ESTIA HEALTH RESPONDS TO ROYAL COMMISSION INTO AGED CARE

Estia Health (“Estia”) (ASX:EHE) today said it supported Prime Minister Scott Morrison’s call for a Royal Commission into Australia’s aged care sector.

Estia Chief Executive Officer Norah Barlow said Estia welcomed scrutiny of the sector and any measures that would help not only ensure the safety and quality care of its residents but also provide a sustainable sector for all those in aged care.

“Caring for the elderly is a privilege and enormous responsibility. We will continue to work with government to build a viable sector that older Australians deserve,” Mrs Barlow said.

Estia looks forward to engaging in the consultation with government on the Terms of Reference for the Commission.
