Acorn Capital - Investment Update

"The market trended higher in November, continuing the year-end equity market melt-up. The bulk of returns were driven by the Resources (+14.7%) and Financials (+5.4%) sectors. Markets globally reflected similar positive behaviour. Of note was the move in the Nasdaq (+7.4% in a single day, +4.4% for the month) after US CPI came in below expectations, fuelling investors to buy on expectations that inflation has peaked. Our view is we don't really know what inflation will do in the future (does anyone really know?) and our focus is to ensure the underlying portfolio holdings will be resilient if not prosperous in the higher inflationary environment. Despite the 11.7% rally over the past 2 months, the Small Ordinaries Index is still down 15.2% this calendar year, which is useful context when thinking about recent gains. The next big test for the market is likely in February next year when companies report half year results, and we try to interpret forward-looking commentary. We are closely watching for deteriorating operating conditions for the companies we invest in. To date we are not seeing any major cause for concern but are conscious that the impact of aggressively higher interest rates and higher costs on demand and margins may well be the story of 2023."

ACQ Objective

The Objective is to create a diversified portfolio of listed microcap companies and then to invest opportunistically in unlisted entities that offer better relative value. The performance objective for ACQ is to outperform the S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index over the medium to long term.

Dividend Intention

Acorn Capital Investment Fund Limited intends to pay annual dividends targeting at least 5% of closing post-tax NTA for each financial year, franked to the highest extent possible and without the Company incurring a liability.

Where the Company accumulates franking credits that the Board determines are in excess to its requirements it is the intent to distribute those excess credits by way of special dividends. This is subject to the Company having sufficient profit and cash flow to make such payments

Investment Philosophy

The investment philosophy is based on a belief that there are pricing inefficiencies amongst emerging or microcap companies due to a lack of readily available external research conducted on such entities.

Acorn Capital believes that through a research driven investment process the pricing inefficiencies that exist in both listed microcaps and unlisted microcaps can be exploited to earn returns superior to those available in the broader market.

Unlisted microcap opportunities must be of better relative value on a risk-adjusted basis to displace existing listed portfolio investments in the corresponding sector.

Investment Strategy

- Research-driven stock selection
- Economic sector diversified
- Style agnostic
- Long term investor
- Create diversified portfolios to reduce volatility

Through its strategies Acorn Capital can provide Investors with efficient off-index exposure to both public and private emerging companies.
