

Business Update

Dotz Nano Limited (ASX:DTZ, Dotz or the Company) an advanced technology company developing, manufacturing and commercialising marking, tracing and verification solutions, has entered into first service management agreement with Israel-based Biotechnology company Carmi Biotech Ltd. (Carmi Biotech) – a tier one supplier of NASDAQ-listed global biotech Orgenesis Inc.

Carmi Biotech has issued Dotz its first purchase order for €700k (approx. AUD1.08 million). The service management agreement and purchase order are the first deliverables of the collaboration agreement with Theracell Labs, a subsidiary of Orgenesis Inc., entered into and previously announced on 12 April 2022. The Company expects to receive additional Purchase Orders in the coming weeks.

Dotz will conduct work for the initial purchase order in two phases. First, it will set the technical requirements and then design, plan, integrate and implement its tagging solution in the Orgenesis mobile processing units and labs (OMPULs). For phase 2 Dotz will then perform gap analysis and provide documentation regarding good manufacturing process requirements and compliance for the adaptation of the tracking process in OMPUL settings.

Dotz expects the two phases of work will be conducted over the next four months, with payments from Carmi Biotech of €400k (approx. AUD 620k) in Q1 FY23 on the completion of phase 1, and the balance of €300k (approx. AUD 460k) to be paid at the conclusion of the project in early Q2 FY23.

Rapid diagnostics test kit sales update

With jurisdictions continuing to manage their responses to COVID-19 at a local level, relevant diagnostic products remain in demand. Since September 2022, Dotz has received purchase orders and payments for US$218k for its rapid diagnostics test kits.
