Contemporaneously with the announcement of the Placement, the Board is pleased to announce that Imugene has entered into a licensing agreement in respect of the entire body of cancer vaccine work developed over 28 years by Professor Pravin Kaumaya of Ohio State University Comprehensive Cancer Centre, and The Mayo Clinic, both highly regarded, and prestigious medical institutions in the United States. Refer to ASX Release 7 June 2018 titled “Imugene Licences Extensive B-Cell Immuno-Oncology Portfolio from The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center & Mayo Clinic” for additional information.

Professor Kaumaya has developed multiple B-cell cancer vaccines and is a recognised leader in cancer vaccine research with an emphasis on peptide vaccines for cancer. He has published over 130 peer-reviewed articles in major scientific journals.

The multiple commercial, strategic and clinical benefits of this transaction secures Imugene’s global leadership in the promising B-cell peptide cancer vaccine sector, and in particular PD-1 checkpoint inhibitors, where Ohio State University Comprehensive Cancer Centre’s pre-clinical work for a Phase I PD-1 clinical trial is well advanced.

The benefits derived from the licensing agreement include:

- substantial intellectual property estate with a broad patent portfolio including six patent families comprising 16 issued patents or pending applications for compositions of matter and/or methods of use of a large range of B-cell peptide and cancer vaccines comprising PD-1, HER1, HER2, HER3, VEGF, IGF-1R, CD28 peptides and combinations thereof;

- expanding Imugene's R&D capability via access to Professor Kaumaya's comprehensive translational laboratory facilities at Ohio State University under a three year research contract.

The terms of the license include an initial upfront payment, milestone payments and single digit royalty payments based on future product sales, alternatively, tiered sublicensing fees which are tiered based on the stage at which Imugene may sub-license the licensed technology. Imugene does not expect the agreement to have any material impact on the company's financial results for the FY18-FY19 period.

Funds raised from the Placement and the issue of New Shares will assist in the development of these promising cancer drugs.

The Placement is to be followed by an Entitlement Offer (together, the Equity Raising).
