

ASX & MEDIA RELEASE12 March 2019*Service Stream secures a two-year extension to its Wireless Design and Construction Agreement with Vodafone

Leading essential network services company Service Stream Limited (ASX: SSM) is pleased to announce that it has secured a two-year extension to its contract with Vodafone Hutchison Australia (Vodafone) for the provision of wireless design and construction services. The contract, most recently re-signed in March 2017, included an initial two-year term which was followed by a two-year extension at Vodafone's election.

The agreement will see Service Stream continue to partner with Vodafone as a national provider of services associated with the design and construction of both existing and new wireless infrastructure across Australia.

Whilst the agreement does not provide guaranteed volumes, Service Stream estimates its value based on historical revenues to be in the order of $40 million over the additional two-year term.

Service Stream's Managing Director, Leigh Mackender, said "We are very pleased to secure the additional two-year term on our existing wireless design and construction agreement with Vodafone, further strengthening what has become a long-term relationship between our companies over 15 years. Service Stream looks forward to continuing to work closely with Vodafone in support of its infrastructure programs across the country at a time where demand for wireless telecommunication infrastructure (including new 5G technologies) continues to increase."
