Brief explanation of any of the figures reported above necessary to enable the figures to be understood:

The loss from ordinary activities after tax is due to the Company continuing in the development phase of its Free Radical Generator Technology. The bulk of the costs incurred are through the Technical Services Agreement with Somnio Global LLC who are undertaking the Research and Development activities in conjunction with PurifLOH Limited.

The Company is restructuring its arrangements with Somnio as it has commenced movement of its commercial activities to focus more in Australia, whilst retaining the Somnio relationship and connections with various US OEM's that it has established.
