1. Chairmans Letter

Dear Shareholder,

AUSTRALIAN RARE EARTHS LIMITED NON-RENOUNCEABLE RIGHTS ISSUE OFFER

On behalf of Australian Rare Earths Limited (ASX: AR3) I am pleased to invite shareholders to invest in a non-renounceable rights issue, providing an opportunity for you to participate in our growth story at a pivotal time. Over the past two years, AR3 has strategically expanded its portfolio and achieved significant milestones, demonstrating our commitment to becoming a supplier of critical minerals for the global clean energy transition.

Why Invest in AR3?

AR3 has transformed itself from a single-project company to a diversified critical minerals developer and explorer with attractive growth prospects and government recognition. Our key investment points include:

Early success in a frontier uranium play: Our Overland Uranium Project covers approximately 4,000 km² of tenements highly prospective for uranium in South Australia - one of only two jurisdictions in Australia to allow uranium mining. Drilling in late 2024 and early 2025 at the Overland Project has already demonstrated its potential for both near surface, calcrete-hosted uranium and deeper, ISR-amenable deposits, emphasising the value of the Company's vast 4,000km² exploration land package in a frontier uranium play. We have an active follow-up drilling program planned for this year.

Rare earths project advancing with Government recognition and support: AR3 has been awarded a $5 million grant from the Australian Government's International Partnerships in Critical Minerals Program, highlighting the strategic importance of our Koppamurra Rare Earth Project. Our grant application was supported by longstanding AR3 cornerstone shareholder and global advanced industrial materials manufacturer, Neo Performance Materials, which has over 30 years of international rare earth magnetism experience. With this grant, and our existing cash reserves, Koppamurra is now largely funded to deliver a Pre-Feasibility Study and build and operate a demonstration facility during the later part of 2025 and 2026.

As we progress Koppamurra over 2025/26, every dollar AR3 invests can unlock more – multiplied by grant co-funding from the Australian Government for the Pre-Feasibility Studies and planned Demonstration Facility and further boosted by cash rebates from the Research and Development Tax Incentive (RDTI) on eligible activities.

Advancing Koppamurra will help create new and diversified rare earth supply chains vital to the world's clean energy transition.

Positioned for the future: Our two commodity focus areas capitalise on a growing uranium market underpinned by new reactor builds and restarts, and a global rare earth market eager for new secure and reliable supply options.

Invitation to Participate

We invite our current shareholders to continue their support in this exciting phase of AR3's development. This rights issue will enable us to accelerate our uranium exploration program at the Overland Project while we progress our Koppamurra rare earths project with the benefit of Australian Government support.

The Offer

The Company offers eligible shareholders the opportunity to participate in a pro-rata non-renounceable entitlement issue of up to approximately 52,996,576 fully paid ordinary shares (Shares) at an issue price of $0.068 per Share, on the basis of 1 new Share for every 3 Shares held on the record date, to raise up to approximately $3.6 million before expenses. The Company will also issue up to approximately 26,498,288 options, on the basis of 1 free attaching unlisted option for every 2 shares subscribed for, with each option having an exercise price of $0.10 and expiring on 30 March 2029 (unless accelerated) (Option) (Offer).

The acceleration provisions of the options are as follows: If the Shares of the Company close at or above $0.15 (a 50% premium to the option exercise price) for twenty (20) consecutive trading days on the ASX, then the Company may, in its absolute discretion, elect to accelerate the expiry date of the Options by issuing a news release announcing the accelerated Option term, pursuant to which the Options will expire on the 30th calendar day after the date of such news release. Shareholders can exercise their options up until any such new expiry date, by completing the relevant option exercise form, and making payment of the option exercise price to the Company.

A full explanation of the rights attaching to the shares and options will be set out in the Offer Booklet detailing the terms of the offer.

The rights issue price represents a discount of:

- 17.1% to the Company's last closing price of $0.082 on the ASX prior to announcement of the Offer; and
- 20.0% to the Company's 30-day VWAP prior to the announcement of the Offer of $0.085

Funds raised under the Offer will be used:

- to fund uranium exploration at Overland and potentially elsewhere;
- to progress the development of the Company's flagship Australian rare earths project at Koppamurra through the next study phase;
- in support of business development activities and the potential acquisition of possible new projects (if identified);
- for general corporate activity and general working capital; and
- for expenses associated with the Offer.

