Pembina awards a contract for the RFS IV expansion

Pembina Infrastructure and Logistics LP (Pembina) has awarded Worley a contract for RFS IV, the expansion of Pembina's existing Redwater propane-plus fractionation and storage complex in Alberta, Canada (RFS IV).

Under the contract, Worley will provide fabrication and module assembly from its Blackfalds and Edmonton modularization yards and will provide field construction services at the Redwater complex. Worley categorizes this contract as transitional work.¹

RFS IV is expected to increase the fractionation capacity by 55,000 barrels (8,744m³) per day, enabling the complex to meet increased demand in the region.

"We're pleased to continue providing services to the Redwater complex and strengthen our over 25 year long relationship with Pembina," said Chris Ashton, Chief Executive Officer of Worley.

Authorized for release by Nuala O'Leary, Group Company Secretary.
