CHAIRMAN'S REVIEW

Since listing on ASX the Company has outperformed its benchmark, generated a strong level of income and commenced the payment of regular monthly franked dividends to shareholders at an annualised 8.0% rate.

Whitefield Income successfully completed its 1st financial year as an ASX listed company on 30th June 2025. I am pleased to report that over the 7 months since listing the Company has outperformed its benchmark, generated a strong level of income from its portfolio and commenced the payment of regular monthly franked dividends to shareholders.

Investment Returns

Whitefield Income generated gross income of 6.5%, a total return after costs of 3.2% and outperformed its Benchmark Index by 1.7% over the 7 months since listing on ASX. These positive results reflect a continuation of the strong performance of the Whitefield Income strategy which had been operating in an unlisted fund for four years prior to the listing of Whitefield Income on ASX.

Combining the returns of the unlisted fund and Whitefield Income, the Portfolio Total Return after costs over the last 12 month period amounted to 18.8%, a result that was 7.3% higher than the Benchmark Index return of 11.5%.

¹ Returns prior to Dec 2024 include the returns of the Whitefield Income strategy in an unlisted fund from 20 Jan 2021.

Operating Profit and Earnings Per Share

Whitefield Income's operating profit after tax for the year ended 30th June 2025 amounted to $7,832,823. Operating profit reflects the dividend and distribution income generated from the Company's investment holdings after deduction of all expenses of operation.

The Company's total costs of operation were consistent with the expected operating costs outlined in the Company's Prospectus. Costs amounted to 0.7% of the post-listing net asset value.

The operating profit after tax result translates to earnings per share of 4.89 cents for the 7 months of operation since listing.

Dividends

Whitefield Income's policy is to distribute the majority of its operating profit to shareholders as monthly dividends. As anticipated in the Company's Prospectus, Whitefield Income has determined and paid monthly franked dividends in all months following its first full quarter of operations.

Monthly dividends of 0.583 cents per share, fully franked, were paid in April, May and June 2025. The Company has also determined to continue to pay dividends at this same monthly rate for the July to September 2025 period.

These dividends (gross of franking credits) equate to an annualised rate of 8%pa on the IPO share issue price of $1.25.

While the Company's objective is to pay a relatively consistent base level of monthly dividends, the Company may periodically adjust the dividend based on operating profit outcomes, tax, the distribution of surplus profits, or profit retention for dividend smoothing purposes or the support of the capital base.

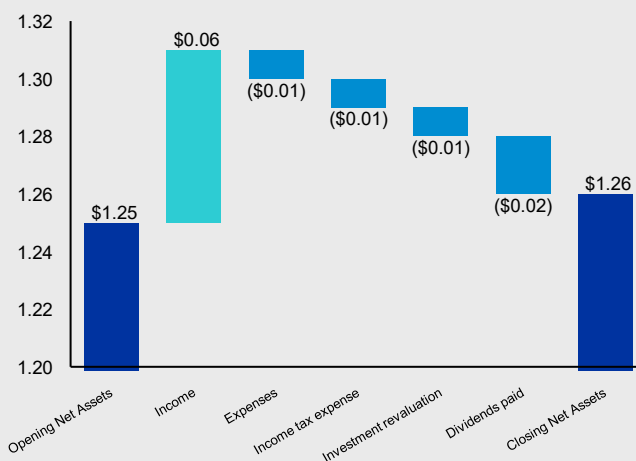

Net Asset Backing

The Company's net asset backing per share (before providing for deferred tax) amounted to $1.26 at 30 June 2025 compared to $1.25 immediately following the Company's IPO in December 2024.

Whitefield Income also holds the objective of maintaining or increasing its net asset backing per share over the long term in addition to the payment of regular monthly dividends. Shareholders however should recognise that net asset backing can be expected to fluctuate due to the retention of profit, the payment of dividends and as the market value of investment holdings change from day to day.

Movements in the asset backing across the 7 months since listing are shown below.

Investment Exposures

Whitefield Income actively and systematically rotates its investment portfolio to emphasise exposure to listed businesses as they move through the most favourable periods in their income recognition and dividend payment cycles. This means that the Company's investment holdings are continuously changing and the portfolio at any month end will differ from the portfolio in subsequent months.

