Ava Risk Group Limited (ASX: AVA) announces new major Oil & Gas Sectors win to the value of A$555k (phase 1).

Ava Risk Group (ASX: AVA), a market leader in the provision of risk management services and technologies, today announced a high value project win in the Middle East Oil and Gas sector utilising its market leading intrusion detection technology, Aura AI-2.

Commenting on the announcement, Ava Group Chief Executive Chris Fergus said, "I am pleased to announce a further material win in the O&G sector, our advanced FFT Aura AI-2 controller was selected for its ability to provide both perimeter and pipeline security from a single controller reducing infrastructure investment by the asset owner. Our intrusion detection solution integrates seamlessly into a wider security solution including CCTV and SCADA.

This project was highly competitive and I am glad to see Ava's solution was selected due to its market reputation of reliability, coupled with advanced detection capability. This is the first phase of a multi-phase project spanning many hundreds of kilometres of pipeline.

This win aligns with our focus on key sectors and establishing our credentials as the go-to provider of risk management solutions to critical national infrastructure and sectors where security is considered a strategic risk. The Oil & Gas sector remains part of our long-term strategy for growth and we continue to develop solutions to meet market demands."
