RETIREMENT OF CHAIRMAN BOARD RENEWAL CONTINUES

Myer Holdings Limited (ASX:MYR) today announced that after seven years on the Board, JoAnne Stephenson has made the decision to retire as Chairman and as a Director at the upcoming 2023 Annual General Meeting (AGM).

The Board has unanimously determined that current Myer Non-Executive Director, Ari Mervis, will take over as the new Chairman, with effect from the conclusion of the AGM. Mr Mervis will stand for re-election as a Director at the AGM.

The Board remains focused on ensuring it has the relevant skills and experience to continue the successful delivery of the Customer First Plan and to deliver the next phase of Myer's growth and, in this context, during the second half of the financial year the Board completed a process to consider further director candidates to complement the existing Board's skillsets. As part of this process, the overall size of the Board, continuing renewal, and independence were also considered.

Following the above process, the Board is also delighted to announce that it has nominated Ms Olivia Wirth and Dr Gary Weiss AM for election as independent Non-Executive Directors at the upcoming AGM. Both nominees have the support of Myer's largest shareholder.

Myer Chairman, JoAnne Stephenson, said:

"It has always been a focus to have right skills, experience, independence and diversity on the Myer Board and I am pleased that two such outstanding candidates are standing for election as Directors at this year's AGM. Dr Weiss brings a wealth of commercial experience across a broad range of industries, including retail and property, whilst Ms Wirth brings significant expertise in a range of areas aligned to key elements of Myer's Customer First Plan, including loyalty and customer experience.

"The addition of Dr Weiss and Ms Wirth will strongly complement the existing mix of skills, experience, diversity and independence and enable the Board to continue to focus on delivering value for shareholders.

"After seven years on the Board, I believe now is the right time for transition to an outstanding new Chairman – Ari Mervis, who, with the unanimous support of the Board, is the right person to oversee the next stage of Myer's growth journey. He will also ensure stability and continuity, and brings a track record of working with the Myer executive team in a cohesive and constructive way in the delivery of the Customer First Plan.

"Being Chairman of Myer has been a privilege and I thank all shareholders, as well as customers, team members and brand partners, for the trust they have placed in me during my time on the Board. It has been particularly rewarding to see the business stabilised and strengthened and focusing again on what is at the heart of the Myer brand – delivering every day for our customers. I look forward to watching the Company continuing the positive momentum over the coming years."

Myer Chairman-designate, Ari Mervis, said:

"On behalf of the Board, I would like to thank JoAnne for the significant contribution she has made to the Myer business ensuring stability and strong leadership during some challenging and unprecedented times. JoAnne has led the Board with resolute professionalism and has worked closely with John King and the executive team in navigating the business through the COVID-19 pandemic, delivering a stronger Myer and reinstating dividends for our shareholders.

"If given the tremendous honour of being the next Chairman of Myer, I will endeavour to work constructively with all stakeholders to ensure ongoing stability and continuity for the Myer business. I look forward to working in a constructive and cohesive way with the Myer Executive Team to continue delivering against our Customer First Plan and future growth opportunities."
