8.8

1. Does the entity expect that it will continue to have the current level of net operating cash flows for the time being and, if not, why not?

YES – The company is seeking to secure a $150,000 private placement with a sophisticated investor during the month of April which will cover ongoing costs for at least the next two quarters. The Company will maintain current levels of cashflow expenditure. There are only minor tenement fees for this forthcoming quarter (Q2). The Company maintains low overhead costs. Low cost test work is in progress which was mostly paid for in Q1, 2021.

2. Has the entity taken any steps, or does it propose to take any steps, to raise further cash to fund its operations and, if so, what are those steps and how likely does it believe that they will be successful?

YES – Refer to point 1 above. Several prior ASX releases announce the company's intention to extinguish corporate loans by way of debt conversion to equity. The Company's forthcoming Annual General Meeting to be held on 11th May 2020 includes resolutions whereby the Board are seeking shareholder approval to complete this conversion. On receiving shareholder approval, the company will be in a better position to raise funds from either private equity or public funding depending on advice from market advisors.

3. Does the entity expect to be able to continue its operations and to meet its business objectives and, if so, on what basis?

YES – Rare earth metals are considered strategic and critical minerals world-wide, with demand for rare earth metals steadily increasing with few mature developers and operations outside of China. This year Company activities will work at advancing the project to establishing a revised resource statement, as a necessary pre-requisite to raising capital for a Scoping Study. This is congruent with our prior market releases.
