rank upon a Winding Up, if they are on issue at that time. It is likely that a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event would occur prior to a Winding Up and the Notes would have been Converted into Ordinary Shares or otherwise had the rights attaching to them terminated immediately on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be) where Conversion does not occur for any reason and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be).

1.5 Key risks associated with an investment in Westpac Capital Notes 10 and Westpac

Before applying for any Notes, you should have regard to the Target Market Determination (see “Design and distribution obligations”) and if you are a retail investor, obtain personal advice from a financial adviser to ensure that your objectives, financial situation and needs have been considered in making your investment decision and that you are within the Target Market. There are risks involved with investing in the Notes and in Westpac. Many of these risks are outside the control of Westpac and the Westpac Directors. These risks include those in this Section 1.5 and Section 6 and any other matters referred to in this Prospectus.

1.5.1 Key risks of the Westpac Capital Notes 10

Topic	Summary	Further information
Distributions may not be paid	There is a risk that Distributions will not be paid. Distributions are discretionary and are only payable subject to the satisfaction of the Distribution Payment Conditions. For example, this includes the Distribution not resulting in a breach of capital requirements and APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment of the Distribution. Distributions are non-cumulative. If a Distribution is not paid in full because the Distribution Payment Conditions are not satisfied, Holders are not entitled to receive the unpaid Distribution.	Sections 2.1.9 and 6.1.1

Note:

10. This diagram and the descriptions are simplified and illustrative only, and do not include every type of security or obligation that may be issued or entered into by Westpac, or every potential claim against Westpac in a Winding Up. Westpac will from time to time issue additional securities or incur other obligations that rank ahead of, equally with, or subordinated to, the Notes. Further, some of the securities represented in the diagram (for example Additional Tier 1 Capital securities) may be converted into Ordinary Shares, which will then rank equally with other Ordinary Shares.

Topic	Summary	Further information
It is not certain whether and when the Westpac Capital Notes 10 will be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred	Conversion may not occur on 22 June 2034, being the first possible Scheduled Conversion Date, or at all if the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are not satisfied. Conversion, Redemption or Transfer may occur in certain circumstances before the Scheduled Conversion Date, which may be disadvantageous to Holders in light of market conditions or your individual circumstances. If Westpac elects to Redeem Notes, APRA's prior written approval is required. There can be no certainty that APRA will provide its prior written approval. Any regulatory or legislative change introduced following the discussion paper titled "Discussion paper – Enhancing bank resilience: Additional Tier 1 Capital in Australia" ("APRA Discussion Paper"), may potentially give rise to a Regulatory Event, whereby Westpac could elect to Convert, Redeem (subject to APRA's prior written approval) or Transfer the Notes – see Sections 2.3 and 2.4. Holders have no right to request that their Notes be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred. Unless their Notes are Converted, Redeemed or Transferred, Holders would need to sell their Notes on the ASX at the prevailing market price to realise their investment. That price may be less than the Face Value (initially $100 per Note) and there may be no liquid market in the Notes.	Sections 6.1.2, 6.1.14 to 6.1.17
Conversion or termination of rights on account of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event	The value of Ordinary Shares received for each Note that is Converted upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may (in the case of a Capital Trigger Event) and is likely to (in the case of a Non-Viability Trigger Event) be significantly less than approximately $101.01 for each Note (based on the Initial Face Value of $100 per Note). This is because the number of Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion is limited by the Maximum Conversion Number, as required by APRA. The Maximum Conversion Number applied on a Conversion of this kind is based on an Ordinary Share price that reflects 20% of the Ordinary Share price at the time of issue of the Notes. If Conversion of Notes does not occur for any reason and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be) (including, for example, due to applicable law, order of a court or action of any government authority, including regarding the insolvency, Winding Up or other external administration of Westpac, as a result of Westpac's inability or failure to comply with its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Notes in relation to Conversion, or as a result of laws relating to Australian foreign investment laws, Australian financial sector ownership laws, Chapter 6 of the Corporations Act or operational delays (for example, due to COVID-19 related restrictions on access to facilities and systems of Westpac and/or its agents), then: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> those Notes will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred on any subsequent date; and all rights in relation to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) immediately on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions. 	Sections 2.5.4, 2.5.5, 2.5.6, 6.1.4, 6.1.5 and 6.1.11

Westpac Capital Notes 10 are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts	The Notes are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts of Westpac in Australia for the purposes of the Banking Act or Financial Claims Scheme and are not subject to the depositor protection provisions of Australian banking legislation (including the Australian Government guarantee of certain bank deposits).	Important Notices and Section 6.1.6
Market price of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 may fluctuate	The Notes may trade at a market price below Face Value (initially $100 per Note). Circumstances in which the market price of the Notes may decline include general conditions, changes in government policy, changes in regulatory policy, impacts of regulatory change (including those raised in the APRA Discussion Paper), changes in investor perception and sentiment in relation to Westpac, changes in the market price of other securities issued by Westpac or other issuers and the occurrence of or increase in the likelihood of the occurrence of one or more Distributions not being paid, a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event.	Sections 6.1.1 and 6.1.7
Liquidity of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 may be low	The market for the Notes will likely be less liquid than the market for Ordinary Shares. Potential regulatory or legislative changes (such as those raised in the APRA Discussion Paper) may affect the liquidity of funding instruments (including Additional Tier 1 Capital securities such as the Notes) if they lead to a change in the investor base or a material reduction in future issuance volumes, reinvestment opportunities or secondary market trading activity. Holders who wish to sell their Notes may be unable to do so at an acceptable price, or at all, if insufficient liquidity exists in the market for the Notes.	Section 6.1.8
Changes in the Distribution Rate	The Distribution Rate will fluctuate (and may increase and/or decrease) over time with movements in the 3 month BBSW Rate. It is possible for the 3 month BBSW Rate to become negative. Should this occur, the negative amount will be taken into account in calculating the Distribution Rate (but there is no obligation on Holders to pay Westpac if the Distribution Rate becomes negative and there would be no Distribution in those circumstances). There is a risk that the Distribution Rate may become less attractive compared to returns available on comparable securities or investments.	Sections 2.1.2 and 6.1.9
Use of franking credits	The value and availability of franking credits to a Holder will depend on that Holder's particular circumstances and the Australian Tax Rules.	Sections 2.1.6, 6.1.10 and 7.3.1
Credit ratings	Any credit rating assigned to the Notes or other Westpac securities could be reviewed, suspended, withdrawn or downgraded by credit rating agencies, or credit rating agencies could change their rating methodology, at any time which could adversely affect the market price and liquidity of the Notes and other Westpac securities.	Section 6.1.12
The price used to calculate the number of Ordinary Shares to be issued on Conversion may not be the market price	The Ordinary Share price used to calculate the number of Ordinary Shares to be issued on Conversion may be different to the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time of Conversion because the price used in the calculation is based on the VWAP during the relevant period prior to the Conversion Date. The value of Ordinary Shares that Holders receive based on the calculation may therefore be less than the value of those Ordinary Shares based on the market price on the Conversion Date.	Section 6.1.13

Topic	Summary	Further information
No fixed maturity date	As the Notes are perpetual instruments and have no fixed maturity date, there is a risk the Notes could remain on issue indefinitely and Holders may not be repaid their investment.	Section 6.1.19
Ranking of the Westpac Capital Notes 10	In the event of a Winding Up, if the Notes are still on issue and have not been Redeemed or Converted, they will rank ahead of Ordinary Shares, equally among themselves and with all Equal Ranking Capital Securities and behind Senior Creditors (including depositors and holders of Westpac's senior or less subordinated debt). This means that if there is a shortfall of funds on a Winding Up to pay all amounts ranking senior to, and equally with, the Notes, Holders will lose all or some of their investment. However, it is likely that a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event would occur prior to a Winding Up and the Notes would have been Converted into Ordinary Shares, in which case Holders will hold Ordinary Shares and rank equally with other holders of Ordinary Shares in a Winding Up. If Conversion does not occur for any reason following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), all rights attaching to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions, those Notes will have no ranking in a Winding Up and Holders are likely to be worse off than holders of Ordinary Shares.	Sections 1.4, 2.7, 6.1.5, 6.1.11, 6.1.25 and 6.1.26
Changes in regulatory capital requirements	Any fall in Westpac's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio as a result of future changes to regulatory capital requirements (including potential changes to the Prudential Standards pursuant to an Additional Tier 1 Capital consultation process expected to be undertaken by APRA in 2024, as stated in the APRA Discussion Paper) may adversely impact the market price of the Notes or potentially increase the chance at a later date that Conversion takes place due to the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.	Sections 5.2 and 6.1.16
Future issues of securities by Westpac	Westpac may issue further securities which rank equally with or ahead of the Notes.	Section 6.1.25
Terms may be amended	In certain circumstances as set out in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms, Westpac may, with APRA's prior written approval where required and subject to compliance with applicable laws, amend the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms without the approval of Holders.	Section 6.1.27

Market and economic conditions, asset values and credit losses	Market and economic disruptions (particularly in Australia and New Zealand) and declines in asset values may cause demand for Westpac's products and services to decline and Westpac to incur higher credit losses on lending and counterparty exposures.	Sections 6.2.13 and 6.2.14
Financial market volatility	Westpac could be adversely affected by disruptions to global financial markets or other financial market volatility.	Section 6.2.19
Other risks	Westpac could be adversely affected by other events such as technology failures, reputational damage, technology failures, litigation, inadequate capital levels under stressed conditions, sovereign risk, failure to maintain credit ratings, changes in competition, operational failures (including fraudulent conduct), poor data quality or other risks. 2.1 Distributions

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.1.1 Distributions on Westpac Capital Notes 10	Distributions on Notes are calculated based on the Distribution Rate and are expected to be paid quarterly in arrear. Distributions are discretionary, non-cumulative and only payable subject to the satisfaction of the Distribution Payment Conditions. Distributions are expected to be fully franked and accordingly Holders are expected to receive cash Distributions and franking credits.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms [clause 3
2.1.2 Distribution Rate	The Distribution Rate is a floating rate and will generally be set on the first Business Day of each Distribution Period using the following formula: <table><tr><th colspan="2">Distribution Rate = (3 month BBSW Rate + Margin) x (1 – Tax Rate)</th></tr><tr><td>3 month BBSW Rate</td><td>The 3 month BBSW Rate on the first Business Day of the Distribution Period (except for the first Distribution Period, where the 3 month BBSW Rate will be determined on the Issue Date)</td></tr><tr><td>Margin</td><td>The Margin is 3.10% per annum</td></tr><tr><td>Tax Rate</td><td>The Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of Westpac at the relevant Distribution Payment Date expressed as a decimal. 3 month BBSW Rate	The 3 month BBSW Rate on the first Business Day of the Distribution Period (except for the first Distribution Period, where the 3 month BBSW Rate will be determined on the Issue Date)
Margin	The Margin is 3.10% per annum

Equivalent unfranked Distribution Rate	7.5116% per annum
Multiplied by (1 – Tax Rate)	x 0.70
Distribution Rate	5.2581% per annum

Note:

- The calculation of the Distribution Rate will be rounded to four decimal places. The Distribution Rate in this Section 2.1.2 is for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate the actual Distribution Rate. It is not a guarantee or forecast of the actual Distribution Rate that may be achieved. The actual Distribution Rate may be higher or lower than this and may vary each Distribution Period depending on the applicable 3 month BBSW Rate and the Tax Rate.

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.1.3 Calculation of Distributions	Distributions will be calculated as follows:
	Distribution =	Distribution Rate x Face Value x N /365
	Distribution Rate	See Section 2.1.2
	Face Value	Initially $100 per Note
	N	The number of days in the Distribution Period
	Distribution Period	The period from (but excluding) the Issue Date in the case of the first Distribution Period, or otherwise from (but excluding) each Distribution Payment Date, to (and including) the next Distribution Payment Date
	Distribution Payment Date	See Section 2.1.7
	As an example, if the Distribution was fully franked and the Distribution Rate was 5.2581% per annum as calculated in Section 2.1.2, then the cash amount of the Distribution on each Note for the Distribution Period (if the Distribution Period was 90 days) would be calculated as follows ^{2,3} :
Multiplied by the Face Value	x $100
Multiplied by the number of days in the Distribution Period (N)	x 90
Divided by	÷ 365
Cash amount of Distribution	$1.2965
Franking credits ⁴ attached to the cash amount of the Distribution	$0.5556
It is possible for the 3 month BBSW Rate to become negative. Should this occur, the negative amount will be taken into account in calculating the Distribution Rate.
As an example, given the Margin is 3.10% per annum, if the 3 month BBSW Rate is -1.00% per annum and assuming that the Distribution will be fully franked, the Distribution Rate for that Distribution Period would be calculated as follows ⁵ :
<table><tr><td>3 month BBSW Rate</td><td>-1.0000% per annum</td></tr><tr><td>Plus the Margin</td><td>+ 3.1000% per annum</td></tr><tr><td>Equivalent unfranked Distribution Rate</td><td>2.1000% per annum</td></tr><tr><td>Multiplied by (1 – Tax Rate)</td><td>x 0.70</td></tr><tr><td>Distribution Rate</td><td>1.4700% per annum</td></tr></table>		3 month BBSW Rate	-1.0000% per annum	Plus the Margin	+ 3.1000% per annum	Equivalent unfranked Distribution Rate	2.1000% per annum	Multiplied by (1 – Tax Rate)	x 0.70	Distribution Rate	1.4700% per annum
3 month BBSW Rate	-1.0000% per annum
Plus the Margin	+ 3.1000% per annum
Equivalent unfranked Distribution Rate	2.1000% per annum
Multiplied by (1 – Tax Rate)	x 0.70
Distribution Rate	1.4700% per annum
However, even if the Distribution Rate was negative because the combination of a negative 3 month BBSW Rate and the Margin produced a negative number, there would be no obligation on Holders to pay Westpac and there would be no distribution in those circumstances.

Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 3.1

Note:

- Distribution Periods will generally have 90-92 days in them. The number of days in the first Distribution Period will be 95 days and is longer than a normal Distribution Period.
- All calculations of payments will be rounded to four decimal places. For the purposes of making any payment in respect of a Holder's aggregate holding of Notes, any fraction of a cent will be rounded to the nearest one Australian cent (with one half of an Australian cent being rounded up to one Australian cent). The Distribution Rate on which this calculation is based, and the Distribution, are for illustrative purposes only and do not indicate the actual Distribution Rate or Distribution. It is not a guarantee or forecast of the actual Distribution that may be obtained. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.
- See Section 2.1.6 in relation to the use of franking credits by Holders.
- The calculation of the Distribution Rate will be rounded to four decimal places. The Distribution Rate in this Section 2.1.3 is for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate the actual Distribution Rate. It is not a guarantee or forecast of the actual Distribution Rate that may be achieved. The actual Distribution Rate may be higher or lower than this and may vary each Distribution Period depending on the applicable 3 month BBSW Rate and the Tax Rate.

2. INFORMATION ABOUT WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.1.4 3 month BBSW Rate	The 3 month BBSW Rate is a key benchmark interest rate for the Australian money market and is administered by ASX Benchmarks Pty Ltd (a subsidiary of the ASX). It is the primary short-term interest rate benchmark used in the financial markets for the pricing and valuation of Australian dollar securities and as a lending reference rate. This rate changes to reflect the supply and demand within the cash and currency markets. The movements in the 3 month BBSW Rate over the last 10 years are set out in the graph in this Section 2.1.4⁶. The rate on 14 November 2023 was 4.4116% per annum. 3 month BBSW Rate (% per annum)  If Westpac determines that a “BBSW Rate Disruption Event” has occurred, Westpac may select an Alternative BBSW Rate and make other related changes to the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms (subject, in each case, to APRA’s prior written approval, which may or may not be given). Broadly, a “BBSW Rate Disruption Event” occurs where the 3 month BBSW Rate has been discontinued or is no longer generally accepted in the Australian market for securities such as Westpac Capital Notes 10. Westpac is required to act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner in selecting an Alternative BBSW Rate, and may consult with sources of market practice that it considers appropriate, but may otherwise exercise its discretion.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 3.1
2.1.5 Franking of Distributions	Westpac expects, but does not guarantee, that Distributions will be fully franked. If a Distribution is not fully franked then the amount of the cash Distribution entitlement would be increased to compensate for the unfranked amount. The formula for determining the adjusted Distribution is: <table><tr><td>Adjusted Distribution =</td><td>$\frac{\text{Distribution}}{1 - [\text{Tax Rate} \times (1 - \text{Franking Rate})]}$</td></tr><tr><td>Distribution</td><td>The Distribution entitlement on that Distribution Payment Date as calculated under clause 3.1 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms – see Section 2.1.3</td></tr><tr><td>Tax Rate</td><td>See Section 2.1.2</td></tr><tr><td>Franking Rate</td><td>The percentage of the Distribution that would carry franking credits</td></tr></table> If there is a change in the Tax Rate, the Distribution Rate will change accordingly. For example, if the Tax Rate decreases, the cash amount of any Distribution that Westpac may pay would increase and the franking credits attached to that Distribution would decrease.	Adjusted Distribution =	$\frac{\text{Distribution}}{1 - [\text{Tax Rate} \times (1 - \text{Franking Rate})]}$	Distribution	The Distribution entitlement on that Distribution Payment Date as calculated under clause 3.1 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms – see Section 2.1.3	Tax Rate	See Section 2.1.2	Franking Rate	The percentage of the Distribution that would carry franking credits	Section 2.1.6 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 3.1 and 3.2

Distribution	The Distribution entitlement on that Distribution Payment Date as calculated under clause 3.1 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms – see Section 2.1.3
Tax Rate	See Section 2.1.2
Franking Rate	The percentage of the Distribution that would carry franking credits

Note:

6. This graph is for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate, guarantee or forecast the actual 3 month BBSW Rate. Past levels are not necessarily indicative of future levels. The actual 3 month BBSW Rate for the first and any subsequent Distribution Period may be higher or lower than the rates in the graph in this Section 2.1.4. Source: IRESS.

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.1.6 Franking credits in respect of Distributions	It is expected (but not guaranteed) that Holders will receive franking credits in respect of Distributions (other than where a Holder's lack of entitlement to franking credits is a result of an act by, or circumstance affecting, the Holder). The franking credits represent each Holder's share of tax paid by Westpac on the profits from which the cash Distribution is paid. Impact of franking credits If the Distribution is fully franked, the potential value of the franking credits attached to a Distribution at the Distribution Rate of 5.2581% per annum in the example in Section 2.1.2 would be 2.2535% per annum. If that potential value is taken into account in full, the combined value of those franking credits and the cash Distribution would be equivalent to an unfranked Distribution Rate of approximately 7.5116% per annum. However, you should be aware that the potential value of the franking credits does not accrue to you at the same time as you receive the cash Distribution and you may not be able to obtain full value for these depending on your circumstances (see below for more information). Use of franking credits by Holders Australian resident Holders may be entitled to use franking credits to offset their tax liability and Australian resident Holders that are individuals or complying superannuation entities may be entitled to a refund of excess franking credits, to the extent that the franking credits exceed their tax liability. You should be aware that your ability to use the franking credits, either as an offset to your tax liability or by claiming a refund after the end of the year of income, will depend on your individual tax position. Investors should refer to the Australian tax summary in Section 7 and should seek professional advice in relation to their tax position. Investors should also monitor any potential changes to government policy relating to franking credits on an ongoing basis.	Sections 6.1.10 and 7
2.1.7 Distribution Payment Dates	Distributions are payable quarterly in arrear on the Distribution Payment Dates, subject to satisfaction of the Distribution Payment Conditions. The Distribution Payment Dates are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 22 March, 22 June, 22 September and 22 December of each year commencing on 22 March 2024, until the Notes are Converted at their full Face Value (or terminated following a failure to Convert) or Redeemed; and • the Conversion Date (other than a Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date), Redemption Date or Transfer Date, if those dates are not 22 March, 22 June, 22 September or 22 December. If a Distribution Payment Date is not a Business Day, then the Distribution will be paid on the next Business Day (without any interest in respect of the delay). The first Distribution Period runs from (but excludes) the Issue Date to (and includes) 22 March 2024. Thereafter, each Distribution Period runs from (but excludes) the previous Distribution Payment Date to (and includes) the next Distribution Payment Date. You should note that the first Distribution Period is a longer period of 95 days and other Distribution Periods will otherwise generally be 90 to 92 days. The Distribution Rate for the first Distribution Period will be determined on the Issue Date. After the first Distribution Period, the Distribution Rate will be determined on the first Business Day of each Distribution Period. Distributions will be paid to persons who are Holders on the Record Date in respect of the Distribution.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 3.1, 3.5, 3.6 and 11.1(b)

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.1.8 Method of payment of Distributions	Distributions will be paid in Australian dollars. Westpac will only pay Distributions directly into an Australian dollar account of a financial institution. Westpac reserves the right to vary the way in which any Distribution is paid in accordance with the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms (provided that Distributions are always paid in cash).	Section 4.5.1 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 11
2.1.9 Distribution Payment Conditions	Distributions are only payable subject to satisfaction of the Distribution Payment Conditions, being: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Westpac's absolute discretion; • the payment of the Distribution not resulting in a breach of Westpac's capital requirements (on a Level 1 basis) or of the Westpac Group's capital requirements (on a Level 2 basis) under the then current Prudential Standards at the time of the payment; • the payment of the Distribution not resulting in Westpac becoming, or being likely to become, insolvent; and • APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment. Distributions will also be subject to the Corporations Act and any other law regulating the payment of Distributions.	Section 6.1.1 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 3.3
2.1.10 Consequence if a Distribution is not paid in full	Payments of Distributions are within the absolute discretion of Westpac and are non-cumulative. If a Distribution is not paid in full because the Distribution Payment Conditions are not satisfied or because of any other reason, Holders will not be entitled to receive the unpaid portion of that Distribution. No interest accrues on any unpaid Distributions and Westpac has no liability to the Holder and the Holder has no claim in respect of such non-payment. Non-payment of a Distribution will not be an event of default ⁷ and Holders have no right to apply for a Winding Up on the grounds of Westpac's failure to pay a Distribution.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 3.4
2.1.11 Dividend and capital restrictions may apply to Westpac if a Distribution is not paid	If for any reason a Distribution has not been paid in full for a relevant Distribution Payment Date, Westpac must not (except in certain limited circumstances): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • determine or pay any Dividends; or • undertake any discretionary Buy Back or Capital Reduction, unless and until: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the amount of the unpaid Distribution is paid in full within 20 Business Days of the relevant Distribution Payment Date; • all Notes are Converted at their full Face Value, Redeemed or terminated following a failure to Convert; • a Distribution for any subsequent Distribution Period is paid in full on the relevant Distribution Payment Date; or • a Special Resolution has been passed approving such action. These restrictions would not apply where the reason a Distribution was not paid was because the Distribution Rate was zero or negative (see Section 2.1.3).	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 3.7 and 3.8

Note:

7. The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms do not include any events of default.

2.2 Conversion on the Scheduled Conversion Date

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.2.1 Meaning of Conversion	Conversion means the conversion of the Notes into a variable number of Ordinary Shares in accordance with the formula contained in clause 9.1 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. On Conversion of a Note on the Scheduled Conversion Date, the Holder's rights in relation to that Note will be immediately and irrevocably terminated and Westpac will apply the Face Value of each Note by way of payment for the subscription for the Ordinary Shares. The Ordinary Shares issued will have the same rights as other Ordinary Shares on issue at the relevant time.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 9.1
2.2.2 Scheduled Conversion Date	The Notes do not have a maturity date but have a Scheduled Conversion Date. Conversion is scheduled to occur on the Scheduled Conversion Date, which will be the earlier of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 22 June 2034; and • the first Distribution Payment Date after 22 June 2034, on which the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are satisfied. 	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 4.1
2.2.3 Scheduled Conversion Conditions	The Scheduled Conversion Conditions in relation to a potential Scheduled Conversion Date are satisfied where: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • First Scheduled Conversion Condition: the VWAP of Ordinary Shares on the 25th Business Day before (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date is greater than 56.12% of the Issue Date VWAP; and • Second Scheduled Conversion Condition: the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the 20 Business Days before (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date is greater than 50.51% of the Issue Date VWAP. The percentages used in the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are derived from market precedents and the cap on the number of Ordinary Shares that are permitted to be issued under applicable Prudential Standards and ratings guidance. The diagram in this Section 2.2.3 illustrates the timeframes that are relevant for the Scheduled Conversion Conditions using the date 22 June 2034 as a potential Scheduled Conversion Date. These dates are indicative only and may change.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 4.2

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.2.4 Purpose of the Scheduled Conversion Conditions	It is intended that upon a Scheduled Conversion, Holders should receive Ordinary Shares worth approximately $101.01 per Note (based on the Initial Face Value of $100 per Note and the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the 20 Business Days before the Scheduled Conversion Date, with the benefit of a 1% discount)⁸. There is a cap on the number of Ordinary Shares (Maximum Conversion Number) that Holders can be issued upon Scheduled Conversion of the Notes, due to Prudential Standards and ratings guidance. The Maximum Conversion Number in the case of Scheduled Conversion is set by dividing the Face Value (initially $100 per Note) by 50% of the Issue Date VWAP. If the price of Ordinary Shares were to fall significantly and there were no Scheduled Conversion Conditions, the number of Ordinary Shares that you would receive might be limited by the Maximum Conversion Number. In that case, the value of those Ordinary Shares would be likely to be less than $101.01 per Note. In order to give Holders some protection against receiving Ordinary Shares worth less than approximately $101.01 per Note, the Scheduled Conversion Conditions operate, so that where the VWAP of Ordinary Shares has fallen to or is less than the specified percentage of the Issue Date VWAP (see Section 2.2.3), Scheduled Conversion is deferred. However, there can be no guarantee that the Scheduled Conversion Conditions will be satisfied in the future.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 4.2 and 9
2.2.5 Consequences if the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are not satisfied	If the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are not satisfied on 22 June 2034, Conversion will not occur until the next Distribution Payment Date on which the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are satisfied, if ever.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 4.1 and 4.2
2.2.6 VWAP and Issue Date VWAP	In general terms, VWAP refers to the average of the daily volume weighted average sales prices of Ordinary Shares sold on the ASX and Cboe during the relevant period. The Issue Date VWAP means the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding (but not including) the Issue Date (as adjusted in accordance with the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms). The satisfaction of the Scheduled Conversion Conditions on a potential Scheduled Conversion Date will depend on the price of Ordinary Shares. For example⁹, if the Issue Date VWAP is $20.00, then, for the First Scheduled Conversion Condition and Second Scheduled Conversion Condition to be satisfied: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the VWAP for the First Scheduled Conversion Condition would need to be at least $11.23 (which is greater than 56.12% of the Issue Date VWAP); and the VWAP for the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition would need to be at least $10.11 (which is greater than 50.51% of the Issue Date VWAP). 	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 4.2, 9.1 to 9.8 and 16.2 (definition of "Issue Date VWAP" and "VWAP")

Note:

8. However, if the market price of Ordinary Shares on the Scheduled Conversion Date is different to the price used to calculate the number of Ordinary Shares to be issued on Conversion, the value of Ordinary Shares resulting from the Conversion of one Note may be worth more or less than $101.01. The value of Ordinary Shares Holders receive could also be less than this amount if the Face Value has previously been reduced (following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event – see Section 2.5 for more information). If the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are not met, the Notes will not Convert on the Scheduled Conversion Date and the Scheduled Conversion Conditions will be re-tested on the next possible Scheduled Conversion Date. The Notes may remain on issue indefinitely.
9. This example is for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate whether or not the Scheduled Conversion Conditions will actually be satisfied in respect of a potential Scheduled Conversion Date.