The Rights Issue is open to registered holder of Shares at 5pm (Adelaide time) on the Record Date with a registered address in Australia (and its external territories), New Zealand or Canada.

Any entitlement not taken up (Shortfall Shares) will be offered under a top-up facility, allowing eligible shareholders who have fully subscribed to their entitlement under the Offer (excluding Listing Rule 10.11) to apply for additional Shares. If demand for additional Shares exceeds the available Shortfall Shares, the Company may scale back allocations in its complete discretion (in accordance with the Corporations Act, the ASX Listing Rules and any other applicable laws and regulations).

New Shares issued under the Offer will rank equally in all respects with existing Shares on issue.

Information about how eligible shareholders can accept their entitlement will be set out in the offer booklet, and letter to eligible shareholders. Eligible shareholders should consider the offer booklet in deciding whether to subscribe for Shares under the Rights Issue.

The Offer is not underwritten.

The Directors intend to participate in the Offer and take up their entitlements in full.

The offer to participate in the Offer will open on 31 March 2025 and will remain open until 5pm (Adelaide time) on 14 April 2025 (Closing Date). The Company reserves the right to extend the Closing Date.

Participation in Offer

The number of Shares for which you are entitled to apply for under the Offer is shown on your personalised Acceptance Form. Fractional Entitlements will be rounded up to the nearest whole number.

Any Entitlement not taken up pursuant to the Offer will form the shortfall. Eligible Shareholders who wish to subscribe for additional Shares above their entitlement are invited to apply for top-up by making payment for such top-up in accordance with section 4 of the Offer Booklet. Allocation of the Top-Up Facility will be at the discretion of the Board.

 - otherwise meet the definition of 'Custodian' in the applicable legislative instrument. Custodians wishing to participate on behalf of one or more beneficiaries should contact the Share Registry to request a custodian certificate or to obtain more information on how to apply.

Directors and employees of the Company who hold Shares may be Eligible Shareholders. The Directors intend to participate in the Offer and take up their entitlements in full.

If you are an Eligible Shareholder and also a 'foreign person' within the meaning of the Foreign Acquisitions and Takeover Act (or you act on behalf of a 'foreign person') you must ensure any acceptance made by you complies with the Foreign Acquisitions and Takeover Act. If you are a 'foreign person' it is advisable that you seek legal advice in relation to this.

Each Eligible Shareholder is solely responsible for obtaining any government or regulatory approvals and consents necessary for that Shareholder to be eligible to participate in the Offer.

4.3 Rights to apply for New Shares are non-renounceable

The Offer is personal to Eligible Shareholders and is non-renounceable, which means that Eligible Shareholders are not permitted to sell or otherwise transfer their rights to participate in the Offer.

4.4 Price of Offer

The issue price for the New Shares under the Offer will be issued at $0.068 OR a 18% discount to the VWAP for Shares of the Company calculated over the last 5 days on which sales in the Shares were recorded before the Announcement Date, rounded to the nearest tenth of a cent.

The Shares of the Company are a speculative investment, and the price of the Shares might rise or fall between the date of this Offer and the date the New Shares are issued.

No brokerage, commissions or other transaction costs will be payable by Eligible Shareholders in respect of the acceptance of, and issue of, New Shares under the Offer.

4.5 Timing

The offer to participate in the Offer will open on 31 March 2025 and will remain open until 5pm (Adelaide time) on the Closing Date.

The Company reserves the right to extend the Closing Date in its sole discretion at any time, and by making an announcement to the ASX.

4.6 Top-Up Facility – Application for Additional Shares

Any Entitlement not taken up pursuant to the Offer (Shortfall Shares) will be offered under a Top-Up Facility.

Eligible Shareholders who take up all of their Entitlement (excluding any Listing Rule 10.11 Parties) may apply for additional New Shares (Additional Shares).

If you apply for Additional Shares, and if your application is successful (in whole or in part), your Additional Shares will be issued to you at the same time and on the same terms that other New Shares are issued under the Offer. If you apply for Additional Shares, there is no guarantee that you will be allocated any Additional Shares.

Additional Shares will only be allocated to Eligible Shareholders:

- if there are Shortfall Shares available; and
- subject to the Corporations Act, Listing Rules and other applicable laws and regulations.

4.7 Top-Up Facility – Scale back

If Eligible Shareholders apply for more Additional Shares than there are Shortfall Shares available, the Company may scale back allocations. AR3 will scale back applications for Additional Shares, in its absolute discretion, which may include:

- having regard to the pro rata Entitlement of Eligible Shareholders who apply for Additional Shares; and
- to ensure compliance with the ASX Listing Rules, the Corporations Act and all other applicable laws.

