Update On Israel Situation

Dotz's Operation Unaffected

Dotz Nano Limited (ASX: DTZ, "Dotz" or "Company"), a leading developer of innovative climate and industrial nanotechnologies, advises its operations are currently not currently impacted by the brutal attack on Israel.

Dotz has a business continuity plan and procedures in place, enabling employees to work remotely if required and ensuring operational and financial continuity. Dotz's R&D lab is operating normally, not impacted by the current situation and Dotz's employees are all safe.

Sharon Malka, CEO of Dotz said: "Our thoughts and prayers are with the victims and families of the fallen as we all face this terror attack together. Dotz executive management and board of directors are experienced in running ongoing operation and managing teams through challenging periods. Supported by our leadership team and the spirit of our nation, I firmly believe we can weather this storm while we remain committed to execute on our strategy and delivering growth."

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Directors of Dotz Nano.