2.2.7 How many Ordinary Shares will I receive if the Westpac Capital Notes 10 are Converted?	Upon Conversion, Holders will receive for each Note they hold a variable number of Ordinary Shares calculated using the following formula: <table><tr><td colspan="2">Face Value 0.99 x VWAP</td></tr><tr><td>Face Value</td><td>Initially $100 per Note</td></tr><tr><td>VWAP</td><td>The VWAP during the VWAP Period</td></tr><tr><td>VWAP Period</td><td>In the case of a Scheduled Conversion, the period of 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date</td></tr></table> For example, assuming the VWAP is $20.00, the number of Ordinary Shares that Holders will receive for each Note on the Scheduled Conversion Date would be calculated as follows: <table><tr><td>Face Value</td><td>$100.00</td></tr><tr><td>Divide by 0.99 x VWAP</td><td>$19.80</td></tr><tr><td>Ordinary Shares per Note</td><td>5.0505</td></tr></table> Assuming the price of the Ordinary Shares on the Scheduled Conversion Date is also $20.00, the aggregate value of the Ordinary Shares would be approximately $101.01 (calculated by multiplying 5.0505 Ordinary Shares by the Ordinary Share price of $20.00). Please be aware, the example in this Section 2.2.7 is for illustrative purposes only. The actual VWAP and number of Ordinary Shares that Holders may receive on Conversion on the Scheduled Conversion Date may be higher or lower than in this example. In addition, if the total number of Ordinary Shares to be allotted and issued in respect of a Holder’s aggregate holding of Notes includes a fraction of an Ordinary Share, that fraction of an Ordinary Share will be disregarded. 2.2.8 What if I do not wish to receive Ordinary Shares or if I am prohibited or restricted from receiving Ordinary Shares?	If you do not wish to receive Ordinary Shares, you can notify Westpac of this at any time but no less than 15 Business Days prior to the Conversion Date. If Conversion occurs and you have notified Westpac that you do not wish to receive Ordinary Shares, or if you are an Ineligible Holder¹⁰, then Westpac will issue the relevant number of Ordinary Shares¹¹ to the Sale Agent who will hold the Ordinary Shares on trust for sale for your benefit¹². At the first reasonable opportunity, the Sale Agent will arrange for the sale of the Ordinary Shares on your behalf and pay the proceeds less selling costs, brokerage, stamp duty and other taxes and charges, to you. No guarantee is given in relation to the timing or price at which any sale will occur or whether a sale can be achieved.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 9.10

Note:

10. Westpac will treat a Holder as not being an Ineligible Holder unless the Holder has otherwise notified it after the Issue Date and prior to the Conversion Date.
11. See Sections 6.1.4 and 6.1.5 regarding risks associated with Conversion or termination of rights where Conversion does not occur following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event which may impact the number of Ordinary Shares issued to the Sale Agent and that would be available to be sold for the benefit of a Holder who elects not to receive Ordinary Shares or is an Ineligible Holder.
12. If Conversion is occurring because of the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event and the Conversion is not effective and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason to the Sale Agent by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), then: (i) those Notes will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred in respect of such Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred on any subsequent date; and (ii) all rights in relation to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) immediately on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be) and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions. In these circumstances, the Notes will have no ranking in a Winding Up and Holders are likely to be worse off than holders of Ordinary Shares

2.3 Optional Redemption and optional Transfer

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.3.1 Westpac's option to Redeem or Transfer the Westpac Capital Notes 10	Westpac may elect to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Redeem all or some of the Notes on 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032; • Transfer all or some of the Notes on 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032; or • Redeem or Transfer all of the Notes following a Tax Event or Regulatory Event. Redemption is subject to Westpac receiving APRA's prior written approval. There can be no certainty that APRA will provide its prior written approval for any such Redemption – see Section 6.1.2. Any Redemption of the Notes does not imply or indicate that Westpac will in the future exercise any right it may have to redeem any other outstanding regulatory capital instruments issued by Westpac. Any such future redemption would also be subject to APRA's prior written approval (which may or may not be given).	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 7, 8 and 16.2 (definition of "Tax Event" and "Regulatory Event")
2.3.2 Tax Event	A Tax Event will occur if Westpac determines, after receiving a supporting opinion of reputable legal counsel or other tax adviser in Australia experienced in such matters, that (as a result of a Change of Law) there is a more than insubstantial risk that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Westpac would be exposed to a more than de minimis adverse tax consequence or increased cost in relation to the Notes; or • any Distribution would not be a frankable distribution within the meaning of Division 202 of the Tax Act. A Tax Event will not arise where, at the Issue Date, Westpac expected the event would occur.	Section 2.1.6 and Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 16.2 (definition of "Tax Event")
2.3.3 Regulatory Event	Broadly, a Regulatory Event will occur if Westpac determines, after receiving a supporting opinion of reputable legal counsel in Australia experienced in such matters or confirmation from APRA that, as a result of a change of law or regulation after the Issue Date: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • more than de minimis additional requirements would be imposed on the Westpac Group or there would be a more than de minimis negative impact on the Westpac Group in relation to (or in connection with) Notes which Westpac determines to be unacceptable; or • Westpac will not be entitled to treat some or all of the Notes as Additional Tier 1 Capital of the Westpac Group. A Regulatory Event will not arise where, at the Issue Date, Westpac expected the event would occur.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 16.2 (definition of "Regulatory Event")

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.3.4 Meaning of Redemption	Redemption means Westpac will pay to Holders the Face Value (initially $100 per Note) for each Note Redeemed. Westpac may only Redeem Notes if it replaces them with capital of the same or better quality (and the replacement is done under conditions that are sustainable for the income capacity of Westpac) or obtains confirmation that APRA is satisfied that Westpac does not have to replace the Notes. Holders cannot request Redemption of their Notes.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 7 and 16.2 (definition of “Redemption”)
2.3.5 Meaning of Transfer	Transfer means Westpac will arrange for a Nominated Party to undertake to purchase Notes from Holders for the Face Value. On Transfer, Holders will receive the Face Value (initially $100 per Note) for each Note from the Nominated Party, paid in cash. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the Nominated Party does not pay the Face Value to Holders on the Transfer Date of 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032, or on a Transfer Date following a Tax Event or Regulatory Event, the Transfer will not proceed and Holders will continue to hold their Notes. • The Nominated Party means one or more third parties selected by Westpac in its absolute discretion, which cannot be a member of the Westpac Group or a related entity (as described in the Prudential Standards) of Westpac. Holders cannot request a Transfer of Notes.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 8 and 16.2 (definitions of “Transfer” and “Nominated Party”)

2.4 Optional Conversion

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.4.1 When does Westpac have an option to Convert Westpac Capital Notes 10?	Subject to satisfaction of the Optional Conversion Restriction, Westpac may elect to Convert: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • all or some of the Notes on 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032; or • all of the Notes following a Tax Event or Regulatory Event. 	Sections 2.3.2 and 2.3.3 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 6 and 16.2 (definition of “Tax Event” and “Regulatory Event”)

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.4.2 Restrictions or conditions on Optional Conversion	There are two types of restrictions or conditions that apply to Optional Conversion: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> A restriction that may prevent Westpac from choosing to Convert the Notes (i.e. from sending an Optional Conversion Notice to Holders) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Optional Conversion Restriction applies to Optional Conversion such that Westpac may not elect to Convert the Notes if on the second Business Day before the date on which Westpac is to send an Optional Conversion Notice the VWAP of Ordinary Shares is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> less than or equal to 56.12% of the Issue Date VWAP, where Westpac chooses to Convert the Notes on an Optional Conversion Date of 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032; and less than or equal to 22.20% of the Issue Date VWAP, where Westpac chooses to Convert the Notes on an Optional Conversion Date following a Tax Event or Regulatory Event. A condition that may prevent Westpac from Converting the Notes on the Optional Conversion Date <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Once an Optional Conversion Notice has been sent, Westpac may still be prevented from Converting the Notes by the operation of the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition, which is deemed to apply to Optional Conversion as though the proposed Optional Conversion Date were a Scheduled Conversion Date. The Second Scheduled Conversion Condition otherwise applies as set out in Section 2.2.3, except that in the case of Optional Conversion on an Optional Conversion Date following a Tax Event or Regulatory Event, it applies as if the reference to 50.51% referred to 20.20% of the Issue Date VWAP. The percentages used in the restrictions and conditions in this Section 2.4.2 for Optional Conversion are derived from market precedents and the cap on the number of Ordinary Shares that are permitted to be issued under the Prudential Standards and ratings guidance.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 6.3, 6.4 and 6.5
2.4.3 Number of Ordinary Shares Holders will receive on an Optional Conversion Date	If the Notes are Converted on an Optional Conversion Date, Holders will receive a variable number of Ordinary Shares on the Conversion Date equal to the Conversion Number calculated in the same manner as if Conversion was occurring on the Scheduled Conversion Date (see Section 2.2.7), except that the VWAP Period will be 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding, but not including, the Optional Conversion Date.	Section 2.2.7 Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clause 16.2 (definition of "VWAP Period")
2.4.4 Consequences if Conversion does not occur on an Optional Conversion Date	If Westpac chooses to Convert the Notes (and gives an Optional Conversion Notice to Holders) but the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition (applied as described in Section 2.4.2) prevents Conversion from occurring on the Optional Conversion Date, Westpac will notify Holders and the Conversion will be deferred until the first Distribution Payment Date on which the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are satisfied as if that Distribution Payment Date was a Scheduled Conversion Date (the " Deferred Conversion Date "). The Scheduled Conversion Conditions apply to Conversion on the Deferred Conversion Date except that in the case of a Tax Event or Regulatory Event, the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition will apply as if it referred to 20.20% of the Issue Date VWAP. 2.5 Automatic Conversion – Capital Trigger Event and Non-Viability Trigger Event

Where a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs because APRA has determined that without a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, Westpac would become non-viable, all Notes must be Converted at their full Face Value. If Conversion does not occur for any reason following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm (Sydney time) on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), then: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • those Notes will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred on any subsequent date; and • the Holder's rights in relation to those Notes will be immediately and irrevocably terminated on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions. If Westpac is required to Convert some of the Notes following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, Westpac must treat Holders on an approximate pro-rata basis among themselves and other holders of Relevant Securities or in a manner that is otherwise, in the opinion of Westpac, fair and reasonable. This is subject to such adjustments as Westpac may determine to take into account the effect on marketable parcels of Notes and the need to round to whole numbers of Ordinary Shares and the face value of any Notes or other Relevant Securities remaining on issue and the need to effect the conversion, write-off or write-down immediately, provided that such determination does not impede the immediate Conversion of the relevant number of Notes. In addition, where the Relevant Securities are in different currencies, Westpac may treat the Relevant Securities as if converted into a single currency at rates of exchange it considers reasonable. However, this determination must not impede the immediate Conversion of the relevant number of Notes.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 5.2 to 5.8

Note:

- APRA's revised capital framework became effective on 1 January 2023 and included updated prudential standards for capital adequacy and credit risk capital. The revisions included amendments to capital requirements, revisions to the calculation of credit RWA, introduction of a capital floor and introduction of a minimum leverage ratio. Periods prior to 1 January 2023 were reported under the capital framework applicable prior to these changes and have not been restated.
- Pro-forma adjustments have not been made for the payment of the final dividend of $0.72 determined for the year ended 30 September 2023 (expected CET1 reduction of approximately 54 basis points on a pro forma Level 2 CET1 Ratio basis), the intended $1.5 billion on-market Buy Back of Ordinary Shares announced by Westpac on 6 November 2023 (expected CET1 reduction of approximately 33 basis points on a pro-forma Level 2 CET1 Ratio basis) or for any potential future capital management. Please see Section 5.2.7 for more information on Westpac's capital return initiatives.

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.5.3 Non-Viability Trigger Event	A Non-Viability Trigger Event will occur when APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes Conversion of the Notes (or conversion, write-off or write down of other capital instruments of the Westpac Group) or a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because, without it, Westpac would become non-viable. Upon a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurring, Westpac must Convert (or otherwise, if Conversion does not occur for any reason and Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm (Sydney time) on the fifth Business Day after the Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, terminate the rights attaching to), that number of the Notes (or such percentage of the Face Value of the Notes) as is necessary (when added to the amount of any other Relevant Securities converted, written-off or written down) to satisfy APRA that Westpac will no longer be non-viable. Where a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs because APRA has determined that without a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, Westpac would become non-viable, all Notes must be Converted at their full Face Value. Whether a Non-Viability Trigger Event will occur is at the discretion of APRA. APRA has not provided extensive guidance as to how it would determine non-viability. However, APRA has indicated that non-viability is likely to arise prior to insolvency. Non-viability could be expected to include serious impairment of Westpac's financial or operational position, concerns about its capital, funding or liquidity levels and/or insolvency or potential loss of investor and/or customer confidence with respect to Westpac's overall financial resilience, including but not limited to, as a result of internal or external factors such as a technology failure, COVID-19 type pandemic or cyber event. However, it is possible that APRA's definition of non-viability may not necessarily be confined to these matters and APRA's position on these matters may change over time.	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 5.3, 5.4, 5.7, 5.8 and 9.1
2.5.4 How many Ordinary Shares will I receive on Conversion following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event?	If Notes are Converted following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event then in respect of each Note that is Converted, Holders will receive a number of Ordinary Shares equal to the lower of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the Maximum Conversion Number (which, applied on a Conversion of this kind, is based on an Ordinary Share price that reflects 20% of the Ordinary Share price at the time of issue of the Notes); and the Conversion Number calculated in the same manner as if Conversion was occurring on the Scheduled Conversion Date (see Section 2.2.7) except that the VWAP Period will be the 5 Business Days in which trading of Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding, but not including, the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, as applicable. In addition, the Conversion of Notes into Ordinary Shares on a Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date is not subject to the Scheduled Conversion Conditions being satisfied. This means that, due to the application of the Maximum Conversion Number, depending on the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time, Holders may (in the case of a Capital Trigger Event) and are likely to (in the case of a Non-Viability Trigger Event) receive significantly less than approximately $101.01 per Note (based on the Initial Face Value of $100 per Note). If Holders receive Ordinary Shares worth less than the Face Value of the Notes, they will suffer loss as a consequence. You will not receive any Ordinary Shares if Conversion does not occur for any reason by 5.00pm (Sydney time) on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be).	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 5.5, 5.7, 9.1 and 16.2 (definition of "VWAP Period")

2. INFORMATION ABOUT WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10

Topic	Summary	Further information
2.5.5 Is there a limit on the number of Ordinary Shares I will receive on Conversion following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event?	Yes. The Maximum Conversion Number is used to limit the number of Ordinary Shares to be issued on Conversion following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event. The example in this Section 2.5.5 illustrates how many Ordinary Shares may be issued for each Note on Conversion following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, assuming a VWAP of $3.00 and an Issue Date VWAP of $20.00. This example is for illustrative purposes only. The actual VWAP, Issue Date VWAP and Maximum Conversion Number may be higher or lower than provided in this example, and may be adjusted in certain circumstances as outlined in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. Step 1 – Calculate the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares for each Note <table><tr><td>Face Value</td><td>$100.00</td></tr><tr><td>Divide by 0.99 x VWAP</td><td>$2.97</td></tr><tr><td>Ordinary Shares per Note</td><td>33.6700</td></tr></table> Step 2 – Calculate the Maximum Conversion Number for each Note applicable to Conversion in the case of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event <table><tr><td>Face Value</td><td>$100.00</td></tr><tr><td>Divide by 0.20 x Issue Date VWAP</td><td>$4.00</td></tr><tr><td>Ordinary Shares per Note</td><td>25.0000</td></tr></table> Step 3 – Assess the effect of the Maximum Conversion Number In this example, the Maximum Conversion Number is lower than the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares for each Note. As a result, the number of Ordinary Shares a Holder would receive for each Note would be limited to the Maximum Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares for each Note. For example, a Holder of a single Note would receive 25 Ordinary Shares on Conversion in the case of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (any fraction of an Ordinary Share to be allotted in respect of a Holder’s aggregate holding of Notes will be disregarded). If those Ordinary Shares were sold on the ASX at the same price as the VWAP (being $3.00), the Holder would receive $75.00, thereby suffering a loss of $25.00 on their investment of $100.00 on the Initial Face Value of the Note. The Maximum Conversion Number will be announced by Westpac to the ASX at the time of issue of the Notes. The Maximum Conversion Number may be adjusted up or down to reflect transactions affecting the capital of Westpac (including bonus issues, share splits, consolidations or other similar transactions not involving any cash payment (or the giving of any other form of consideration) to or by holders of Ordinary Shares) as set out in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. The Maximum Conversion Number will not be adjusted to reflect other transactions which may affect the price of Ordinary Shares, including, for example, rights issues, returns of capital, Buy Backs, special dividends, demergers and other corporate actions.	Face Value	$100.00	Divide by 0.99 x VWAP	$2.97	Ordinary Shares per Note	33.6700	Face Value	$100.00	Divide by 0.20 x Issue Date VWAP	$4.00	Ordinary Shares per Note	25.0000	Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms clauses 9.1 to 9.8

4.5.1 Provision of bank account details for Distributions and other payments

Westpac will direct credit payment of Distributions, repayment of the Face Value and other amounts relating to the Notes into an Australian dollar account of a financial institution nominated by you. Westpac will not pay Distributions on the Notes or other payments by cheque.

As part of the new investor pack for the Notes, you will have the opportunity to provide or update your bank account details. Please provide these account details to the Registrar as soon as possible.

If your Notes are issued under an existing holding number with Westpac, your current elections, including bank account details, will apply to the Notes unless you advise the Registrar otherwise.

If the payment of any money to your account does not complete for any reason, Westpac will send a notice to the postal address or email address most recently notified by you advising of the uncompleted payment. In that case, the amount of the uncompleted payment will be held as a deposit in a non-interest bearing account until one of the following occurs:

- you nominate a suitable Australian dollar account maintained in Australia with a financial institution to which the payment may be credited; or
- Westpac is entitled or obliged to deal with the amount in accordance with the law relating to unclaimed moneys.

No interest is payable in respect of any delay in payment.

4.5.2 Provision of Tax File Number or Australian Business Number

The Registrar will invite Holders to quote or update their TFN, ABN or both. A Holder may, but is not required to, quote their TFN or ABN. If a Holder does not quote a TFN (or in certain circumstances an ABN) or proof of exemption, Westpac will be required to withhold Australian taxation at the maximum marginal tax rate plus the Medicare levy (currently 47% of the unfranked amount) from any Distribution payable on Notes which is not fully franked and remit the amount withheld to the ATO. You should also read the information about Australian tax consequences for Holders in Section 7.

If your Notes are issued under an existing holding number with Westpac, your current elections, including TFN or ABN details, will apply to the Notes unless you advise the Registrar otherwise.

Impact of the issue of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 and redemption of Westpac Capital Notes 6 on Westpac's consolidated balance sheet position

The unaudited pro-forma balance sheet shows the adjustments that would be made to Westpac's consolidated balance sheet as at 30 September 2023, assuming:

- an issue of $1,750 million of Notes, less Offer costs of $19 million; and
- the redemption⁵ of all $1,423 million of Westpac Capital Notes 6 either as a result of the Reinvestment Offer or on the Westpac Capital Notes 6 optional redemption date, being 31 July 2024.

On a net basis, the Offer of the Notes and redemption of all Westpac Capital Notes 6 would increase Westpac's loan capital and cash by approximately $308 million. There is no material impact from the pro-forma adjustments to Westpac's net assets and shareholders' equity. The anticipated proceeds (less Offer costs) received under the Offer will be used by Westpac for general business purposes.

Westpac may raise more or less than $1,750 million under the Offer and all Westpac Capital Notes 6 may not be redeemed, either as part of the Reinvestment Offer or on the Westpac Capital Notes 6 optional redemption date. Westpac intends to redeem all outstanding Westpac Capital Notes 6 on 31 July 2024⁵. See Section 3.1.2 for further details. In any of these scenarios, the figures referred to above will be impacted accordingly.

Note:

3. The Consolidated Balance Sheet has been derived from Westpac's audited financial report as at 30 September 2023.
4. Pro-forma adjustments have not been made for the payment of the final dividend of $0.72 determined for the year ended 30 September 2023, the intended $1.5 billion on-market Buy Back of Ordinary Shares announced by Westpac on 6 November 2023 or for any potential future capital management. Please see Section 5.2.7 for more information on Westpac's capital return initiatives.
5. APRA has approved the redemption of Westpac Capital Notes 6. The intended redemption of Westpac Capital Notes 6 does not imply or indicate that Westpac will in the future exercise any right it may have to redeem any other outstanding regulatory capital instruments issued by Westpac. Any such future redemption would also be subject to APRA's prior written approval (which may or may not be given).

Impact of the issue of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 and redemption of all Westpac Capital Notes 6 on Westpac's capital adequacy position

The table in this Section 5.1.5 shows the unaudited pro-forma capital adequacy position as at 30 September 2023 assuming the following pro-forma adjustments:

- the issue of $1,750 million of Notes less Offer costs of $19 million; and
- the redemption of all $1,423 million of Westpac Capital Notes 6 either as a result of the Reinvestment Offer or on the Westpac Capital Notes 6 optional redemption date of 31 July 2024.

On a Level 2 basis, the pro-forma adjustments increase the 30 September 2023 Tier 1 Capital Ratio and Total Capital Ratio by 0.07%. On a Level 1 basis, the pro-forma adjustments increase the 30 September 2023 Tier 1 Capital Ratio and Total Capital Ratio by 0.07%.

Westpac may raise more or less than $1,750 million under the Offer and all Westpac Capital Notes 6 may not be redeemed, either as part of the Reinvestment Offer or on the Westpac Capital Notes 6 optional redemption date. Westpac intends to redeem all outstanding Westpac Capital Notes 6 on 31 July 2024⁹.

See Section 3.1.2 for further details. In any of these scenarios, the capital adequacy ratios referred to above will be impacted accordingly.

5.2 Capital management strategy and capital ratios

5.2.1 Capital adequacy framework

APRA is the prudential regulator of the Australian financial services industry. It oversees banks, credit unions, building societies, general insurance and reinsurance companies, life insurers, private health insurers, friendly societies, and a large part of the superannuation industry, this includes Authorised Deposit-taking Institutions ("ADIs") such as Westpac.

APRA's Prudential Standards aim to ensure that ADIs remain adequately capitalised to support the risks associated with their activities, absorb losses, and to generally protect Australian depositors.

APRA's website at apra.gov.au includes further details of its functions and Prudential Standards.

Note:

- The capital adequacy ratios contained in this table have been rounded to the nearest two decimal places. Capital ratios may not sum due to rounding.
- APRA's revised capital framework became effective on 1 January 2023 and included updated prudential standards for capital adequacy and credit risk capital. The revisions included amendments to capital requirements, revisions to the calculation of credit RWA, introduction of a capital floor and introduction of a minimum leverage ratio. Accordingly, comparative capital ratios have only been presented for 31 March 2023, as prior periods were reported under the capital framework applicable prior to these changes and have not been restated.
- Pro-forma adjustments have not been made for the payment of the final dividend of $0.72 determined for the year ended 30 September 2023 (expected CET1 reduction of approximately 54 basis points on a pro forma Level 2 CET1 Ratio basis), the intended $1.5 billion on-market Buy Back of Ordinary Shares announced by Westpac on 6 November 2023 (expected CET1 reduction of approximately 33 basis points on a pro-forma Level 2 CET1 Ratio basis) or for any potential future capital management. Please see Section 5.2.7 for more information on Westpac's capital return initiatives.
- APRA has approved the redemption of Westpac Capital Notes 6. The intended redemption of the Westpac Capital Notes 6 does not imply or indicate that Westpac will in the future exercise any right it may have to redeem any other outstanding regulatory capital instruments issued by Westpac. Any such future redemption would also be subject to APRA's prior written approval (which may or may not be given).

5. ABOUT WESTPAC

APRA applies a tiered approach to measuring Westpac's capital adequacy¹⁰ by assessing financial strength at three levels:

- Level 1, comprising Westpac and its subsidiary entities that have been approved by APRA as being part of a single 'Extended Licensed Entity' for the purposes of measuring capital adequacy;
- Level 2, the consolidation of Westpac and all its subsidiary entities (including offshore subsidiaries such as Westpac New Zealand Limited) except those entities specifically excluded by APRA regulations such as insurance or wealth management subsidiaries; and
- Level 3, the consolidation of Westpac and all its subsidiary entities.

APRA measures an ADI's regulatory capital as a percentage of RWA, by reference to:

- Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ("CET1"), the highest quality components of capital that consists of paid-up share capital, retained profits and certain reserves, less certain intangible assets, capitalised expenses and software, and investments and retained profits in insurance and funds management subsidiaries that are not consolidated for capital adequacy purposes. The ratio of CET1 to RWA is called the "Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio" ("CET1 Ratio");
- Tier 1 Capital, being the sum of CET1 and Additional Tier 1 Capital ("AT1"). AT1 comprises high quality components of capital that consists of certain securities not included in CET1, but which include loss absorbing characteristics, such as the Notes. AT1 instruments convert into ordinary shares and absorb losses when certain triggers are met. The ratio of Tier 1 Capital to RWA is called the "Tier 1 Capital Ratio"; and
- Total Capital, being the sum of Tier 1 Capital and Tier 2 Capital. Tier 2 Capital includes subordinated instruments and other components of capital that, to varying degrees, do not meet the criteria for Tier 1 Capital, but nonetheless contribute to the overall strength of an ADI. Tier 2 Capital instruments convert into ordinary shares and absorb losses at the point of non-viability. The ratio of Total Capital to RWA is called the "Total Capital Ratio".

APRA's capital framework also requires an ADI to maintain a minimum leverage ratio of 3.5%. APRA may vary the minimum leverage ratio for an individual ADI.

The leverage ratio is defined as Tier 1 capital divided by the "Exposure measure", where the "Exposure measure" includes on balance sheet exposures, derivatives exposures, securities financing transaction exposures, and other off-balance sheet exposures.

APRA has confirmed that the Notes will be eligible for inclusion as AT1 under Prudential Standard APS 111 Capital Adequacy: Measurement of Capital.

5.2.2 Regulatory capital requirements

APRA's revised capital framework became effective from 1 January 2023 and included updated prudential standards for capital adequacy and credit risk capital.

Under APRA's current Prudential Standards, Australian ADIs, including Westpac, are required to maintain minimum prudential capital requirements ("PCRs"), being:

- CET1 Ratio of at least 4.5%;
- Tier 1 Capital Ratio of at least 6.0%; and
- Total Capital Ratio of at least 8.0%.

APRA may also require ADIs, including Westpac, to meet PCRs above the industry PCRs. APRA does not allow the PCRs for individual ADIs to be disclosed.

APRA also requires ADIs to hold additional CET1 buffers comprising of:

- a Capital Conservation Buffer ("CCB") of 4.75% that includes a 1% surcharge for ADIs designated by APRA as domestic systemically important banks ("D-SIBs"). APRA has determined that Westpac is a D-SIB; and
- a Countercyclical Capital Buffer of 1.0%. The countercyclical buffer is set on a jurisdictional basis and APRA is responsible for setting the requirement in Australia. The countercyclical buffer requirement is currently set to the default of 1.0% for Australian exposures, however this may be varied by APRA in the range of 0% to 3.5%¹¹.

Collectively, the above buffers are referred to as the "Capital Buffer". Should the CET1 Ratio fall within the Capital Buffer range, restrictions on the distribution of earnings will apply. See Section 5.2.5.

The Total CET1 Requirement for Westpac is at least 10.25% (based on an industry minimum CET1 requirement of 4.5% plus a Capital Buffer of at least 5.75% applicable to D-SIBs), the Tier 1 Capital Ratio requirement is at least 11.75% and the Total Capital Ratio requirement is at least 13.75%¹².

APRA's Prudential Standards are generally consistent with the international regulatory framework for banks, known as Basel III, issued by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision ("BCBS"), except where APRA has exercised certain discretions. On balance, the application of these discretions acts to reduce capital ratios reported under APRA's Prudential Standards relative to the BCBS approach and to those reported in some other jurisdictions.

Note:

10. APS 110 Capital Adequacy outlines the overall framework adopted by APRA for the purpose of assessing the capital adequacy of an ADI.

11. APRA will notify ADIs of any decision to set, or increase, the level of the countercyclical buffer up to 12 months before the date from which it applies.

12. Noting that APRA may apply higher requirements for an individual ADI.

5.2.3 Capital management strategy

Westpac evaluates its approach to capital management through an Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process. Key features include:

- the development of a capital management strategy, including consideration of regulatory capital minimums, capital buffers and contingency plans;
- consideration of regulatory capital requirements and the perspectives of external stakeholders including rating agencies as well as equity and debt investors; and
- a stress testing framework that challenges the capital measures, coverage and capital requirements including the impact of adverse economic scenarios.

The Board has determined that Westpac will target a CET1 Ratio of between 11.0% and 11.5%, in normal operating conditions. However, Westpac gives no assurances as to what its capital ratios will be at any time. These ratios may be significantly impacted by future regulatory changes, unexpected events affecting Westpac's business, operations and financial condition, any acquisitions or capital reductions and by APRA's prescriptions for the determination of these ratios.

5.2.4 Regulatory capital developments

APRA announcements on capital

APRA Discussion Paper on Additional Tier 1 Capital

In September 2023, APRA released a discussion paper titled "Discussion paper – Enhancing bank resilience: Additional Tier 1 Capital in Australia" ("APRA Discussion Paper") to explore options for, and seek feedback from stakeholders on, improving the effectiveness of Additional Tier 1 Capital in Australia. Potential options raised by APRA in the discussion paper include:

- improving key design features of Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments (including potentially increasing capital trigger event threshold requirements from the current 5.125% to a higher level) to ensure they more effectively absorb losses and can be used earlier to stabilise a bank in stress;
- changes to the level or mix of regulatory capital requirements; and
- changes to diversify the investor base for Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments in Australia away from domestic retail investors.

APRA has sought initial feedback on a number of discussion questions including on the best policy options for improving the effectiveness of Additional Tier 1 Capital to support resilience, the potential impact of those options, what transition arrangements could soften those impacts and on any other considerations or options that APRA should take into account.

Following initial feedback and discussions with stakeholders, APRA expects to undertake a formal consultation process in 2024 on any proposed amendments to the Prudential Standards. Until a formal consultation paper outlining APRA's final proposed options for changes to Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments is released, it is not possible to determine what impact (if any) those options may have on the Notes. APRA expects that there would be transition time to enable issuers to adjust to any new requirements, including transition time for existing Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments to be replaced to ensure an orderly adjustment.

See Sections 6.1.8, 6.1.16 and 6.1.17 in relation to risks associated with the uncertainty regarding any potential changes arising out of APRA's consultation, including the potential for any changes to impact the liquidity of the Notes and reinvestment opportunities, or to trigger a "Regulatory Event" under the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms.

Additional loss absorbing capacity

On 2 December 2021, APRA announced a requirement for D-SIBs including Westpac, to increase Total Capital requirements by 4.5 percentage points of RWA to meet additional loss absorbing capacity. This includes an interim Total Capital requirement of 16.75% from 1 January 2024 and a final Total Capital requirement from 1 January 2026 of 18.25%. The increase in Total Capital is expected to be met through additional Tier 2 Capital.

APRA Consultation: Interest Rate Risk in the Banking Book

In November 2022, APRA released a consultation paper on changes to the calculation of interest rate risk in the banking book ("IRRBB"). The consultation closed in March 2023, and Westpac is awaiting APRA's response. The changes to calculation of IRRBB are currently expected to come into effect in 2025.

APRA releases final Prudential Standard CPS190 Recovery and Exit

On 1 December 2022, APRA released the final version of the Prudential Standard CPS 190 Recovery and Exit Planning ("CPS 190") which will come into effect from 1 January 2024 for banks and insurers, and from 1 January 2025 for Registrable Superannuation Entity licensees. CPS 190 will require these entities to develop and maintain a recovery and exit plan, and capabilities to anticipate, manage and respond in periods of stress.

Regulatory developments in New Zealand

RBNZ capital review

The RBNZ capital adequacy framework became effective from 1 July 2022. The reforms begun being phased in from 1 October 2021, with changes yet to be fully implemented including:

- Westpac New Zealand Limited's ("WNZL") tier 1 capital requirement will increase to 16% of RWA by 1 July 2028, of which 13.5% must be common equity tier 1 capital under RBNZ's BPR and up to 2.5% may be additional tier 1 capital under RBNZ's BPR;
- WNZL's total capital requirement will increase to 18% of RWA by 1 July 2028, of which up to 2% can be tier 2 capital under RBNZ's BPR; and
- Eligible Tier 1 capital will comprise common equity and redeemable perpetual preference shares. Existing Additional Tier 1 capital instruments will be phased out over a seven year transition period.

5. ABOUT WESTPAC

5.2.5 Distribution restrictions

Should an ADI's Level 2 or Level 1 CET1 Ratio fall below the Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25%¹³, restrictions on the percentage of earnings that can be distributed through dividends, Additional Tier 1 Capital distributions (which will include Distribution payments on the Notes) and discretionary staff bonuses will apply ("Maximum Distributable Amount"). Earnings are defined as distributable profits calculated prior to deduction of Tier 1 Capital Distributions on an after-tax basis.

As outlined in the table below, the Capital Buffer is divided into four quartiles for determining the Maximum Distributable Amount. Tier 1 Capital Distributions are increasingly restricted as the CET1 Ratio falls into each quartile of the Capital Buffer, with no distribution of earnings permitted when the CET1 Ratio is in the first quartile.

CET1 Ratio	Range ¹⁴	Maximum Distributable Amount
Above top of Capital Buffer	> PCR ¹⁵ + 5.75% (Capital Buffer)	100%
4th Quartile	≤ PCR + 5.75%	60%
3rd Quartile	≤ PCR + 4.31%	40%
2nd Quartile	≤ PCR + 2.88%	20%
1st Quartile	≤ PCR + 1.44%	0%

Distributions on Westpac Capital Notes 10 may not be paid if Westpac's CET1 Ratio falls into the Capital Buffer. Distributions that are not paid do not accumulate and will not be subsequently paid.