The following chart illustrates movements in Whitefield Income's exposures over the last 7 months, as a listed company.

Outlook

Australian economic activity has continued at a moderate pace through the second quarter of the calendar year. Employment has generally remained firm and unemployment low, construction activity has increased slightly (supported by ongoing infrastructure spending and underlying housing demand) and services activity has recently strengthened.

Coupled with benign inflation data and mildly lower interest rates, the outlook for the Australian domestic economy in isolation remains positive.

The global outlook however, is less clear. The Trump administration's implementation of a broadly-based tariff regime on US imports and its use as a bargaining tool in trade negotiations represents a significant change to the structure of international trade, the benefits of which may only emerge over time.

In the short term these policies are likely to result in rising costs for US consumers and US businesses, higher measured inflation in the US and disruption as companies grapple with the uncertain and rapidly changing supply chain and pricing environment.

The implications for Australian markets are a slowing of demand for Australian raw materials by our trading partners (such as China) and a slowing of demand for Australian exporters to the US. The potential for global inflation to rise due to the increase in trade barriers is an outcome which may be in conflict with the monetary policy need to cut rates to support economic activity.

The changeable nature of the US trade negotiations, the disruption for businesses as they adjust to the new regime and the unclear economic outcomes that result may see equity markets remain volatile as we move through the 2026 financial year.

Whitefield Income systematically and actively invests in those stocks and sectors capable of generating income and returns in economic conditions as they change over time. The continuously adjusting dynamic nature of this strategy are important characteristics that can be valuable contributors to delivering returns for shareholders in a period of global economic uncertainty.

We will look forward to continuing to provide shareholders with a steady flow of monthly franked dividends and will continue to report to shareholders as our 2026 financial year progresses.

Remuneration report (Audited)

The Board and Remuneration Committee determine the remuneration structure of Non-Executive Directors having regard to the scope of the Company's operations and other relevant factors including the frequency of Board meetings. The remuneration of Non-Executive Directors is not explicitly linked to the Company's performance. The Board makes a recommendation to shareholders as to the level of Non-Executive Directors remuneration which is then put to shareholders at the Annual General Meeting for approval should the aggregate remuneration be subject to an increase.

The Company pays no direct remuneration to the Executive Directors. Mr Angus J. Gluskie and Mr William R. Seddon are officers and shareholders of Whitefield Capital Management Pty Ltd. Whitefield Capital Management Pty Ltd is contracted by the Company as the Investment Manager and receives fees for service on normal commercial terms and conditions.

The Investment Manager is entitled to a monthly management fee of 0.0625% (plus GST) of the average Value of the Portfolio over the month (which equates to approximately 0.75% pa (plus GST)). Under a Cost Subsidy Agreement, the Investment Manager has agreed to reduce its management fee entitlement (net of the benefit of reduced input tax credits within the Company) for a financial year by an amount equivalent to the amount by which Other operating expenses of the Company for the relevant financial year exceed 0.25% p.a. The Performance fee is calculated and accrued monthly and paid semi-annually. The maximum Performance fee in any semi-annual period is capped at 1/30th of the return of the Portfolio after expenses. If the Performance Fee would have otherwise exceeded the semi-annual cap, the excess Performance fee shall be carried forward to future semi-annual periods and applied to offset any negative accumulated Performance fee for those future periods (representing underperformance that must be recouped).

For the year ended 30 June 2025, a Performance fee of $493,619 (inclusive of GST) has been determined prior to the application of the Performance fee cap of $274,571 (inclusive of GST). Accordingly, the Investment Manager was entitled to the capped Performance fee of $274,571 (inclusive of GST). In accordance with the Agreement, Performance fees in excess of the cap amount to $219,048 (inclusive of GST) and are carried forward to future periods and will be applied and offset against any negative calculated performance fee.

2 Summary of material accounting policies

The material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated. The financial statements are for the individual entity Whitefield Income Limited.

(a) Basis of preparation

These general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board and the Corporations Act 2001. Whitefield Income Limited is a for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements.

The financial statements were authorised for issue by the directors on 20 August 2025.