Application monies received by the Company in excess of the amount in respect of your Entitlement will be treated as an application to apply for as many Additional Shares as that excess amount will pay for in full at the Offer Price (subject to the maximum number of Additional Shares and allocation policy referred to above).

4.8 Top-Up Facility – Shortfall

If, following allocation of New Shares under the Top-Up Facility, there remain Shortfall Shares which have not been allocated, the Shortfall Shares may be issued in accordance with the Allocation policy.

4.9 Allocation policy

With respect to any New Shares that relate to the portion of your Entitlement that has not been taken up, those Shortfall Shares will be allocated as follows:

- those Shortfall Shares may be acquired by Eligible Shareholders under the Top-Up Facility (refer to Section 3.6 and Section 3.7 for details); and
- any Shortfall Shares not taken up under the Top-Up Facility will then be issued in accordance with the below.

The Board of the Company reserves the right to issue any New Shares not issued in the Offer (Final Shortfall Shares) to new investors or existing Eligible Shareholders within three (3) months of the close of the Offer at a price no less than the Offer Price. The allocation of Final Shortfall Shares will be within the complete discretion of the Board, and may be undertaken by a Board appointed third party, having regard to factors such as:

- The Company's desire for an informed and active trading market;
- The Company's desire to establish a wide spread of shareholders, the size and type of funds under management of particular investors;
- the likelihood that particular investors will be long-term shareholders; and
- any other factors the Board considers appropriate.

Fees payable to a third party to conduct the allocation of Final Shortfall Shares may include a Cash and or Company securities component or both.

5. How to apply

It is your responsibility to check that the amount you need to pay via BPAY® does not exceed your limit. Do not forward cash as payment for the New Shares.

Receipts for payment will not be issued.

Funds paid via BPAY®, or EFT must be received by the Share Registry by 5pm (Adelaide time) on the Closing Date. The Company may reject acceptances of the Offer received after this time.

You cannot withdraw or revoke your acceptance of the Offer once you have completed and returned the Acceptance Form. Therefore, no refunds are permitted once you have accepted the Offer for New Shares.

If your Acceptance Form is incomplete, contains errors or is otherwise invalid or defective, the Company may, in its sole discretion, accept, reject, correct or amend your Acceptance Form, issue such number of New Shares to you as it considers appropriate, refund your acceptance money or take any combination of these actions. Any necessary refund will be paid to you shortly after the close of the Offer.

No interest will be paid on any refunded money.

5.1 Effect of Acceptance Form

If you submit a BPAY® or EFT payment:

- you will be deemed to have represented and warranted that you are an Eligible Shareholder, have read and understood these Terms and Conditions and subscribe for New Shares in accordance with these Terms and Conditions and the Offer generally;
- you authorise the Company to correct or amend your Acceptance Form as contemplated by this Section 4;
- you acknowledge that the market price of Shares may rise or fall between the date of the Offer and the date of issue and that the offer price you pay for the New Shares may exceed the market price of the Shares on the date of issue;
- you accept the risk associated with any refund that may be despatched to you at your address as shown on the share register;
- you acknowledge that the New Shares have not, and will not be, registered under the US Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdictions in the United States, or in any other jurisdiction outside Australia (and its external territories) and, accordingly, the New Shares purchased under the Offer may not be offered, sold or otherwise transferred except in accordance with an available exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the US Securities Act and any other applicable securities laws;
- you represent and warrant that you are not a US Person and are not applying under the Offer for or on behalf of a US Person;
- you represent and warrant that you have not and will not send any materials relating to the Offer to any person in the United States that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person;
- you represent and warrant that your acceptance of the Offer will not result in a breach of the Foreign Acquisitions and Takeover Act; and
- you acknowledge that you have not been provided with investment advice or financial product advice by the Company or the Share Registry.

5.2 Rights attached to the New Shares

New Shares issued under the Offer will rank equally with Existing Shares and will carry the same voting rights, dividend rights and other entitlements as at the date of issue.

The Company will apply for the New Shares to be quoted on the ASX.

On each occasion Shares are allocated under the Offer to an Eligible Shareholder, the Company will procure the Share Registry to issue a holding statement to that Eligible Shareholder for the total number of Shares allotted to that Eligible Shareholder in accordance with the ASX Listing Rules.