An ADI can apply to APRA to make payments in excess of the Maximum Distributable Amount. APRA will only grant approval where it is satisfied that an ADI has established measures to raise capital equal to or greater than the amount above the constraint that it wishes to distribute. The Corporations Act does not limit the sources of payment of Distributions on the Notes to the profits of a particular year or period.

Under the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms, Dividend and capital restrictions may apply to Westpac if a Distribution is not paid. See Section 2.1.11. This means that Westpac would give priority to the payment of distributions on Additional Tier 1 Capital securities (including Notes) over payments of Dividends so it is not restricted from paying Dividends. Other Additional Tier 1 Capital securities within the Westpac Group include similar restrictions if distributions on those securities are not paid in full.

5.2.6 Capital Trigger Event

The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms include certain loss absorption features required by APRA, such as Conversion of the Notes into Ordinary Shares or the termination of Holders' rights (if Conversion does not occur for any reason), when a Capital Trigger Event occurs. A Capital Trigger Event may occur if Westpac's CET1 Ratio declines to (or falls below) 5.125%, on either a Level 1 or Level 2 basis, as defined by APRA. See Sections 2.5.2, 5.2.4, 6.1.3, 6.1.4 and 6.1.5 for more information on the Capital Trigger Event.

5.2.7 CET1 surplus above Capital Trigger Event and Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25%

As at 30 September 2023, Westpac's CET1 Ratio was 12.38% on a Level 2 basis and 12.62% on a Level 1 basis. The table below shows the CET1 surplus above the Capital Trigger Event level of 5.125% and the Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25%¹⁶, below which restrictions on the distribution of earnings will apply.

CET1 surplus¹⁷

Level 2 CET1
Surplus ($bn) above Capital Trigger Event level of 5.125%	32.4	32.7
Surplus ($bn) above Total CET1 Requirement 10.25%	9.2	9.6
Level 1 CET1
Surplus ($bn) above Capital Trigger Event level of 5.125%	30.7	31.0
Surplus ($bn) above Total CET1 Requirement 10.25%	9.4	9.8

On 6 November 2023, Westpac announced that:

- it had determined a final dividend of $0.72 for the year ended 30 September 2023;
- it intends to undertake an on-market Buy Back of up to $1.5 billion of Ordinary Shares; and
- there is potential for future capital management should Westpac remain in an excess capital position.

No adjustments have been made to the Level 2 and Level 1 CET1 surplus for the announcements above.

Note:

- The Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25% applies to D-SIBs, however it may be higher for individual ADIs (including Westpac) – see Section 5.2.2.
- Percentages are indicative based on the current Capital Buffer and have been rounded to 2 decimal places.
- Prudential capital requirement for CET1. Currently 4.5% for D-SIBs, however, it may be higher for individual ADIs (including Westpac).
- The Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25% applies to D-SIBs, however it may be higher for individual ADIs (including Westpac) – see Section 5.2.2.
- No adjustments have been made to the Level 2 and Level 1 CET1 surplus for the payment of the final dividend of $0.72 determined for the year ended 30 September 2023 (expected CET1 reduction of approximately 54 basis points on a pro forma Level 2 CET1 Ratio basis), the intended $1.5 billion on-market Buy Back of Ordinary Shares announced by Westpac on 6 November 2023 (expected CET1 reduction of approximately 33 basis points on a pro-forma Level 2 CET1 Ratio basis) or for any potential future capital management.
- APRA's revised capital framework became effective on 1 January 2023 and includes updated prudential standards for capital adequacy and credit risk capital. The revisions include amendments to capital requirements, revisions to the calculation of credit RWA, introduction of a capital floor and introduction of a minimum leverage ratio. Accordingly, comparative capital ratios have only been presented for 31 March 2023, as prior periods were reported under the capital framework applicable prior to these changes and have not been restated.

Differences between Westpac's Level 2 and Level 1 CET1 Ratios relate principally to the level of capital held by, and RWA of, offshore banking subsidiaries. Westpac's capital management policy for Westpac's subsidiaries requires surplus capital to be repatriated from subsidiaries (subject to subsidiary board approval, relevant regulatory approvals and regulatory requirements for Westpac subsidiaries).

Westpac gives no assurance as to what its CET1 Ratio on a Level 2 or Level 1 basis will be at any time as it may be significantly impacted by regulatory changes to the measurement of capital or RWA calculations, and unexpected events affecting its business, operations and financial condition.

5.3 Funding and liquidity

5.3.1 Funding

The Westpac Group has a Liquidity Risk Management Framework which seeks to meet cash flow obligations under a wide range of market conditions and scenarios, as well as meeting the requirements of the Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR") and Net Stable Funding Ratio ("NSFR").

Westpac has maintained a strong liquidity position and conservative funding profile throughout the 2023 financial year, with key ratios and metrics comfortably above minimum requirements.

LCR

The LCR is designed to enhance banks' short-term resilience, by measuring the level of high-quality liquid assets ("HQLA"), held against its liquidity needs for a 30 calendar day period under a regulator-defined stress scenario.

Westpac's average LCR for the quarter ended 30 September 2023 was 134%, an increase of two percentage points in the ratio compared to the quarter ended 30 September 2022 and well above the regulatory minimum.

Westpac held an average of $182 billion in HQLA in the September 2023 quarter, which includes approximately $46 billion in HQLA above the 100% LCR minimum. The Westpac Group's portfolio of HQLA provides a buffer against periods of liquidity stress, as well as meeting regulatory requirements. HQLA include cash, deposits with central banks, government and semi-government securities, and are recognised in the LCR calculation at market value.

The Westpac Group also has access to non-HQLA and other assets that are eligible for re-purchase with a central bank under certain conditions and provide a source of additional liquidity for the Westpac Group. These assets include private securities and self-originated AAA-rated mortgage-backed securities.

NSFR

The NSFR is designed to encourage banks' longer-term funding resilience. To comply, banks are required to maintain an NSFR of at least 100% at all times. Westpac's NSFR was 115% at 30 September 2023, well above the 100% minimum.

INVESTMENT RISKS

SECTION 6

This Section sets out:

- 6.1 Investment risks relating to the Westpac Capital Notes 10
- 6.2 Investment risks relating to Westpac

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

Before applying for any Notes, you should consider whether the Notes are a suitable investment for you. There are risks associated with an investment in the Notes, many of which are outside the control of Westpac. These risks include those in this Section 6 and other matters referred to in this Prospectus. You should carefully consider the risks described and the other information in this Prospectus before investing in the Notes. The risks and uncertainties described in this Section 6 are not the only ones Westpac faces. Additional risks and uncertainties that Westpac is unaware of, or that Westpac currently deems to be immaterial, may also become important factors that affect the Notes or Westpac.

6.1 Investment risks relating to the Westpac Capital Notes 10

Set out in this Section 6.1 are risks associated specifically with an investment in the Notes. In particular, these risks arise from the nature of the Notes and the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. You should also consider the other risks in Section 6.2 as they relate to Westpac.

6.1.1 Distributions may not be paid

There is a risk that Distributions may not be paid. The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms do not oblige Westpac to pay Distributions, which are only payable at Westpac's discretion and are subject to satisfaction of the Distribution Payment Conditions, being:

- Westpac's absolute discretion;
- the payment of Distributions not resulting in a breach of Westpac's capital requirements (on a Level 1 basis) or of the Westpac Group's capital requirements (on a Level 2 basis) under the then current Prudential Standards at the time of payment;
- the payment of Distributions not resulting in Westpac becoming, or being likely to become, insolvent for the purposes of the Corporations Act; and
- APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment.

In addition, changes in laws and regulations applicable to Westpac may impose additional requirements which prevent Westpac from paying a Distribution.

There are also restrictions on the amount of earnings that can be distributed through Tier 1 Capital Distributions should an ADI's Level 1 or Level 2 CET1 Ratios fall below the Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25%¹ (as more fully described in Section 5.2.5). This may result in a Distribution Payment Condition not being satisfied. Payments of Distributions are non-cumulative and decisions to pay a Distribution cannot be deferred. If a Distribution is not paid in full because the Distribution Payment Conditions are not satisfied or because of any other reason, Holders will not be entitled to receive the unpaid portion of that Distribution. No interest accrues on any unpaid Distributions and Westpac has no liability to the Holder and the Holder has no claim in respect of such non-payment.

Non-payment of a Distribution will not be an event of default² and Holders have no right to apply for a Winding Up on the grounds of Westpac's failure to pay a Distribution.

If for any reason a Distribution has not been paid in full for a relevant Distribution Payment Date, Westpac must not (except in certain limited circumstances):

- determine or pay any Dividends; or
- undertake any discretionary Buy Back or Capital Reduction,

unless and until:

- the amount of the unpaid Distribution is paid in full within 20 Business Days of the relevant Distribution Payment Date;
- all Notes are Converted at their full Face Value, Redeemed or terminated following a failure to Convert;
- a Distribution for any subsequent Distribution Period is paid in full on the relevant Distribution Payment Date; or
- a Special Resolution has been passed approving such action.

These restrictions would not apply where the reason a Distribution was not paid was because the Distribution Rate was zero or negative (see Section 2.1.3).

The restrictions on determining or paying Dividends mean that Westpac would give priority to the payment of distributions on Additional Tier 1 Capital securities (including Notes) over payments of Dividends so it is not restricted from paying Dividends.

The restrictions on determining or paying a Dividend will be of limited application in circumstances where Westpac has deferred its decision on determining a Dividend or determines not to pay a Dividend.

Further, the terms of Westpac's future securities could limit Westpac's ability to make payments on the Notes. If Westpac does not make payments on other securities, payments may not be permitted to be made in respect of the Notes.

6.1.2 Westpac may initiate Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of Notes

Westpac may initiate Conversion, Redemption (subject to APRA's prior written approval) or Transfer of:

- some or all of the Notes on 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032; or
- all of the Notes following the occurrence of a Tax Event or Regulatory Event.

If Westpac elects to Redeem Notes, APRA's prior written approval is required. There can be no certainty that APRA will provide its prior written approval. Westpac may only Redeem Notes if it replaces them with capital of the same or better quality (and the replacement is done under conditions that are sustainable for the income capacity of Westpac), or obtains confirmation that APRA is satisfied that Westpac does not have to replace the Notes.

Notes:

1. The Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25% applies to D-SIBs, however it may be higher for individual ADIs (including Westpac) – see Section 5.2.2.
2. The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms do not include any events of default.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

APRA has recently reinforced existing prudential requirements and its expectations for regulated entities (such as Westpac) seeking APRA's approval to redeem capital instruments (such as the Notes). This includes the requirement that a capital instrument should not be redeemed and replaced with one that has a higher credit spread or that is otherwise more expensive unless Westpac has satisfied APRA as to the economic and prudential rationale for redeeming the capital instrument and the redemption does not create an expectation that other capital instruments will be redeemed in similar circumstances. APRA's expectations and the applicable Prudential Standards may affect the ability of Westpac to elect to Redeem the Notes early. The matters to which APRA may have regard in considering whether to give its approval are not limited and may change.

Holders have no right to request or require a Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of their Notes.

Any Conversion, Redemption or Transfer may occur on dates not previously contemplated by Holders, which may be disadvantageous to Holders in light of market conditions or Holders' individual circumstances. This means that the period for which Holders will be entitled to the benefit of the rights attaching to the Notes is unknown.

Where Holders receive cash on Redemption or Transfer, the rate of return at which Holders could reinvest their funds may be lower than the Distribution Rate at the time. Further, upon Redemption, Holders will receive the Face Value of the Notes which may be less than their market value immediately prior to Redemption.

6.1.3 A Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event may occur

A Capital Trigger Event occurs when Westpac determines, or APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes, that either or both the Westpac Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio or Westpac Level 2 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio is equal to, or is less than, 5.125%.

The Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio is the ratio of Westpac's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital to its RWA, where Common Equity Tier 1 Capital comprises the highest quality components of capital.

A Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs when APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes:

- Conversion of the Notes (or conversion, write-off or write down of other capital instruments of the Westpac Group) is necessary because, without it, Westpac would become non-viable; or
- a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because, without it, Westpac would become non-viable.

It should be noted that whether a Non-Viability Trigger Event will occur is at the discretion of APRA.

The circumstances in which APRA may exercise its discretion are not limited to when APRA may have a concern about a bank's capital levels but may also include when APRA has a concern about a bank's funding and liquidity levels or any other matters affecting a bank's viability.

APRA has not provided extensive guidance as to how it would determine non-viability. However, APRA has indicated that non-viability is likely to arise prior to insolvency. Non-viability could be expected to include serious impairment of Westpac's financial position, concerns about its capital, funding or liquidity levels and/or insolvency or potential loss of investor and/or customer confidence with respect to Westpac's overall financial resilience. However, it is possible that APRA's definition of non-viability may not necessarily be confined to these matters and APRA's position on these matters may change over time. As the occurrence of a Non-Viability Trigger Event is at the discretion of APRA, there can be no assurance given as to the factors and circumstances that might give rise to such an event.

In addition, APRA has broad powers under Australian legislation (including but not limited to the Banking Act and the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority Act 1998 (Cth)) with respect to the regulation of ADIs and instruments issued by ADIs such as the Notes. For example, these powers could potentially be used, in appropriate circumstances, to invoke trigger event features (such as write-off) in instruments such as the Notes. In these circumstances where Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments, such as the Notes, are written-off, holders will likely be worse off than holders of Ordinary Shares.

While there are currently no Australian precedents, there are international examples where a regulator and/or government authority has invoked trigger event features in bank hybrid instruments, leading to a conversion and/or write-off of such securities. For example, in March 2023, increasing investor and customer concerns relating to Credit Suisse's financial position led to a significant deposit outflow, which led the Swiss authorities to grant extraordinary liquidity support and a default guarantee. FINMA, the Swiss banking regulator, deemed this assistance to constitute "extraordinary government support" and, therefore, a "viability event" under the contractual terms of Credit Suisse's Additional Tier 1 capital instruments and required that those Additional Tier 1 capital instruments be written-off.

See Section 5.2.7 for further details regarding the surplus of Common Equity Tier 1 Capital above the Capital Trigger Event level of 5.125%.

Differences between Westpac's Level 2 and Level 1 CET1 Ratios relate principally to the level of capital held by, and RWA of, offshore banking subsidiaries. Westpac's capital management policy for Westpac's subsidiaries requires surplus capital to be repatriated from subsidiaries (subject to subsidiary board approval, relevant regulatory approvals and regulatory requirements for Westpac subsidiaries).

Westpac gives no assurance as to what its CET1 Ratio on a Level 2 or Level 1 basis will be at any time as it may be significantly impacted by regulatory changes to the measurement of capital or RWA calculations, and unexpected events affecting its business, operations and financial condition.

A Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may result in the loss of some or all of the value of the Notes. See Sections 6.1.4, 6.1.5 and 6.1.11.

6.1.4 Conversion following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

Upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, Westpac is required to Convert all or some of the Notes (or a percentage of the Face Value of each Note) into the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares based on the VWAP during the 5 Business Days prior to, but not including, the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date.

If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs because APRA has determined that without a public sector injection of capital, or other public sector support, Westpac would become non-viable, then Westpac must Convert all of the Notes.

Conversion following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event is not subject to the Scheduled Conversion Conditions being satisfied and Westpac is required to issue to Holders the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares on the Conversion Date, which will not exceed the Maximum Conversion Number.

Maximum Conversion Number

The Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event is subject to the Maximum Conversion Number. The Maximum Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event will be calculated based on a VWAP set to reflect 20% of the Issue Date VWAP.

Accordingly, depending upon the Ordinary Share price during the 5 Business Days prior to a Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, the value of Ordinary Shares received for each Note may (in the case of a Capital Trigger Event) and is likely to (in the case of a Non-Viability Trigger Event) be significantly less than approximately $101.01 for each Note (based on the Initial Face Value of $100 per Note).

The Maximum Conversion Number may be adjusted to reflect a consolidation, division or reclassification, or pro-rata bonus issue, of Ordinary Shares. However, no adjustment will be made to it on account of other transactions which may affect the price of Ordinary Shares, including for example, rights issues, returns of capital, Buy Backs, special dividends, demergers, and other corporate actions. The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms do not limit the transactions that Westpac may undertake with respect to its share capital and any such action may increase the risk that Holders receive only the Maximum Conversion Number and so adversely affect the position of Holders.

Order of Conversion of Relevant Securities

If Westpac is only required to convert a certain amount of Relevant Securities, Westpac will determine the amount of Notes which will be Converted and other Relevant Securities which will be converted, written-off or written down as follows:

- first, Westpac is required to convert, write-off or write down such number or amount of the face value of any other Relevant Securities whose terms require them to be converted, written-off or written down before Conversion of the Notes as is necessary to return either or both Westpac's Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio or Westpac's Level 2 Common Equity Tier

1 Capital Ratio, as the case may be, to above 5.125% or to satisfy APRA that Westpac will no longer be non-viable; and

- second, if conversion, write-off or write down of those Relevant Securities is not sufficient, Westpac is required to Convert the Notes and/or convert, write-off or write down other Relevant Securities, on a pro-rata basis or in a manner that is otherwise, in the opinion of Westpac, fair and reasonable, the Face Value of the Notes and the face value of any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit them to be converted, written-off or written down in that manner (subject to such adjustments as Westpac may determine to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares and any Notes or Relevant Securities remaining on issue and the need to effect conversion, write-off or write-down immediately), but such determination will not impede the immediate Conversion of the relevant number of Notes or percentage of the Face Value of each Note (as the case may be), or, if applicable, termination of the relevant Holders' rights and claims. In addition, where the Relevant Securities are in different currencies, Westpac may treat the Relevant Securities as if converted into a single currency at rates of exchange it considers reasonable. However, this determination must not impede the immediate Conversion of the relevant number of Notes.

However, Westpac has no obligation to have or maintain on issue any Relevant Securities (and does not, and may never, have on issue Relevant Securities) which are required to be converted, written-off or written down ahead of Notes and Westpac gives no assurance that there will be any such instruments on issue at the time at which the Notes may be required to be Converted.

Further, in Converting Notes or converting, writing-off or writing down other Relevant Securities, although Westpac will endeavour to treat Holders and holders of other Relevant Securities on an approximately proportionate basis, Westpac may discriminate to take account of the effect on marketable parcels of Notes and other logistical considerations. Accordingly, should a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occur and only some of the Notes must be Converted, it is possible that not all Holders will have their Notes Converted into Ordinary Shares.

Westpac expects that any ASX purchase or sale transactions in Notes that have not settled on the date a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs will continue to settle in accordance with the normal ASX T+2 settlement, although Westpac expects that the seller will be treated as having delivered, and the buyer will be treated as having acquired, the number of Ordinary Shares into which the Notes have been Converted as a result of the occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

Ordinary Shares

The Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion may not be listed. Westpac's Ordinary Shares may not have been listed for some period of time, for example, if Westpac is acquired by another entity and delisted. The price of Ordinary Shares and the ability to trade them would likely be affected if not listed.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

The Ordinary Shares may not be able to be sold at prices representing their value based on the VWAP. In particular, the VWAP prices will be based on trading days which occur before the Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

Ordinary Shares are a different type of investment to the Notes. Like Distributions on the Notes, Dividends are payable at the absolute discretion of Westpac, but, unlike Distributions, Dividends are not scheduled to be paid at any particular time and the amount of each Dividend is also discretionary (and not subject to a formula). In a Winding Up, claims of holders of Ordinary Shares rank behind claims of holders of all other securities and debts of Westpac. The market price of Ordinary Shares may fluctuate and be more sensitive than that of Notes to changes in Westpac's performance, operational issues and other business issues.

6.1.5 Termination of rights where Conversion does not occur following a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

If for any reason Conversion of Notes does not occur and the Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), then:

- those Notes will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred on any subsequent date; and
- all rights in relation to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) immediately on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions.

Conversion of Notes may not occur, for example, due to applicable law, order of a court or action of any government authority, including regarding the insolvency, Winding Up or other external administration of Westpac, as a result of Westpac's inability or failure to comply with its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Notes in relation to Conversion, or as a result of operational delays. Those laws and the grounds on which a court or government authority may make orders or take action preventing the Conversion of Notes may change and the change may be adverse to the interests of Holders. Further, pandemics (such as COVID-19) and the related restrictions on access to facilities and systems of Westpac and/or its agents may increase the risk of a breakdown in process or operational delays, which may result in Conversion of the Notes not occurring and Holders losing all of the value of their investment.

6.1.6 Investments in Notes are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts under the Banking Act or Financial Claims Scheme

Investments in the Notes are an investment in Westpac and will be affected by the ongoing performance, financial position and solvency of Westpac. They are not deposit liabilities or protected accounts of Westpac for the purposes of the Banking Act or Financial Claims Scheme and are not subject to the depositor protection provisions of Australian banking legislation (including the Australian Government guarantee of certain bank deposits). Therefore, the Notes are not guaranteed or insured by the Australian Government, any government agency or compensation scheme of Australia or any other jurisdiction.

6.1.7 Market price of the Notes may fluctuate

Westpac has applied for quotation of the Notes on the ASX, but Westpac is unable to forecast the market price and liquidity of the market for the Notes. The Notes may experience market price volatility more or less than Ordinary Shares. The market price for the Notes may fluctuate due to various factors, including:

- Australian and international general conditions (including inflation rates, interest rates and currency exchange rates), changes in government policy, changes in regulatory policy, impacts of regulatory change (including potential changes to the Prudential Standards pursuant to the proposed APRA consultation process described in Section 5.2.4 or intervention by ASIC in the market for the Notes or similar securities), changes in the laws relating to the taxation treatment of Notes (including the availability of franking), the expressed views of regulators, investor sentiment and general market movements, which may or may not have an impact on Westpac's actual operating performance;
- operating results of Westpac that vary from expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- changes in expectations as to Westpac's future financial performance, including financial estimates by securities analysts and investors;
- changes in market valuations of other financial services institutions;
- announcement of demergers, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments by Westpac or its competitors;
- changes in the market price of Ordinary Shares and/or other debt securities or other capital securities issued by Westpac or by other issuers, or changes in the supply of equity securities or capital securities issued by Westpac or by other issuers;
- the occurrence of or increase in the likelihood of the occurrence of one or more Distributions not being paid, a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event;
- the impact of pandemics, such as COVID-19, on global, regional and national economies and markets; and
- other major Australian and international events such as hostilities and tensions, and acts of terrorism.

It is possible that the Notes will trade at a market price above or below the Face Value as a result of these and other factors.

6.1.8 The liquidity of the Notes may be low

The market for the Notes will likely be less liquid than the market for Ordinary Shares. Holders who wish to sell their Notes may be unable to do so at an acceptable price, or at all, if insufficient liquidity exists in the market for the Notes.

The liquidity of the market for the Notes may be impacted by a number of factors, including changes in law such as the DDO Laws that came into force in October 2021 (see the “Design and distribution obligations” section at the front of this Prospectus), or any changes to the Prudential Standards, including any that occur pursuant to the Additional Tier 1 Capital consultation process expected to be undertaken by APRA in 2024 (for details on the APRA Discussion Paper, see Section 5.2.4), which could potentially lead to a change in the investor base or a material reduction in future issuance volumes, reinvestment opportunities or secondary market trading activity. If such factors increase the difficulty of undertaking further issuance of Additional Tier 1 Capital securities such as the Notes, this could also in turn affect the likelihood of Westpac electing to Redeem or Transfer the Notes rather than Converting them.

Westpac does not guarantee the market price or liquidity of the Notes. There is a risk that if Holders sell Notes before the Scheduled Conversion Date, Holders may lose some of the money they have invested.

6.1.9 Changes in the Distribution Rate

The Distribution Rate is calculated for each Distribution Period by reference to the relevant 3 month BBSW Rate, which is influenced by a number of factors and varies over time. The Distribution Rate will fluctuate and may increase and/or decrease over time with movements in the 3 month BBSW Rate. It is possible for the 3 month BBSW Rate to become negative. The 3 month BBSW Rate is influenced by the Interbank Overnight Cash Rate which is set by the RBA. One scenario under which the 3 month BBSW Rate sets negative is if RBA's Cash Rate Target (or other overnight rates such as rates on exchange settlement balances) is cut below 0%. The 3 month BBSW Rate could move before the Cash Rate is adjusted in anticipation of any moves by the RBA over a 3 month horizon. Noting the 3 month BBSW Rate is a market set rate, even in a scenario where the Cash Rate is at or above 0%, it could move negative depending on supply and demand in the prime bank paper market. The Eurozone, Switzerland, Japan and Denmark are examples of jurisdictions where central banks have previously set negative monetary policy rates. Should this occur, the negative amount will be taken into account in calculating the Distribution Rate (but there is no obligation on Holders to pay Westpac if the Distribution Rate becomes negative and there would be no Distribution in those circumstances).

Refer to the graph in Section 2.1.4 to see the movements in the 3 month BBSW Rate over the last 10 years.

The Distribution Rate is also affected by the corporate tax rate. If the corporate tax rate were to change, the Distribution Rate, the cash amount of Distributions and the amount of any franking credits will change.

As the Distribution Rate fluctuates, there is a risk that the rate may become less attractive when compared to returns available on comparable securities issued by Westpac or other issuers or other investments.

Westpac does not guarantee any particular rate of return on the Notes.

6.1.10 Use of franking credits by Holders

Australian resident Holders may be entitled to use franking credits to offset their tax liability and Australian resident Holders that are individuals or complying superannuation entities may be entitled to a refund of excess franking credits, to the extent that the franking credits exceed their tax liability.

You should be aware that your ability to use the franking credits, either as an offset to your tax liability or by claiming a refund after the end of the year of income, will depend on your individual tax position.

Investors should refer to the Australian tax summary in Section 7 and should seek professional advice in relation to their tax position and monitor any potential changes to government policy relating to franking credits on an ongoing basis. It is expected that the ATO will issue a Class Ruling for Holders in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 which is consistent with the Australian tax summary in Section 7.

6.1.11 Ranking of the Notes

In the event of a Winding Up, if the Notes are still on issue and have not been Redeemed or Converted, they will rank for payment:

- ahead of Ordinary Shares;
- equally with all Equal Ranking Capital Securities which at the Issue Date, would include Westpac Capital Notes 5, Westpac Capital Notes 6, Westpac Capital Notes 7, Westpac Capital Notes 8, Westpac Capital Notes 9 and Westpac USD AT1 Securities; and
- behind Senior Creditors.

If, in a Winding Up, the Notes have not been Converted, Redeemed, or Transferred, Holders will be entitled to be paid the Liquidation Sum at the commencement of the Winding Up (or if less actual cash is available to Westpac for distribution to Holders, a proportionate share of that cash). The Liquidation Sum is an amount of surplus assets equal to $100 per Note (as adjusted for a Conversion under clauses 5.2 or 5.4 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms or termination of rights under clause 5.8 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms).

The claim for the Liquidation Sum effectively ranks equally with Equal Ranking Capital Securities, but is subordinated to Senior Creditors. As the Notes rank behind Senior Creditors, there is a risk that in the Winding Up, there will be insufficient funds to provide to Holders any return of their initial investment.

However it is likely that any Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event would occur prior to a Winding Up, requiring the Conversion of the Notes.

Where a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, the ranking of Notes in a Winding Up will be adversely affected.

If the Notes have been Converted (including upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event), Holders will hold Ordinary Shares and rank equally with other holders of Ordinary Shares in a Winding Up.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

If for any reason Conversion of Notes does not occur following one of these events (including, for example, due to applicable law, order of a court or action of any government authority, including regarding the insolvency, Winding Up or other external administration of Westpac, as a result of Westpac's inability or failure to comply with its obligations under the terms and conditions of the Notes in relation to Conversion, or as a result of operational delays (for example, due to COVID-19 related restrictions on access to facilities and systems of Westpac and/or its agents) and the Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), then:

- those Notes will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred on any subsequent date; and
- all rights in relation to those Notes will be terminated (written-off) immediately on the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be), and Holders will lose all of the value of their investment in those Notes and they will not receive any compensation or unpaid Distributions. In these circumstances, those Notes will have no ranking in a Winding Up and Holders are likely to be worse off than holders of Ordinary Shares.

6.1.12 Changes to credit rating

Any credit rating assigned to the Notes or other Westpac securities could be reviewed, suspended, withdrawn or downgraded. Credit rating agencies may withdraw, revise or suspend credit ratings or change the methodology by which securities are rated at any time. Any revisions, anticipated changes or other changes could adversely affect the market price and liquidity of the Notes or other Westpac securities.

6.1.13 The Ordinary Share price used to calculate the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares may be different to the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time of Conversion

The number of Ordinary Shares issued to Holders upon Conversion will depend on the VWAP of Ordinary Shares over the 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately prior to the relevant Conversion Date (or in the case of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, the VWAP over 5 Business Days prior to the Conversion Date). Accordingly, the Ordinary Share price used to calculate the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares may be different to the market price of Ordinary Shares at the time of Conversion so that the value of Ordinary Shares Holders receive may be less than the value of those Ordinary Shares based on the Ordinary Share price on the Conversion Date.

Holders receiving Ordinary Shares on Conversion may not be able to sell those Ordinary Shares at the price on which the Conversion calculation is based, or at all.

6.1.14 Holders cannot request Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of the Notes

Holders have no right to request Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of the Notes for any reason. Therefore, to realise their investment Holders would have to sell their Notes on the ASX at the prevailing market price. Depending on market conditions at the time, the Notes may be trading at a market price below the Face Value and/or the market for the Notes may not be liquid. Brokerage fees may also be payable if Notes are sold through a broker. Westpac does not guarantee that Holders will be able to sell Notes on the ASX at an acceptable price or at all.

6.1.15 Conversion may or may not occur on 22 June 2034

The Notes may Convert into Ordinary Shares on 22 June 2034, being the first possible Scheduled Conversion Date. However, there is a risk that Conversion will not occur on 22 June 2034 because the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are not satisfied – see Sections 2.2.3 and 2.2.5. The Scheduled Conversion Conditions will not be satisfied if the VWAP of Ordinary Shares on the 25th Business Day on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place before (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date is less than or equal to 56.12% of the Issue Date VWAP, or the VWAP of Ordinary Shares during the period of 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place before (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date is less than or equal to 50.51% of the Issue Date VWAP.

If Conversion does not occur on a potential Scheduled Conversion Date, Distributions will continue to be paid on the Notes, subject to the Distribution Payment Conditions.

The Notes are perpetual instruments. If the Ordinary Share price deteriorates significantly and never recovers, it is possible that the Scheduled Conversion Conditions will never be satisfied and, if this occurs, the Notes may never Convert.

6.1.16 Changes to regulatory capital requirements in Australia

Any fall in Westpac's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio as a result of future changes to regulatory capital requirements may adversely impact the market price of the Notes or potentially increase the chance at a later date that Conversion of Notes takes place due to the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event (a Capital Trigger Event will occur where Westpac determines, or APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes, that Westpac's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio is equal to or less than 5.125% on a Level 1 or Level 2 basis) or a Non-Viability Trigger Event (a Non-Viability Trigger Event will occur where APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes Conversion of the Notes or conversion, write-off or write down of other capital instruments of the Westpac Group or a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because, without it, Westpac would become non-viable).

