Air Products awards a module fabrication agreement to Worley

Air Products Canada Ltd. (Air Products) has awarded Worley an agreement to provide procurement, fabrication and modularization services for its Net-Zero Hydrogen Energy Complex in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Once operational, Air Products says that the net-zero complex will produce clean hydrogen and capture and permanently sequester carbon dioxide (CO₂) emissions. It is expected to position Alberta as the centre of western Canada's hydrogen economy.

Under the agreement, Worley's Edmonton modularization yard will fabricate and assemble process and pipe rack modules, implementing automated pipe-cutting techniques and robotic welding. Worley's Edmonton modularization yard is located adjacent to Air Product's Net-Zero Hydrogen Energy Complex. Worley categorizes this contract as sustainable work in accordance with Worley's definition of sustainability-related work¹.

"We're pleased to work with Air Products on this significant complex, consistent with our purpose of delivering a more sustainable world, as we partner with our customers to deliver a lower carbon future," said Chris Ashton, Chief Executive Officer of Worley.

Authorized for release by Nuala O'Leary, Group Company Secretary.