(i) Compliance with IFRS

The financial statements of the Company also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

(ii) New and amended standards adopted by the Company

There are no standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are effective for the first time for the financial year beginning 1 July 2024 that have a material impact on the Company.

(iii) Historical cost convention

Except for cash flow information, the financial statements, have been prepared on an accrual basis, and are based on historical costs modified by the revaluation of selected financial assets and financial liabilities for which fair value basis of accounting has been applied.

(iv) New standards and interpretations not yet adopted

There are no other standards that are not yet effective and that would be expected to have a material impact on the entity in the current or future reporting periods and on foreseeable future transactions.

(b) Investments and other financial assets

(i) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Investments in equity securities are initially recognised at fair value plus transaction costs. Equity securities are purchased in accordance with the Company's investment strategy in order to generate income in the form of dividends and distributions.

Recognition

Purchases are recognised on trade date, the date on which the Company commits to purchase the asset.

Classification

The Company has made an irrevocable election to classify these investments as financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income. All realised and unrealised gains or losses on these investments and tax thereon, are presented in other comprehensive income as part of the Statement of Comprehensive income.

2 Summary of material accounting policies (continued)

(b) Investments and other financial assets (continued)

Determination of Fair Value

AASB 13 Fair Value Measurement defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal, or in its absence, the most advantageous market that the Company has access at that date.

The Company uses the last sale price as the most representative basis of measuring fair value under AASB 13.

Subsequent Measurement

At each reporting date, investments are remeasured to fair value. Changes in fair value are recognised in equity through the revaluation reserve after deducting a provision for potential deferred tax.

Derecognition

Sales of financial assets are recognised on trade-date, the date on which the Company commits to sell the asset. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive the cash flows from the financial assets have expired or have been transferred and the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership.

When an investment is disposed of, the cumulative gain or loss, net of tax thereon, is transferred from the revaluation reserve to the realised gains/loss reserve.

(c) Income and expenditure

Dividend income from equity securities is recognised in profit or loss on the ex-dividend date.

Trust distributions are recognised on a present entitlements basis and recognised in profit or loss on the day the distributions are announced.

All expenses, including Management Fees are recognised in profit or loss on an accruals basis.

(d) Income tax

The income tax expense or benefit for the period is the tax payable on that period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction, adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences, unused tax losses and the adjustment recognised for prior periods, where applicable.

The Company may incur withholding tax imposed by certain countries on investment income. Such income will be recorded net of withholding tax in the statement of comprehensive income.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognised for temporary differences at the tax rates expected to apply when the assets are recovered or liabilities are settled, based on those tax rates that are enacted or substantively enacted for each jurisdiction.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

The carrying amount of recognised and unrecognised deferred tax assets are reviewed each reporting date.

Deferred tax assets recognised are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that future taxable profits will be available for the carrying amount to be recovered.

Previously unrecognised deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that there are future taxable profits available to recover the asset.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, except to the extent that it relates to an item recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(e) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

(f) Functional and presentation currency

The functional and presentation currency of the Company is Australian dollars.

(g) Comparatives

Where necessary, comparative information has been reclassified to be consistent with current reporting period.

(h) Operating segments

The Company operated in Australia only and the principal activity is investment. The Company has only one reportable segment and in one industry being the securities industry, deriving revenue from dividend income, interest income and from trust distribution income.

(i) Rounding of amounts

In accordance with ASIC Corporations (rounding in Financial/Directors' Reports) Instrument 2016/191, the amounts in the Financial Statements have been rounded to the nearest dollar, unless otherwise indicated.

3 Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including interest rate risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company uses different methods to measure the risk to which it is exposed. These methods include sensitivity analysis in the case of market risks, and ratings agency analysis for credit risk.

(a) Market risk

AASB 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures defines this as the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

(i) Price risk

Exposure

The Company is exposed to equity securities price risk. This arises from investments held by the Company and classified in the Statement of Financial Position as financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income.