See Section 6.1.4 for the risk associated with Conversion of the Notes due to the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

See Sections 5.2.2 and 5.2.4 for more information about the Basel III capital framework and proposed changes to regulatory capital requirements, including potential changes to the Prudential Standards (such as increasing the Capital Trigger Event level to above 5.125%) pursuant to an Additional Tier 1 Capital consultation process expected to be undertaken by APRA in 2024 (for details on the APRA Discussion Paper, see Section 5.2.4). The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms may be amended without the approval of Holders to comply with applicable laws (including the requirements of any statutory authority, such as APRA – see Section 6.1.27).

6.1.17 Regulatory classification or change

APRA has confirmed that the Notes will be eligible for inclusion as Additional Tier 1 Capital under APRA's Prudential Standard APS 111 Capital Adequacy: Measurement of Capital.

However, Westpac may determine that a Regulatory Event has occurred and may elect to Convert, Redeem (subject to APRA's prior written approval) or Transfer the Notes (see Sections 2.3, 2.4 and 6.1.2) if APRA subsequently determines that all, some or a proportion of the Notes do not or will not qualify for Additional Tier 1 Capital treatment (under the Basel III capital adequacy framework, as amended from time to time) or as a result of any changes to the Prudential Standards, including any that occur pursuant to the Additional Tier 1 Capital consultation process expected to be undertaken by APRA in 2024 (for details on the APRA Discussion Paper, see Section 5.2.4).

A Regulatory Event may also occur as a result of other regulatory changes. See Section 2.3.3 for information on what constitutes a Regulatory Event, and Section 6.2.3 for risks associated with regulation for Westpac generally.

6.1.18 Westpac may issue a Transfer Notice requiring the Transfer of Notes to a Nominated Party

Westpac may elect to issue a Transfer Notice, requiring all or some Notes (in the case of a Transfer on 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032) or all Notes (in the case of a Tax Event or Regulatory Event) to be Transferred to a Nominated Party for a cash amount per Note equal to the Face Value.

Upon a Transfer of Notes, it will be the Nominated Party's obligation to pay the aggregate Face Value of the Notes being Transferred, not Westpac's. If the Nominated Party does not pay this amount to Holders, the Transfer will not proceed, in which case Holders will continue to hold Notes in accordance with the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms.

Where Holders receive cash pursuant to a Transfer, the rate of return at which Holders could reinvest their funds may be lower than the Distribution Rate at the time.

6.1.19 No fixed maturity date

The Notes are perpetual instruments. The Notes may Convert on a potential Scheduled Conversion Date, but it is possible that market conditions at the time may be such that the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are not satisfied. If the Ordinary Share price falls far enough and never recovers it is possible that the Notes will not Convert at any point in time. Furthermore, any Optional Conversion, Redemption or Transfer is subject to the discretion of Westpac and certain other restrictions. Redemption is also subject to obtaining APRA's prior written approval. It is possible that Optional Conversion, Redemption or Transfer will not occur at any point in time.

6.1.20 DDO Laws

On 5 April 2019, the DDO Laws came into force and introduced new product intervention powers for ASIC, which took effect immediately, as well as product design and distribution obligations on certain issuers and distributors of financial products (including hybrids such as Westpac Capital Notes 10) to retail investors, which took effect in October 2021.

The product design and distribution obligations require (among other things) issuers to prepare and make publicly available a target market determination, issuers to take reasonable steps to ensure compliance with the target market determination by distributors and distributors to take reasonable steps to ensure their distribution is consistent with the target market determination.

In addition, the DDO Laws provide ASIC with significant, proactive powers to issue product intervention orders if it believes that a financial product (such as Westpac Capital Notes 10) has resulted, will result, or is likely to result in significant detriment to retail investors. The scope of the product intervention power is broad and includes (but is not limited to) the power for ASIC to intervene in relation to a particular financial product (such as Westpac Capital Notes 10) or a class of financial products (such as bank hybrid securities) to prohibit or regulate the distribution of that financial product or class of financial products. ASIC can exercise this power regardless of whether Westpac has complied with its obligations under the DDO Laws and the law generally in relation to Westpac Capital Notes 10.

There is a risk that they may adversely impact the issue, distribution and reinvestment of financial products, including instruments like Westpac Capital Notes 10. It is possible that investors who may have previously invested in Westpac Capital Notes are no longer eligible to apply for Westpac Capital Notes in the primary offer. These changes may also affect the liquidity of existing and new instruments (including hybrids such as Westpac Capital Notes 10), if they lead to a material reduction in future issuance volumes or secondary trading activity by investors.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

6.1.21 Taxation treatment

A general description of the Australian taxation consequences of investing in the Notes is set out in Section 7. The information in Section 7 is provided in general terms and is not intended to provide specific advice in relation to the circumstances of any particular potential investor or Holder. Accordingly, you should seek independent advice in relation to your individual tax position before you choose to apply for or invest in the Notes.

A Tax Event will occur if Westpac determines, after receiving a supporting opinion of reputable legal counsel or other tax adviser in Australia experienced in such matters, that (as a result of a Change of Law), there is a more than insubstantial risk that:

- Westpac would be exposed to a more than de minimis adverse tax consequence or increased cost in relation to the Notes; or
- any Distribution would not be a frankable distribution within the meaning of Division 202 of the Tax Act.

In each of those situations, the risk may itself be a Tax Event, even before the cost or adverse tax consequence is incurred or the Distribution ceases to be frankable. If a Tax Event occurs, Westpac may Convert, Redeem or Transfer the Notes (subject to the conditions contained in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms, including that Westpac has obtained a supporting opinion of reputable legal counsel or other tax adviser, experienced in such matters, in relation to the Tax Event – see Section 2.3.2).

6.1.22 Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (“FATCA”) withholding and reporting

In order to comply with FATCA, Westpac (or, if Notes are held through another financial institution, such other financial institution) may be required (pursuant to an agreement with the United States or under applicable law including pursuant to the terms of an applicable intergovernmental agreement entered into between the United States and any other jurisdiction) (i) to request certain information from Holders or beneficial owners of Notes, which information may be provided to the US Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”), and (ii) to withhold US tax on some portion of payments made with respect to the Notes treated as foreign passthru payments made two years or more after the date on which the final regulations that define “foreign passthru payments” are published if such information is not provided or if payments are made to certain foreign financial institutions that have not entered into a similar agreement with the United States (and are not otherwise required to comply with the FATCA regime under applicable law including pursuant to the terms of an applicable intergovernmental agreement entered into between the United States and any other jurisdiction).

If Westpac or any other person is required to withhold amounts under or in connection with FATCA from any payments made with respect to Notes or with respect to the issuance of any Ordinary Shares upon any Conversion, Holders and beneficial owners of Notes, and holders of Ordinary Shares issued upon any Conversion will not be entitled to receive any gross up or additional amounts to compensate them for such withholdings. FATCA is complex and its application to the Notes remains uncertain. Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisers about the application of FATCA to the Notes.

This information is based on guidance issued by the IRS or other relevant tax authority as at the date of this Prospectus. Future guidance may affect the application of FATCA to Westpac, Holders or beneficial owners of Notes or Ordinary Shares.

6.1.23 Provision of information and certifications pursuant to Common Reporting Standard compliance requirements

The Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development’s Common Reporting Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (“CRS”) requires certain financial institutions to report information regarding certain accounts (which may include the Notes) to their local tax authority and follow related due diligence procedures. A jurisdiction that has signed the CRS Competent Authority Agreement may provide this information to other jurisdictions that have signed the CRS Competent Authority Agreement. Australia has enacted legislation to give effect to the CRS, with the CRS applying to Australian financial institutions from 1 July 2017. Therefore, Holders may be requested to provide certain information and certifications to ensure compliance with the CRS and this information may be provided to the ATO and, potentially, other taxing authorities in other jurisdictions outside Australia.

6.1.24 Powers of a Banking Act statutory manager and APRA

In certain circumstances APRA may appoint a statutory manager to take control of the business of an ADI, such as Westpac. Those circumstances are defined in the Banking Act to include:

- where the ADI informs APRA that it considers it is likely to become unable to meet its obligations, or is about to suspend payment;
- where APRA considers that, in the absence of external support:
 - the ADI may become unable to meet its obligations;
 - the ADI may suspend payment;
 - it is likely that the ADI will be unable to carry on banking business in Australia consistently with the interests of its depositors; or
 - it is likely that the ADI will be unable to carry on banking business in Australia consistently with the stability of the financial system in Australia;
- the ADI becomes unable to meet its obligations or suspends payment; or
- where, in certain circumstances, the ADI, its holding company (if any) or any of its subsidiaries, is in default of compliance with a direction by APRA to comply with the Banking Act or regulations made under it and the Federal Court of Australia authorises APRA to assume control of the ADI’s business.

The powers of a Banking Act statutory manager include the power to alter the constitution of an ADI, its holding company (if any) or any of its subsidiaries, to issue, cancel or sell shares (or rights to acquire shares) in the ADI, its holding company (if any) or any of its subsidiaries, and to vary or cancel rights or restrictions attached to shares in a class of shares in the ADI, its holding company (if any) or any of its subsidiaries. The Banking Act statutory manager is authorised to do so despite the Corporations Act, the ADI's constitution, any contract or arrangement to which the ADI, its holding company (if any) or any of its subsidiaries is party or the ASX Listing Rules. In the event that a Banking Act statutory manager is appointed to Westpac in the future, these broad powers of a Banking Act statutory manager may be exercised in a way which adversely affects the rights attaching to the Notes and the position of Holders.

The Banking Act was amended in 2018 to enhance APRA's powers to facilitate resolution of the entities it regulates (and their subsidiaries). Additional powers which have been given to APRA and which impact Westpac include greater oversight, management and directions powers in relation to Westpac Group entities which were previously not regulated by APRA, increased statutory management powers over certain other entities within the Westpac Group and changes which are designed to give statutory recognition to the conversion or write-off of regulatory capital instruments.

In addition, APRA has powers to require the compulsory transfer of all or part of the business of Westpac (including Ordinary Shares of Westpac) to another entity under the Financial Sector (Transfer and Restructure) Act 1999 (Cth) ("FSTR Act"). A transfer under the FSTR Act overrides anything in any contract or agreement to which Westpac is a party, including the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. These powers of APRA may be exercised in a way which adversely affects the ability of Westpac to comply with its obligations in respect of the Notes and this may adversely affect the position of Holders.

6.1.25 Future issues of debt or other securities by Westpac

Westpac and members of the Westpac Group may, at their absolute discretion, issue securities in the future that:

- rank for distribution or payment of capital (including in the Winding Up of Westpac or another member of the Westpac Group) equally with, behind or ahead of the Notes; or
- have the same or different dividend, interest or distribution rates as the Notes; or
- have the same or different terms and conditions as the Notes.

Any issue of other securities may affect Holders' ability to recover the Liquidation Sum due to Holders on a Winding Up, if the Notes are on issue at the time.

The Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms do not require Westpac to refrain from certain business changes or require Westpac to operate within certain ratio limits.

An investment in Notes carries no right to participate in any future issue of securities (whether equity, hybrid, debt or otherwise) by any member of the Westpac Group.

No prediction can be made as to the effect, if any, such future issues of debt or other securities by an entity in the Westpac Group may have on the market price or liquidity of the Notes.

6.1.26 Successor holding company

Where Westpac is replaced as the ultimate holding company of the Westpac Group by an Approved Successor and certain other conditions are satisfied, Conversion of Notes will not be triggered but Westpac may be allowed to instead make amendments (provided APRA's prior written approval is obtained) to substitute the Approved Successor as the debtor in respect of the Notes and as the issuer in respect of the ordinary shares issued on Conversion and to make certain other amendments to the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. Accordingly, potential investors should be aware that, if:

- Westpac is replaced by an Approved Successor as the ultimate holding company of the Westpac Group; and
- a substitution of the Approved Successor as the debtor in respect of the Notes and the issuer of the ordinary shares on Conversion is effected under the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms,

Holders will be obliged to accept Approved Successor Shares and will not receive Ordinary Shares on Conversion.

Potential investors should also be aware that Holders may not have a right to vote on any proposal to approve, implement or give effect to the establishment of an Approved Successor.

Westpac has not made any decision to substitute an Approved Successor as the ultimate holding company of the Westpac Group.

Where Westpac transfers only some of its assets to an Approved Successor, the Approved Successor may as a result have reduced assets which may affect its credit rating and the likelihood Holders will receive their claims in full in a Winding Up.

There is also a risk that the establishment of a successor holding company that is not an Approved Successor is treated as an Acquisition Event, leading to the Conversion of the Notes. Further, if the establishment of a successor holding company is treated as an Acquisition Event and Conversion does not occur, a number of different risks may arise for Holders, including that Westpac may be assigned a different credit rating and its financial position may be materially altered thereby adversely affecting its ability to pay Distributions.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

6.1.27 Amendment of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms

Westpac may, with APRA's prior written approval where required and subject to compliance with applicable laws, amend the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms without the approval of Holders. This includes an amendment which, in Westpac's opinion, is:

- of a formal, minor or technical nature;
- made to cure ambiguities and manifest errors;
- necessary to give effect to the listing of the Notes on any stock exchange or to comply with applicable laws (including the requirements of any statutory authority, such as APRA); or
- generally not materially prejudicial to the interest of Holders as a whole.

Westpac may also amend the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms, with APRA's prior written approval, if the amendment has been approved by a Special Resolution of Holders or is necessary to effect the substitution of an Approved Successor as the debtor in respect of the Notes and the issuer of ordinary shares on Conversion.

Amendments under these powers are binding on all Holders despite the fact that a Holder may not agree with the amendment.

Westpac may also amend the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms in certain circumstances where the 3 month BBSW Rate ceases to be available (i.e. a BBSW Rate Disruption Event occurs) and replace the 3 month BBSW Rate with an alternative rate and any related adjustments that Westpac considers appropriate (subject to APRA's prior written approval), acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, and make certain other consequential amendments to the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms. Such amendments could adversely affect the interests of Holders.

APRA's prior written approval to amend the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms is always required where the amendment would impact, or potentially impact, the classification of the Notes as Additional Tier 1 Capital on a Level 1 or Level 2 basis.

6.1.28 No rights if control of Westpac is acquired

If a person other than an Approved Successor acquires control of Westpac, the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms do not provide any right or remedy for the Holders on account of such an acquisition occurring except where the acquisition constitutes an Acquisition Event. Further, such an acquisition of Westpac may result in Westpac's Ordinary Shares no longer being quoted on the ASX.

If after such an acquisition has occurred a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, the number of Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion will reflect the VWAP for the period of 5 Business Days on which the Ordinary Shares were last traded on the ASX. The period of 5 Business Days may be well before the Non-Viability Trigger Event and, accordingly, the value of the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares when issued may be very different from the value based on the VWAP used to determine the Conversion Number. This may adversely affect the value of the Ordinary Shares which are issued to Holders upon Conversion and such Ordinary Shares may not be freely tradable.

6.2 Investment risks relating to Westpac

Set out in this Section 6.2 are specific risks associated with an investment in Westpac. Westpac's business is subject to risks that can adversely impact its financial performance, financial condition and future performance. These risks are relevant to an investment in Notes and Ordinary Shares as the value of such an investment in Notes will depend on Westpac's financial condition and future performance, regardless of when or if the Notes are Converted, Redeemed, Transferred or, in the event of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event, terminated. If any of the following risks occur, Westpac's business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition could be materially adversely affected, and the likelihood of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event may increase, with the result that the trading price of Westpac's securities could decline and as a Holder you could lose all, or part, of your investment.

The risks and uncertainties described below can emerge together or quickly in succession in a fashion that is uncorrelated with the order in which they are presented below, and they are not the only ones Westpac faces. Additional risks and uncertainties that Westpac is unaware of, or that Westpac currently deems to be immaterial, may also become important factors that affect Westpac.

The summary of risks in this Section 6 is not exhaustive and you should read this Prospectus in its entirety and consult your financial adviser or other professional adviser before deciding whether to invest in Westpac Capital Notes 10.

6.2.1 Westpac has suffered, and could in the future suffer, information security risks, including cyberattacks

Westpac (and other third parties that it engages with, including its external service providers, business partners, customers and organisations that Westpac acquires or invests in) faces information security risks. These risks are heightened by a range of factors including: the inherent risks in existing and new technologies; increasing digitisation of business processes within, and transactions among, organisations; the increased volume of data (including sensitive data) that organisations collect, generate, hold, use and disclose; the global increase in the sophistication, severity and volume of cyber crime (including the increased occurrence of cyberattacks globally); supply chain disruptions; the prevalence of remote and hybrid working for employees, staff of service providers, and customers; the targeting of local service providers; ongoing and emerging geo-political tensions or wars; and other external events such as acts of terrorism and attacks from state sponsored actors, which could compromise Westpac's information assets and interrupt its usual operations and those of its customers, suppliers and counterparties.

Adverse information security events such as data breaches, cyberattacks, espionage and/or errors are occurring at an unprecedented pace, scale and reach. Cyberattacks and other information security breaches have the potential to cause: financial system instability; reputational damage; serious disruption to customer banking services; economic and non-economic losses to Westpac, its customers, shareholders, suppliers, counterparties and others; compromise data privacy of customers, shareholders, employees and others; and exposure to contagion risk. While Westpac has systems in place to protect against, detect, contain and respond to cyberattacks and other information security threats, these systems have not always been, and may not always be, effective.

Westpac, its customers, shareholders, employees, suppliers, counterparties or others could suffer losses from cyberattacks, information security breaches or ineffective cyber resilience. Westpac's risks may be heightened where Westpac is holding customer data in breach of legal or regulatory obligations, and that data is compromised as part of a cyberattack or other information security incident. Westpac may not be able to anticipate and prevent a cyberattack or other information security incident, or effectively respond to and/or rectify the resulting damage. Westpac's suppliers and counterparties, and other parties that facilitate Westpac's activities, financial platforms and infrastructure (such as payment systems and exchanges that hold data in relation to Westpac's existing or potential customers) as well as Westpac's customers' suppliers and counterparties are also subject to the risk of cyberattacks and other information security breaches, which could in turn impact Westpac. As the scale and volume of cyberattacks increases globally, there is an increased likelihood of enforcement action from global and domestic regulators and other action from customers or shareholders, such as class action litigation, for information security risk management failures, for failing to protect Westpac's information assets (including customer and other data), for misleading statements made about Westpac's information security practices or for deficiencies in Westpac's response to cyberattacks and information security threats (including any delayed, deficient or misleading notifications).

Westpac's operations rely on the secure processing, storage and transmission of information on its computer systems and networks, and the systems and networks of external suppliers. Although Westpac implements measures to protect the confidentiality, availability and integrity of its information, Westpac's information assets (including the computer systems, software and networks on which Westpac, or its customers, shareholders, employees, suppliers, counterparties or others rely) may be subject to security breaches, unauthorised access, malicious software, external attacks or internal breaches that could have an adverse impact on Westpac's and their confidential information.

Consequences of a successful cyberattack or information security breach (whether targeting Westpac or third parties) could include: damage to technology infrastructure; the potential use of incident response and intervention powers by the Australian Government under the Security of Critical Infrastructure Act 2018 (Cth); disruptions or other adverse impacts to network access, operations or availability of services; loss of customers, suppliers and market share or reputational damage; loss of data or information; cyber extortion; customer remediation and/or claims for compensation; breach of applicable laws and regulations; increased vulnerability to fraud and scams; litigation and adverse regulatory action including fines or penalties and increased regulatory scrutiny and enforcement action (including the imposition of licence conditions).

All these potential consequences could have regulatory impacts and negatively affect Westpac's business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition. As cyber threats evolve, Westpac may need to allocate significant resources and incur additional costs to modify or enhance Westpac's systems, investigate and remediate any vulnerabilities or incidents and respond to changing regulatory environments (including regulatory inquiries).

6.2.2 Westpac could be adversely affected by legal or regulatory change

Westpac operates in an environment of sustained legal and regulatory change and ongoing scrutiny of financial services providers. Westpac's business, prospects, reputation, financial performance and financial condition have been, and could in the future be, adversely affected by changes to law, regulation, policies, supervisory activities, the expectations of regulators, and the requirements of industry codes of practice, such as the Banking Code of Practice.

Such changes may affect how Westpac operates and have altered, and may in the future alter, the way Westpac provides its products and services, in some cases requiring Westpac to change or discontinue its offerings. This includes possible future changes in laws, regulations, policy or regulatory expectations arising from ongoing industry-wide reviews and inquiries - for example, the ongoing Senate inquiry into regional and rural branch closures. These changes have in the past limited, and could continue to limit, Westpac's flexibility, require it to incur substantial costs (such as costs of systems changes, the levies associated with the Compensation Scheme of Last Resort, or if Westpac's liability for scams or operational costs relating to scam management are increased as a result of legal or regulatory change), impact the profitability of Westpac's businesses, require Westpac to retain additional capital, impact Westpac's ability to pursue strategic initiatives, result in Westpac being unable to increase or maintain market share and/or create pressure on margins and fees. Changes to regulations in relation to cyber, data, privacy, fraud and scams may also affect the level of threat acting in Australia.

A failure to manage legal or regulatory changes effectively and in the timeframes required has resulted, and could in the future result, in the Westpac Group not meeting its compliance obligations. It could also result in enforcement action, penalties, fines, civil litigation, capital impacts and ultimately loss of business licences. Managing large volumes of regulatory change simultaneously has created, and will continue to create, execution risk. While Westpac updates its technology, systems and processes to keep pace with legal and regulatory change, these steps may not always be successful. System changes can also increase the risk of flaws, human error or unintended consequences and this risk is exacerbated by frequent requirements for change. Westpac expects that it will continue to invest significantly in compliance and the management and implementation of legal and regulatory changes. Significant management attention, costs and resources may be required to update existing, or implement new, processes to comply with such changes. The availability of skilled personnel required to implement changes may be limited.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

6.2.3 Westpac has been and could be adversely affected by failing to comply with laws, regulations or regulatory policy

Westpac is responsible for ensuring that it complies with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements and industry codes of practice in the jurisdictions in which Westpac operates or obtains funding.

Westpac is subject to compliance and conduct risks. These risks are exacerbated by the complexity and volume of regulation, and the level of ongoing regulatory change, including where Westpac interprets its obligations and rights differently to regulators or a Court, tribunal or other body, or where applicable laws (in different jurisdictions or between regimes in Australia) conflict. The potential for this is heightened when regulation is new, untested or is not accompanied by extensive regulatory guidance, or where industry consultation is limited.

Westpac's compliance management system (which is designed to identify, assess and manage compliance risk) has not always been, and may not always be, effective. Breakdowns have occurred, and may in the future occur, due to flaws in the design or implementation of controls or processes, or when new measures are implemented in short periods of time. These factors can result in a failure by the Westpac Group to meet its compliance obligations (including obligations to report or provide information to regulators). As reviews and change programs are progressed, compliance issues have been, and will likely continue to be, identified.

Conduct risk has occurred, and could continue to occur, through the provision of products and services to customers (including vulnerable customers and customers in hardship) that do not meet their needs or do not meet the expectations of the market. It has occurred, and could continue to occur, through the deliberate, reckless, negligent, accidental or unintentional conduct of Westpac's employees, contractors, agents, authorised representatives, credit representatives (for example, in Westpac's RAMS franchise networks) and/or external services providers that results in the circumvention or inadequate implementation of Westpac's controls, processes, policies or procedures. This could occur through a failure to meet professional obligations to specific clients (including fiduciary, suitability, responsible lending and hardship requirements), conflicts of interest, weakness in risk culture, corporate governance or organisational culture, poor product design and implementation, failure to adequately consider customer needs or selling products and services outside of customer target markets. These risks are heightened where there has been, or is in the future, inadequate supervision and oversight of Westpac's distribution channels. A failure by Westpac's people to comply with its policies, procedures or the law could also negatively impact other employees, which could lead to outcomes including litigation and reputational damage for Westpac.

These factors have resulted, and could continue to result, in poor customer outcomes (including for vulnerable customers and customers in hardship), a failure by the Westpac Group to meet its compliance obligations (or to promptly detect, report and/or remedy non-compliance) and other outcomes including reputational damage and increased regulatory surveillance or investigation. Westpac is currently subject to a number of investigations, reviews and industry inquiries by, and is responding to a number of requests from, domestic and international regulators including APRA, ASIC, the ATO, the ACCC, AUSTRAC, Banking Code Compliance Committee, Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Australian Financial Complaints Authority, RBNZ and the Fair Work Ombudsman, Federal Financial Supervisory Authority (BaFin), Bank of Papua New Guinea ("BPNG") and BPNG's Financial Analysis and Supervision Unit, involving significant resources and costs.

Regulatory reviews and investigations have in the past, and may in the future, result in a regulator taking administrative or enforcement action against the Westpac Group and/or its representatives. Regulators have broad powers, and in certain circumstances, can issue directions to Westpac (including in relation to product design and distribution and remedial action). Regulators could also pursue civil or criminal proceedings, seek substantial fines, civil penalties, compliance regimes or other enforcement outcomes. Penalties can be (and have been) more significant where it has taken some time to identify contraventions, or to investigate, correct or remediate contraventions, where there are patterns of similar conduct, or where there has been awareness of contraventions. In addition, regulatory investigations may lead to adverse findings against directors and management, including potential disqualification. The allocation of resources to regulatory reviews and investigations can also impede other activities, including change, simplification and remediation activities.

APRA can also require the Westpac Group to hold additional capital either through a capital overlay or higher risk weighted assets (including in response to a failure to comply with prudential standards and/or expectations including in relation to, for example, stress testing and liquidity management). Following the commencement of civil penalty proceedings, APRA imposed a $500 million Culture, Governance and Accountability Review overlay and a further $500 million Risk Governance overlay to Westpac's required operational risk capital in 2019. Both overlays continue to apply.

If the Westpac Group incurs additional capital overlays, Westpac may need to raise additional capital, which could have an adverse impact on its financial performance.

The political and regulatory environment that Westpac operates in has seen (and may continue to see) the expansion of powers of regulators along with materially increased civil penalties for corporate and financial sector misconduct or non-compliance and an increase in criminal prosecutions against institutions and/or their employees and representatives (including where there is no fault element). This could also result in reputational damage and impact the willingness of customers, investors and other stakeholders to deal with Westpac. Given the size of Westpac and scale of its activities, a failure by Westpac may result in multiple contraventions, which could lead to significant financial and other penalties.

Regulatory investigations or actions commenced against the Westpac Group have exposed, and may in the future expose, the Westpac Group to an increased risk of litigation brought by third parties (including through class action proceedings), which may require Westpac to pay compensation to third parties and/or to undertake further remediation activities. In some cases, the amounts claimed and/or to be paid may be substantial. Market developments suggest the scope and nature of potential claims is expanding, including in relation to cyber incidents, financial crime and environmental, social and governance issues. Westpac has incurred significant remediation costs on a number of occasions (including compensation payments and costs of correcting issues) and new issues may arise requiring remediation. Westpac has faced, and may continue to face, challenges in effectively and reliably scoping, quantifying and implementing remediation activities, including determining how to compensate impacted parties properly, fairly and in a timely way. Remediation activities may be affected or delayed by a number of factors including the number of customers (or other parties) affected, the commencement of investigations or litigation (including regulatory or class action proceedings), requirements of regulators (including as to the method or timeframe for remediation) or difficulties in locating or contacting affected parties and any reluctance of affected parties to respond to contact. Investigation of the underlying issue may be impeded due to the passage of time, technical system constraints, or inadequacy of records. Remediation programs may not prevent regulatory action or investigations, litigation or other proceedings from being pursued, or sanctions being imposed.

Regulatory investigations, inquiries, litigation, fines, penalties, infringement notices, revocation, suspension or variation of conditions of regulatory licences or other enforcement or administrative action or agreements (such as enforceable undertakings) have and could, either individually or in aggregate with other regulatory action, adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.4 Westpac has suffered, and in the future could suffer, losses and be adversely affected by the failure to implement effective risk management

Westpac's risk management framework has not always been (and may not in the future be) effective, and the resources Westpac has in place for identifying, escalating, measuring, evaluating, monitoring, reporting and controlling or mitigating material risks may not always be adequate. This may arise due to inadequacies in the design of the framework or key risk management policies, controls and processes, the design or operation of Westpac's remuneration structures and consequence management processes, technology failures, incomplete implementation or embedment, or failure by Westpac's people (including contractors, agents, authorised representatives and credit representatives) to comply with or properly implement Westpac's policies and processes. The potential for these types of failings is heightened if Westpac does not have appropriately skilled, trained and qualified people in key positions or Westpac does not have sufficient capacity, including people, processes and technology, to appropriately manage risks.

There are also inherent limitations with any risk management framework as risks may exist, or emerge in the future, that Westpac has not anticipated or identified.

The risk management framework may also prove ineffective because of weaknesses in risk culture or risk governance practices and policies (for example, where there is a lack of awareness of Westpac's policies, controls and processes or where they are not adequately monitored, audited or enforced). This may result in poor decision-making or risks and control weaknesses not being identified, escalated or acted upon.

Westpac is required to periodically review its risk management framework to determine if it remains appropriate. Past analysis and reviews, in addition to regulatory feedback, have highlighted that while there have been improvements, the framework is still not operating satisfactorily in a number of respects and needs continued focus.

As part of Westpac's risk management framework, Westpac measures and monitors risks against its risk appetite. When a risk is out of appetite, the Westpac Group seeks to take steps to bring this risk back into appetite in a timely way. This may include improving the design of Westpac's risk class frameworks and supporting policies. However, Westpac may not always be able to bring a risk back within appetite within proposed timeframes or institute effective improvements (for example, records management). This may occur because, for example, the required changes involve significant complexity, or because the Westpac Group experiences delays in enhancing Westpac's information technology systems, in recruiting or having sufficient appropriately trained staff for required activities (including where staff are occupied by other regulatory change or remediation projects) or operational failure. It is also possible that due to external factors beyond Westpac's control, certain risks may be inherently outside of appetite for periods of time.

Weaknesses in risk culture and risk management practices have resulted, and may continue to result, in regulatory action. Westpac continues to implement its Integrated Plan in relation to risk governance and remediation, with Promontory Australia as Independent Reviewer providing regular updates to APRA. Promontory Australia has provided eleven reports to APRA so far. These reports are published on Westpac's website every six months at www.westpac.com.au/about-westpac/media/core/ with the latest reports released on 6 November 2023. Westpac expects to complete the Integrated Plan by the December 2023 target date with assessment and closure by Promontory Australia to occur post completion. Westpac remains conscious of execution risks during this final stage. Post-completion, Westpac will continue to focus on sustainability and effectiveness of the uplift delivered by the Integrated Plan through a 12 month transition phase with assurance by Promontory Australia.

