Titomic & Triton expand engagement with manufacturing purchase order

Titomic Limited (ASX: TTT) ("Titomic" or "Company") is pleased to announce that it has received a purchase order for ~$260,000 from Triton Systems (Triton) for the manufacture of components using Titomic's patented additive manufacturing technology, Titomic Kinetic Fusion.

As announced on March 31st, 2020, Triton and Titomic first entered a strategic partnership to introduce Titomic Kinetic Fusion to the US Department of Defense.

Triton Systems is a leading developer and provider of advanced technologies, and the receipt of this order highlights the continued demand for Titomic's cutting-edge and unique manufacturing capabilities.

This is another step toward commercialisation of Titomic's Kinetic Fusion technology on a larger scale, and further expansion into the key markets of the United States.

Titomic's Managing Director, Herbert Koeck, said:

"We're proud to receive this purchase order from Triton Systems, a highly respected company at the forefront of defense R&D. Our partnership continues to grow, and we look forward to delivering advanced manufacturing solutions that meet their unique needs. Our Kinetic Fusion technology, combined with Triton's expertise, has the potential to drive innovation across the defense industry and beyond."

A Triton Systems representative, said:

"We are excited to continue our innovative partnership with Titomic and leverage their Kinetic Fusion technology to improve our manufacturing capabilities. Our two companies complement each other well, and we look forward to continuing to deliver cutting-edge solutions to our customers. The integration of Titomic's technology into our operations will help us drive innovation and growth."

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Titomic Limited.