Shares will not be allotted under the Offer unless and until all necessary shareholder approvals are obtained to ensure that the issue of Shares does not contravene any laws or the ASX Listing Rules.

5.3 Rights attached to the Options

1. Each Option entitles the holder to one ordinary share in the Company.
2. Each of the Options has an exercise price of $0.10.
3. Each Option is exercisable in whole or in part at any time during the period commencing on the date of issue and expiring on 30 March 2029 (Exercise Period) (unless accelerated). Options not exercised before the expiry of the Exercise Period will lapse.
4. If the Shares of the Company close at or above $0.15 for twenty (20) consecutive trading days on the ASX, then the Company may, in its absolute discretion, elect to accelerate the expiry date of the Options by issuing a news release announcing the accelerated Option term (Notification Date), pursuant to which the Options will expire on the 30th calendar day after the date of such news release.
5. No compensation is payable to Eligible Shareholders who have not exercised their Options by the 30th calendar day after the Notification Date.
6. Options are exercisable by notice in writing to the Board delivered to the registered office of the Company and payment of the exercise price per Option in cleared funds.
7. The Company will not apply to ASX for official quotation of the Options.
8. The Company will make application for official quotation on ASX of new shares allotted on exercise of the Options. Those shares will participate equally in all respects with existing issued ordinary shares, and in particular new shares allotted on exercise of the Options will qualify for dividends declared after the date of their allotment.
9. Options can only be transferred with Board approval, except that if at any time before expiry of the Exercise Period the Option holder dies, the legal personal representative of the deceased Option holder may:
 - (i) elect to be registered as the new holder of the Options;
 - (ii) whether or not he or she becomes so registered, exercise those Options in accordance with the terms and conditions on which they were granted; and
 - (iii) if the deceased has already exercised Options, pay the exercise price in respect of those Options.
10. An Option holder may only participate in new issues of securities to holders of ordinary shares in the Company if the Option has been exercised and shares allotted in respect of the Option before the record date for determining entitlements to the issue. The Company must give prior notice to the Option holder of any new issue before the record date for determining entitlements to the issue in accordance with the ASX Listing Rules.
11. If there is a bonus issue to the holders of ordinary shares in the capital of the Company, the number of ordinary shares over which the Option is exercisable will be increased by the number of ordinary shares which the holder of the Option would have received if the Option had been exercised before the record date for the bonus issue.

12. If the Company makes a rights issue (other than a bonus issue), the exercise price of Options on issue will be reduced according to the following formula:

$$A = O - \frac{E [P - (S + D)]}{(N + 1)}$$

Where:

- A = the new exercise price of the Option;
- O = the old exercise price of the Option;
- E = the number of underlying ordinary shares into which one Option is exercisable;
- P = the average closing sale price per ordinary share (weighted by reference to volume) recorded on the stock market of ASX during the five trading days immediately preceding the ex-rights date or ex entitlements date (excluding special crossings and overnight sales and exchange traded Option exercises);
- S = the subscription price for a security under the pro rata issue;
- D = the dividend due but not yet paid on existing underlying securities (except those to be issued under the pro rata issue); and
- N = the number of securities with rights or entitlements that must be held to receive a right to one new security.

13. If, during the currency of the Options the issued capital of the Company is reorganised, those Options will be reorganised to the extent necessary to comply with ASX Listing Rules.
14. The holder of the Option agrees to be bound by the terms of the Company's Employee Option Plan and the Constitution of Australian Rare Earths Limited, both as amended from time to time.

5.4 Statements

The Company will send to each Eligible Shareholder, with the notice of allotment for the additional Shares issued under the Offer, a statement detailing the following information:

- the number of Shares held by that Eligible Shareholder as at the end of the relevant issue and allotment period;
- subject to any Share transactions in the intervening period, the total number of Shares of the Eligible Shareholder after the allotment of the Shares pursuant to the Offer;
- the date of allotment of the New Shares;
- the allotment price of each New Share allotted to the Eligible Shareholder under the Offer; and
- such other information that the Board may from time to time determine.

5.5 United States

Participation in the Offer is not being offered, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to any person that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person. This document and any related offering documents must not be mailed or otherwise transmitted or distributed in or into the United States or to any person that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person. Participation in the Offer, directly or indirectly, in violation of these restrictions is not permitted and any such participation will be invalid.