If any of Westpac's governance or risk management processes and procedures prove ineffective or inadequate or are otherwise not appropriately implemented or it does not bring risks into appetite (as has occurred) it could be exposed to higher levels of risk than expected and sustained or increased regulatory scrutiny and action. While improvements in risk culture can drive early and increased self-identification and remediation of compliance concerns, this can also highlight concerns that may lead to further regulatory action. This may result in losses, imposition of capital requirements, breaches of compliance obligations, fines and reputational damage which could adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, financial performance or financial condition or require remediation.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

6.2.5 Westpac could suffer losses due to technology failures

Maintaining the reliability, availability, integrity, confidentiality, security and resilience of Westpac's information and technology is crucial to Westpac's business. While the Westpac Group has a number of processes in place to preserve and monitor the availability, and facilitate the recovery, of Westpac's systems, there is a risk that Westpac's information and technology systems may be inadequate, fail to operate properly or result in outages, including from events wholly or partially beyond Westpac's control.

If Westpac experiences a technology failure, it may fail to meet a compliance obligation (such as a requirement to retain records and/or data for a certain period, or to destroy records and/or data after a certain period, or other risk management, privacy, business continuity management or outsourcing obligations), or Westpac's employees and customers may be adversely affected, including through the inability for them to access Westpac's products and services, privacy breaches, or the loss of personal data. This could result in reputational damage, remediation costs and a regulator commencing an investigation and/or taking action, or others commencing litigation, against us. Technology issues in the financial sector can also affect multiple institutions. This means Westpac could impact, or be impacted by, other institutions.

The use of legacy systems, as well as the work underway to uplift Westpac's technological capabilities, may heighten the risk of a technology failure and also the risk of non-compliance with Westpac's regulatory obligations or poor customer outcomes. Projects aimed at simplifying/streamlining Westpac's systems will require the allocation of significant resources and incurring significant costs. In addition, the risk of technology failure, regulatory non-compliance or poor customer outcomes may be heightened while those projects are being undertaken. Westpac is also exposed to the risk that such projects may not be completed on time or may require further resources or funding than anticipated.

Failure to regularly renew and enhance Westpac's technology to deliver new products and services, comply with regulatory obligations and ongoing regulatory changes, improve automation of Westpac's systems and controls, and meet Westpac's customers' and regulators' expectations, or to effectively implement new technology projects, could result in cost overruns, technology failures (including due to human error in implementation), reduced productivity, outages, operational failures or instability, compliance failures, reputational damage and/or the loss of market share. This could place Westpac at a competitive disadvantage and also adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.6 Westpac could suffer losses due to geopolitical and other external events

The Westpac Group continues to face changes in the business environment including competitive, regulatory, economic, geopolitical, technological, social, environmental, and the impacts of criminal activity. There is a risk that the Westpac Group does not identify, understand or respond effectively to such changes or that these changes have an adverse impact on the Westpac Group's ability to pursue its strategy.

Westpac, its customers and suppliers operate businesses and hold assets in a diverse geographic locations. Significant geopolitical risks remain (and are escalating) including those arising from geopolitical instability, conflicts, trade tensions, tariffs, sanctions, social disruption (including civil unrest, war and terrorist activity), acts of international hostility, and complicity with or reluctance to take action against certain types of crimes.

Such events could affect domestic and international economic stability and impact consumer and investor confidence which in turn could disrupt industries, businesses, service providers and supply chains and ultimately adversely impact economic activity. This could lead to shortages of materials and labour, higher energy costs and commodity prices, volatility in markets and damage to property. This in turn could affect asset values and impact customers' ability to repay amounts owing to us, and Westpac's ability to recover amounts owing. All of these impacts could adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.7 Climate change and other sustainability factors such as human rights and natural capital may have adverse effects on Westpac's business

Climate and other sustainability-related risks have had and are likely to have adverse effects on Westpac, its customers, external suppliers, and the communities in which it operates.

Climate related risks may manifest as physical risks, both acute and chronic, transition risks, and risks related to legal and regulatory action. These risks are magnified by the significant uncertainties in modelling climate and other sustainability-related risks and opportunities, and in assessing their impact.

Physical risks from climate change include risks to Westpac directly, as well as to customers and other stakeholders that may ultimately impact Westpac due to disruption or changes in income, impact on business models, asset values, insurability of assets (or inability to access insurance), and frequency or extent of damage to assets. These risks could arise from increases and variability in temperatures, changes in precipitation, rising sea levels, loss of natural capital (including biodiversity loss), and more severe and frequent climatic events, including fires, storms, floods and droughts. In turn, such events could also increase human rights risk and/or increase customer vulnerability.

Transition risks are risks that the transition to a lower carbon economy could impact Westpac. This could occur from climate change mitigation, obsolescence of certain businesses including from energy transition, changes in investor appetite, shifting customer preferences, technology developments and changes in regulatory expectations/policy. Transition risks could emerge through Westpac's lending to certain customers that experience reduced revenues or asset values or increased costs, which in turn impacts Westpac's credit risk. Westpac may also be directly impacted by transition risks, or unable to reduce its exposure to impacted customers.

Westpac's ambition to become a net-zero, climate resilient bank, including joining the Net-zero Banking Alliance will lead to changes to lending and operational policies and processes which may present execution risk. Westpac's ability to meet its commitments and targets is in part dependent on the orderly transition of the economy towards net-zero, which may be impacted by external factors including climate policy, levels of investment, electricity grid capacity, and constraints in the development and supply of technology, infrastructure and the skilled labour required to deliver the necessary change. Westpac's ability to transition, including to meet its targets and commitments, may also be impacted by challenges faced by customers in meeting their own transition plans and commitments.

The high dependency of the global economy on nature means natural capital loss is a risk to Westpac, primarily through Westpac's exposure to customers that are materially dependent on nature. Natural capital refers to the stock of renewable and non-renewable natural resources (e.g. plants, animals, air, water, soils, minerals) that combine to yield a flow of benefits to people. Natural capital loss can also contribute to, and be accelerated by, climate change and these risks can be interdependent. Increasing recognition and market-based responses to this risk also create heightened regulatory and stakeholder expectations on Westpac. As with Westpac's climate ambitions, its ambition to become a nature positive bank will lead to changes to lending and operational policies and processes which may present execution risk, and its ability to meet those ambitions will be impacted by external factors outside Westpac's control. Global strategies and standards for nature positivity are at an early stage, which increases regulatory risk and uncertainty.

Westpac's business may be exposed to social and human rights risks through its operations, supply chain and in the provision of financial services. If Westpac fails to adequately identify and manage these risks, it may cause, contribute to, or be directly linked to adverse social and human rights impacts. This includes a risk that Westpac provides financial services to customers involved in human rights abuses or criminal activity, or that Westpac's platforms and products may be exploited for criminal purposes.

While Westpac seeks to manage and assess social risks and act if it identifies risks, Westpac cannot be certain that its assessment will uncover these risks and/or enable it to act. This could be because Westpac's monitoring systems and analytics have not kept pace with change and/or because of the increasing sophistication of perpetrators.

Data relevant to Westpac's assessment and management of climate, environmental and social risks continue to mature. In some cases, Westpac requires data from third parties to estimate its exposure and risks (in particular, regarding Westpac's scope 3 emissions). If those data sources are not sufficiently available or reliable, there is a risk that Westpac's decision making (including target setting and reporting) could be affected and Westpac may not be able to meet its targets and commitments.

Failure or perceived failure to adapt the Westpac Group's strategy, governance, procedures, systems and/or controls to proactively manage or disclose evolving climate- and other sustainability-related risks and opportunities (including, for example, perceived misstatement of, or failure to adequately implement or meet, sustainability claims, commitments and/or targets) may give rise to business, reputational, legal and regulatory risks. This includes financial and credit risks that may impact Westpac's profitability and outlook, and the risk of regulatory action or litigation (including class actions) against Westpac and/or its customers.

Westpac may also be subject, from time to time, to legal and business challenges due to actions instituted by activist or other groups. Examples of areas which have attracted activism and challenges include: the financing of businesses perceived to be at greater risk from physical and transition risks of climate change and/or perceived not to demonstrate responsible management of climate change or environmental and social issues; and climate- and sustainability-related disclosures (including net-zero or emissions reductions strategies, targets and policies).

Scrutiny from regulators, shareholders, activists, corporate governance organisations and other stakeholders on climate-related risk management practices, lending policies, targets and commitments, and other sustainability products, claims and marketing practices will likely remain high in coming years. Applicable legal and regulatory regimes, policies, and reporting and other standards are also evolving. For example, in Australia, the government is consulting on mandatory climate-risk reporting legislation, and there is increased compliance and enforcement focus by ASIC and ACCC on a range of issues related to sustainability, sustainable finance, and monitoring/investigation of related claims. This increases compliance, legal and regulatory risks, and costs.

6.2.8 The failure to comply with financial crime obligations has had, and could have further, adverse effects on Westpac's business and reputation

The Westpac Group is subject to anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing ("AML/CTF") laws, anti-bribery and corruption laws, economic and trade sanctions laws and tax transparency laws in the jurisdictions in which it operates ("Financial Crime Laws"). These laws can be complex and, in some circumstances, impose a diverse range of obligations. As a result, regulatory, operational and compliance risks are heightened. In some jurisdictions (e.g. the Pacific region) financial crime risks are elevated beyond the Westpac Group's risk appetite.

Financial Crime Laws require Westpac to report certain matters and transactions to regulators (such as international funds transfer instructions, threshold transaction reports and suspicious matter reports) and ensure that Westpac knows who its customers are and that it has appropriate ongoing customer due diligence in place. The failure to comply with some of these laws has had, and in the future could have, adverse impacts for the Westpac Group.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

The Westpac Group operates within a landscape that is constantly changing, particularly with the emergence of new payment technologies, increased regulatory focus on digital assets, increasing reliance on economic and trade sanctions to manage issues of international concern, and the rapid increase of ransomware and cyber extortion attacks. These developments bring with them new financial crime risks for the Westpac Group (as well as other risks including scams and fraud, and criminal activity that utilises a variety of technology and platforms), which may require adjustments to the Westpac Group's systems, policies, processes and controls.

There has been, and continues to be, a focus on compliance with financial crime obligations, with regulators globally commencing investigations and taking enforcement action for identified non-compliance (often seeking significant penalties). Due to the Westpac Group's scale of operations, an undetected failure or the ineffective implementation, monitoring or remediation of a system, policy, process or control (including a regulatory reporting obligation) has resulted, and could in the future result, in a significant number of breaches of AML/CTF or other financial crime obligations. This in turn could lead to significant financial penalties and other adverse impacts for the Westpac Group, such as reputational damage and litigation risk.

While the Westpac Group has systems, policies, processes and controls in place designed to manage its financial crime obligations (including reporting obligations), these have not always been, and may not in the future always be, effective. This could be for a range of reasons including, for example, a deficiency in the design of a control or a technology failure or a change in financial crime risks or typologies. Westpac's analysis and reviews, in addition to regulator feedback, have highlighted that its systems, policies, processes and controls are not always operating satisfactorily in a number of respects and require improvement. Westpac continues to have an increased focus on financial crime risk management and, as such, further issues requiring attention have been identified and may continue to be identified.

Although the Westpac Group provides updates to various regulators on its remediation and other program activities, there is no assurance that those or other regulators will agree that its remediation and program update activities will be adequate or effectively enhance the Westpac Group's compliance programs.

If Westpac fails to comply with its financial crime obligations, it has faced, and could in the future face, significant regulatory enforcement action and other consequences (as discussed in Section 6.2.3) and increased reputational risks (as discussed in Section 6.2.9).

6.2.9 Reputational damage has harmed, and could in the future harm, Westpac's business and prospects

Reputational risk arises where there are differences between stakeholders' current and emerging perceptions, beliefs and expectations and Westpac's past, current and planned activities, processes, performance and behaviours.

Potential sources of reputational damage include where Westpac's actions (or those of Westpac's contractors, agents, authorised representatives and credit representatives) cause, or are perceived to cause, a negative outcome for customers, shareholders, stakeholders or the community. Reputational damage could also arise from the failure to effectively manage risks, failure to comply with legal and regulatory requirements, enforcement or supervisory action by regulators, adverse findings from regulatory reviews, failure or perceived failure to adequately prevent or respond to community, environmental, social and ethical issues or expectations and cyber incidents, and inadequate record-keeping, which may prevent Westpac from demonstrating that, or determining if, a past decision was appropriate at the time it was made. Westpac is also exposed to contagion risk from incidents in (or affecting) other financial institutions and/or the financial sector more broadly.

There are potential reputational consequences (together with other potential commercial and operational consequences) of failing to appropriately identify, assess and manage environmental, social and governance related risks, or to respond effectively to evolving standards and stakeholder expectations. Westpac's reputation could also be adversely affected by the actions of customers, suppliers, contractors, authorised representatives, credit representatives, joint-venture partners, strategic partners or other counterparties.

Failure, or perceived failure, to address issues that could or do give rise to reputational risk, has created, and could in the future create, additional legal risk, subject Westpac to regulatory investigations, regulatory enforcement actions, fines and penalties or litigation or other actions brought by third parties (including class actions), and the requirement to remediate and compensate customers, including prospective customers, investors and the market. It could also result in the loss of customers or restrict the Westpac Group's ability to efficiently access capital markets. This could adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.10 Westpac has and could suffer losses due to litigation

Litigation has been, and could in the future be, commenced against Westpac by a range of plaintiffs, such as customers, shareholders, employees, suppliers, counterparties, activists and regulators and may, either individually or in aggregate, adversely affect the Westpac Group's business, operations, prospects, reputation or financial condition.

In recent years, there has been an increase in class action proceedings, many of which have resulted in significant monetary settlements. The risk of class actions has been heightened by a number of factors, including regulatory enforcement actions, an increase in the number of regulatory investigations and inquiries, a greater willingness on the part of regulators to commence court proceedings, more intense media scrutiny, the increasing prospect of regulatory reforms which might eliminate some of the current barriers to such litigation, and the growth of third party litigation funding and other funding arrangements. Class actions commenced against a competitor could also lead to similar proceedings against Westpac.

Activism strategies directed at financial institutions, particularly in the area of climate change, sustainability and energy transition, have also increased globally in recent years, where the focus, including through the commencement of proceedings, may be to publicly highlight particular issues, to enforce legal or regulatory standards, or to influence the financial institution to change its operations and activities. Westpac is currently, and in the future may be, exposed to such litigation and/or strategies employed by activist shareholders or organisations.

Litigation is subject to many uncertainties and the outcome may not be predicted accurately. Furthermore, the Westpac Group's ability to respond to and defend litigation may be adversely affected by inadequate record keeping.

Depending on the outcome of any litigation, the Westpac Group has been, and may in the future be, required to comply with broad court orders, including compliance orders, enforcement orders or otherwise pay significant damages, fines, penalties or legal costs. There is a risk that the actual penalty or damages paid following a settlement or determination by a Court for any legal proceedings may be materially higher or lower than any relevant provision (where applicable) or that any contingent liability may be larger than anticipated. There is also a risk that additional litigation or contingent liabilities arise, all of which could adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.11 Westpac is exposed to adverse funding market conditions

Westpac relies on deposits, money markets and capital markets to fund its business and source liquidity. Westpac's liquidity and costs of obtaining funding are related to funding market conditions, in addition to Westpac's creditworthiness and credit profile.

Funding markets can be unpredictable and experience extended periods of extreme volatility, disruption and decreased liquidity. Market conditions, and the behaviour of market participants, can shift significantly over very short periods of time. The main risks Westpac faces are damage to market confidence, changes to the access and cost of funding, a slowing in global economic activity, the effects of monetary policy outcomes, the interest rate cycle, other impacts on customers or counterparties and reduction in appetite for exposure to Westpac.

A shift in investment preferences could result in deposit withdrawals. This would increase Westpac's need for funding from other sources. These may offer lower levels of liquidity and increased cost.

If market conditions deteriorate due to economic, financial, political, geopolitical, regulatory, fiscal or monetary policy, or other reasons (including those idiosyncratic to Westpac), there may also be a loss of confidence in bank deposits leading to unexpected withdrawals. These events can transpire quickly and be exacerbated by information transmission on social media. This could increase funding costs, Westpac's liquidity, funding and lending activities may be constrained and its financial solvency threatened. In such events, even robust levels of capital may not be sufficient to safeguard Westpac against detrimental loss of funding.

If Westpac's current sources of funding prove to be insufficient, Westpac may need to seek alternatives which will depend on factors such as market conditions, its credit ratings, reputation and confidence issues and market capacity. Even if available, these alternatives may be more expensive or on unfavourable terms, which could adversely affect Westpac's financial performance, liquidity, capital resources or financial condition.

If Westpac is unable to source appropriate funding, it may be forced to reduce business activities (e.g. lending) or operate with smaller liquidity buffers. This may adversely impact Westpac's business, prospects, liquidity, capital resources, financial performance or financial condition. If Westpac is unable to source appropriate funding for an extended period, or if it can no longer realise liquidity, Westpac may not be able to pay its debts as and when they fall due or meet other contractual obligations.

Westpac enters into collateralised derivative obligations, which may require it to post additional collateral based on market movements. This has the potential to adversely affect Westpac's liquidity or ability to use derivative obligations to hedge interest rate, currency and other financial instrument risks.

6.2.12 Westpac could be adversely affected by the risk of inadequate capital levels under stressed conditions

The Westpac Group is subject to the risk of an inadequate level or composition of capital to support normal business activities, meet regulatory capital requirements under normal operating environments or stressed conditions, and to maintain its solvency. Even robust levels of capital may not be sufficient to ensure the ongoing sustainability of Westpac in the event of a liquidity run.

Westpac's capital levels and risk appetite are informed by stress testing. Buffers have been built to assist in maintaining capital adequacy during stressed times. Westpac determines its internal management buffers taking into consideration various factors. These include its balance sheet, portfolio mix, potential capital headwinds (including real estate valuations, inflation and rising rates) and stressed outcomes, also noting that models and assumptions may or may not be accurate in predicting the nature and magnitude of particular stress events.

Capital distribution constraints apply when an ADI's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio is within the Capital Buffer range (consisting of the Capital Conservation Buffer plus any Countercyclical Capital Buffer) in line with regulatory requirements. Such constraints could impact future dividends and distributions on Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments. The macro-economic environment, stressed conditions and/or regulatory change or regulatory policy could result in a material increase to risk weighted assets or impact Westpac's capital adequacy, trigger capital distribution constraints, threaten Westpac's financial viability and/or require it to undertake a highly dilutive capital raising. Should AT1 and Tier 2 Capital instruments that Westpac has issued be converted into Ordinary Shares (for example where Westpac's CET1 ratio falls below a certain level or APRA determines Westpac would become non-viable without conversion of capital instruments or equivalent support), this could significantly dilute the value of existing Ordinary Shares. Additionally, APRA's current review of the effectiveness of Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments for use in a potential bank stress scenario (and any prudential reforms arising from this review) could increase the chance that Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments are converted or may adversely impact the pricing and liquidity of Additional Tier 1 Capital instruments.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

6.2.13 Westpac's business is substantially dependent on the Australian and New Zealand economies, and could be adversely affected by a material downturn or shock to these economies or other financial systems

Westpac's revenues and earnings are dependent on domestic and international economic activity, business conditions and the level of financial services its customers require. Most of Westpac's business is conducted in Australia and New Zealand so Westpac's performance is influenced by the level and cyclical nature of activity in these countries. The financial services industry and capital markets have been, and may continue to be, adversely affected by volatility, global economic conditions (including inflation and rising interest rates), external events, geopolitical instability, political developments, cyberattacks or a major systemic shock.

Market and economic disruptions could cause consumer and business spending to decrease, unemployment to rise, demand for Westpac's products and services to decline and credit losses to increase, thereby reducing its earnings. These events could also undermine confidence in the financial system, reduce liquidity, impair access to funding and adversely affect Westpac's customers and counterparties. In addition, any significant decrease in housing and commercial property valuations, significant increases in inflation or significant increases in interest rates or sustained high interest rates could adversely impact lending activities, possibly leading to higher credit losses.

Given Australia's export reliance on China, slowdown in China's economic growth and foreign policies (including the adoption of protectionist trade measures or sanctions) could negatively impact the Australian economy. This could result in reduced demand for Westpac's products and services and affect supply chains, the level of economic activity and the ability of its borrowers to repay their loans.

The nature and consequences of any such event are difficult to predict but each of these factors could adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.14 Declines in asset markets could adversely affect Westpac's operations or profitability and an increase in impairments and provisioning could adversely affect Westpac's financial performance or financial condition

Declines in Australian, New Zealand or other asset markets, including equity, bond, residential and commercial property markets, have adversely affected, and could in the future adversely affect, Westpac's operations and profitability. Declining asset prices could also impact customers and counterparties and the value of security (including residential and commercial property) Westpac holds. This may impact Westpac's ability to recover amounts owing to it if customers or counterparties default. It may also affect Westpac's impairment charges and provisions, in turn impacting its financial performance, financial condition and capital levels. Declining asset prices also impact Westpac's wealth management business as its earnings partly depend on fees based on the value of securities and/or assets held or managed.

Westpac establishes provisions for credit impairment based on accounting standards using current information and its expectations. If economic conditions deteriorate beyond Westpac's expectations, some customers and/or counterparties could experience higher financial stress, leading to an increase in impairments, defaults and write-offs, and higher provisioning. Changes in regulatory expectations in relation to the treatment of customers in hardship could lead to increased impairments and/or higher provisioning. Such events could adversely affect Westpac's liquidity, capital resources, financial performance or financial condition.

Credit risk also arises from certain derivative, clearing and settlement contracts Westpac enters into, and from its dealings in, and holdings of, debt securities issued by other institutions and government agencies, the financial conditions of which may be affected to varying degrees by economic conditions in global financial markets.

6.2.15 Sovereign risk may destabilise financial markets adversely

Sovereign risk is the risk that governments will default on their debt obligations, fail to perform contractual obligations or be unable to refinance their debts as they fall due. Potential sovereign contractual defaults, sovereign debt defaults and the risk that governments will nationalise parts of their economy including assets of financial institutions (such as Westpac) could negatively impact the value of Westpac's holdings of assets. Such an event could destabilise global financial markets, adversely affecting Westpac's liquidity, financial performance or financial condition. There may also be a cascading effect to other markets and countries, the consequences of which, while difficult to predict, may be similar to, or worse than, those experienced during the Global Financial Crisis.

6.2.16 Westpac could be adversely affected by the failure to maintain its credit ratings

Credit ratings are independent opinions on Westpac's creditworthiness. Westpac's credit ratings can affect the cost and availability of its funding and may be important to certain customers or counterparties when evaluating Westpac's products and services.

A rating downgrade could be driven by a downgrade of Australia's sovereign credit rating, or one or more of the risks identified in this section or by other events including changes to the methodologies rating agencies use to determine credit ratings. A credit rating or rating outlook could be downgraded or revised where credit rating agencies believe there is a very high level of uncertainty on the impact to key rating factors from a significant event.

A downgrade to Westpac's credit ratings could have an adverse effect on its cost of funds, collateral requirements, liquidity, competitive position, its access to capital markets and its financial stability. The extent and nature of these impacts would depend on various factors, including the extent of any rating change, differences across agencies (split ratings) and whether competitors or the sector are also impacted.

6.2.17 Westpac faces intense competition in all aspects of its business

The financial services industry is highly competitive. Westpac competes with a range of firms, including retail and commercial banks, investment banks, other financial service companies, fintech companies and businesses in other industries with financial services aspirations. This includes those competitors who are not subject to the same capital and regulatory requirements as Westpac, which may allow those competitors to operate more flexibly.

Emerging competitors are increasingly altering the competitive environment by adopting new business models or seeking to use new technologies to disrupt existing business models.

The competitive environment may also change as a result of increased scrutiny by regulators in the sector (such as in the payments space, or the ongoing ACCC inquiry into the market for the supply of retail deposit products) and other legislative reforms, which will stimulate competition, improve customer choice and likely give rise to increased competition from new and existing firms.

Competition in the various markets in which Westpac operates has led, and may continue to lead, to a decline in Westpac's margins or market share.

Deposits fund a significant portion of Westpac's balance sheet and have been a relatively stable source of funding. If Westpac is not able to successfully compete for deposits this could increase its cost of funding, lead it to seek access to other types of funding, or result in it reducing its lending.

Westpac's ability to compete depends on its ability to offer products and services that meet evolving customer preferences. Not responding to changes in customer preferences could see Westpac lose customers. This could adversely affect Westpac's business, prospects, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.18 Westpac has suffered, and could continue to suffer, losses due to operational risk

Operational risk is the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems or from external events. It includes, among other things, model risk, data risk, operations risk, change execution risk and third party risk. While Westpac has policies, processes and controls in place to manage these risks, these have not always been, or may not be, effective.

Ineffective processes and controls (including those of Westpac's contractors, agents, authorised representatives and credit representatives, or inadequate supervision and oversight of their activities) have resulted in, and could continue to result in, adverse outcomes for customers (including vulnerable customers), employees or other third parties.

The risk of operational breakdowns occurring is heightened where measures are implemented quickly in response to external events, such as the COVID-19 pandemic. These types of operational failures may also result in financial losses, customer remediation, regulatory scrutiny and intervention, fines, penalties and capital overlays and, depending on the nature of the failure, result in litigation, including class action proceedings.

Examples of operational risk include:

- Scams and fraud risk. Westpac has incurred, and could in the future incur, losses from scams and fraud (including fraudulent applications for loans, or from incorrect or fraudulent payments and settlements). Such losses could increase significantly if Westpac's liability for scams is impacted by regulatory change (for example, if a UK style bank reimbursement scheme is implemented in Australia or New Zealand, making banks liable to compensate scam victims). Fraudulent conduct can also arise from external parties seeking to access Westpac's systems or customer accounts, the use of mule accounts and where identification records are compromised due to third party cybersecurity events. These risks are heightened by real-time transaction capability, and Westpac is also exposed to contagion risk from incidents in (or affecting) other financial institutions. If systems, procedures and protocols for preventing and managing scams, fraud or improper access to Westpac's systems and customer accounts fail, or are inadequate or ineffective, they could lead to losses which could adversely affect Westpac's customers, business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition. Regulatory and compliance requirements can impede the ability to swiftly identify or respond to a scam or fraud, or to communicate with affected parties.
- Records management risk. Westpac could incur losses from a failure to adequately implement and monitor effective records management policies and processes, as this could impact Westpac's ability to safeguard or locate relevant records, respond to production and regulatory notices, conduct remediation, and generally meet its compliance obligations. Where there are inadequacies or complexities in Westpac's systems, there is a heightened risk that Westpac may fail to meet a compliance obligation (such as a requirement to retain records and data for, or to destroy or de-identify records and data after, a certain period).
- Artificial Intelligence ("AI"). As Westpac increases the adoption of AI to support Westpac's customers and business processes, Westpac may become more exposed to risks associated with AI, such as lack of transparency, inaccurate data input, risk of biased or inaccurate outputs or outcomes, breaches of confidentiality and privacy obligations, and inaccurate decisions or unintended consequences that are inconsistent with Westpac's policies or values. These could have financial, regulatory, conduct and reputational impacts.
- Third party risk. Financial services entities have been increasingly sharing data with third parties, such as suppliers, FinTechs, and regulators, to conduct their business and meet regulatory obligations. Each third party can give rise to a variety of risks, including financial crime compliance, information security, cyber, privacy, regulatory compliance, conduct, reputation, environmental and business continuity risks. Westpac also relies on suppliers, both in Australia and overseas, to provide services to it and its customers. Failures by these third-party contractors and suppliers (including Westpac's authorised representatives and credit representatives) to deliver services as required (and in accordance with law, regulation and regulatory expectations) could disrupt Westpac's ability to provide its products and services and adversely impact Westpac's customers, operations, financial performance or reputation.

6 INVESTMENT RISKS

- Change risk. Westpac is also exposed to change risk through delivery of technology and other change programs, being the risk that a change program fails to deliver the desired goals, or fails to reduce, pre-empt, mitigate and manage the challenges associated with transformation or leads to further regulatory scrutiny. If the technology systems used by the Westpac Group, its counterparties and/or financial infrastructure providers do not operate correctly, this may also cause loss or damage to the Westpac Group, its customers and/or its counterparties. This can also arise from complexities in Westpac's systems, and the interaction between those systems. This could include, for example, where systems issues result in incorrect fees or charges being applied to customers, or other poor customer outcomes.
- Insurance coverage risk. There is also a risk that Westpac will not be able to obtain and/or have not obtained appropriate insurance coverage for the risks that the Westpac Group may be exposed to.

6.2.19 Westpac could suffer losses due to market volatility

Westpac is exposed to market risk due to its financial markets businesses, asset and liability management, its holdings in liquid asset securities and its defined benefit plan.

Market risk is the risk of an adverse impact on the Westpac Group's financial performance or financial position resulting from changes in market factors, such as foreign exchange rates, commodity prices, equity prices, credit spreads and interest rates. This includes interest rate risk in the banking book arising from a mismatch between the duration of assets and liabilities that have not been appropriately hedged.

Changes in market price factors could be driven by a variety of developments including economic disruption and geopolitical events. The resulting market volatility could potentially lead to losses and may adversely affect Westpac's financial performance (business, prospects, liquidity, ability to hedge exposures and capital).

As a financial intermediary, Westpac underwrites listed and unlisted debt securities. Westpac could suffer losses if it fails to syndicate or sell down this risk to others. This risk is more pronounced in times of heightened market volatility.

6.2.20 Poor data quality could adversely affect Westpac's business and operations

Accurate, complete and reliable data, along with appropriate data control, retention, destruction and access frameworks and processes, is critical to Westpac's business. Data plays a key role in how Westpac provides products and services to customers, Westpac's systems, its risk management framework and its decision-making and strategic planning.

In some areas of Westpac's business, it is affected by poor data quality or data availability. This has occurred, and could arise in the future, in a number of ways, including through inadequacies in systems, processes and policies, or the ineffective implementation of data management frameworks.

Poor data quality could lead to poor customer service, negative risk management outcomes, and deficiencies in credit systems and processes. Any deficiency in credit systems and processes could, in turn, have a negative impact on Westpac's decision making in the provision of credit and the terms on which it is provided. Westpac also needs accurate data for financial and other reporting.

Poor data has affected, currently affects, and may in the future continue to affect, Westpac's ability to monitor and manage its business, comply with production notices, respond to regulatory notices and conduct remediation.

In addition, poor data or poor data retention/destruction controls, and control gaps and weaknesses, has affected, currently affects, and may in the future continue to affect, Westpac's ability to meet its compliance obligations (including its regulatory reporting obligations) which has led, and could continue to lead, to regulatory investigations or actions against us. Due to the importance of data, Westpac has and will likely continue to incur substantial costs, and devote significant effort, to improving the quality of data and data frameworks and processes, remediating deficiencies where necessary, and compliance generally.