The Company's investment portfolio is spread across the following sectors:

Sector	2025 (%)	2024 (%)
Communication Services	1.38	-
Information technology	2.58	-
Healthcare	3.01	-
Energy	3.63	-

Sensitivity

The following table illustrates the effect on the Company's equity should there be a general fall in market prices of 10 per cent and 30 per cent, assuming a flat tax rate of 30 per cent:

	Impact on equity

A hypothetical fall in market prices by 10%	(13,905,334)	-
A hypothetical fall in market prices by 30%	(41,716,003)	-

(b) Credit risk

AASB 7 defines this as the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.

The maximum exposure to credit risk, excluding the value of any collateral or other security, at balance date to recognised financial assets, is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the Statement of Financial Position and Notes to the Financial Statements.

None of these assets are over-due or considered to be impaired.

(c) Liquidity risk

AASB 7 defines this as the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The Investment Manager monitors its cash-flow requirements daily in relation to the investing account taking into account upcoming dividends, tax payments and investing activity.

The Company's inward cash flows depend upon the level of dividend and distribution revenue received and sales of investments. Because the Company's investments are liquid and readily tradeable, the Company has the ability to manage its total cash inflows. The Company's major cash outflows are the purchase of securities and dividends paid to shareholders. The level of both of these is managed by the Board and Investment Manager.

4 Fair value measurements

The Company measures and recognises the following assets at fair value on a recurring basis:

- Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)

The Company has no assets or liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis in the current reporting period.

(a) Fair value hierarchy

AASB 13 requires disclosure of fair value measurements by level of the following fair value measurement hierarchy:

- quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1)
- inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (as prices) or indirectly (derived from prices) (level 2), and
- inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs) (level 3).

(d) Capital risk management

The Company's issued share capital may be controlled through the issue of new shares, the buyback of existing shares or the return of capital to shareholders.

The Company may consider the issuance of additional shares should there be demand from investors, but will limit the scale of the company to the size it considers optimal for the implementation of its strategy in the Australian market. Subject to other relevant considerations, the Company would consider the buyback of shares should there be a material and persistent excess of shareholders wishing to sell their shares relative to the volume of buyers.

- b. complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

The financial report also complies with the International Financial Reporting Standards as disclosed in Note 2.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110: Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001, which has been given to the directors of the Company, would be in the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report for the year ended 30 June 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key Audit Matter	How Our Audit Addressed the Key Audit Matter
Valuation and Existence of Investments The investment portfolio at 30 June 2025 comprised of listed equity investments of $199 million (2024 $NIL). We focused on the valuation and existence of investments as investments represent the principal element of the net asset value disclosed in the statement of financial position.	We tested the valuation of listed investments by vouching the share prices to external market information to ensure they are fairly stated. We agreed on the existence of listed investments by confirming shareholdings with external custodian confirmation and recalculation of dividends received.
Revenue from Investments Australian Auditing Standards presume there are risks of fraud in revenue recognition unless rebutted. We focused on the cut-off, accuracy and completeness of dividend revenue and dividend receivables.	We assessed the accounting policy for revenue recognition for compliance with the accounting standards and performed testing to ensure that revenue had been accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy. We found that the accounting policies implemented were in accordance with the accounting standards, and that revenue has been accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy. We tested the accuracy and completeness of dividend revenue by agreeing the dividends and distributions of investments to supporting documentation obtained from ASX records and other external sources. We tested the cut-off of dividend revenue and dividend receivables by agreeing the dividend details of investments from external market information and ensured that dividends that were declared before, but payable after, the reporting date were recorded.

There were no restrictions on our reporting of Key Audit Matters.

Information Other than the Financial Report and Auditor's Report Thereon

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2025 but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Directors for the Financial Report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of:

- a) the financial report (other than the consolidated entity disclosure statement) that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001; and
- b) the consolidated entity disclosure statement that is a true and correct view in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of:

- a) the financial report (other than the consolidated entity disclosure statement) that gives a true and fair view and is free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and
- b) the consolidated entity disclosure statement that is a true and correct and is free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the directors are responsible for assessing the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the directors with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with the directors, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial report of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on the Remuneration Report

In our opinion, the remuneration report of Whitefield Income Limited for the year ended 30 June 2025 complies with s 300A of the Corporations Act 2001.

Responsibilities

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the remuneration report in accordance with s 300A of the Corporations Act 2001. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the remuneration report, based on our audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards.
