

ASX Release (ASX Code: LHM)1 November 2024

QUARTERLY ACTIVITIES REPORT – 30 SEPTEMBER 2024

BARRY PARADE PROJECT

The Company had contemplated the feasibility of the project with the cost of development being the major focus of these considerations. As previously announced on 14 June 2024, this analysis had culminated in the decision to seek expressions of interest for the project and the associated freehold land.

Expressions of interest have been sought after it became clear that costs associated with the project's development are unlikely to materially reduce in the short term to the levels used in the initial economic modelling for the project. Adding to this is the high level of fixed holding costs that are incurred on a month-by-month basis with no clear indication of when development may start.

At the date of this report, the Company is currently evaluating the expressions of interests received following a marketing campaign, conducted by Cushman & Wakefield, for the potential sale of the underlying property with several expression of interests received.

No substantive business or development activities were undertaken during the reporting period other than the expression of interest campaign.

Further updates will be provided as and when required.