The consequences and effects arising from poor data quality or poor data retention/destruction controls could have an adverse impact on the Westpac Group's business, operations, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.21 Westpac's failure to recruit and retain key executives, employees and Directors may have adverse effects on its business

Key executives, employees and Directors play an integral role in the operation of Westpac's business and its pursuit of its strategic objectives. Westpac's failure to recruit and retain appropriately skilled and qualified people into key roles could have an adverse effect on its business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition. Macro-environmental factors such as low unemployment, restricted migration levels, on-shoring of work, the prevalence of remote and hybrid working for employees and the competitive talent market, may also have an adverse impact on attracting specialist skills for the Westpac Group.

6.2.22 Certain strategic decisions may have adverse effects on Westpac's business

The Westpac Group routinely evaluates and implements strategic decisions, priorities and objectives including simplification, diversification, innovation, divestment, investment, acquisition or business expansion initiatives. Each of these activities can be complex, costly and may not proceed in a timely manner. For example, they may cause reputational damage, or Westpac may experience difficulties in completing certain transactions, separating or integrating businesses in the scheduled timeframe or at all, disruptions to operations, diversion of management resources or higher than expected transaction costs.

Any failure to successfully divest businesses means that Westpac may have sustained exposure to higher operating costs and to the higher inherent risks in those businesses. For example, Westpac's Pacific businesses face a number of risks including heightened operational risk, sovereign risk, financial crime and exchange control risks which could adversely affect Westpac's customers, business, prospects, reputation, financial performance or financial condition. In addition, as part of the now-completed Specialist Businesses transactions, Westpac has given a number of warranties and indemnities in favour of counterparties relating to certain pre-completion matters, and made certain other contractual commitments (including in relation to transitional services). Claims under these warranties, indemnities and other contractual commitments may result in Westpac being liable to make significant payments to these counterparties while the various contractual liability regimes remain on foot. Additional operational risk capital is required to be held against the risk pursuant to APRA's published guidance.

Westpac also acquires and invests in businesses. These transactions involve a number of risks and costs. A business Westpac invests in may not perform as anticipated, may result in the assumption of unknown and unaccounted for liabilities, regulatory risks or may ultimately prove to have been overvalued when the transaction was entered into.

Operational, cultural, governance, compliance and risk appetite differences between Westpac and an acquired business may lead to lengthier and more costly integration exercises.

There are also risks involved in not implementing strategies successfully due to internal factors (for example, inadequate funding, resourcing, business capabilities or operating model) or failing to identify, understand or respond effectively to changes in the external business environment (including economic, geopolitical, regulatory, consumer sentiment, technological, environmental, social and competitive factors). This could have a range of adverse effects on Westpac, such as being unable to increase or maintain market share or resulting pressure on margins and fees.

Any of these risks could have a negative impact on Westpac's business, growth prospects, reputation, engagement with regulators, financial performance or financial condition.

6.2.23 Westpac could suffer losses due to impairment of capitalised software, goodwill and other intangible assets that may adversely affect its business, operations or financial condition

In certain circumstances Westpac may incur a reduction in the value of intangible assets. Westpac is required to assess the recoverability of goodwill and other intangible asset balances at least annually or wherever an indicator of impairment exists.

For this purpose, Westpac uses a discounted cash flow calculation. Changes in the methodology or assumptions in calculations, together with changes in expected cash flows, could materially impact this assessment. Estimates and assumptions used in assessing the useful life of an asset can also be affected by a range of factors including changes in strategy, changes in technology and regulatory requirements. In the event that an asset is no longer in use, or its value has been reduced or its estimated useful life has declined, an impairment or accelerated amortisation will be recorded, adversely impacting Westpac's financial performance.

6.2.24 Changes in critical accounting estimates and judgements could expose the Westpac Group to losses

Westpac is required to make estimates, assumptions and judgements when applying accounting policies and preparing financial statements and the determination of the fair value of financial instruments. A change in a critical accounting estimate, assumption and/or judgement resulting from new information or from changes in circumstances or experience could result in the Westpac Group incurring losses greater than those anticipated or recognised. This could have an adverse effect on Westpac's financial performance, financial condition and reputation. Westpac's financial performance and financial condition may also be impacted by changes to accounting standards or to generally accepted accounting principles.

The following is a summary of the Australian tax consequences for certain Australian resident and non-Australian resident Holders who subscribe for Westpac Capital Notes 10 under the Offer. This summary has been prepared by Allens, the Australian legal and tax adviser to the Offer on the assumption that all the transactions described in this Prospectus will be carried out in the manner described in this Prospectus.

Allens has consented to the inclusion of this summary in this Prospectus but this consent should not be taken as a statement about any other matter in this Prospectus or in relation to Westpac or the performance of any investment in Westpac.

The information contained in this summary does not constitute financial product advice for the purposes of the Corporations Act. Allens is not licenced, under the Corporations Act, to provide financial product advice and to the extent that this summary contains any information about a financial product within the meaning of the Corporations Act, taxation is only one of the matters that must be considered when making a decision about the relevant financial product. An investor or prospective investor should, before making any decision to invest in the Westpac Capital Notes 10, consider taking financial advice from a person who holds an AFSL under the Corporations Act.

This summary does not address all tax consequences of ownership of Westpac Capital Notes 10 and, in particular, does not address the positions of Holders who:

- acquire their Westpac Capital Notes 10 in the course of a business of trading or investing in securities, such as share traders, investment companies, banks or insurance companies, or who otherwise hold Westpac Capital Notes 10 on revenue account or as trading stock; and/or
- are subject to the “taxation of financial arrangements” rules in Division 230 of the Tax Act.

The actual tax consequences of your investment in Westpac Capital Notes 10 may differ depending upon your individual circumstances.

You should consult your own professional tax adviser regarding the consequences of acquiring, holding or disposing of Westpac Capital Notes 10 in light of your particular circumstances.

This summary is based on Australian tax laws and regulations and the current administrative practice of the Australian Taxation Office (“ATO”) as at the date of this Prospectus.

7.2 Class Ruling

Westpac has applied for a public Class Ruling requesting confirmation of the ATO’s views on the principal tax issues considered in this Section 7.

The Class Ruling should be issued shortly after the Westpac Capital Notes 10 are issued. When it has been issued, the Class Ruling will be available on the ATO and Westpac websites.

7.3 Distributions

The Westpac Capital Notes 10 should be characterised as “non-share equity interests” for Australian income tax purposes and Distributions should be treated as “non-share dividends” which are frankable.

7.3.1 Australian resident Holders

Distributions

Australian resident Holders will be required to include the amounts of any Distributions in their assessable income.

Any franking credits attached to those Distributions should also be included in Holders’ assessable income and tax offsets should generally be available, equal to the amounts of the franking credits, subject to the requirements that the Westpac Capital Notes 10 be held “at risk” for the requisite periods (see the following information in this Section 7.3.1 regarding the “holding period rule”) and that the Commissioner of Taxation (“Commissioner”) does not make an adverse determination under certain anti-avoidance rules (see the following information in this Section 7.3.1).

Where Holders who are individuals or complying superannuation entities are entitled to tax offsets, those offsets will either reduce any tax payable by the Holders, or give rise to tax refunds to the extent that the tax offsets exceed the tax that is otherwise payable by the Holders.

To the extent that any Distributions are unfranked, those unfranked amounts will also be included in Holders’ assessable income, without any tax offsets.

Holders that are companies should be entitled to a credit in their franking account equal to the amount of the franking credits attached to a Distribution, subject to the qualifications mentioned above and discussed further below. Holders that are companies are not entitled to refunds of excess franking credits, however such franking credits may be converted to a tax loss which may be carried forward to future years (subject to the Holder satisfying certain tax loss carry forward rules).

“Holding period rule”

A Holder will not be entitled to tax offsets in respect of franking credits on a franked Distribution unless the Holder is a “qualified person” in relation to the Distribution.

To be a “qualified person” in relation to a Distribution, a Holder must have held the Westpac Capital Notes 10 “at risk” for a continuous period of at least 90 days (excluding the days of acquisition and disposal) during:

- the “primary qualification period”, which is the period beginning on the day after the day on which the Westpac Capital Notes 10 are acquired by a Holder and ending on the 90th day after the day that the Westpac Capital Notes 10 became ex-Distribution; or
- if a Holder, or an associate, is under an obligation to make “related payments” (which have the effect of passing on the benefit of the Distribution to other entities) in respect of the Distribution, the “secondary qualification period”, which is the period beginning on the 90th day before, and ending on the 90th day after, the day that the Westpac Capital Notes 10 became ex-Distribution.

7 AUSTRALIAN TAX SUMMARY

To be held “at risk”, the Holder must effectively retain 30% or more of the risks and benefits associated with holding the Westpac Capital Notes 10. Whether or not the Westpac Capital Notes 10 are held “at risk” by a Holder during the relevant periods will depend upon whether the Holder has financial positions or undertakes risk management strategies (e.g. using limited recourse loans, options or forward sale contracts) in relation to the Westpac Capital Notes 10. If Holders hold the Westpac Capital Notes 10 for at least 90 days during the “primary qualification period”, will not have any financial positions or enter into any relevant risk management strategies in relation to the Westpac Capital Notes 10, and will not be under an obligation to make “related payments” to other entities, those Holders should be “qualified persons” in relation to Distributions on the Westpac Capital Notes 10.

Holders who are individuals and who will not claim tax offsets in any one year in excess of $5,000 (from all sources), will automatically be taken to be “qualified persons” in relation to all Distributions that they receive (provided that they are not under an obligation to make a “related payment” as described in this Section 7.3.1).

The application of the franking rules to Holders will depend upon the particular circumstances of each Holder. Accordingly, each Holder should seek independent advice as to whether they will be treated as a “qualified person” in relation to Distributions received on the Westpac Capital Notes 10.

Anti-avoidance rules

There are anti-avoidance rules that may apply in certain circumstances to deny the benefit of franking credits to holders of equity interests.

One such rule, being the so called “anti-hybrid” provision in section 207-158 of the Tax Act, can apply when a franked distribution gives rise to a foreign income tax deduction for the issuer of certain types of equity instruments. However, this provision should not apply to deny franking credits or tax offsets to Holders on their Distributions on Westpac Capital Notes 10.

Section 177EA of the Tax Act is another anti-avoidance provision which is designed to counter schemes where one of the purposes (other than an incidental purpose) of the scheme is to inappropriately divert franking credits and obtain an imputation benefit. There are a number of different objective factors that the Commissioner may take into account in forming a view as to whether a scheme has such a purpose. Where section 177EA applies, the Commissioner may make a written determination with the effect of either:

- imposing a franking debit on the distributing entity’s franking account; or
- denying the imputation benefit on the distribution that flowed directly or indirectly to the relevant taxpayer.

The Commissioner has indicated that, in the usual case, he would not ordinarily assert that section 177EA applied to a convertible instrument which satisfied the requirements to be classified as Additional Tier 1 Capital for APRA regulatory reporting purposes. Although Westpac expects the Commissioner to make a favourable Class Ruling on this issue, which would be binding on the Commissioner in favour of Holders who subscribe for Westpac Capital Notes 10 under this Prospectus, Holders should be aware that they will not have certainty on the ATO’s views unless a Class Ruling is published.

In addition, Westpac does not expect that the Commissioner will seek to apply any of the other anti-avoidance provisions in the tax law to deny the whole or any part of the imputation benefits received by Holders in relation to Distributions.

The Australian Parliament has also recently passed the Treasury Laws Amendment (2023 Measures No. 1) Act 2023 (Cth). The Act includes a provision which is targeted at certain arrangements where a franked distribution is funded, directly or indirectly, by an issue of equity interests. If the provision applies, the relevant distribution would be unfrankable. The provision should not apply to Distributions on the Westpac Capital Notes 10. This conclusion is consistent with Example 5.4 in the Explanatory Memorandum to the Treasury Laws Amendment (2023 Measures No. 1) Bill 2023, which concludes that the provision should generally not apply to distributions on non-share equity interests issued by an APRA regulated entity with an established practice of paying fully franked distributions on its ordinary shares and non-share equity interests (such as Westpac).

7.3.2 Non-Australian resident Holders

To the extent that Distributions paid to non-Australian resident Holders, who do not hold their Westpac Capital Notes 10 through a permanent establishment in Australia, are franked, those Distributions will not be subject to Australian withholding tax. Where such Distributions are not fully franked, the unfranked portion of any such Distribution will be subject to withholding tax at the rate of 30%. This rate may be reduced if the non-Australian resident Holder is resident in a country that has a double taxation agreement with Australia.

7.4 Disposals of Westpac Capital Notes 10

7.4.1 Australian resident Holders

The Westpac Capital Notes 10 should not be “traditional securities” for the purposes of the Tax Act. On that basis, any gains or losses made by Holders on the disposal of their Westpac Capital Notes 10 will be taxed under the capital gains tax (“CGT”) provisions.

A disposal of a Westpac Capital Note 10, whether through an on-market disposal, Redemption, or pursuant to a Transfer Notice, will be a CGT event. Holders may make a capital gain or a capital loss, depending upon whether their capital proceeds from the disposal are more than the cost base of their Westpac Capital Notes 10, or whether the capital proceeds are less than the reduced cost base of their Westpac Capital Notes 10, respectively.

For Holders who acquire Westpac Capital Notes 10 pursuant to this Prospectus, the first element of the cost base of a Westpac Capital Note 10 will be the amount paid for the relevant Westpac Capital Note 10, which will be its Initial Face Value. Other amounts associated with the acquisition or disposal of the Westpac Capital Notes 10, such as broker fees, may be added to the cost base.

The capital proceeds from a Redemption of a Westpac Capital Note 10 on a Redemption Date will be equal to the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Note 10, unless the market value of a Westpac Capital Note 10 on the Redemption Date (determined as if its Redemption had not occurred or been proposed) is greater or less than the Face Value. In that case, that greater or lesser market value amount will be deemed to be the capital proceeds of the Redemption, instead of the Face Value actually received.

The capital proceeds from a Transfer of a Westpac Capital Note 10 to a Nominated Party on a Transfer Date will be equal to the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Note 10, assuming that the Holder is dealing at arm's length with the Nominated Party.

If the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 has been reduced because there has been a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event, Holders who acquired those Westpac Capital Notes 10 before that reduction occurred may make a capital loss on the Redemption or Transfer of their Westpac Capital Notes 10. Holders should seek their own tax advice as to whether any such capital loss may be applied to offset capital gains in their particular circumstances.

The capital proceeds from an on-market disposal of a Westpac Capital Note 10 will be the sale price of the Westpac Capital Note 10. Holders who sell their Westpac Capital Notes 10 on-market may make capital gains or capital losses, depending upon the amount of capital proceeds that they receive and the cost base (and reduced cost base) of their Westpac Capital Notes 10.

Any capital gain or capital loss made by a Holder will be aggregated with other capital gains and capital losses of the Holder in the relevant income year to determine whether the Holder has a net capital gain or net capital loss. A net capital gain, if any, will be included in the Holder's assessable income and subject to income tax, although the "CGT Discount" may be available to reduce the taxable gain for the Holder, as described in this Section 7.4.1. A net capital loss may not be deducted against other assessable income, but may be carried forward to be offset against net capital gains realised in later income years.

If a Holder is an individual, complying superannuation entity or a trust, and held their Westpac Capital Notes 10 for 12 months or more before the disposal, the Holder may be entitled to a "CGT Discount" for any capital gain made on the disposal of their Westpac Capital Notes 10.

The "CGT Discount" provisions may entitle Holders to reduce their capital gain on the disposal of a Westpac Capital Note 10 (after deducting available capital losses) by half, in the case of individuals and trusts, or by one-third, in the case of complying superannuation entities. Trustees should seek specific advice regarding the tax consequences of making distributions attributable to discounted capital gains.

The Australian Government has announced that Managed Investment Trusts ("MITs") and Attribution MITs ("AMITs") will not be entitled to the "CGT Discount" at the trust level. This change was previously scheduled to apply from 1 July 2020, but has now been delayed and will instead apply for income years commencing on or after the date that is three months from the date of Royal Assent of the enabling legislation. While there can be no certainty at this time in relation to when this change will come into effect, the Australian Government has indicated that it is committed to legislating this measure. Once this change comes into effect, MITs and AMITs that derive capital gains will continue to be able to distribute those amounts as capital gains that may be subject to the "CGT Discount" in the hands of those beneficiaries who are entitled to the "CGT Discount".

The "CGT Discount" is not available to companies, nor can it apply to Westpac Capital Notes 10 disposed of by Holders under an agreement entered into within 12 months of the acquisition of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 by those Holders. Holders should seek independent advice to determine if their Westpac Capital Notes 10 have been held for the requisite period.

7.4.2 Non-Australian resident Holders

Any capital gain or capital loss made by a non-Australian resident Holder from the disposal of their Westpac Capital Notes 10 is likely to be disregarded on the basis that Westpac Capital Notes 10 are not likely to be "taxable Australian property" at the time of sale, unless the Westpac Capital Notes 10 were used by the non-resident in carrying on business through a permanent establishment in Australia.

Any non-Australian resident Holders should obtain specific advice in respect of the potential consequences of a disposal of their Westpac Capital Notes 10 in their particular circumstances.

7.5 Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10

When a Westpac Capital Note 10 is Converted, a Holder's rights in relation to the Westpac Capital Note 10 will be terminated for an amount equal to the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Note 10 and Westpac will apply that amount for the Holder in subscribing for Ordinary Shares which are to be issued by Westpac at a discount. The Conversion of a Westpac Capital Note 10 into Ordinary Shares in this way should not give rise to a capital gain or a capital loss, nor an assessable revenue gain or a deductible revenue loss, for a Holder. The recognition of any gain or loss that might otherwise have arisen on Conversion is effectively deferred until any subsequent sale of the Ordinary Shares acquired by the Holder from the Conversion. This applies to both Australian resident Holders and non-Australian resident Holders.

The first element of the cost base or reduced cost base of the Ordinary Shares acquired as a result of a Conversion will be the amount of the Holder's cost base for each Converted Westpac Capital Note 10.

The Ordinary Shares that will be acquired as a result of a Conversion will be deemed to have been acquired by Holders at the time of Conversion for CGT purposes, including for the purpose of calculating the 12 month ownership period required for the "CGT Discount" (see Section 7.4.1).

7.6 Westpac Capital Notes 6 Reinvestment Offer

Under the Reinvestment Offer, Eligible Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders may apply to reinvest all or some of their Westpac Capital Notes 6 in Westpac Capital Notes 10. This will be effected by the transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 6 to the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Nominated Party on 18 December 2023 for $100 per Participating Westpac Capital Note 6 and the automatic reinvestment of the transfer proceeds in Westpac Capital Notes 10 ($100 per Note).

7 AUSTRALIAN TAX SUMMARY

For Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders who do not participate in the Reinvestment Offer (or only participate in respect of some of their Westpac Capital Notes 6), their Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 are intended to be redeemed by Westpac on 31 July 2024 for $100 per Westpac Capital Note 6.

The following income tax consequences will generally apply to Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders whose Westpac Capital Notes 6 are transferred to the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Nominated Party pursuant to the Reinvestment Offer, and to Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders whose Westpac Capital Notes 6 are intended to be redeemed by Westpac on 31 July 2024, who are Australian tax residents, hold their Westpac Capital Notes 6 as capital assets, are not in the business of dealing or trading in securities and do not otherwise hold their Westpac Capital Notes 6 on revenue account for tax purposes.

Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders may also wish to refer to the Taxation Letter in section 6 of the prospectus for Westpac Capital Notes 6 dated 20 November 2018 which contains a summary of the tax treatment of certain entities that invested in Westpac Capital Notes 6 under the prospectus and Class Ruling CR 2019/3 which contains the ATO's binding views in respect of the tax treatment of certain entities that invested in Westpac Capital Notes 6 under the prospectus for Westpac Capital Notes 6. A copy of the Class Ruling is available on Westpac's website at westpac.com.au/westpaccapnotes6.

7.6.1 Distributions

A Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holder will be paid the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Distribution on 18 December 2023 on each Participating Westpac Capital Note 6 that they hold at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on 8 December 2023, being the record date for the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Distribution, subject to the distribution payment conditions in the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Terms being met.

A Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holder will be paid the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Distribution on 18 December 2023, on each Non-Participating Westpac Capital Note 6 that they hold at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on 8 December 2023, being the record date for the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Distribution, subject to the distribution payment conditions in the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Terms being met.

It is intended that Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders will continue to be paid distributions in accordance with the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Terms, subject to the distribution payment conditions in the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Terms being satisfied.

Westpac expects these distributions to be fully franked. These distributions will be subject to the same taxation treatment as other distributions paid on Westpac Capital Notes 6. In particular, Australian resident Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders should include the amount of each distribution in their assessable income. In addition, if they are not companies and they satisfy the qualified person (related payments and holding period) rules, they should also include an amount equal to the franking credits attached to the dividend in their assessable income, in which case they should qualify for a tax offset equal to the amount of those franking credits. The comments set out in Section 7.3.1 above in relation to Distributions on Westpac Capital Notes 10 should be equally applicable to these distributions.

7.6.2 Transfer or redemption proceeds

Under the Reinvestment Offer, a Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holder will elect to reinvest their transfer proceeds ($100 for each Westpac Capital Note 6) in Westpac Capital Notes 10.

A Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holder will also receive an amount of $100 for each Westpac Capital Note 6 assuming that the intended redemption of their Westpac Capital Notes 6 by Westpac occurs on 31 July 2024.

For both Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders and Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders, no part of the transfer or redemption proceeds should be taken to be ordinary assessable income of the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders.

7.6.3 CGT consequences of transfer or redemption of Westpac Capital Notes 6

Australian residents

The transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 6 by Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders pursuant to the Reinvestment Offer, or the intended redemption of Westpac Capital Notes 6 by Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders on 31 July 2024, will be a CGT event for the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders.

Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders may make a capital gain if their capital proceeds from the transfer or redemption (as relevant) are more than their "cost base" for their Westpac Capital Notes 6, or may make a capital loss if their capital proceeds are less than their "reduced cost base" for their Westpac Capital Notes 6:

- Cost base or reduced cost base: the first element of a Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder's cost base, or reduced cost base, for their Westpac Capital Notes 6 is the amount paid by the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder for their Westpac Capital Notes 6. Certain other amounts associated with the acquisition or disposal of Westpac Capital Notes 6, such as broker fees, may be added to the cost base.
- Capital proceeds: the capital proceeds that will be received by a Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holder from the transfer of their Westpac Capital Notes 6 pursuant to the Reinvestment Offer will be $100 per Westpac Capital Note 6, assuming that they are dealing at arm's length with the Westpac Capital Notes 6 Nominated Party.

The capital proceeds that will be received by a Non-Participating Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holder on the intended redemption of their Westpac Capital Notes 6 on 31 July 2024, will be the market value of the Westpac Capital Notes 6. Based on guidance issued by the Commissioner in Practical Compliance Guideline PCG 2021/1, the Commissioner should accept that the market value of any Westpac Capital Notes 6 which are redeemed on 31 July 2024 is $100 per Westpac Capital Note 6 (being its face value).

Any capital gain (or capital loss) made by a Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder will be aggregated with other capital gains and capital losses of the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder in the relevant year of income to determine whether the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder has a net capital gain or net capital loss. A net capital gain, if any, will be included in the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder's assessable income and will be subject to income tax, however the "CGT Discount" may be available to reduce the taxable gain for a Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder who is an individual, complying superannuation entity or trust (as described below). A net capital loss may not be deducted against other assessable income, but may be carried forward to be offset against net capital gains realised in later income years.

If a Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder is an individual, complying superannuation entity or a trust, and held their Westpac Capital Notes 6 for 12 months or more before the disposal, the Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder may be entitled to a "CGT Discount" for any capital gain made on the disposal of their Westpac Capital Notes 6. Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders should seek independent advice to determine if their Westpac Capital Notes 6 have been held for the requisite period.

The "CGT Discount" provisions may entitle Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders to reduce their capital gain on the disposal of a Westpac Capital Note 6 (after deducting available capital losses) by half, in the case of individuals and trusts, or by one-third in the case of complying superannuation entities.

Trustees should seek specific advice regarding the tax consequences of making distributions attributable to discounted capital gains.

In addition, as described in more detail in Section 7.4.1 above, the Australian Government has announced that MITs and AMITs will not be entitled to the "CGT Discount" at the trust level once legislation implementing this change comes into effect.

The "CGT Discount" is not available to companies.

Non-Australian residents

Any capital gain or capital loss made by non-Australian resident Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders is likely to be disregarded on the basis that Westpac Capital Notes 6 should not be "taxable Australian property" at the time of sale, unless they were used by the non-resident in carrying on business through a permanent establishment in Australia. Any non-resident Westpac Capital Notes 6 holders should obtain specific advice in respect of the potential consequences of that disposal of Westpac Capital Notes 6 in their particular circumstances.

7.6.4 Cost base of Westpac Capital Notes 10 acquired pursuant to the Reinvestment Offer

Where Westpac Capital Notes 10 are acquired by Eligible Westpac Capital Notes 6 Holders pursuant to the Reinvestment Offer, the transfer proceeds that were applied to acquire those Notes will be included in the cost base of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 for the purposes of determining any future gain or loss on the disposal, Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 (see Sections 7.4 and 7.5 above).

7.7 Provision of TFN and/or ABN

Westpac is required to deduct withholding tax from payments of Distributions in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 that are not 100% franked, at the rate specified in the Taxation Administration Regulations 2017 (currently 47% of the unfranked amount), and remit such amounts to the ATO, unless a TFN or an ABN has been quoted by a Holder, or a relevant exemption applies (and has been notified to Westpac).

7.8 GST

No GST should be payable by a Holder in respect of acquiring Westpac Capital Notes 10 or on a sale, Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 10, or by a Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder in respect of the transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 6, other than in respect of brokerage or similar fees.

7.9 Stamp Duty

No stamp duty should be payable by a Holder on the issue, sale, Conversion, Redemption or Transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 10, or by a Westpac Capital Notes 6 holder in respect of the transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 6.

8 OTHER INFORMATION

8.1 Restrictions on ownership for Westpac

The Financial Sector (Shareholdings) Act 1988 (Cth) restricts the aggregate voting power of a person and their associates in an Australian bank to 20%. A shareholder may apply to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Australia to extend its stake beyond 20%, however approval cannot be granted unless the Treasurer is satisfied that it is in the national interest to approve a holding of greater than 20%.

Acquisitions of interests in shares in Australian companies by foreign persons are subject to review and approval by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Australia under the Foreign Acquisitions and Takeovers Act 1975 (Cth) in certain circumstances. Potential investors should consult their professional advisers to determine whether the Foreign Acquisitions and Takeovers Act 1975 (Cth) may affect their holding or ownership of Notes or Ordinary Shares.

8.2 Information, disclosure and availability

8.2.1 Reporting and disclosure obligations

Westpac is a disclosing entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act and is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules. These obligations require that Westpac prepare both yearly and half-yearly financial statements and a report on the operations of Westpac during the relevant accounting period together with an audit or review report by its auditor. Copies of these documents and other documents lodged with ASIC by Westpac may be obtained from, or inspected at, an ASIC office.

Westpac also has an obligation under the ASX Listing Rules to notify the ASX immediately of any information concerning Westpac of which it becomes aware and which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of Westpac's securities unless exceptions from disclosure apply under the ASX Listing Rules. ASX maintains records of company announcements for all companies listed on the ASX. Westpac's announcements may be viewed on ASX's website at asx.com.au.

8.2.2 Accessing information about Westpac

Westpac will provide a copy of any of the following documents free of charge to any person who requests a copy during the Offer Period in relation to this Prospectus:

- the financial statements of Westpac for the year ended 30 September 2023 (being the most recent annual financial statements lodged with ASIC before the lodgement of this Prospectus);
- the interim financial results announcement of Westpac for the half year ended 31 March 2023 (being the most recent interim financial statements lodged with ASIC before the lodgement of this Prospectus);
- any document or financial statement lodged by Westpac with ASIC or ASX under the continuous disclosure reporting requirements in the period after the lodgement of the annual financial statements and before the lodgement of this Prospectus; and
- Westpac's Constitution.

Written requests for copies of these documents should be addressed to:

Westpac Group Secretariat

Copies of Westpac's financial statements and annual reports are available at: westpac.com.au/about-westpac/investor-centre/financial-information/.

Copies of Westpac's Constitution are available at: westpac.com.au/about-westpac/westpac-group/corporate-governance/constitution-board/.

8.3 Rights attaching to Westpac Capital Notes 10

The rights attaching to the Notes are contained in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms, which are contained in Appendix B.

8.4 Rights attaching to Ordinary Shares

Ordinary Shares may be issued to Holders by Westpac on Conversion of Notes. These Ordinary Shares will be issued as fully paid and will rank equally with all other Ordinary Shares already on issue in all respects.

The rights attaching to Ordinary Shares are set out in Westpac's Constitution, the ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. A summary of these rights is set out in this Section 8.4.

8.4.1 Transfers

Transfers of Ordinary Shares are not effective until registered. Subject to the ASX Listing Rules, Westpac may refuse to register a transfer of Ordinary Shares without giving any reasons. However, the ASX Listing Rules substantially restrict when Westpac may refuse to register a transfer.

Unless otherwise required by law, Westpac is not required to recognise any interest in Ordinary Shares apart from that of registered holders of Ordinary Shares.

Where two or more persons are registered as joint holders of Ordinary Shares, they are taken to hold the Ordinary Shares as joint tenants with rights of survivorship.

Westpac is not required to register more than three persons as joint holders of an Ordinary Share or issue more than one share certificate or holding statement for Ordinary Shares jointly held.

Restrictions apply in respect of persons who become entitled to Ordinary Shares by reason of the death, bankruptcy or mental incapacity of a holder of Ordinary Shares.

8 OTHER INFORMATION

8.4.2 Profits and Dividends

Holders of Ordinary Shares are entitled to receive such Dividends as may be determined by Westpac. Dividends determined by Westpac are payable to holders of Ordinary Shares in proportion to the amounts paid on the Ordinary Shares that they hold.

Dividends must only be paid in accordance with applicable laws and Westpac's Constitution.

Westpac is restricted from paying Dividends unless:

- Westpac's assets exceed its liabilities immediately before the Dividend is determined and the excess is sufficient for the payment of the Dividend;
- the payment of the Dividend is fair and reasonable to Westpac's shareholders as a whole; and
- the payment of the Dividend does not materially prejudice Westpac's ability to pay its creditors.

Additionally, Dividends would not be payable if making such a payment would breach or cause a breach by Westpac of applicable capital adequacy or other supervisory requirements of APRA, or if Westpac was directed by APRA not to pay a Dividend under the Banking Act. APRA's requirements include that Westpac must obtain APRA's written approval prior to making a Dividend payment on Ordinary Shares if the aggregate amount of Dividend payments on Ordinary Shares in the 12 months covered by one or more sets of publicly available operating results preceding the date of the proposed Dividend payment exceeds Westpac's after-tax earnings after taking into account any payments on more senior capital instruments in the same 12 months.

There are restrictions on the amount of earnings that can be distributed through Tier 1 Capital Distributions should an ADI's Level 1 or Level 2 CET1 Ratios fall below the Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25%¹. See Section 5.2.5 for further information.

