Ophir High Conviction Fund (ASX:OPH) – Investor Update

Dear Investor,

On 11th August 2025, we will be providing a video update on our Funds, including the Ophir High Conviction (ASX:OPH, “the Fund”).

1. Market insights & Fund performance*

In July, global stock markets proved remarkably resilient providing solid returns. The ASX 200 and ASX Small Ordinaries gaining +2.4% and +2.8%, respectively.

With soft payrolls data released in the U.S. recently rate cut expectations by the Fed have increased with a September rate cut looking highly likely. Market pricing also suggests the RBA in Australia will cut rates by 0.25% at its mid-August meeting.

For the month ending 31 July 2025, the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund gained +3.4% (net of fees), underperforming the benchmark, which gained +3.6%. The OPH ASX price rose +2.6% over the month.

*We note past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

2. Stocks in Focus

Top contributor

Life360 (ASX: 360) – The stock gaining +24.8% over the month. Life360 continues to perform as the market catches on to the significance of the advertising model and its other verticals.

Top detractor

Ora Banda (ASX: OBM) – The stock fell -15.0% over the month after Ora Banda lowered its full-year gold production guidance, primarily caused by unplanned downtime at its Davyhurst processing plant. This doesn't impact our longer-term forecasts for the company and we see this as an overcorrection in the share price.

3. OPH trading at a discount

We note the OPH share price traded at a discount to its Net Tangible Asset per share (NTA) for July 2025.

We like the opportunity to buy low throughout the cycle, whether that is stocks in our own Funds, or OPH itself with our own personal investments.

4. OPH buy-back facility

We commenced utilising the buy-back facility for OPH during March 2020 as markets sold off during the early stages of COVID-19. The buyback facility was rolled for another 12 months on the 9th January 2025, and we will continue to utilise this where we see good value on offer in the OPH unit price. We have a process and rules in place for when we use the facility in the market to buy back OPH units. We remain committed to this facility and process and will continue to use this mechanism where we believe it is in the best interests of all unitholders and accretive to performance of the Fund over the long term.

We remain as hard working as ever to find and allocate to those small and mid-cap businesses listed in Australia that we believe can significantly grow earnings and provide attractive risk-adjusted returns over the medium to long term.

Your sincerely,
