Review of Operations

Revenue from trading operations decreased by 2.3% to $51.7 million with lower major project revenue in the Industrial Products segment compared to the prior comparative period (PCP). Despite the small reduction in revenue, improvement in margins contributed to an improvement in profitability. The first half included a non-recurring pre-tax gain of $0.32 million arising from the accounting treatment of entering a property sublease.

Industrial Products

The EzyStrut business performed well despite a reduction in revenue compared to the PCP. The reduced revenue was as a result of a significant decrease in major project activity in the half as projects reached or neared completion. EzyStrut started the half with three major projects being supplied. Two of these are now largely completed and the lower level of major project activity in the period can be attributed to reduced volume from these jobs.

The reduction in major project revenue was largely offset by improved trading in the day-to-day and small project markets which remained buoyant throughout the period.

In July the NSW EzyStrut branch relocated to a new facility in the Bankstown Airport precinct. The facility is substantially larger than the previous Prestons site with the extra space enabling the site to operate more efficiently which is improving customer service. The new lease arrangements result in a significant increase in both the right-of-use asset and lease liability in the statement of financial position.

The input cost environment remains volatile. There was some relief during the period in relation to import shipping costs and steel however staffing costs and energy remain challenging. Leasing costs have also been impacted by the high CPI as most leases have annual CPI rental adjustments.

Production

The Galvanising business had similar volumes compared to the PCP with strong external volumes making up for the lower internal volumes. External tonnes were the highest achieved in the past decade. The cost of zinc was lower than the PCP however increased gas pricing effective from 1 January 2023 resulted in substantially higher costs for gas. The zinc market remains volatile. Labour cost saving through more efficient use of labour also contributed to the improved profitability in the period.

Capital Expenditure

Capital expenditure during the period was historically high. Major expenditure during the period included investment in a tube laser to provide new capability, costs associated with the NSW branch move and investment in the transport fleet for NSW. Ongoing development of the Kilburn site is a key short term focus for the Company and will likely consume additional cash resources in the short term.

Dividends

On 22nd January 2024 the Directors determined to pay a fully franked interim dividend of 25.0 cents per share with a record date of 16 February 2024 and a payment date of 5 March 2024.

The Dividend Reinvestment Plan (DRP) will not operate for the interim dividend.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Review of the Half-Year Financial Report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the Half-Year Financial Report based on our review. ASRE 2410 requires us to conclude whether we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the Half-Year Financial Report does not comply with the Corporations Act 2001 including giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and its performance for the Half-year ended on that date, and complying with Australian Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a Half-Year Financial Report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