Dividends that are paid, but not claimed, may be invested by the Westpac Directors for the benefit of Westpac until required to be dealt with under any law relating to unclaimed moneys.

8.4.3 Winding Up of Westpac

Subject to the preferential entitlement (if any) of preference shareholders, holders of Ordinary Shares are entitled to share equally in any surplus assets if Westpac is wound up.

8.4.4 Meetings and voting rights

Holders of Ordinary Shares are entitled to receive notice of, attend and vote at general meetings of Westpac. Each holder of Ordinary Shares present at a general meeting (whether in person or by proxy or representative) is entitled to one vote on a show of hands or, on a poll, one vote for each Ordinary Share held.

8.4.5 Issue of further Ordinary Shares

The Westpac Directors control the issue of Ordinary Shares. Subject to the Corporations Act, the Westpac Directors may issue further Ordinary Shares, and grant options and pre-emptive rights over Ordinary Shares, on terms they think fit.

8.5 Rights attaching to Approved Successor Shares

If Westpac is replaced as the ultimate holding company of the Westpac Group by an Approved Successor, and the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms are amended to enable substitution of the Approved Successor as debtor of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 and the issuer of ordinary shares on Conversion, Holders will be issued with Approved Successor Shares on Conversion (rather than Ordinary Shares). In order to be classified as an Approved Successor, the shares of the proposed successor holding company must be listed on an internationally recognised stock exchange – see clause 16.2 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms (definition of "Acquisition Event"). The Approved Successor will be obliged to use all reasonable endeavours to obtain quotation of the Approved Successor Shares issued under the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms on the stock exchanges on which the other Approved Successor Shares are quoted at the time of a Conversion – see clause 13.4 of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Terms.

8.6 Summary of the Offer Management Agreement

Westpac and the Joint Lead Managers entered into the Offer Management Agreement ("OMA") on 20 November 2023. Under the OMA, Westpac has appointed Westpac Institutional Bank, ANZ Securities Limited, Commonwealth Bank of Australia, Morgan Stanley Australia Securities Limited, Morgans Financial Limited, National Australia Bank Limited, Ord Minnett Limited, Shaw and Partners Limited and UBS AG, Australia Branch as the Joint Lead Managers and joint bookrunners for the Offer.

Under the OMA, the Joint Lead Managers agreed to conduct the Bookbuild before the Opening Date. In this process, Syndicate Brokers and Institutional Investors were invited to lodge bids for a number of Notes at various margins within an indicative margin range. Using those bids, Westpac and the Joint Lead Managers set the Margin and determined the total number of Notes to be Allocated and Westpac determined the firm Allocations to Syndicate Brokers and Institutional Investors. The Bookbuild was conducted on the terms and conditions in the OMA.

The OMA contains various representations and warranties, and imposes various obligations on Westpac, including representations, warranties and obligations to ensure that this Prospectus complies with the Corporations Act and ASX Listing Rules, and to conduct the Offer under the agreed timetable, ASX Listing Rules, this Prospectus and all other applicable laws.

The OMA provides that Westpac will not, without the Joint Lead Managers' consent (not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed), allot, agree to allot or indicate in any way that it may or will allot or agree to allot any ASX listed hybrid debt or preference security with Tier 1 Capital or Tier 2 Capital status before the Issue Date, other than pursuant to the Offer and in certain other specified circumstances.

Note:

1. The Total CET1 Requirement of 10.25% applies to D-SIBs, however it may be higher for individual ADIs (including Westpac) – see Section 5.2.2.

Westpac has agreed to indemnify the Joint Lead Managers (other than Westpac Institutional Bank) and parties affiliated with each Joint Lead Manager against damages, losses, costs, expenses and liabilities in connection with the Offer, other than where these result from any fraud, recklessness, wilful misconduct or negligence of the indemnified parties or certain other events.

The Joint Lead Managers have entered into the OMA with Westpac on an arms' length basis and do not accept any fiduciary obligations to, or any fiduciary, relationship with, any investor or potential investor in Westpac, in connection with the Offer, the Notes or otherwise.

8.6.1 Settlement support

Each Joint Lead Manager has agreed to provide settlement support for the number of Notes Allocated to Syndicate Brokers under the Bookbuild. Under the OMA, as part of that settlement support, each Joint Lead Manager will pay to Westpac, or procure payment to Westpac of, its JLM Amount under the Bookbuild by the settlement date (15 December 2023). Each Joint Lead Manager is only responsible for ensuring that payment is made for Notes Allocated to them or at their direction. Westpac Institutional Bank need only pay, or procure payment, to Westpac of the proportion of its JLM Amount, Institutional Amount and Co-Manager Amount that it actually receives from third party investors.

8.6.2 Fees

Under the OMA, Westpac will pay:

- each Joint Lead Manager, a selling fee of 0.75% of that Joint Lead Manager's JLM Amount;
- to Westpac Institutional Bank, a selling fee of 0.75% of the Co-Manager Amount;
- each Joint Lead Manager whose bid into the Bookbuild equalled or exceeded a minimum threshold, a bookrunning fee of 0.50% of that Joint Lead Manager's JLM Amount;
- to Westpac Institutional Bank, a bookrunning fee of 0.50% of the Co-Manager Amount;
- to Westpac Institutional Bank, a selling fee of 0.25% of the Institutional Amount; and
- to Westpac Institutional Bank, an arranger fee.

Westpac Institutional Bank agrees to pay, on behalf of Westpac, a selling fee of 0.75% of the Co-Manager Amount to any Co-Managers (who are not affiliated with a Joint Lead Manager), subject to receipt of this fee from Westpac (as set out above). Westpac Institutional Bank also agrees to pay, on behalf of Westpac, a selling fee of 0.75% of its JLM Amount to certain other participating brokers, subject to Westpac Institutional Bank receiving the selling fee of 0.75% of its JLM Amount described in this Section 8.6.2.

Westpac may pay to Westpac Institutional Bank, and Westpac Institutional Bank agrees to pay on Westpac's behalf to certain investors, a commitment fee of up to 0.75% of the Application Payment made by those investors. This is subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, including a minimum bid under the Bookbuild and a minimum holding period in respect of the Notes Allocated to those investors.

The Joint Lead Managers may pay fees on behalf of Westpac to Australian financial services licensees and their authorised representatives ("External Third Parties") in respect of Notes Allocated to them for allocation to their clients. Under the OMA, the amount of the fee payable to an External Third Party must not exceed 0.75% (or 1.25% if the External Third Party is an affiliate of the Joint Lead Manager or an External Third Party approved by Westpac) of the amount which is equal to the number of Notes which are Allocated to that External Third Party multiplied by the Initial Face Value. External Third Parties may in turn rebate fees (which may not exceed 0.75% of the amount which is equal to the number of Notes which are Allocated to that External Third Party multiplied by the Initial Face Value) to other External Third Parties for procuring Applications for any Notes by their clients, among other things.

Holders do not have any right to apply for a Winding Up on the ground of Westpac's failure to pay Distributions or for any other reason.
- (e) For the avoidance of doubt, but subject to clause 5.8, if a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event has occurred, Holders will rank for payment in a Winding Up as holders of the number of Ordinary Shares to which they became entitled under clauses 5.2 or 5.4.

3 Distributions

3.1 Distributions

Subject to these Terms, each Westpac Capital Note 10 entitles the Holder to receive on the relevant Distribution Payment Date interest on the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 ("Distribution"), calculated using the following formula:

$$\text{Distribution} = \frac{\text{Distribution Rate} \times \text{Face Value} \times N}{365}$$

where:

Distribution Rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) is calculated using the following formula:

$$\text{Distribution Rate} = (\text{BBSW Rate} + \text{Margin}) \times (1 - \text{Tax Rate})$$

where:

BBSW Rate (expressed as a percentage per annum) for each Distribution Period, means:

- (a) subject to paragraph (b) below:
 - (i) the mid rate designated as "BBSW" in respect of prime bank eligible securities having a tenor of 3 months which ASX (or its successor as administrator of that rate) publishes through information vendors at approximately 10.30am (Sydney time) (or such other time at which such rate is accustomed to be so published), in the case of the first Distribution Period, on the Issue Date, and in the case of any other Distribution Period, on the first Business Day of that Distribution Period; or
 - (ii) if Westpac determines that such rate as is described in paragraph (a)(i) above is not published by 10.45am (Sydney time) on that day (or such other time at which such rate is accustomed to be so published), or is published but Westpac determines that there is an obvious error in that rate, such other rate that Westpac determines in good faith, having regard to comparable indices then available.
- (b) if Westpac determines that a BBSW Rate Disruption Event has occurred, then, subject to APRA's prior written approval, Westpac:
 - (i) shall use as the BBSW Rate such Alternative BBSW Rate as it may determine;
 - (ii) shall make such adjustments to the Terms as it determines to be reasonably necessary to calculate Distributions in accordance with such Alternative BBSW Rate; and
 - (iii) in making the above determination in this paragraph (b):
 - (A) shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner;
 - (B) may consult such sources of market practice as it considers appropriate; and
 - (C) may otherwise make such determination in its discretion.

(c) for the purposes of this definition of “BBSW Rate”:

- (i) Alternative BBSW Rate means a rate other than the rate described in paragraph (a) of the definition of BBSW Rate, that is, in Westpac’s opinion, generally accepted in the Australian market as the successor to the BBSW Rate, or if there is no such rate:
 - (A) a reference rate that is, in Westpac’s opinion, appropriate to floating rate debt securities of a tenor and interest period most comparable to Westpac Capital Notes 10; or
 - (B) such other reference rate as Westpac considers appropriate having regard to available comparable indices, provided that Westpac reserves the discretion, subject to APRA’s prior written approval, to incorporate an adjustment (which may be positive or negative) or a formula or methodology for calculating such an adjustment in order to reduce or eliminate, to the extent reasonably practicable in the circumstances, any economic prejudice or benefit to Holders as a result of the use of an Alternative BBSW Rate; and
- (ii) BBSW Rate Disruption Event occurs when, in Westpac’s opinion, the rate for prime bank eligible securities having a tenor of 3 months in paragraph (a) of the definition of BBSW Rate:
 - (A) has been discontinued or otherwise ceased to be calculated or administered; or
 - (B) is no longer generally accepted in the Australian market as a reference rate appropriate to floating rate debt securities of a tenor and interest period comparable to that of Westpac Capital Notes 10.

Holders should note that APRA’s approval may not be given for any Alternative BBSW Rate (or related adjustments) that APRA considers to have the effect of increasing the Distribution Rate contrary to applicable Prudential Standards.

Margin means 3.10% per annum;

Tax Rate (expressed as a decimal) means the Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of Westpac at the relevant Distribution Payment Date; and

N means, in respect of a Distribution Period, the number of days in that Distribution Period.

3.2 Adjustment to calculation of Distributions if not fully franked

If payment of any Distribution will not be franked to 100% under Part 3-6 of the Tax Act (or any provisions that revise or replace that Part), otherwise than because of any act by, or circumstances affecting, any particular Holder, the Distribution will be calculated using the following formula:

$$\text{Distribution} = \frac{D}{1 - [\text{Tax Rate} \times (1 - \text{Franking Rate})]}$$

where:

D means the Distribution entitlement on that Distribution Payment Date as calculated under clause 3.1;

Tax Rate (expressed as a decimal) means the Australian corporate tax rate applicable to the franking account of Westpac at the relevant Distribution Payment Date; and Franking Rate (expressed as a decimal) means the percentage of Distribution that would carry franking credits (within the meaning of Part 3-6 of the Tax Act or any provisions that revise or replace that Part), applicable to the relevant Distribution entitlement on that Distribution Payment Date.

 - (i) Westpac’s absolute discretion;
 - (ii) the payment of the Distribution not resulting in a breach of Westpac’s capital requirements (on a Level 1 basis) or of the Westpac Group’s capital requirements (on a Level 2 basis) under the then current Prudential Standards at the time of the payment;
 - (iii) the payment of the Distribution not resulting in Westpac becoming, or being likely to become, insolvent for the purposes of the Corporations Act; and
 - (iv) APRA not otherwise objecting to the payment of the Distribution.
- (b) Westpac must notify ASX as soon as reasonably practicable if payment of any Distribution will not be made because of this clause.

3.4 Distributions are discretionary, non-cumulative and only payable in cash

 - (i) claim (including, without limitation, on a Winding Up); or
 - (ii) right to apply for a Winding Up, in respect of such non-payment.
- (b) Any payments of Distributions to Holders must be made in the form of cash.

Distributions in respect of Westpac Capital Notes 10 are payable:

- (a) quarterly in arrear on 22 March, 22 June, 22 September and 22 December of each year, commencing on 22 March 2024 until that Westpac Capital Note 10 has been Converted at its full Face Value (or terminated following a failure to Convert) or Redeemed, in each case in accordance with these Terms; and
- (b) on the Conversion Date (other than a Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date), Redemption Date or Transfer Date (as the case may be) on which such Westpac Capital Note 10 is Converted, Redeemed or Transferred, in each case in accordance with these Terms, (each a “Distribution Payment Date”).

3.6 Record Dates

Distributions are only payable on a Distribution Payment Date to those persons registered as Holders on the Record Date for that Distribution Payment Date.

3.7 Restrictions in the case of non-payment of a Distribution

Subject to clause 3.8, if for any reason a Distribution has not been paid in full for a relevant Distribution Payment Date, Westpac must not:

- (a) determine or pay any Dividends; or
- (b) undertake any discretionary Buy Back or Capital Reduction,

unless and until:

- (c) the amount of the unpaid Distribution is paid in full within 20 Business Days of the relevant Distribution Payment Date;
- (d) all Westpac Capital Notes 10 are Converted at their full Face Value, Redeemed or terminated following a failure to Convert;
- (e) a Distribution for any subsequent Distribution Period is paid in full on the relevant Distribution Payment Date; or
- (f) a Special Resolution of the Holders has been passed approving such action, and, in respect of the actions contemplated by paragraphs (d), (e) and (f), APRA does not otherwise object.

3.8 Restrictions not to apply in certain circumstances

The restrictions in clause 3.7 do not apply in connection with:

- (a) any employment contract, benefit plan or other similar arrangement with or for the benefit of any one or more employees, officers, directors or consultants of Westpac or any member of the Westpac Group; or
- (b) Westpac or any of its controlled entities purchasing shares in Westpac in connection with transactions for the account of customers of Westpac or any of its controlled entities or in connection with the distribution or trading of shares in Westpac in the ordinary course of business (such distribution or trading of shares in the ordinary course of business is subject to the prior written approval of APRA); or
- (c) to the extent that at the time a Distribution has not been paid on the relevant Distribution Payment Date, Westpac is legally obliged to pay on or after that date a Dividend or complete on or after that date a Buy Back or Capital Reduction.

3.9 Notification

- (a) In relation to each Distribution Period, Westpac must notify the ASX of the Distribution Rate and the amount of Distribution payable on each Westpac Capital Note 10.
- (b) Westpac must give notice under this clause 3.9 as soon as practicable after it makes its calculations or determinations and, in any event, by no later than the fifth Business Day of the relevant Distribution Period.
- (c) Westpac may amend the calculation or determination of any amount, date, or rate (or make appropriate alternative arrangements by way of adjustment) including as a result of the extension or reduction of a Distribution Period without prior notice, but must notify ASX promptly after doing so.

3.10 Calculations and determinations final

The calculation or determination by Westpac of all rates and amounts payable by it in relation to Westpac Capital Notes 10 is, in the absence of manifest or proven error, final and binding on Westpac, the Registrar and each Holder.

4 Scheduled Conversion

4.1 Scheduled Conversion

Subject to clauses 5, 6, 7 and 8, Westpac must Convert all (but not some) Westpac Capital Notes 10 on issue on the date that is the earlier of:

- (a) 22 June 2034; and
- (b) the first Distribution Payment Date after 22 June 2034, on which the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are satisfied (each a “Scheduled Conversion Date”).

4.2 Scheduled Conversion Conditions

- (a) The Scheduled Conversion Conditions for each Scheduled Conversion Date are:
 - (i) the VWAP on the 25th Business Day on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date is greater than 56.12% of the Issue Date VWAP (“First Scheduled Conversion Condition”); and
 - (ii) the VWAP during the period of 20 Business Days on which trading in Ordinary Shares took place immediately preceding (but not including) the Scheduled Conversion Date is greater than 50.51% of the Issue Date VWAP (the “Second Scheduled Conversion Condition”).
- (b) If the First Scheduled Conversion Condition is not satisfied, Westpac will announce to ASX not less than 21 Business Days before the Scheduled Conversion Date that Conversion will not proceed on the Scheduled Conversion Date.
- (c) If the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition is not satisfied, Westpac will notify Holders on or as soon as practicable after the Scheduled Conversion Date that Conversion did not occur.

5 Automatic Conversion

5.1 Capital Trigger Event

A Capital Trigger Event occurs when:

- (a) Westpac determines; or
- (b) APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes, that either or both the Westpac Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio or Westpac Level 2 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio is equal to or less than 5.125%.

5.2 Consequences of a Capital Trigger Event

- (a) Westpac must notify APRA immediately in writing if it determines that a Capital Trigger Event has occurred.
- (b) If a Capital Trigger Event occurs, Westpac must Convert such number of Westpac Capital Notes 10 (or, if it so determines, such percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10) as is sufficient (following any conversion, write-off or write down of other Relevant Securities as referred to in paragraph 5.2(c)(i) below) to return either or both the Westpac Level 1 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio or Westpac Level 2 Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio, as the case may be, to above 5.125%.
- (c) In determining the number of Westpac Capital Notes 10, or percentage of the Face Value of each

Westpac Capital Note 10, which must be Converted in accordance with this clause, Westpac will:

- (i) first, convert, write-off or write down such number or percentage of the face value of any other Relevant Securities whose terms require them to be converted, written-off or written down, before Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10; and
- (ii) second, if conversion, write-off or write down of those Relevant Securities is not sufficient, Convert (in the case of Westpac Capital Notes 10) and convert, write-off or write down (in the case of any other Relevant Securities) on a pro-rata basis or in a manner that is otherwise, in the opinion of Westpac, fair and reasonable, the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 and the face value of any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit them to be converted, written-off or written down in that manner (subject to such adjustments as Westpac may determine to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and the need to round to whole numbers of Ordinary Shares and the face value of any Westpac Capital Notes 10 or other Relevant Securities remaining on issue and the need to effect the conversion, write-off or write-down immediately), but such determination will not impede the immediate Conversion of the relevant number of Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 (as the case may be) or, if applicable, the termination of the relevant Holder’s rights and claims in accordance with clause 5.8.

- (d) If a Capital Trigger Event occurs:
 - (i) the relevant number of Westpac Capital Notes 10, or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10, must be Converted immediately upon occurrence of the Capital Trigger Event in accordance with clauses 5.7 and 9 and the Conversion will be irrevocable;
 - (ii) Westpac must give notice as soon as practicable that Conversion has occurred to ASX and the Holders; and
 - (iii) the notice must specify:
 - (A) the date on which the Capital Trigger Event occurred (“Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date”);
 - (B) the relevant number of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 which were, or the percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 which was, Converted and details of any other Relevant Securities converted, written-off or written down in accordance with clause 5.2(c); and
 - (C) details of the Conversion process, including any details which were taken into account in relation to the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares, and the impact on any Westpac Capital Notes 10 remaining on issue.
- (e) Failure or delay in undertaking any of the steps in clauses 5.2(d)(ii) and 5.2(d)(iii), or in quotation of the Ordinary Shares to be issued on Conversion, does not prevent, invalidate, delay or otherwise impede Conversion.

APPENDIX B WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10 TERMS

- (f) For the purposes of clauses 5.2(b) and 5.2(c), where the specified currency of the face value of Relevant Securities and/or the Face Value of Westpac Capital Notes 10 is not the same, Westpac may treat them as if converted into a single currency of Westpac's choice at such rate of exchange as Westpac in good faith considers reasonable.

5.3 Non-Viability Trigger Event

A Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs when APRA notifies Westpac in writing that it believes:

- (a) Conversion of the Westpac Capital Notes 10, or conversion, write-off or write down of other capital instruments of the Westpac Group, is necessary because, without it, Westpac would become non-viable; or
- (b) a public sector injection of capital, or equivalent support, is necessary because, without it, Westpac would become non-viable.

5.4 Consequences of a Non-Viability Trigger Event

- (a) If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs, Westpac must Convert such number of Westpac Capital Notes 10 (or, if it so determines, such percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10) as is equal (following any conversion, write-off or write down of other Relevant Securities as referred to in paragraph 5.4(b)(ii)(A) below) to the aggregate face value of capital instruments as is necessary to satisfy APRA that Westpac will no longer be non-viable.
- (b) In determining the number of Westpac Capital Notes 10, or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10, which must be Converted in accordance with this clause, Westpac will:
 - (i) where a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs under clause 5.3(b), Convert at their full Face Value all of the Westpac Capital Notes 10; or
 - (ii) in all other circumstances:
 - (A) first, convert, write-off or write down such number or percentage of the face value of any other Relevant Securities whose terms require them to be converted, written-off or written down before Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10; and
 - (B) second, if conversion, write-off or write down of those securities is not sufficient, Convert (in the case of Westpac Capital Notes 10) and convert, write-off or write down (in the case of any other Relevant Securities), on a pro-rata basis or in a manner that is otherwise, in the opinion of Westpac, fair and reasonable, the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 and the face value of any Relevant Securities whose terms require or permit them to be converted, written-off or written down in that manner (subject to such adjustments as Westpac may determine to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and the need to round to whole numbers of Ordinary Shares and the face value of any Westpac Capital Notes 10 or other Relevant Securities remaining on issue and the need to effect the conversion, write-off or write-down immediately),

but such determination will not impede the immediate Conversion of the relevant number of Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 (as the case may be) or, if applicable, the termination of the relevant Holder's rights and claims in accordance with clause 5.8.

- (c) If a Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs:
 - (i) the relevant number of Westpac Capital Notes 10, or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10, must be Converted immediately upon occurrence of the Non-Viability Trigger Event in accordance with clauses 5.7 and 9 and the Conversion will be irrevocable;
 - (ii) Westpac must give notice as soon as practicable that Conversion has occurred to ASX and the Holders; and
 - (iii) the notice must specify:
 - (A) the date on which the Non-Viability Trigger Event occurred ("Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date");
 - (B) the relevant number of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 which were, or the percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 which was, Converted, and details of any other Relevant Securities converted, written-off or written down in accordance with clause 5.4(b); and
 - (C) the details of the Conversion process, including any details which were taken into account in relation to the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares, and the impact on any Westpac Capital Notes 10 remaining on issue.
- (d) Failure to undertake any of the steps in clauses 5.4(c)(ii) and 5.4(c)(iii) does not prevent, invalidate, delay or otherwise impede Conversion.
- (e) For the purposes of clauses 5.4(a) and 5.4(b), where the specified currency of the face value of Relevant Securities and/or the Face Value of Westpac Capital Notes 10 is not the same, Westpac may treat them as if converted into a single currency of Westpac's choice at such rate of exchange as Westpac in good faith considers reasonable.

5.5 Scheduled Conversion Conditions not applicable

For the avoidance of doubt, the Scheduled Conversion Conditions do not apply to Conversion as a result of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event.

5.6 Priority of early Conversion obligations

A Conversion required because of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event takes place on the date, and in the manner, required by clauses 5.2, 5.4, 5.7 and 5.8, notwithstanding any other provision for Conversion, Redemption or Transfer in these Terms and any Redemption Notice outstanding at the time a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event occurs will be automatically revoked and of no effect.

5.7 Automatic Conversion upon the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event

If a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event has occurred and all or some Westpac Capital Notes 10 (or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10) are required to be Converted in accordance with clauses 5.2 or 5.4, then:

- (a) Conversion of the relevant Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 will be taken to have occurred in accordance with clause 9 immediately upon the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date;
- (b) subject to clause 9.10, the entry of the corresponding Westpac Capital Notes 10 in each relevant Holder's holding in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register will constitute an entitlement of that Holder to the relevant number of Ordinary Shares (and, if applicable, also to any remaining balance of Westpac Capital Notes 10 or Westpac Capital Notes 10 with a Face Value equal to the aggregate of the remaining percentage of the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10), and Westpac will recognise the Holder as having been issued the relevant Ordinary Shares for all purposes, in each case without the need for any further act or step by Westpac, the Holder or any other person (and Westpac will, as soon as possible thereafter and without delay on the part of Westpac, take any appropriate procedural steps to record such Conversion, including updating the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register and the Ordinary Share register); and
- (c) subject to clause 9.10, upon Conversion a Holder has no further right or claim under these Terms in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Converted, except in relation to the relevant number of Ordinary Shares and the Holder's entitlement, if any, to Westpac Capital Notes 10 which have not been required to be Converted or Westpac Capital Notes 10 representing the unconverted outstanding Face Value.

5.8 No further rights if Conversion does not occur for any reason

If, for any reason, Conversion of any Westpac Capital Notes 10 (or a percentage of the Face Value of any Westpac Capital Notes 10) required to be Converted under clauses 5.2 or 5.4 fails to take effect under clauses 5.7(a) and (b) or does not occur for any other reason and the Ordinary Shares are not issued for any reason in respect of such Conversion by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, then:

- (a) such Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred under these Terms on any subsequent date; and
- (b) the relevant Holders' rights (including to payment of Distributions and Face Value and any other payments) in relation to such Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of Westpac

Capital Notes 10 are immediately and irrevocably terminated and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately upon the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, as the case may be.

5.9 Automatic Conversion upon the occurrence of an Acquisition Event

- (a) If an Acquisition Event occurs, then:
 - (i) Westpac must Convert all (but not some) Westpac Capital Notes 10;
 - (ii) Westpac must give notice as soon as practicable and in any event within 10 Business Days after becoming aware of that event occurring to ASX and the Holders;
 - (iii) the notice must specify a date on which it is proposed Conversion will occur (proposed "Acquisition Event Conversion Date") being:
 - (A) in the case of an Acquisition Event that is a takeover bid, no later than the Business Day prior to the then announced closing date of the relevant takeover bid; or
 - (B) in the case of an Acquisition Event that is a court approved scheme, a date no later than the record date for participation in the relevant scheme of arrangement;
 - (iv) the notice must specify the details of the Conversion process including any details to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and whole numbers of Ordinary Shares; and
 - (v) on the proposed Acquisition Event Conversion Date, all Westpac Capital Notes 10 will Convert in accordance with clause 9.
- (b) The Second Scheduled Conversion Condition applies to a Conversion following an Acquisition Event as though the proposed Acquisition Event Conversion Date were a Scheduled Conversion Date for the purposes of clause 4 (except that in the case of an Acquisition Event, the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition will apply as if it referred to 20.20% of the Issue Date VWAP). If the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition is not satisfied, the Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not Convert.
- (c) If the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition is not satisfied on the proposed Acquisition Event Conversion Date, Westpac will notify Holders as soon as practicable after the proposed Acquisition Event Conversion Date that Conversion did not occur.

5.10 Issue of ordinary shares of Approved Successor

Where there is a replacement of Westpac as the ultimate holding company of the Westpac Group and the successor holding company is an Approved Successor, Conversion of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 may not occur as a consequence of the Replacement (as defined in clause 13.4(a)). Instead, these Terms may be amended in accordance with clause 13.4.

APPENDIX B WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10 TERMS

6 Optional Conversion

6.1 Conversion at the option of Westpac

- (b) If only some (but not all) Westpac Capital Notes 10 are to be Converted under clause 6.1(a)(i), those Westpac Capital Notes 10 to be Converted will be specified in the Optional Conversion Notice and selected:
- (i) in a manner that is, in the opinion of Westpac, fair and reasonable; and
 - (ii) in compliance with any applicable law, directive or requirement of ASX.

6.2 Restriction on election to Convert

Westpac may only elect to Convert the Westpac Capital Notes 10 under clause 6.1(a) if on the second Business Day before the date on which an Optional Conversion Notice is to be sent by Westpac (or, if trading in Ordinary Shares did not occur on that date, the last Business Day prior to that date on which trading in Ordinary Shares occurred) the VWAP on that date is:

- (a) in respect of a Conversion under clause 6.1(a)(i), greater than 56.12% of the Issue Date VWAP; and
- (b) in respect of a Conversion under clause 6.1(a)(ii), greater than 22.20% of the Issue Date VWAP,

(the “Optional Conversion Restriction”).

6.3 Optional Conversion Notice

- (a) Subject to clause 6.2, Westpac may only Convert under clause 6.1(a)(i) if Westpac has given an Optional Conversion Notice of its election to do so at least 25 Business Days before the proposed Optional Conversion Date to ASX and the Holders.
- (b) The Optional Conversion Notice must specify:
- (i) the date on which it is proposed the Optional Conversion will occur, which:
 - (A) in the case of clause 6.1(a)(i), will be the specified Optional Conversion Date; and

 - (ii) whether any Distribution will be paid in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 to be Converted on the Optional Conversion Date; and

- (iii) the details of the Conversion process including any details to take into account the effect on marketable parcels and the need to round to whole numbers of Ordinary Shares.

6.4 Restriction on Conversion on the Optional Conversion Date

- (a) The Second Scheduled Conversion Condition applies to an Optional Conversion as though the proposed Optional Conversion Date were a Scheduled Conversion Date for the purposes of clause 4 (except that in the case of an Optional Conversion following a Tax Event or Regulatory Event, the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition will apply as if it referred to 20.20% of the Issue Date VWAP).
- (b) If the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition is not satisfied on the proposed Optional Conversion Date:
- (i) the Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not Convert; and
 - (ii) Westpac will notify Holders as soon as practicable after the proposed Optional Conversion Date that Conversion did not occur.

6.5 Deferred Conversion

If Westpac has given an Optional Conversion Notice under clause 6.3 and the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition (as if it applied on the Optional Conversion Date) is not satisfied, then, notwithstanding any other provision of these Terms:

- (a) the Optional Conversion Date will be deferred until the first Distribution Payment Date (under clause 3.5(a)) on which the Scheduled Conversion Conditions are satisfied (except that in the case of a Tax Event or Regulatory Event, the Second Scheduled Conversion Condition will apply as if it referred to 20.20% of the Issue Date VWAP) as if that Distribution Payment Date were a Scheduled Conversion Date for the purposes of clause 4 (the “Deferred Conversion Date”);
- (b) Westpac must convert the Westpac Capital Notes 10 on the Deferred Conversion Date unless the Westpac Capital Notes 10 are Converted earlier in accordance with these Terms; and
- (c) until the Deferred Conversion Date, all rights attaching to the Westpac Capital Notes 10 will continue as if the Optional Conversion Notice had not been given.

6.6 Final Distribution

For the avoidance of doubt, Optional Conversion may occur even if Westpac, in its absolute discretion, does not pay a Distribution for the final Distribution Period.

6.7 No Conversion at the option of the Holders

Holders do not have a right to request Conversion of their Westpac Capital Notes 10 at any time.

