

March 2025 Quarterly Activities Report and Appendix 4C

Operations update

During the reporting period, the Company's primary achievements were technical, centered on advancing our Digital Sound Reconstruction technology toward commercialisation and mass production.

Our primary MEMS vendor has, to date, been unable to meet the reliability standards required for our Gen-II chips. In order to mitigate the risks and accelerate development, as was reported at the 2023 AGM (held on March 26, 2024), management initiated the independent development of a fabrication process for our MEMS-GEN-II in cooperation with a North American MEMS development lab.

Our direct engagement in the process has significantly shortened the development timeline and already yielded promising results with initial wafers are scheduled for completion by the end of Q2 2025. Crucially, owning the fabrication process flow of our core component(s) enables the Company to onboard new foundries selectively, and ensure quality and scalability while reducing dependency on specific third parties.

In parallel, our second-generation ASIC—redesigned to maximize Gen-II MEMS performance—is now being taped out at a leading European foundry. Together with our new, compact chip package, this positions us to deliver a truly disruptive solid-state audio solution.

We continue to receive strong inbound interest from multiple sectors including consumer audio, automotive, and industrial applications. Industry feedback consistently reinforces that our technology offers a step-change in performance, delivering a unique combination of miniaturization, sound fidelity, efficiency, and scalability. We believe the Company is approaching a critical inflection point, with near-term milestones that directly support customer engagement, validation, and ultimately, commercial deployment and will continue to update the market as key milestones are achieved.

Payments to related parties

The amounts included in Item 6.1 of $45,161 include directors' fees and superannuation paid to non-executive directors or entities associated with non-executive directors of $37,739. Interest was paid in cash on the convertible note to 4F Investments Pty Limited (a company associated with Fred Bart) during the quarter amounting to $7,422.

Unsecured loans

This unsecured loan facility attracts an interest rate of 12% (capitalised until repayment of the loan facility) and is repayable when the Company undertakes a capital raise.