This document is not an offer of securities for sale in the United States or to any person that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person. The Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the US Securities Act and may not be offered, sold or delivered, directly or indirectly, in the United States or to any person that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person, except in accordance with an available exemption from registration.

As a result of the legal restrictions summarised above, you must not send copies of any Offer materials to any person in the United States or to any person that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person. Consistent with the warranties set out above, you are also advised not to submit any Acceptance Form or make payment by BPAY® or otherwise in respect of the purchase of New Shares under the Offer on behalf of any of your clients (or any other person) in the United States or that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US Person. Failure to comply with these restrictions may result in violations of applicable securities laws.

6. Control implications & capital structure

6.1 Change in Control

The Directors do not believe that the issue of New Shares under the Entitlement Issue will result in a change in control of the Company.

7. Additional information

7.1 Continuous Disclosure Obligations

The Company is a “disclosing entity” (as defined in section 111AC of the Corporations Act) for the purposes of the Corporations Act and its Shares are enhanced disclosure securities quoted on ASX and, as such, the Company is subject to regular reporting and disclosure obligations under the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules.

Specifically, the Company is required to notify ASX of information about specific events and matters as they arise for the purposes of ASX making that information available to the securities markets conducted by ASX. In particular, the Company has an obligation under the ASX Listing Rules (subject to certain exceptions) to notify ASX immediately of any information of which it is or becomes aware of which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price of value of its securities.

This Offer Document is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to the Company which has been notified to ASX and does not include information that would be included in a disclosure document, or which investors ought to have regard to in deciding whether to subscribe for New Shares under the Entitlement Issue. Investors should therefore have regard to the other publicly available information in relation to the Company before making a decision whether or not to invest.

All announcements made by the Company to ASX are available from the Company's website at www.ar3.com.au. Additionally, the Company is required to prepare and lodge with ASIC yearly and half-yearly financial statements accompanied by a Directors' statement and report, and an audit report or review. These reports are released to ASX and published on the Company's and ASX's websites.

7.2 Dispute resolution

The Company reserves the right to settle, in any manner it thinks fit, any difficulties, anomalies or disputes which may arise in connection with or by reason of the operation of the Offer or the interpretation of these Terms and Conditions. The Company's decision will be conclusive and binding on all shareholders and other persons to whom the determination relates, as the case may be.

7.3 Notices

Notices to the Company will only be effective if in writing, and in such form as the Company directs from time to time, and sent to the Company at its Share Registry, or such other address as is notified by the Company from time to time.

Notices must be received by the Company during the Offer period to be effective for the issue of Shares that relate to that period. Notices received after the Offer period will not be effective.

7.4 Waiver, amendment, suspension and termination

The Company may, in its discretion, waive compliance with any provision of these Terms and Conditions, amend or vary these Terms and Conditions or suspend, withdraw or terminate the Offer at any time.

Any variation, suspension or termination of the Offer, made in accordance with Section 7.4:

- subject only to the below, will be effective from the date of such resolution or otherwise from a date determined by the Directors; and
- will not give rise to any liability, cost or expense on the part of, or right of action against, the Company or the Directors.

The Directors may at any time prescribe the manner in which notice to Eligible Shareholders of any variation, suspension or termination of the Offer will be given or deemed to have been given to Eligible Shareholders including, without limitation, by an announcement by the Company to the ASX, which notice will be effective immediately on the giving of that notice or variation, suspension or termination in the manner prescribed by the Directors.

The accidental omission to give notice of any variation, suspension or termination of the Offer to any Eligible Shareholders in the manner so prescribed by the Directors pursuant to this Section or, where applicable, the non-receipt of any such notice by any Eligible Shareholders will not invalidate the variation, suspension or termination of the Offer.

8. Investment risks

The following describes some of the external factors and business risks that could have a material impact on the Company.

8.1 Risks specific to the Offer

Potential for significant dilution

Upon completion of the Offer, assuming all Entitlements are accepted, the number of Shares in the Company will increase from 158,989,727 to approximately 211,986,303. This increase equates to approximately 31.8% of all the issued Shares in the Company following completion of the Offer.

This means that each Share will represent a significantly lower proportion of the ownership of the Company. It is not possible to predict what the value of the Company or a Share will be following the completion of the Offer, and the Directors do not make any representation to such matters.

