Global Health Limited Partners with Asta Swisstec Health

This strategic partnership will develop a connected healthcare ecosystem for under-serviced communities in Australia and Southeast Asia

Australian Healthcare Software Provider Global Health Limited (ASX: GLH) ("Global Health" or "Company") is pleased to announce that it has joined forces with Asta Swisstec Health Pty Ltd (ASH) in Darwin Northern Territory as an equity partner to provide health systems and services for remote and under-serviced regions.

This strategic partnership will allow Global Health together with Asta Swisstec Health to fulfil growing demands and the changes in healthcare services culture that have occurred since the pandemic, particularly for:

- Providing patients access to remote monitoring and virtual care services that can help relieve ongoing pressure to hospitals and healthcare centres,
- Allowing clinics and doctors to be Telehealth ready and gain better access to connected care services, and
- Supporting the digital ecosystem for the Deployable Healthcare Module (DHM) project out of the Northern Territory as a footprint into regional Australia and surrounding countries to provide much needed healthcare services to 400 million people in under-serviced communities across regional Australia and Southeast Asia.

Bill Angelidis, CEO of Asta and Director of Asta Swisstec Health commented:

"We are excited to partner with Global Health as it provides access to deliver our suite of IT services into a fast-growing emerging market; in addition, Asta will be well positioned to capitalise on further opportunities in the region as we expand our business."

Asta and Swisstec Analytics

Asta and Swisstec Analytics have been in partnership since 2018, servicing in-country radiology demand with an all-inclusive bundled solution for remote and under resourced hospitals. The solution includes Philips imaging modalities, advanced Informatics technology with access to a platform of International radiologists and doctors. This partnership has led to the enablement of healthcare providers and consumers to own, access, and share data across boundaries; a synergy which transforms radiologist workflow and allows the delivery of Asta's Artificial Intelligence (A.I.) algorithms and technology to meet the needs of the fastest growing healthcare market across Southeast Asia and China.

As a continuance of this strategic partnership, Asta Swisstec Health was established to support the increasing need of decentralised healthcare across the world.

Mathew Cherian, Executive Director of Global Health Ltd commented:

"Adoption of digital technology in healthcare has accelerated significantly globally throughout the pandemic, transforming the interaction experience between patients and healthcare service providers.

The increasing adoption of tele-consultations, remote diagnosis, use of personal monitoring devices and other digital engagement tools is generating greater demand for comprehensive and well-integrated solutions for healthcare providers and healthcare consumers.

The integration of Global Health's portfolio of SaaS platforms into the DHM project extends remote diagnosis to now encompass a comprehensive digital healthcare ecosystem that provides an extensive pool of urban-based Medical and Allied Health specialists for remote and under-serviced communities.

This is part of Global Health's "Growth Strategy" utilising our digital platforms to deliver quality healthcare services to remote communities both in Australia and ASEAN countries."

Global Health's involvement will further strengthen this partnership through its commitment to better connect clinicians and consumers with the goal of delivering better health outcomes.

Dr Naveed Alam, Clinical Director of Swisstec Analytics commented:

"Where you live should not significantly diminish your ability to access better healthcare. This partnership will substantially strengthen the ecosystem that we have been building and is aligned with our strategic vision to deliver tech-enabled, high-quality services for healthcare providers into remote and under-serviced regions in Australia and surrounding countries."

With Global Health, Asta Swisstec Health is ready to deliver holistic, end-to-end, state of the art healthcare engagement solutions to our clients anywhere, anytime.
