

CARISOLV DENTAL PRODUCT ADDED TO THE ARTG

BTC health (ASX: BTC) announced today its wholly owned investment company BTC Speciality Health Pty Ltd has received confirmation of the inclusion to the Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods (ARTG) for its product Carisolv System (Carisolv). It is anticipated that the product will be made available in Australia during the current financial year.

Carisolv is a patented gel that assists in the removal and treatment of dental caries. It is a minimally invasive treatment that gives better bonding strength to the filling. <http://carisolvsystem.com/en>

BTC health Executive Chairman Dr. Richard Treagus commented; "We are excited to receive the registration of Carisolv, which is the first of three unique products licensed from RLS Global AB. We can now look forward to making this novel product available to patients within Australia in the coming months."
