Main business activity	Security Matters owns and commercialises technology to permanently and irrevocably 'mark' any object either solid, liquid or gas, allowing identification, proof of authenticity, tracking supply chain movements & quality assurance for countless products in virtually every industry. Security Matters' technology comprises a chemical-based hidden 'barcode' system, alongside a unique 'reader' to identify these codes, and a blockchain record to store and protect ownership data. Security Matters provides a turnkey solution to solve both authentication and track and trace challenges in production processes in order to uphold supply chain integrity, and provide quality assurance and brand accountability to producers of goods. The technology works as a track and trace system using a 'Marker' of any raw material (e.g. solids, liquids or gases), a proprietary 'Reader', and a unique algorithm to identify embedded sub-molecular particles in order to track and trace a good or raw material (by way of cloud-based verification technology) along a production process (or any other marked good along a supply chain) all the way to the end customer. Each identification of a Marker is stored, either locally on the reader or on private servers, cloud servers or on a blockchain record to store and protect data ownership. Markers can denote unique meanings for each product, batch and geography, resulting in complete identification. Thus, describing origins of manufacturing, product provenance, date of production to the end customer, etc. Markers can be embedded and identified in solids, liquids or gases.
