GEORGIA LIME PROJECT, GEORGIA, USA

Dominion's option to acquire the surface and mineral rights comprising the Georgia Lime Project expired on 31 October 2023.

Dominion had previously engaged a number of technical and marketing consultants to evaluate the potential for the Georgia Lime Project to support a large scale lime project, supported by a base case of sales into the agricultural lime market. Based upon evaluation of the work undertaken, Dominion assessed that market conditions for regional agricultural lime operations in the southeast U.S. were generally not favourable to support development of new lime projects of the scale required to generate significant shareholder returns. In light of the above, the Dominion Board has resolved to let the Option lapse unexercised.

LUNA LITHIUM

In January 2022 Dominion subscribed for shares in a capital raising undertaken by Luna Lithium Ltd ("Luna Lithium"), a private Canadian company which is actively engaged in the process of securing exploration rights over land in South America that is prospective for Lithium including Brazil and Paraguay.

During the quarter Luna Lithium advised that its 90% held joint venture with a local partner had increased its tenement holdings to 51,277 hectares across 36 mineral rights permits in the Safra region of Eastern Minas Gerais, where Luna has identified lithium mineralization and geology that follow a similar structure and age-range as Sigma Lithium's pegmatites. The joint venture is evaluating a further 25 tenements covering 26,700 hectares located in close proximity to the joint venture's current tenement holdings.

Luna has also acquired a 62,000 hectare land position in the Concepcion Department of north-eastern Paraguay over which it has been granted full exploration rights. Luna is in the final stages of negotiating a joint venture agreement with a local partner to explore and develop the land position.

Initial exploration work on both the Brazil and Paraguay projects has commenced.