7 Optional Redemption

 - (ii) whether any Distribution will be paid in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 to be Redeemed on the Redemption Date.

7.3 APRA approval to Redeem

Westpac may only Redeem under this clause 7 if:

- (a) either:
 - (i) before or concurrently with Redemption, Westpac replaces Westpac Capital Notes 10 with a capital instrument which is of the same or better quality (for the purposes of the Prudential Standards) than Westpac Capital Notes 10 and the replacement of Westpac Capital Notes 10 is done under conditions that are sustainable for the income capacity of Westpac (for the purposes of the Prudential Standards); or
 - (ii) Westpac obtains confirmation from APRA that APRA is satisfied, having regard to the capital position of Westpac and the Westpac Group, that Westpac does not have to replace Westpac Capital Notes 10; and

- (b) APRA has given its prior written approval to the Redemption. Approval is at the discretion of APRA and may or may not be given and Holders should not expect that APRA's approval will be given.

7.4 Final Distribution

For the avoidance of doubt, Redemption may occur even if Westpac, in its absolute discretion, does not pay a Distribution for the final Distribution Period.

7.5 No Redemption at the option of the Holders

7.6 Effect of Redemption Notice

Subject to clause 5.6 and any early Conversion required because of a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event and any termination of rights under clause 5.8, any Redemption Notice given under this clause 7 is irrevocable and Westpac must (subject to clause 11.1) Redeem Westpac Capital Notes 10 on the Redemption Date specified in that Redemption Notice.

8 Optional Transfer

8.1 Transfer at the option of Westpac

- (a) Westpac may elect that Transfer occur in relation to:
 - (i) all or some Westpac Capital Notes 10 on:

 - (ii) in compliance with any applicable law, directive or requirement of ASX.

APPENDIX B WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10 TERMS

- (ii) whether any Distribution will be paid in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 to be Transferred on the Transfer Date.

8.3 Final Distribution

For the avoidance of doubt, a Transfer may occur even if Westpac, in its absolute discretion, does not pay a Distribution for the final Distribution Period.

8.4 No Transfer at the option of the Holders

Holders do not have a right to request Transfer of their Westpac Capital Notes 10 at any time.

8.5 Effect of Transfer Notice

- (a) Any Transfer Notice given under this clause 8 is irrevocable and Westpac must (subject to clause 11.1) Transfer Westpac Capital Notes 10 on the Transfer Date specified in that Transfer Notice.
- (b) If Westpac issues a Transfer Notice under this clause 8:
- (i) each Holder is taken irrevocably to offer to sell the relevant number of their Westpac Capital Notes 10 to the Nominated Party on the Transfer Date for a cash amount per Westpac Capital Note 10 equal to the Face Value (and to have appointed Westpac as its agent and attorney to execute documents and do all things necessary which Westpac considers may be necessary or desirable in connection with that offer and any resulting sale);
 - (ii) subject to payment by the Nominated Party of the Face Value to Holders, all right, title and interest in the relevant number of Westpac Capital Notes 10 will be Transferred from the Holders to the Nominated Party on the Transfer Date; and
 - (iii) if the Nominated Party does not pay the Face Value to the relevant Holders on the Transfer Date, the relevant number of Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not be Transferred to the Nominated Party.
- (c) Clause 11 will apply to payments by the Nominated Party as if the Nominated Party were Westpac. If any payment to a particular Holder is not made or treated as made on the Transfer Date because of any error by or on behalf of the Nominated Party, the relevant Westpac Capital Notes 10 of that Holder will not be Transferred until payment is made but the Transfer of all other relevant Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not be affected by the failure.

9 General provisions applicable to Conversion

9.1 Conversion

On the Conversion Date, subject to clauses 5.6 and 9.10, the following will apply:

- (a) Westpac will allot and issue the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares for each Westpac Capital Note 10 (“Conversion Number”) held by the Holder. The Conversion Number is calculated according to the following formula, and subject always to the Conversion Number being no greater than the Maximum Conversion Number:

$$\text{Conversion Number} = \frac{\text{Face Value}}{0.99 \times \text{VWAP}}$$

where:

VWAP (expressed in dollars and cents) means the VWAP during the VWAP Period.

Maximum Conversion Number for each Westpac Capital Note 10 means a number calculated according to the following formula:

$$\text{Maximum Conversion Number} = \frac{\text{Face Value}}{\text{Relevant Percentage} \times \text{Issue Date VWAP}}$$

Relevant Percentage means:

- (i) if Conversion is occurring on a Scheduled Conversion Date or an Optional Conversion Date on 22 September 2031, 22 December 2031, 22 March 2032 or 22 June 2032, 50%; and
 - (ii) if Conversion is occurring at any other time, 20%.
- (b) Each Holder's rights (including to Distributions other than the Distribution, if any, payable on a date when Conversion is required that is not a Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or a Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date) in relation to each Westpac Capital Note 10 that is being Converted will be immediately and irrevocably terminated for an amount equal to the Face Value and Westpac will apply the Face Value of each Westpac Capital Note 10 by way of payment for the subscription for the Ordinary Shares to be allotted and issued under clause 9.1(a). Each Holder is taken to have irrevocably directed that any amount payable under this clause 9.1 is to be applied as provided for in this clause and Holders do not have any right to payment in any other way.
- (c) If the total number of Ordinary Shares to be allotted and issued in respect of a Holder's aggregate holding of Westpac Capital Notes 10 includes a fraction of an Ordinary Share, that fraction of an Ordinary Share will be disregarded.

9.2 Adjustments to VWAP generally

For the purposes of calculating VWAP under clause 9.1:

- (a) where, on some or all of the Business Days in the relevant VWAP Period, Ordinary Shares have been quoted on ASX as cum dividend or cum any other distribution or entitlement and Westpac Capital Notes 10 will be Converted into Ordinary Shares after that date and those Ordinary Shares will no longer carry that dividend or that other distribution or entitlement, then the VWAP on the Business Days on which those Ordinary Shares have been quoted cum dividend or cum any other distribution or entitlement will be reduced by an amount (“Cum Value”) equal to:
- (i) in the case of a dividend or other distribution, the amount of that dividend or other distribution including, if the dividend or distribution is franked, the amount that would be included in the assessable income of a recipient of the dividend or distribution who is a natural person resident in Australia under the Tax Act;

- (ii) in the case of any other entitlement that is not a dividend or other distribution under clause 9.2(a)(i) which is traded on ASX on any of those Business Days, the volume weighted average price of all such entitlements sold on ASX during the VWAP Period on the Business Days on which those entitlements were traded (excluding trades of the kind that would be excluded in determining VWAP under the definition of that term); or
- (iii) in the case of any other entitlement which is not traded on ASX during the VWAP Period, the value of the entitlement as reasonably determined by Westpac;
- (b) where, on some or all of the Business Days in the VWAP Period, Ordinary Shares have been quoted as ex dividend or ex any other distribution or entitlement, and Westpac Capital Notes 10 will be Converted into Ordinary Shares which would be entitled to receive the relevant dividend, distribution or entitlement, the VWAP on the Business Days on which those Ordinary Shares have been quoted ex dividend or ex any other distribution or entitlement will be increased by the Cum Value; and
- (c) any adjustment made by Westpac in accordance with clause 9.2 will be effective and binding on Holders under these Terms and these Terms will be construed accordingly.

9.3 Adjustments to VWAP for capital reconstruction

- (a) Where during the relevant VWAP Period there is a change to the number of Ordinary Shares on issue because the Ordinary Shares are reconstructed, consolidated, divided or reclassified (in a manner not involving any cash payment (or the giving of any other form of consideration) to or by holders of Ordinary Shares) ("Reclassification") into a lesser or greater number, the daily VWAP for each day in the VWAP Period which falls before the date on which trading in Ordinary Shares is conducted on a post Reclassification basis will be adjusted by multiplying such daily VWAP by the following formula:

where:

B means the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares immediately after the Reclassification.

- (b) Any adjustment made by Westpac in accordance with clause 9.3(a) will be effective and binding on Holders under these Terms and these Terms will be construed accordingly.
- (c) Each Holder acknowledges that Westpac may consolidate, divide or reclassify Ordinary Shares so that there is a lesser or greater number of Ordinary Shares at any time in its absolute discretion without any such action requiring any consent or concurrence of any Holders.

9.4 Adjustments to Issue Date VWAP generally

For the purposes of determining the Issue Date VWAP under clause 9.1, adjustments will be made in accordance with clause 9.2 and clause 9.3 during the period in which the Issue Date VWAP is determined. On and from the Issue Date, adjustments to the Issue Date VWAP:

- (a) may be made by Westpac in accordance with clauses 9.5 to 9.7 (inclusive);
- (b) if so made, will correspondingly affect the application of the Scheduled Conversion Conditions and the Optional Conversion Restriction and cause an adjustment to the Maximum Conversion Number; and
- (c) if so made, will be effective and binding on Holders under these Terms and these Terms will be construed accordingly.

9.5 Adjustments to Issue Date VWAP for bonus issues

- (a) Subject to clauses 9.5(b) and 9.5(c), if at any time on or from the Issue Date Westpac makes a pro-rata bonus issue of Ordinary Shares to holders of Ordinary Shares generally (in a manner not involving any cash payment (or the giving of any other form of consideration) to or by holders of Ordinary Shares), the Issue Date VWAP will be adjusted immediately in accordance with the following formula:

$$V = \frac{Vo \times RD}{(RD + RN)}$$

where:

V means the Issue Date VWAP applying immediately after the application of this formula;

Vo means the Issue Date VWAP applying immediately prior to the application of this formula;

RD means the number of Ordinary Shares on issue immediately prior to the allotment of new Ordinary Shares pursuant to the bonus issue; and RN means the number of Ordinary Shares issued pursuant to the bonus issue.

- (b) Clause 9.5(a) does not apply to Ordinary Shares issued as part of a bonus share plan, employee or executive share plan, executive option plan, share top up plan, share purchase plan or a dividend reinvestment plan.
- (c) For the purposes of this clause, an issue will be regarded as a bonus issue notwithstanding that Westpac does not make offers to some or all holders of Ordinary Shares with registered addresses outside Australia, provided that in so doing Westpac is not in contravention of the ASX Listing Rules.
- (d) No adjustments to the Issue Date VWAP will be made under this clause 9.5 for any offer of Ordinary Shares not covered by clause 9.5(a), including a rights issue or other essentially pro rata issue.
- (e) The fact that no adjustment is made for an issue of Ordinary Shares except as covered by clause 9.5(a) shall not in any way restrict Westpac from issuing Ordinary Shares at any time on such terms as it sees fit nor require any consent or concurrence of any Holders.

APPENDIX B WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10 TERMS

9.6 Adjustments to Issue Date VWAP for capital reconstruction

- (a) If at any time on or from the Issue Date there is a change to the number of Ordinary Shares on issue because of a Reclassification (in a manner not involving any cash payment (or the giving of any other form of consideration) to or by holders of Ordinary Shares) into a lesser or greater number, the Issue Date VWAP will be adjusted by multiplying the Issue Date VWAP applicable on the Business Day immediately before the date of any such Reclassification by the following formula:

where:

B means the aggregate number of Ordinary Shares on issue immediately after the Reclassification.

- (b) Each Holder acknowledges that Westpac may consolidate, divide or reclassify securities so that there is a lesser or greater number of Ordinary Shares at any time in its absolute discretion without any such action requiring any consent or concurrence of any Holders.

9.7 No adjustment to Issue Date VWAP in certain circumstances

Despite the provisions of clauses 9.5 and 9.6, no adjustment will be made to the Issue Date VWAP where any such adjustment (rounded to the nearest full cent, with $0.005 being rounded upwards) would be less than one percent of the Issue Date VWAP then in effect.

9.8 Announcement of adjustments to Issue Date VWAP

Westpac will notify any adjustment to the Issue Date VWAP under this clause 9 to ASX and the Holders within 10 Business Days of Westpac determining the adjustment and the adjustment will be final and binding.

9.9 Status and listing of Ordinary Shares

- (a) Ordinary Shares issued or arising from Conversion will rank equally with, and will have the same rights as, all other fully paid Ordinary Shares provided that the rights attaching to the Ordinary Shares issued or arising from Conversion do not take effect until 5.00pm (Sydney time) on the Conversion Date (or such other time required by APRA).
- (b) Westpac will use all reasonable endeavours to list the Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10 on ASX.

9.10 Conversion where the Holder does not wish to receive Ordinary Shares or is an Ineligible Holder

- (a) If Westpac Capital Notes 10 of a Holder are required to be Converted and:
- (i) the Holder has notified Westpac that it does not wish to receive Ordinary Shares as a result of Conversion, which notice may be given at any time on or after the Issue Date and no less than 15 Business Days prior to the Conversion Date; or

- (ii) the Holder is an Ineligible Holder, then, on the Conversion Date, all of the Holder's rights in relation to each such Westpac Capital Note 10 being Converted are immediately and irrevocably terminated (including to Distributions other than the Distribution, if any, payable on a date when Conversion is required that is not a Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or a Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date) and Westpac will issue the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares to the Sale Agent for no additional consideration to hold on trust for sale for the benefit of the relevant Holder. At the first opportunity to sell the Ordinary Shares, the Sale Agent will arrange for their sale at market value and pay the proceeds, less selling costs, brokerage, stamp duty and other taxes and charges, to the relevant Holder.

Westpac will be entitled to treat a Holder as not being an Ineligible Holder unless the Holder has otherwise notified it after the Issue Date and prior to the Conversion Date.

- (b) If Conversion under this clause 9.10 is occurring because of the occurrence of a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event and the Conversion fails to take effect under clauses 5.2 or 5.4 or does not occur for any other reason and the Ordinary Shares are not issued to the Sale Agent for any reason in respect of such Conversion by 5.00pm on the fifth Business Day after the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, then:
- (i) such Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not be Converted in respect of such Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date (as the case may be) and will not be Converted, Redeemed or Transferred under these Terms on any subsequent date; and
- (ii) the relevant Holders' rights (including to payment of Distributions and Face Value and any other payments) in relation to such Westpac Capital Notes 10 or percentage of the Face Value of Westpac Capital Notes 10 are immediately and irrevocably terminated and such termination will be taken to have occurred immediately upon the Capital Trigger Event Conversion Date or Non-Viability Trigger Event Conversion Date, as the case may be.

9.11 Final Distribution

For the avoidance of doubt, Conversion may occur even if Westpac, in its absolute discretion, does not pay a Distribution for the final Distribution Period.

9.12 No Conversion after Winding Up commences

If before the Conversion Date a Winding Up commences, then Conversion will not occur and clause 2 will apply, except where Conversion is required for a Capital Trigger Event or Non-Viability Trigger Event (in which case such Conversion shall occur (subject to clause 5.8) in accordance with clauses 5.2 or 5.4 (as applicable) and clause 5.7).

9.13 Conversion of a percentage of Face Value

If under these Terms it is necessary to Convert a percentage of the Face Value, this clause 9 will apply to the Conversion as if references to the Face Value were references to the relevant percentage of the Face Value to be Converted multiplied by the Face Value and references to the Westpac Capital Note(s) 10 were references to the percentage of the Face Value of the Westpac Capital Note(s) 10 to be Converted.

9.14 Consent to receive Ordinary Shares and other acknowledgements

Subject to clause 5.8, each Holder irrevocably:

- (a) upon receipt of the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares following Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10 in accordance with clauses 4, 5 or 6 consents to becoming a member of Westpac and agrees to be bound by the constitution of Westpac, in each case in respect of Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion;
- (b) acknowledges and agrees that, unless it has given notice in accordance with clause 9.10 that it does not wish to receive Ordinary Shares as a result of Conversion, it is obliged to accept Ordinary Shares of Westpac on Conversion notwithstanding anything that might otherwise affect a Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10 including:
 - (i) any change in the financial position of Westpac since the issue of the Westpac Capital Notes 10;
 - (ii) any disruption to the market or potential market for Ordinary Shares or capital markets generally; or
 - (iii) any breach by Westpac of any obligation in connection with the Westpac Capital Notes 10;
- (c) acknowledges and agrees that:
 - (i) Conversion is not subject to any conditions other than those expressly provided for in these Terms;
 - (ii) subject to any conditions, Conversion must occur immediately on the Conversion Date and that may result in disruption or failures in trading or dealings in the Westpac Capital Notes 10;
 - (iii) it will not have any rights to vote in respect of any Conversion; and
 - (iv) notwithstanding clause 9.9, Ordinary Shares issued on Conversion may not be quoted at the time of Conversion or at all;
- (d) acknowledges and agrees that where clause 5.8 applies, no other conditions or events will affect the operation of that clause and it will not have any rights to vote in respect of any termination under that clause;
- (e) acknowledges and agrees that it has no right to request that Westpac Convert Westpac Capital Notes 10; and
- (f) acknowledges and agrees that it has no remedies on account of the failure of Westpac to issue Ordinary Shares in accordance with clauses 5.2 or 5.4 other than, subject to clause 5.8, to seek specific performance of Westpac's obligation to issue Ordinary Shares.

10 Title and transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 10

10.1 CHESS

While a Westpac Capital Note 10 remains in CHESS:

- (a) the rights of a person holding an interest in the Westpac Capital Note 10; and
- (b) all dealings (including transfers and payments) in relation to the Westpac Capital Note 10, will be governed by and subject to the rules and regulations of CHESS (but without affecting any of these Terms which affect the eligibility of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 as Additional Tier 1 Capital). To the extent of any inconsistency:

- (c) between these Terms (other than any of these Terms which affect the eligibility of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 as Additional Tier 1 Capital) and the rules and regulations of CHESS, the rules and regulations of CHESS prevail; and
- (d) between any of these Terms which affect the eligibility of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 as Additional Tier 1 Capital and the rules and regulations of CHESS, these Terms prevail.

10.2 Effect of entries in Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register

Each entry in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register of a person as a Holder constitutes:

- (a) conclusive evidence of that person's:
 - (i) absolute ownership of those Westpac Capital Notes 10; and
 - (ii) entitlement to the other benefits given to Holders under these Terms in respect of Westpac Capital Notes 10; and
- (b) an undertaking by Westpac to pay a Distribution and any other amount in accordance with these Terms, subject to correction of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register for fraud or error.

10.3 Non-recognition of interests

Except as required by law, Westpac and the Registrar must treat the person whose name is entered in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register as a Holder as the absolute owner of that Westpac Capital Notes 10. This clause applies despite any notice of ownership, trust or interest in that Westpac Capital Notes 10.

10.4 Joint Holders

Where two or more persons are entered in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register as joint Holders, they are taken to hold those Westpac Capital Notes 10 as joint tenants with rights of survivorship but the Registrar is not bound to register more than three persons as joint Holders of any Westpac Capital Notes 10.

APPENDIX B WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10 TERMS

- (e) Westpac must not charge any fee on the transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 10.
- (f) The Holder is responsible for any stamp duty or other similar taxes which are payable in any jurisdiction in connection with a transfer, assignment or other dealing with Westpac Capital Notes 10.
- (g) Upon registration and entry of the transferee in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register, the transferor ceases to be entitled to future benefits under these Terms in respect of the transferred Westpac Capital Notes 10.
- (h) Subject to Applicable Regulations, Westpac may determine that transfers of some or all Westpac Capital Notes 10 will not be registered during any period reasonably specified by it prior to the Conversion Date, Redemption Date or Transfer Date of such Westpac Capital Notes 10.

10.6 Refusal to register

- (a) Westpac may only refuse to register a transfer of Westpac Capital Notes 10 if permitted by, or if such registration would contravene or is forbidden by, Applicable Regulations or these Terms.
- (b) If Westpac refuses to register a transfer, Westpac must give the lodging party notice of the refusal and the reasons for it within five Business Days after the date on which the transfer was delivered to the Registrar.

10.7 Transmission

A person becoming entitled to Westpac Capital Notes 10 as a consequence of the death, bankruptcy, liquidation or a winding-up of a Holder or of a vesting order by a court or other body with power to make the order, or a person administering the estate of a Holder, may, upon providing evidence as to that entitlement or status, and if Westpac so requires an indemnity in relation to the correctness of such evidence, as Westpac considers sufficient, become registered as the Holder of those Westpac Capital Notes 10.

11 Payments

11.1 General

- (a) All payments in respect of Westpac Capital Notes 10:
 - (i) must be made:
 - (A) in Australian dollars; and

 - (C) these Terms.
- (b) If the date scheduled for any payment under these Terms (other than a payment made under clause 9.1(b) in connection with the Conversion of Westpac Capital Notes 10 following a Capital Trigger Event or a Non-Viability Trigger Event) is not a Business Day, then the payment will be made on the next Business Day (and without any additional interest or other payment in respect of such delay).
- (c) All calculations of payments will be rounded to four decimal places. For the purposes of making any payment in respect of a Holder's aggregate holding of Westpac Capital Notes 10, any fraction of a cent will be rounded to the nearest one Australian cent (with one half of an Australian cent being rounded up to one Australian cent).

11.2 Payments to Holders

- (a) Each payment in respect of a Westpac Capital Note 10 will be made to the person that is recorded in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register as the Holder of that Westpac Capital Note 10 on the Record Date for that payment.
- (b) A payment to any one joint Holder of a Westpac Capital Note 10 will discharge Westpac's liability in respect of the payment.

11.3 Method of payments

- (a) Westpac may, in its absolute discretion, pay to a Holder or any other person entitled to any amount payable in respect of a Westpac Capital Note 10:
 - (i) by crediting an account nominated in writing by that Holder or person;
 - (ii) by cheque made payable to the Holder or person, sent to the address of that Holder or person as notified to Westpac by that Holder or person; or
 - (iii) in any other manner as Westpac determines (provided that Distributions must always be paid in cash).
- (b) Westpac may send a cheque referred to in clause 11.3(a)(ii), if relevant, to:
 - (i) the address in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register of the Holder;
 - (ii) if that Westpac Capital Note 10 is jointly held, the address in the Westpac Capital Notes 10 Register of the Holder named first in the register in respect of the Westpac Capital Note 10; or
 - (iii) any other address which that person directs in writing.
- (c) If Westpac decides to make a payment by electronic or other means determined under clause 11.3(a)(iii) and an account is not nominated by the Holder or joint Holder, Westpac may hold the amount payable in a separate account of Westpac until the Holder or joint Holder (as the case may be) nominates an account, without any obligation to pay interest, and the amount so held is to be treated as having been paid to the Holder or joint Holder at the time it is credited to that separate account of Westpac.
- (d) All amounts payable but unclaimed may be invested by Westpac as it thinks fit for the benefit of Westpac until claimed or until required to be dealt with in accordance with any law relating to unclaimed moneys.
- (e) Westpac (or any person through whom payments are made), in its absolute discretion, may withhold payment to a Holder where it is required to do so under any applicable fiscal or other law or any administrative practice or procedure of any fiscal or other authority (including any law prohibiting dealings with terrorist organisations or money laundering, or any other type of sanction and any withholding or deduction arising under or in connection with FATCA), or where it has reasonable grounds to suspect that the Holder may be subject to any such law, administrative practice or procedure or sanction or involved in acts of terrorism or money laundering, and may deal with such payment and the Holder's Westpac Capital Notes 10 in accordance with such applicable law, administrative practice or procedure or the requirements of any relevant government or regulatory authority.
- (f) Westpac shall not be liable for any costs or loss suffered by a Holder in exercising its discretion under clause 11.3(e), even where a Holder later demonstrates that they were not subject to such law, administrative practice or procedure or sanction.

12.1 Deductions

- (a) Westpac or the Nominated Party, as applicable, may deduct or withhold any tax, duty, assessment, levy, governmental charge or other amount from any Distribution or amount payable upon Redemption or Transfer to the Nominated Party of any Westpac Capital Note 10 (or upon or with respect to the issuance of any Ordinary Shares upon any Conversion), as required by law or any agreement with a governmental authority. If any such deduction or withholding has been made and paid over to the relevant governmental authority and the balance of the Distribution or other amount payable has been paid (or, in the case of a Conversion, Ordinary Shares issued) to the relevant Holder, then the full amount payable (or, in the case of a Conversion, the Conversion Number of Ordinary Shares) to such Holder shall be deemed to have been duly paid and satisfied (or, in the case of a Conversion, issued) by Westpac or the Nominated Party, as applicable.
- (b) Westpac or the Nominated Party, as applicable, shall pay the full amount required to be deducted or withheld to the relevant governmental authority within the time allowed for such payment without incurring any penalty under applicable law and shall, if requested by any Holder, deliver to such Holder confirmation of such payment without delay after it is received by Westpac or the Nominated Party, as applicable.

12.2 FATCA

Without limiting clause 12.1, if any withholding or deduction arises under or in connection with FATCA, Westpac will not be required to pay any further amounts on account of such withholding or deduction or otherwise reimburse or compensate, or make any payment to, a Holder for or in respect of any such withholding or deduction.

12.3 Tax File Number withholdings

- (a) Westpac will, if required, withhold an amount from payment of Distributions on Westpac Capital Notes 10 at the highest marginal tax rate plus the highest Medicare levy if a Holder has not supplied an appropriate tax file number, Australian business number or exemption details.
- (b) If a Holder supplies exemption details and Westpac subsequently determines that the relevant exemption was not available, Westpac may recover the amount that should have been deducted from the relevant Holder and may deduct that amount from any subsequent payment due to that Holder in respect of Westpac Capital Notes 10.

APPENDIX B WESTPAC CAPITAL NOTES 10 TERMS

13 Amendment of these Terms

13.1 Amendment generally

No amendment to these Terms is permitted without APRA's prior written approval if such amendment would impact, or potentially impact, the classification of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 as Additional Tier 1 Capital on a Level 1 or Level 2 basis.

13.2 Amendment without consent

Subject to clause 13.1, and complying with all applicable laws and with APRA's prior written approval (except in the case of paragraph 13.2(a)(iii) below), Westpac may, without the authority, assent or approval of Holders, amend these Terms:

- (a) if Westpac is of the opinion that the amendment is:
 - (i) of a formal, minor or technical nature;
 - (ii) made to cure any ambiguity;
 - (iii) made to correct any manifest error;
 - (iv) expedient for the purpose of enabling the Westpac Capital Notes 10 to be listed for quotation or to retain listing on any stock exchange or to be offered for, or subscription for, sale under the laws for the time being in force in any place; or
 - (v) necessary to comply with the provisions of any statute, the requirements of any statutory authority, the ASX Listing Rules or the listing or quotation requirements of any stock exchange on which the Westpac Capital Notes 10 are quoted; or
- (b) generally, in any case where such amendment is considered by Westpac not to be materially prejudicial to the interests of Holders as a whole.

13.3 Amendment with consent

Without limiting clause 13.2 and subject to clause 13.1, Westpac may, with APRA's prior written approval, amend these Terms if the amendment has been approved by a Special Resolution.

13.4 Amendment for Approved Successor

- (a) Subject to clause 13.4(c), if:
 - (i) it is proposed that Westpac be replaced as the ultimate holding company of the Westpac Group by an Approved Successor ("Replacement"); and
 - (ii) the Approved Successor agrees to expressly assume Westpac's obligations under these Terms by entering into a deed poll for the benefit of Holders under which it agrees (among other things):
 - (A) to deliver Approved Successor Shares under all circumstances when Westpac would have otherwise been obliged to deliver Ordinary Shares on a Conversion, subject to the same terms and conditions of these Terms as amended by this clause 13.4;
 - (B) to comply with the restriction in clause 3.7 (with all appropriate modifications) of these Terms; and
 - (C) to use all reasonable endeavours and furnish all such documents, information and undertakings as may be reasonably necessary in order to procure quotation of the Approved Successor Shares issued under these Terms on the stock exchanges on which the other Approved Successor Shares are quoted at the time of a Conversion,
- Westpac may, with APRA's prior written approval, but without the authority, assent or approval of Holders, give a notice (an "Approved Replacement Notice") to Holders (which, if given, must be given as soon as practicable before the Replacement and in any event no later than 10 Business Days before the Replacement occurs) specifying the amendments to these Terms which will be made in accordance with this clause 13.4 to effect the substitution of the Approved Successor as the debtor in respect of Westpac Capital Notes 10 and the issuer of ordinary shares on Conversion.
- An Approved Replacement Notice, once given, is irrevocable.
- (b) If Westpac gives an Approved Replacement Notice to Holders in accordance with clause 13.4(a), then with effect on and from the date specified in the Approved Replacement Notice:
 - (i) the Approved Successor will assume all of the obligations of, and succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right and power of, Westpac under these Terms (as may be amended from time to time) with the same effect as if the Approved Successor had been named as Westpac in these Terms and the Deed Poll;
 - (ii) Westpac (or any corporation which has previously assumed the obligations of Westpac) will be released from its liability under these Terms and the Deed Poll;
 - (iii) references to Westpac in these Terms will be taken to be references to the Approved Successor and references to Ordinary Shares in these Terms will be taken to be references to Approved Successor Shares; and
 - (iv) such other amendments may be made to these Terms as in Westpac's reasonable opinion are necessary and appropriate to effect the substitution of an Approved Successor as debtor in respect of Westpac Capital Notes 10 and the issuer of the Approved Successor Shares on Conversion in the manner contemplated by these Terms (including such amendment as is necessary or expedient for the purposes of complying with the provisions of Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act where the Approved Successor is not an ADI).
 - (c) Where an amendment under clause 13.4(b) results in Approved Successor Shares being issued to Holders, each Holder agrees to become a member of the Approved Successor immediately prior to the issue of the Approved Successor Shares and appoints Westpac as its attorney as contemplated under clause 14.10 to do all things necessary or desirable to give effect to this clause 13.4.

- (d) Westpac must not issue an Approved Replacement Notice unless:
- (i) the Approved Successor or another entity which is not a member of the Westpac Group and approved by APRA subscribes for Ordinary Shares or other capital instruments acceptable to APRA in such amount as may be necessary, or take other steps acceptable to APRA to ensure that the capital position of Westpac on a Level 1 and Level 2 basis as described in the Prudential Standards will not be adversely affected, including, if required by APRA or the Prudential Standards, undertaking any capital injection in relation to Westpac to replace the Westpac Capital Notes 10; and
 - (ii) any capital injection carried out pursuant to paragraph 13.4(d)(i) is:
 - (A) unconditional;
 - (B) occurs simultaneously with the substitution of the Approved Successor; and
 - (C) of equal or better quality capital and at least the same amount as the Westpac Capital Notes 10, unless otherwise approved by APRA in writing.
- (e) Nothing in this clause 13.4 prevents Westpac from proposing, or limits, any scheme of arrangement or other similar proposal that may be put to Holders or other members of Westpac.

13.5 Meanings

In this clause “amend” includes modify, cancel, alter or add to, and “amendment” has a corresponding meaning.

Westpac Capital Notes 10 are not subject to netting, and, without limitation, neither Westpac nor any Holder is entitled to set-off any amounts due in respect of the Westpac Capital Notes 10 against any amount of any nature owed by Westpac to the Holder or by the Holder to Westpac (as applicable).