The last trading price of Shares on ASX prior to the Offer being announced of $0.082 is not a reliable indicator as to the potential trading price of Shares following completion of the Offer. Shareholders should note that if they do not participate in the Offer, their holdings are likely to be diluted by approximately up to 31.8% (as compared to their holdings and number of Shares on issue as at the date of the Offer Booklet).

8.2 Risks specific to the Company

Access to funding

The Company's ability to continue to develop its business is contingent upon sourcing timely access to additional funding as it is required.

Mineral Exploration

Notwithstanding the experience, knowledge and careful evaluation the Company brings to an exploration project, there is no assurance that recoverable mineral resources will be identified. Even if identified, other factors such as technical difficulties, geological conditions, adverse changes in government policy or legislation or lack of access to sufficient funding may mean that the resource is not economically recoverable or may otherwise preclude the Company from successfully exploiting the resource.

Mineral resource estimates may be inaccurate

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information becomes available.

In addition, resource estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. Should the Company encounter mineralisation or formations different from those predicted by past drilling, sampling and similar examinations, resource estimates may have to be adjusted, and mining plans may have to be altered in a way which could adversely affect the Company's operations.

Tenure and Access

Mining and exploration tenements are subject to periodic renewal. There is no guarantee that current or future tenements or future applications for production tenements will be approved or that current exploration tenement applications will be granted. Tenements are subject to numerous State-specific legislation conditions.

The renewal of the term of a granted tenement (and grant of tenement applications) is subject to the discretion of the relevant Minister. The imposition of new conditions either during the term of a tenement or upon renewal, or the inability to meet those conditions may adversely affect the operations, financial position and/or performance of the Company.

Land Access

There is a substantial level of regulation and restriction on the ability of exploration and mining companies to have access to land in Australia. Negotiations with Native Title and/or landowners/occupiers are generally required before an entity can access land for exploration or mining activities. Inability to access, or delays experienced in accessing, the land may impact on the Company's activities.

Commodity and Currency Price Volatility

The Company is exposed to adverse global demand for rare earths and uranium / or other adverse commodity price movements. This could affect the Company's ability to raise funds to advance its projects. Any significant and/or sustained fluctuation in exchange rates or commodity prices could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's operations and its financial position.

Further, any adverse movements in commodity demand or commodity prices could impact the carrying value of its capitalised exploration and evaluation expenditure as assessed under Australian Accounting Standards impairment requirements.

Competition from alternatives to rare earths

The Company is exposed to the future demand for rare earths. Rare earths are potentially substitutable in a variety of applications and in particular, there are active research and development programs in companies and research labs around the world aiming to reduce the need for the key magnet rare earth elements of Neodymium, Praseodymium, Dysprosium and Terbium in a variety of magnet applications. Technology changes may occur that reduce the demand for such rare earths.

Competition from alternatives to uranium

The Company is exposed to the future demand for uranium for use in nuclear energy generation. Nuclear energy is in direct competition with other more conventional sources of energy which include gas, coal, oil, hydroelectricity and renewables.

Furthermore, any potential growth of the nuclear power industry (with any attendant increase in the demand for uranium) beyond its current level will depend upon continued and increased acceptance of nuclear technology as a means of generating electricity.

One of the arguments in favour of nuclear energy is its lower emissions of carbon dioxide per unit of power generated compared to coal and gas. Various renewables technologies also have low or very low carbon dioxide emissions. Technological advances may make renewables more efficient and reliable and reduce the demand for uranium in the future.

Geopolitical risks specific to rare earths

Investments in rare earths projects are subject to significant geopolitical risks that can materially impact commodity prices and project viability. The global rare earths market is highly concentrated, with supply chains dominated by a small number of countries, exposing projects to sudden changes in trade policies, export restrictions, tariffs, and geopolitical tensions. These factors can lead to price volatility, supply disruptions, and regulatory uncertainty, which may adversely affect the financial performance and valuation of rare earths projects. Investors should be aware that geopolitical dynamics beyond the control of the Company could have a material adverse impact on project economics and returns.

Commercialisation and contractual risk

The Company's potential future earnings, profitability and growth are likely to be dependent on the Company being able to successfully develop its projects and implement some or all of its commercialisation plans.

The ability for the Company to do so is further dependent upon a number of factors, including matters which may be beyond the control of the Company. The Company may not be successful in securing identified customers or market opportunities.

During development of the Company's projects, the Company is likely to become party to various contracts, including but not limited to contracts relating to infrastructure access, mineral processing and customer product supply arrangements.

