

CHANGE OF COMPANY NAME

Orpheus Uranium Limited (Orpheus or Company) (ASX:ORP) advises that following the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders held on 28 November 2023 at which Shareholders approved the change of Company name and type from Argonaut Resources NL to Orpheus Uranium Limited, the Australian Securities and Investment Commission has recorded the change of company name and type to Orpheus Uranium Limited.

For ASX purposes, the effective date for the company name and ASX code change will be 22 February 2024. The company is expected to commence trading under its new name and ASX code (ASX: ORP) from this date.

The Company's new website is www.orpheusuranium.com

Executive Chairman, Mick Billing said 'We are very pleased to launch our uranium exploration activities under the new banner of Orpheus Uranium Limited. Orpheus has assembled an exciting portfolio of uranium exploration projects in South Australia and the Northern Territory, both jurisdictions which allow uranium production and sales. Global uranium pricing now sits above US$100/lb, having almost doubled in the last 12 months. We have an active exploration program for 2024, and we look forward to keeping investors updated with progress.'

This announcement has been authorised by

Richard Willson

Non-Executive Director & Company Secretary
Orpheus Uranium Limited

About Orpheus Uranium Limited

Orpheus Uranium is an Australian Securities Exchange listed uranium exploration and development company focussed on the uranium-friendly jurisdictions of South Australia and the Northern Territory in Australia.