FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

Solid foundations amid global uncertainty

Anthony Miller, Chief Executive Officer

This result confirms Westpac's strong position. We are growing in the areas we're targeting and supporting customers through uncertain times.

I'm pleased with the way our people have galvanised around our priorities. This First Half Result demonstrates our achievements and ensures we are ready for the challenges ahead.

Westpac's very strong balance sheet is important given global uncertainty. Our capital, liquidity and deposit-based funding enable us to support our customers and our community.

We're managing margins actively in a competitive environment, achieving sustainable growth in our target areas. In particular, our focus on business and institutional is delivering results with Australian business lending up 14% and institutional lending up 15% over the year.

Success will be built on customer service excellence. Our NPS is improving and we have set this as a goal. Westpac's award-winning app is an important driver, along with our scam-prevention technology and future investment in next-generation initiatives like our corporate transaction platform, Westpac One and new business lending origination platform, BizEdge.

We recently announced we are expanding Westpac's presence in regional areas with three new service centres to open in Moree, Leongatha and Smithton. This reflects the work we've done on identifying the best way to serve our customers, finding the right balance across physical, virtual and digital services.

Work on cost management is ongoing and UNITE will play a profound role helping reduce the cost to income ratio over time, improving service for customers and making it easier for our people to deliver.

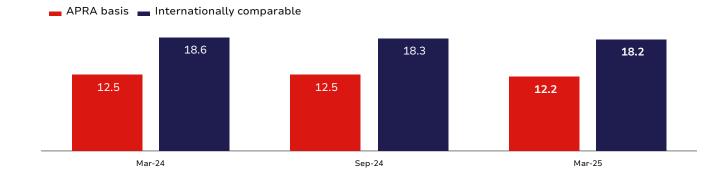

Customers and economy remain resilient

The resilience of customers who have navigated significant cost of living challenges over the past few years is impressive. We're pleased we've been able to support customers through this period and RBA rate cuts are now also providing welcome relief.

This resilience is reflected in the improvement in credit quality metrics indicating we may have passed the low point in the cycle. Mortgage delinquencies and impairment charges remain low. We are ready to assist customers who need help.

Geopolitical uncertainty is a key risk that's as high as it has been for a very long time. Changes to global trade policies have impacted markets and funding for the bank. Despite the volatility, it's important that we look through the noise and avoid reacting to the headlines. Australia is well placed to handle the instability.

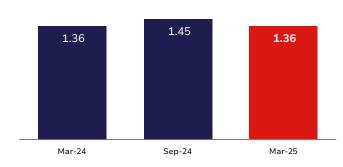

We look forward to working with the Government and combining our efforts to address key challenges and opportunities, including providing more housing, guaranteeing access to cash with a sustainable long-term model and challenging ourselves as to how we compete as a nation going forward.