Whilst the Company will have various contractual rights in the event of noncompliance by a contracting party, no assurance can be given that all contracts to which the Company is a party will be fully performed by all contracting parties. Additionally, no assurance can be given that if the contracting party does not comply with any contractual provisions, the Company will be successful in securing compliance.

Environmental and Compliance

The current or future operations of the Company, including mineral exploration or development activities and commencement of production, require permits from governmental authorities and such operations are and will be governed by laws and regulations governing prospecting, development, mining, environmental protection, mine safety, land access and other matters. Such laws and regulations may vary in future.

There can be no assurance, however, that all permits which the Company may require for mineral exploration or construction of mining facilities and conduct of mining operations will be obtainable on reasonable terms or that such laws and regulations would not have an adverse effect on the ability to ultimately secure licensing for a mining project.

In relation to current activities, the Company is in compliance with governing laws and regulations and manages these risks through its existing standard operating procedures, management plans, internal policy and liaison with regulators and stakeholders.

Uranium mining regulation

Uranium mining in Australia is subject to a complex and evolving regulatory framework at both the state and federal levels. While uranium mining is permitted in South Australia, projects are required to comply with stringent environmental, health, and safety regulations, as well as secure necessary approvals, licenses, and permits from multiple government agencies. Any changes in legislation, government policy, or regulatory requirements—particularly those relating to environmental standards, radiation protection, or Indigenous land rights—could result in delays, increased costs, or the suspension of operations. There is also a risk that future changes in political or public sentiment toward uranium mining could lead to more restrictive regulations or impact the approval process. These factors may materially affect the Company's ability to develop or operate its uranium project in South Australia.

Environmental Issues

The Company's operations are subject to environmental regulations in relation to its exploration activities. The Company is compliant with all aspects of these requirements. The Board is not aware of any environmental law that is not being complied with.

Appendix:

Key risks

Key Risks (1/2)

The following describes some of the external factors and business risks that could have a material impact on the Company.

Risks specific to the Offer

Potential for significant dilution

Upon completion of the Offer, assuming all Entitlements are accepted, the number of Shares in the Company will increase from 158,989,727 to 211,986,303. This increase equates to approximately 31.8% of all the issued Shares in the Company following completion of the Offer.

This means that each Share will represent a significantly lower proportion of the ownership of the Company. It is not possible to predict what the value of the Company or a Share will be following the completion of the Offer, and the Directors do not make any representation to such matters.

The last trading price of Shares on ASX prior to the Offer Booklet being lodged of $0.082 is not a reliable indicator as to the potential trading price of Shares following completion of the Offer.

Shareholders should note that if they do not participate in the Offer, their holdings are likely to be diluted by approximately up to 31.8% (as compared to their holdings and number of Shares on issue as at the date of the Offer Booklet

Risks specific to the Company

Access to funding

The Company's ability to continue to develop its business is contingent upon sourcing timely access to additional funding as it is required.

Mineral Exploration

Notwithstanding the experience, knowledge and careful evaluation the Company brings to an exploration project, there is no assurance that recoverable mineral resources will be identified. Even if identified, other factors such as technical difficulties, geological conditions, adverse changes in government policy or legislation or lack of access to sufficient funding may mean that the resource is not economically recoverable or may otherwise preclude the Company from successfully exploiting the resource.

Mineral resource estimates may be inaccurate

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information becomes available.

In addition, resource estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. Should the Company encounter mineralisation or formations different from those predicted by past drilling, sampling and similar examinations, resource estimates may have to be adjusted, and mining plans may have to be altered in a way which could adversely affect the Company's operations.

Tenure and Access

Mining and exploration tenements are subject to periodic renewal. There is no guarantee that current or future tenements or future applications for production tenements will be approved or that current exploration tenement applications will be granted. Tenements are subject to numerous State-specific legislation conditions.

The renewal of the term of a granted tenement (and grant of tenement applications) is subject to the discretion of the relevant Minister. The imposition of new conditions either during the term of a tenement or upon renewal, or the inability to meet those conditions may adversely affect the operations, financial position and/or performance of the Company.

Land Access

There is a substantial level of regulation and restriction on the ability of exploration and mining companies to have access to land in Australia. Negotiations with Native Title and/or landowners/occupiers are generally required before an entity can access land for exploration or mining activities. Inability to access, or delays experienced in accessing, the land may impact on the Company's activities.

Commodity and Currency Price Volatility

The Company is exposed to adverse global demand for rare earths and uranium / or other adverse commodity price movements. This could affect the Company's ability to raise funds to advance its projects. Any significant and/or sustained fluctuation in exchange rates or commodity prices could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's operations and its financial position.

Further, in accordance with the relevant Australian Accounting Standards, the Company is required to keep under review the carrying value of its capitalised exploration and evaluation expenditure. In certain circumstances, a decline in the market prices of rare earths or uranium may require a write down in those carrying values.

Competition from alternatives to rare earths

The Company is exposed to the future demand for rare earths. Rare earths are potentially substitutable in a variety of applications and in particular, there are active research and development programs in companies and research labs around the world aiming to reduce the need for the key magnet rare earth elements of Neodymium, Praseodymium, Dysprosium and Terbium in a variety of magnet applications. Technology changes may occur that reduce the demand for such rare earths.

Key Risks (2/2)

Competition from alternatives to uranium

The Company is exposed to the future demand for uranium for use in nuclear energy generation. Nuclear energy is in direct competition with other more conventional sources of energy which include gas, coal, oil, hydroelectricity and renewables.

Furthermore, any potential growth of the nuclear power industry (with any attendant increase in the demand for uranium) beyond its current level will depend upon continued and increased acceptance of nuclear technology as a means of generating electricity.

One of the arguments in favour of nuclear energy is its lower emissions of carbon dioxide per unit of power generated compared to coal and gas. Various renewables technologies also have low or very low carbon dioxide emissions. Technological advances may make renewables more efficient and reliable and reduce the demand for uranium in the future.

Geopolitical risks specific to rare earths

Investments in rare earths projects are subject to significant geopolitical risks that can materially impact commodity prices and project viability. The global rare earths market is highly concentrated, with supply chains dominated by a small number of countries, exposing projects to sudden changes in trade policies, export restrictions, tariffs, and geopolitical tensions. These factors can lead to price volatility, supply disruptions, and regulatory uncertainty, which may adversely affect the financial performance and valuation of rare earths projects. Investors should be aware that geopolitical dynamics beyond the control of the Company could have a material adverse impact on project economics and returns.

Commercialisation and contractual risk

The Company's potential future earnings, profitability and growth are likely to be dependent on the Company being able to successfully develop its projects and implement some or all of its commercialisation plans.

The ability for the Company to do so is further dependent upon a number of factors, including matters which may be beyond the control of the Company. The Company may not be successful in securing identified customers or market opportunities.

During development of the Company's projects, the Company is likely to become party to various contracts, including but not limited to, contracts relating to infrastructure access, mineral processing and customer product supply arrangements.

Whilst the Company will have various contractual rights in the event of noncompliance by a contracting party, no assurance can be given that all contracts to which the Company is a party will be fully performed by all contracting parties. Additionally, no assurance can be given that if the contracting party does not comply with any contractual provisions, that the Company will be successful in securing compliance.

Environmental and Compliance

The current or future operations of the Company, including mineral exploration or development activities and commencement of production, require permits from governmental authorities and such operations are and will be governed by laws and regulations governing prospecting, development, mining, environmental protection, mine safety, land access and other matters. Such laws and regulations may vary in future.

There can be no assurance, however, that all permits which the Company may require for mineral exploration or construction of mining facilities and conduct of mining operations will be obtainable on reasonable terms or that such laws and regulations would not have an adverse effect on the ability to ultimately secure licensing for a mining project.

In relation to current activities, the Company is in compliance with governing laws and regulations and manages these risks through its existing standard operating procedures, management plans, internal policy and liaison with regulators and stakeholders.

Uranium mining regulation

Uranium mining in Australia is subject to a complex and evolving regulatory framework at both the state and federal levels. While uranium mining is permitted in South Australia, projects are required to comply with stringent environmental, health, and safety regulations, as well as secure necessary approvals, licenses, and permits from multiple government agencies. Any changes in legislation, government policy, or regulatory requirements—particularly those relating to environmental standards, radiation protection, or Indigenous land rights—could result in delays, increased costs, or the suspension of operations. There is also a risk that future changes in political or public sentiment toward uranium mining could lead to more restrictive regulations or impact the approval process. These factors may materially affect the Company's ability to develop or operate its uranium project in South Australia.

Environmental Issues

The Company's operations are subject to environmental regulations in relation to its exploration activities. The Company is compliant with all aspects of these requirements. The Board is not aware of any environmental law that is not being complied with.
